C. I. CLOUGH, Reliable Druggist,

HAROLD F. HUMBERT, Baritone, with the Royal Trio, Friday Evening at the Christian Church.

"Papa" said the little daughter of a prominent Oregon Editor as she climbed upon his knee, "you missed it tonight!" She had attended an entertainment from which her father had been detained.

"What is that?"

"It was worth ten cents just to see that big fat man."

J. Alphas Boyd is well worth seeing and hearing not alone because of his three hundred forty pounds of weight but also because of his genius as an entertainer.

Mr. Boyd will be assisted in some of his readings by Madge Pear Humbert, at the piano. These pianolo gues are a unique feature of the Royal Trio entertainment. Miss Humbert is, for her age, a brilliant pianist. Her solos and accompaniments for her brother display real artistry. Mr. Humbert will sing both humorous and dramatic masterpieces.

The concluding number of the entertainment "By Special Delivery" is a comedy sketch, woven about a slender plot, in which the entire trio are at their best. The program will be given on Friday evening at the local Christian Church.
