GREY SAYS WRONG MUST BE RIGHT

Briton Says Pledges Will be Kept

Hon. Sir Edward Grey, K. G., M. P., Secretary of state of Foreign Affairs, talking with the writer at luncheon in the statesman's London home, April 10, said substantially this: "Prussian tyranny over Western Europe, including these islands, of people will not stand. The pledge given by Mr. Asquith as regards restoration of Belgium and Siberia shall be kept. We have signed a pact to make peace only in concert with our allies. This pact, I need not say, we shall honor strictly and to the end."
Free Europe is Lesure.
"What we and our allies are fighting for is a free Europe. We want Europe free not only from the domination of one nationality by another, but from hectoring diplomacy and the peril of war; free from the constant rattling of the sword in the scabbard and from the perpetual talk of armistice and war treaties."
"In fact," added Sir Edward Grey, "we feel that we are fighting for equal rights, for law, justice and peace, and for civilization throughout the world, as against brute force which knows no restraint and no mercy."
"To interview Sir Edward Grey, one hardly need say, is a unique privilege and honor. This came to me after many months of battling with the immemorial prejudice of the British public man of high responsibility against the journalist as a journalist."
Grey Never Interviewed Before.
It is a fact, I believe, that Sir Edward, one of the greatest figures in the world war and one of the most famous in modern political history, never was interviewed in a journalistic sense before. It is also true, I think, that in the long annals of the British Foreign office this is the first instance in which its chief has consented to speak to his fellow men through the mediumship of a correspondent.

What is the most amazing fact about this man to my mind is that the Germans regard him as the Mephistopheles of Faust, of Armageddon, of scolding, sardonic, crafty and incendiary. One of their appellations for him is "Satan."

They feign to believe, and possibly do believe, that his main object in life has been to brew trouble, to bring about war, and especially to effect the strangulation or asphyxiation of Germany. This of a man of the most civilized type, broad of vision, nurtured in liberalism, a fly-fisherman, a tamer of birds and squirrels and a lifelong protagonist of peace.

Sir Edward's age is 74. His figure is tall and ample but not excessively heavy. His head and face are large. He has a fresh complexion, is clean shaven and his eyes sky-blue in color, are singularly mild, but without the dreaminess of sentimentality which distinguishes him from the other statesmen of his country home. His voice is low even when discussing matters that appeal deeply to the intellect and emotion; he makes scarcely the slightest gesture as he speaks. His program would be more effectual than attempted or neglected enforcement of specific prohibitions. Others argue that the enumeration of certain "worldly amusements" leaves the impression that others, newly devised or overlooked in the catalogue, are proper. Their theory is more acceptable to the General Conference than is indicated by various votes. Probably a majority of the delegates wish the clause had never been originally adopted. But they cannot eliminate it without putting the church in a false attitude of approving the amusements now forbidden. Every newspaper headline on the controversy warns them of this danger. We do not call to mind a more striking illustration of how embarrassing one legislative body may be to all its successors.

Britain Wants Settled Peace.
"We want settled peace throughout Europe which will be a guaranty against aggressive war. Germany's philosophy is that settled peace means integration, degeneracy and the sacrifice of the heroic qualities in the human character. Such philosophy, if it is to survive as a practice, means eternal apprehension and unrest. It means ever increasing armaments. It means arresting the developments of mankind along lines of culture and humanity."
"We are fighting this idea. We do not believe in war as the preferred method of settling disputes between nations. When nations cannot see eye to eye; when they quarrel; when there is a threat of war, we believe that the controversy should be settled by methods other than those of war."
"Such other methods are always successful when there is good will and no aggressive spirit. We believe in negotiation. We have faith in international conferences. We proposed a conference before this war broke out. We urged Germany to agree to a conference. Germany declined to do so."
"Then I requested Germany to select some form of mediation—some method of her own for a peaceful settlement. She would not come forward with any such suggestion. Then the Emperor of Russia proposed to Germany to send the dispute to the tribunal at The Hague. There was no response."
Case of Submission or War.
"Our proposal of a conference was rejected by Germany, Russia, France and Italy all accepted it. Our proposal that Germany suggest some means of peaceful settlement met with no success nor did the Czars' proposal. No impartial judgment of any kind was to be permitted to enter. It was a case of Europe submitting to the Teutonic will or going to war."
"If the conference in London in the

"W. N. Bays has rented his hotel to Fred Gilbert who will take charge today. Mr. Bays is fixing up some tents to live in for the summer."
"You can get your hunting and fishing licenses from F. B. McKinley, at Beaver."
"If you want to sell your farm list it with McKinley, he can sell it if any one can."
"Joe Hollett, of Blaine, has let the contract for new up to date barn."
"While moving a building of R. E. Wilson's the false work gave way and the building went into beaver creek. It was taken out several hundred feet below. Some of the men working on the building went in with it. A good ducking was all they got."
"George Kostic's sister has been to see her father at Blaine, who has been very sick."
