

What the Editors Say.

Have a garden this year. Home grown vegetables will do a great deal toward reducing the high cost of living.—News-Times.

Tillamook County is being heralded as the sweetest place on earth. Well, what of it? The more rain the more grass, the more grass the more milk, the more milk the more cheese, the more cheese the more money—oh, "We should worry."—Wheeler Reporter.

Senator Underwood declares that he has not seen a congress in twenty years where business is so far behind as it is this year. It is now taken for granted that the session will extend well into the autumn; and many doubt if an adjournment can be taken before election day.—Observer.

Sam Laughlin had one of the bones of his right arm broken yesterday while cranking his automobile. The car had been idle all winter and he thought the batteries in the self starter were out of order and did not try them, but took the old method. The engine backfired, the crank striking him on the arm. He is around today with his arm in a sling.—Yamhill Record.

The farmers of America will again be called on to help feed the world, since the prolonging of the foreign war will cause another shortage of crops in those countries that are in deadly conflict. The fields of the Pacific Northwest should be made to yield to their greatest capacity the coming season, so that their owners may share in the vast profits that will come in payment from the supplies therefrom.—Pacific Homestead.

The University of Oregon Experts have discovered that under our present tariff law, Switzerland and Holland are selling condensed milk in ever increasing quantities in the United States. The dairymen who believe in the growth of the milk industry will probably favor a change of tariff schedule. Some thinking in casting one's ballot is after all necessary for economic welfare.—News Reporter.

A newspaper man, correspondent for some large daily papers from Washington, resigned his position and accepted an appointment in the regular army, as he said he wanted to get in some place where he could lead a quiet life for the balance of his years. One can draw from this his own inference as to the strenuousness of the newspaper life, or the lack of excitement in the army.—Umpqua Valley News.

Druggists must operate under the regulations of the Oregon Food and Dairy Commissioner as well as those imposed by the State Pharmacy law, according to a recent opinion published in the Pacific Drug Review; Contents and measurements must be labelled on bottles; the factory at the back of each drug store must be painted and partitioned in the colors and with the materials prescribed, and bottles must be cleaned with live steam instead of hot water or chemical disinfectants. The drug business is not the only business in Oregon that is regulated by a multiplicity of regulating bodies. In some lines the regulation is imposed by as many as eleven different authorities, authorized by statute. The taxpayer pays the state's cost of regulation, the consumer pays the extra heavy expense incurred in conforming with them, multifarious variegated, visionary and inefficient regulations that are imposed by well meaning theorists clothed with official authority.—Oregon Voter.

The cost of newspaper stock is soaring again and is now decidedly higher than for many years, metal from which the type is made, has increased enormously, the ink used in such quantities by all papers, has more than doubled in price, and telegraph service has raised nearly fifteen per cent to cover the extra war service. All of these extra additions to the expense of getting out the daily papers have been borne by the publishers without any advance in price of either the paper or advertising, but there must be some manner in which a retrenchment of expenses must be made, and one of these will have to be the cutting off the subscription lists all those persons who take the paper for months and years without paying for same. The ultimatum has gone forth that the "dead-heads" must pay up, or have their paper cut off and the arrearages collected. If this should hit you, the publisher will be pleased to receive a remittance to show the leniency of the past has been appreciated.—Umpqua Valley News.

More About Rural Credits. The Woodburn Independent, a constant and careful student of rural credits problems, has the following regarding the various plans advocated for giving the farmer the capital necessary for the development of his land, and on terms that are within his power to meet: "The committee appointed by the recent conference at Salem to adopt a state rural credits plan, it is understood, may urge the amortization scheme advocated by one Macpherson of the Agricultural College. "The method proposed is somewhat after that in effect in New Zealand, and while it contains some good points, has others that are objectionable, especially in view of the fact that the Copper plan, so simple and so feasible, is liable to be shoved aside to make room for it. "The idea in the Macpherson plan is to establish a large loan department in the State, which will dispose of State bonds at 4 1/2 per cent interest and loan the money to various interests at 5 per cent and for a period of from 20 to 36 1/2 years. "The borrower, according to this plan, would pay 5 per cent interest, pay so much every year on the principal, report yearly to the department and state specifically just what he proposes doing with the borrowed money. "The department would consist of a superintendent and a large force of salaried persons appointed by the governor. The money would be loaned to settlers, miners, local authorities, miners, settlements and native land settlements. The amount of bonds sold yearly would be limited. The amount of loans would vary from $125 to $15,000. "Under this plan a farmer obtaining a 20-year loan, say $1000, would pay 5 per cent interest and on the principal $20 for the first year, $21 for the second, 22.50 for the third, and so on until the 26th year, when he would pay $45.46 and wipe out the principal, his interest payment that year being $2.27. In the 26 years his total payments would be $1901.73, of which $104 would be departmental expenses $797.73 interest and $1000 principal. This would permit the state to acquire a large annual surplus for a reserve fund. "Regardless of the action of this committee, it is hoped that Mr. Cupper will not lose heart and will present his constitutional amendment for the consideration of the voters. Mr. Cupper's plan is for the State to issue bonds, and for the State Land Board, without additional expense, to conduct the business by loaning to farmers at from 5 to 35 years at a regular rate of interest not exceeding 6 per cent, and lower if possible. There would be no big expensive department and the farmer would not be required to pay out every year on the principal, which he would have the use of for the whole 35 years. "The Dufer plan, having non-interest bearing bonds accepted by the National Treasury as collateral and currency issued direct to the state, the money being loaned to farmers at 3 per cent interest, can be urged, but this is a matter for Congress to decide, yet depends upon the passage of a constitutional amendment as proposed by Mr. Cupper. They do not conflict. "We do not wish to condemn altogether the Macpherson amortization plan, but think it an error to present it in the face of certain defeat at the polls."

A Loss of Nerve. On what appears to be good authority, it is stated that the President will submit to Congress for whatever action that body may think necessary the facts in our controversy with Germany over the barbarous submarine warfare. Apparently the President, believing the discussion has reached a point where the services of his trusty, trenchant typewriter are no longer of avail, is willing to shift from himself to congress responsibility for whatever end our long-continued dispute with Germany may have.

If the President does this, we shall again offer the not too happy nations of Europe the opportunity to enjoy a hearty albeit, somewhat sardonic laugh at our expense. The laughter of Germany will be especially explosive, as the Kaiser will feel confident that Congress will insist on being permitted to talk as long a time, at least, on his atrocities as the President consumed in writing about them.

There seems to be no good public reason why the president should place on Congress responsibility for our course toward Germany. We are not about to declare war on that nation. At the very most, no matter what the official investigation discloses regarding the barbarities that surround the sinking of the Sussex and Englishmen, we shall be no more truculent toward Germany than we were toward Austro-Hungary when we found that the ambassador of that royal and imperial government had been promoting attacks on our industries. The president demanded the recall of Dumba, and did not ask congress for permission to do so. As the very utmost we shall do in the case of Germany, which for over a year has been murdering our citizens on the high seas, is to hand Bernstorff his passports, it does not seem necessary that the President should have to get the consent of Congress to perform that formality.

As the election approaches, Mr. Wilson seems to lose his nerve.—The Spectator.

War Losses Enormous. While little credence is due the reports of the various belligerents as to the number of the enemy they have slain or captured, the official admissions as to their own losses, which are understated, if anything, prove it is incomparable the deadliest struggle in history. Until last August each of the belligerents furnished the American War College with official lists of its casualties. Great Britain alone sends such lists now. Gen. Hugh Scott has transmitted to Senator McCumber the latest total of casualties, 13,033,000 men. This includes killed, wounded and missing. It is impossible to get official information as to the exact number killed, since many of the seriously wounded die after the reports are made and many killed are reported among the missing. Practically all of the slain left on the field held by the enemy are reported as "missing" since there is no definite proof of their death. It will not be until the end of the war that definite knowledge will be available, through the exchange of prisoners. Claims as to prisoners held now are subject to discount.

The number killed must be enormous. British detailed report show one killed in every five missing, wounded and taken prisoners. The early German reports, which were very exact, showed 22 killed in every 100 casualties. But there is no fixed percentage, as a large body of prisoners may be occasionally taken without much bloodshed. Russia leads in losses, with 5,000,000. Germany has 2,500,000, Austria, 2,000,000, and France 2,000,000. Great Britain has only 600,000. But the latter surpasses all in expenditure of money, with $14,000,000,000. Germany comes next with $8,000,000,000. France spent $4,500,000,000, Austria $5,500,000,000 and Italy $4,500,000,000. No estimate of Russia's expenditures is available. No beligerent for its expenditure of blood and treasure.

Congress Seeking Revenue. It is announced that the House Committee on Ways and Means has reached agreement that the extraordinary defense appropriations will require at least $150,000,000 more revenue, instead of the $95,000,000 estimated by the President and Mr. McAdoo last December. The Senate may add another $50,000,000. As we have often pointed out, the government will need more revenue, regardless of military and naval increases. The repeal of the free sugar clause helps some, imports are greater than ever known before this administration began, but the bulk of them are free of duty. The so-called war tax has been extended till December, 1916, but the House Committee on Ways and Means plans to repeal it. It has harassed many voters.

It is agreed that $100,000,000 more must be raised from the income tax, or double what it is expected to yield this year. This will come by increase of rates. The proposal to lower exemptions has met with much opposition. It would strike too many voters. It is estimated that $20,000,000 might be raised by taxing inheritances and by increasing the excess taxes on beer and whisky and other "special articles." Congressmen will endeavor to see that no "special articles" produced in their districts shall be taxed. A federal inheritance tax would be of doubtful validity and the treasury would have to wait until people died and their estates were appraised before it could collect the tax. The states, which badly need revenue themselves, will strenuously object to this new invasion. As an emergency measure the proposed inheritance tax has its drawbacks.

The proposal to get $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 from a direct tax on the manufacture of munitions of war is of doubtful validity and wisdom. This would make the government a practical partner in the profits of a traffic it is supposed, under international law merely to tolerate. It would be an indirect tax on exports, forbidden by the constitution. Through the incorporation of the income tax the government is getting about as much of the profits from this business as it can receive, legally and with propriety. The president's proposal of excise taxes on pig iron, international combustion engines and gasoline has been dropped, although the public has been paying for it some time, in anticipation, as it pays nearly all taxes.

Citation. In the County Court of the State of Oregon, for Tillamook County. In the matter of the estate of Harvey N. Cottle, Deceased. To Addie Cottle, Bertha G. Cottle, Reamond Cottle, Harold W. Cottle, Isabel K. Cottle, Fred B. Cottle and Harry B. Cottle, greeting.

In the name of the State of Oregon. You are hereby required to appear in the County Court of the State of Oregon, at the court room thereof, at Tillamook City, in the County of Tillamook, on Wednesday, the 17th day of May, 1916, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause, if any there be, why said Court should not make an order as prayed for in the petition of H. T. Botts, Administrator with the will annexed of Harry Wingate Cottle, deceased, authorizing, licensing and directing the administrator to sell at private sale all of the following described real property, situate in Tillamook County, State of Oregon, to-wit:

Lots 1, 8, 9, and 10 of Block 5 in the town of Bay City, Lots 3, 4, 5, and 6, Block 1, and 1/2 interest in Lot 2, Block 6, Cone & Company's Addition to Bay City. One-half interest in Lots 15 and 16, Block 55, and all of Lots 13 to 16 in Block 57, Pacific Addition to Bay City, all situate in Tillamook County, Oregon.

For the purpose of paying charges, expenses and claims still unsatisfied against said estate. Witness the Honorable A. M. Hare Judge of the County Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Tillamook, with the seal of said Court affixed, this 6th day of April, A. D. 1916.

(Seal) J. C. Holden, County Clerk.

GLYCERINE AND BARK PREVENT APPENDICITIS. The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-ika astonished Tillamook people. Because Adler-ika acts on BOTH lower and upper bowels, ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising, foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-ika is astonishing. J. S. Lamar, Druggist.

George Williams of Bay City has been maintained as silent vigil beside the stranded schooner Oakland, on Manzanita Beach, during the past week, being assigned to that task by the underwriters. Aside from the cargo of ties still in the hold, it appears to be a case of locking the stable after stealing the horse, as the boat was utterly stripped of everything movable the day following the beaching of the craft by beach combers. Of the donkey engine on board, the boiler was completely removed. The ship as she stands, reminds one of a blue jay deprived of all but its little top and two tail feathers. The underwriters are expected in daily to make a final adjustment, at which time local persons plan to secure the cargo.—Wheeler Reporter.

"Yes, sir," replied the waiter, quite gratified. Visions of a handsome tip floated before his mind's eye and he rubbed his hands gleefully. "But," resumed the customer, "its bad point is this—it has no coffee in it."

SUFFERED FROM BACKACHE AND KIDNEY TROUBLE FOR YEARS. Dear Readers—I wish to tell you that I suffered from backache and kidney trouble for years. I heard of Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets, and I tried them. They cured my backache. I hope people that are troubled with backache will give them a good trial. I am sure they will not fail to benefit. Yours sincerely, MRS. GEO. DEMING.

NOTE: Folks in town and adjoining places are delighted with the results they have obtained by using "ANURIC," the newest discovery of Dr. Pierce, who is head of the INVALIDS' HOTEL and SURGICAL INSTITUTE, in Buffalo, N. Y. Those who started the day with a backache, stiff legs, arms and muscles, and an aching head (worn out before the day began because they were in and out of bed half a dozen times at night) are appreciating the perfect rest, comfort and new strength they obtained from Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. To prove that this is a certain uric acid solvent and conquerer of headache, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism, if you've never used the "Anuric," cut this out and send ten cents to Doctor Pierce for a large sample package. This will prove to you that "Anuric" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid—and the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector. If you are a sufferer, go to your best druggist and ask for a 50-cent box of "Anuric." You run no risk for Dr. Pierce's good name stands behind this wonderful new discovery as it has for the past half century for his "Golden Medical Discovery" which makes the blood pure, his "Favorite Prescription" for weak women and his "Pleasant Pellets" for liver ills. All Dr. Pierce's medicines can be had in Tablet form—by mail or at drug store.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces.
