

OF INTEREST TO TAXPAYERS.

Attorney Henderson Highly Complimented County Clerk Holden for his Efficient Service in Office.

At a meeting of representative citizens at the Presbyterian Guild Hall on Monday evening, Attorney J. L.
Henderson highly complimented County Clerk J. C. Holden for the manner in which he has faithfully served the public. He said:

"You have just heard read by the President of this Club Mr. Chester Holden's communication stating that Circuit Court being in session and a case being tried tonight, it would be impossible for him to be present, and asking me to represent him in a five minutes talk, showing why he should be re-elected to the office he now fills, that of County Clerk.

"My business is such that for more than 30 years I have been intimately acquainted with county clerks in their official capacity in the county offices in four counties in Oregon, one in Washington and two in Mississippi.
For four years I have sat, as you might say, side by side with Chester Holden, almost every working day during that time. With the experience I have had in my abstract business, which brings me into contact with all the different lines of the County Clerk's duties, I feel myself competent to judge as to a County Clerk's qualifications. I want to say right here, of all the County Clerks offices in which I have labored during the past 30 years, Chester Holden's office is the best kept, and more work is done, and well done, and with less expense in proportion to the work required to be done, than in any other County Clerk's office of the ones mentioned. I do not believe there is another man in the county that can fill his place so well, and with such good to the public, as he can himself.

"His office is the only office in the County that is self sustaining, and more, the money that his office takes in in fees pays all its expense of maintenance, and leaves a substantial surplus to the credit of the county, which helps reduce the taxes. All county matters begin and end in the office of the County Clerk. In fact this office might be called the County's "back bone." Chester Holden and his clerks besides being efficient, are courteous and attentive to all who have any business with the office, and are never too busy or too tired to give everyone quick and smiling service. Now, my friends, we do not want any of the candidates for the several offices for which they are aspirants, to get it into their heads that we are "stuck" on them, and that they are the only ones who can fill the jobs, or that the jobs were made for them. We want them all to understand that we put them into office as public servants, to work for the public welfare, and in deciding whom we will put into any office, the clerk's for instance, we should decide upon the one who will give to the public the most for the money, the one who will serve the people best and attain the best results.

We should lay aside all personal feeling in the matter, and though our own brother were a candidate, vote against him and for the other fellow if the other fellow will make the best public servant. In the State of Mississippi, where I lived and worked at my abstract business for 6 years, the people adopted a new constitution. It had been the custom before its adoption to re-elect competent officers over and over again, and especially the clerk of the county. A new law went into effect thereafter, that no county officer could succeed himself, except the clerk. I worked in the offices of the clerks at both Harrison and Hancock counties. The clerk in the former county held his office for 40 consecutive years, and the clerk in Hancock was still in office, and he was clerk 8 or 10 years before 1891.
There must be a good reason for this.
The reason is that it takes years to make a competent clerk, as is Chester Holden, and this education costs the taxpayers money. Then why change?
No argument I have heard against re-electing Chester Holden is used, except he has had the office long enough; and if what I have said is true, and I do not think it can be refuted, the argument is a very poor one from a public welfare outlook.
Hence my advice is, retain a good man as long as it is for the people's interest."

For State Senator.

T. B. Handley.

Have represente you in the House of Representatives at the last two sessions, having served on several of the most important committees, took an active part in the passage of much wholesome and constructive legislation and have faithfully looked after the best interests of my district. I believe in results not promises, and my legislative record is my platform and I stand on it. I believe in Republican principles and majority rule and therefore until such time as the people change the present prohibition law, I will oppose any attempt by the Legislature to change or modify that law, unless such change is for better enforcement.

Tillamook county has not been represented in the senate for 22 years and it is our turn. If nominated and elected I will give my best efforts for best interests of my district particularly and Oregon generally.

Sincerely,
T. B. Handley.

Christian Church.

In the absence of the pastor, who is assisting in the Eugene Bible University endowment campaign, Harold F. Humbert will conduct Sunday services. "The Christ of the Common People" will be the morning theme, and "The Sunshine of Youth" will be the subject of the evening sermo. The music will be a special feature.

To Honor Our Mothers.

A special day is set apart for this purpose, which will be observed at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday. The object is to brighten the lives of our mothers and to make them more honored, loved and protected by their children. To remind sons and daughters, especially busy, successful men and women, of the selfless devotion of their mothers, and possibly of their own selfish neglect of their parents. To ask men, women and children to make their mothers feel this May day, that in her children's hearts she is "Queen of the May."

The pastor craves an opportunity to speak to a large congregation of the people of the community next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. His subject will be "Mother: the Uncrowned Queen." All mothers are especially invited, the center section of the church will be reserved for them. Members and friends of the Ladies' Guild are earnestly invited to plan on being present and to be responsible for extending urgent invitations to other persons or families who would not otherwise attend service elsewhere. The intermediate girls will act as a flower committee in this service. Every one is asked to at least observe the day by wearing a white flower in honor of his or her mother, and as a badge of love and loyalty, also to help the observance of the day by giving a white flower to at least one other person.
In the program of the day Father will not be forgotten. The subject of the evening sermon at 7:45 will be "Home, Sweet Home: When Works Also." The public is very cordially invited.
