THE TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT.

Editorial Snap Shots.

The lumber market is again on the slump. Thanks to Democratic free trade.

Americanism, first, last and all the time is one of the precepts of the Republican party.

"Stung!" The Bull Moose party killed itself, and those who joined it feel they have been "stung."

It was a little late in getting here, but we all appreciate warmer and more congenial weather.

The bonding question keeps cropping up. The snap shot man is opposing to bonding the county if the money so raised is to be used for concrete roads.

Bro. Trombley, of course, will be on the Woodley-School Marm Free Trade band wagon, and the snap shot man will be on the G. O. P. band wagon as usual.

Democratic newspapers and politicians have started in to abuse Mr. Hughes, the Republican nominee. That is what was expected, but it will only act as a boomerang.

Visitors to Tillamook who come in by autos will be delighted to know that the toll road graft is a thing of the past, for the Sour Grass road cuts out that antiquated system of road building.

Bro. Rankin had another recall fit last week. He appears to be a monomaniac on the recall question and now wants to recall the entire county court. Why not have a recall on Bro. Rankin.

Well, give it a decent burial—the Bull Pup Moose party passed in its checks last week. There may be a few fanatics left to bemoan its fate, but they will only remind one of the folly of those who hatched out that mushroom party.

Saturday morning the general remark amongst business men in Portland was "Well, I'm glad it's over." Well, the Rose Carnival is getting to be a stale affair, and with all the advertising ability in that city it is about time that a new stunt was put on and pulled off.

There are those who are wondering whether Bro. Trombley, the Democratic free trader, will support the Democratic or Republican candidate for circuit judge. The snap shot man will offer this prediction that the Democratic organ will support the Republican nominee.

A good deal of "Watchful Waiting" was indulged in by the free trade party the past few weeks, for it does annoy the Democratic leaders that the Bull Moose party has passed in its checks and that the Bull Moosers are returning to the party of protection and prosperity.

The east side of Tillamook Bay is unfortunate for it takes only a few years for the tories to get away with piling and building in that vicinity. But why keep on fooling away money in that way. The last twenty years have conclusively shown that the tory is master of the situation.

I am drinking lots of water, and my system ought to be pretty well cleared up in a week or two, after which I will chirp cheerily again.—Oregon Voter.

We always thought that the Oregon Voter had more or less water on the brain.

The Democratic free trade party had a duck fit when Justice Hughes obtained the nomination for the presidency and Teddy Roosevelt completely capitulated. Well, it was no surprise that Democrats had a duck fit, for they knew that the Republican party, now that it once more united, will freeze out the free traders.

The coming presidential election is of great importance to every industry in Tillamook County. The Democratic free trade party hit this county exceedingly hard when it placed most everything that is produced on the free list. Lumber, fish and dairy products had protection taken off and was allowed to come in free.

The city and the county are expending considerable money for concrete streets and roads. We believe it will only be a few years when it will be conclusively proven that they have made an expensive mistake. We hope we are wrong, but no one will be able to blame the Headlight for advocating cement for hardsurfacing the streets and roads in this county.

The snap shot man is going to call a meeting of Republicans in Tillamook County for the purpose of organizing for the coming campaign, for now is the time for every Republican to take off his coat and work for the success of the G. O. P. This is a good opportunity for those who deserted the party to return to the fold, even though they may now feel a little ashamed of themselves for doing so.

Rats! There are some fool Democrats who think that the four million Bull Moosers can be lined up with the Democratic party. It is as absurd as it is impossible. Very few so-called Progressives will line up with the Democratic party. They are not that foolish to affiliate with a free trade party when they are decided in their opinion that free trade is a curse to every industry in the United States. The issue in the presidential election will be Republican protection vs. Democratic free trade.

In a few years the price of autos will be reduced in price and that most of the best equipped machines will sell for less than one thousand dollars. This is what those who are in touch with the automobile business now predict. It looks hardly possible that autos that are selling now around two thousand dollars with all the latest improvements, will be selling for one thousand dollars, in a comparatively short time. But we are told that this is what is going to happen and that those who have a craze for six cylinder will be using machines with only four.

The scarcity of rennet ought to set the dairymen of Tillamook to thinking, for they should be making their own rennet. Anyway, the directors of the cheese associations and the County Agriculturist should be devising some plan to procure a rennet made at home. Every dollar that is put into home industries is that much money saved to the county. It is more than probable that the war will continue for several years, and in the meantime the dairymen should plan to have the rennet manufactured in Tillamook. It is costing some of the cheese factories an additional expense of $50.00 per month for rennet with the prospect of higher prices and difficulty in procuring it at all.

The National Republican Convention was wise in nominating Justice Hughes for the presidency, and it was wise in its determination to eliminate a one man power in that party, for the Republican party is head and shoulders bigger than any one man. There is not the least doubt but what Hughes will be the next president, although it is no walkover for him and it will be one of the most strenuous campaigns ever fought in this country. The issue will be Americanism and protection, in opposition to "watchful waiting" and free trade, and with the Republican party united and all pulling for a thorough American like Justice Hughes, we predict that next November the people will show their disgust and repudiate the fustian school warm from the presidency and replace him with one who is more in accord with the industrial life of the country.

Tillamook City will wake up to the fact one of these fine days that is not prohibiting the erection of frame buildings in the business section of the city. Just think it over and look over the situation, and every person who has any reasoning ability will come to the conclusion, that as large and expensive stocks of goods are being carried by the business men, every addition erected in the business district of the city is another added risk in case of fire. The snap shot man feels that the city is running too much risk by allowing more frame buildings to be erected. Considering the reasonable cost of erecting concrete buildings, which is only slightly more than frame buildings, it does not place any great additional expense on those who want to build. Better use a little "Preparedness" now than after being wiped out with fire is the opinion of the snap shot man.

The annual meeting of the school district will be held on Monday afternoon at the high school building, Mrs. Everson is the retiring school director, and as she has made an excellent director it is thought wise to re-elect her. Mrs. Everson was elected a member of the board by the efforts of the ladies of the city, who complained at the time that the school board was employing too young and unexperienced teachers, and since she has been on the board, a good improvement has been made in this respect. The board should have one lady member, for there are times when the question of morality amongst young girls is called into question, and a lady on the board is more apt to ferret this out than a gentleman. We think it to be the best interest of the school to re-elect Mrs. Everson, for she is the "best man" on the board when it comes to looking after the interests of the school.

The snap shot man has often intended to brood the subject of coloring cheese. We think it was a great mistake to highly color Tillamook cheese. If the dairymen will take the trouble to investigate they will find that Cheddar cheese, as originally manufactured in England, is not colored with coloring. It may be that this is an inopportune time to make a change, but it would be a great advantage to do so on account of the large amount that is colored. Cheddar cheese, as manufactured in Cheshire, in England, is sold in small cans at 75c per pound, which is without coloring, and we believe there is a splendid opportunity for Tillamook dairymen to make more money on their products. We mention this little incident to prove that if Cheddar cheese manufactured in England can be sold at 75 cents per pound, it is time that the dairymen of this county were getting next to what they are missing by not competing in this trade. Cheddar cheese made in Cheshire is made under like climatic conditions as in Tillamook, the salt, cool atmosphere being two strong characteristics, but the trouble with Tillamook cheese is that it is too highly colored. This is an important matter that should be considered for anything that will enhance the value of Tillamook cheese is that much more for the dairymen.

The Headlight as usual is lining up with the brewery interests by giving space to booming their side of the case. This move on the part of the Headlight is perfectly natural. The Headlight was at ease and at home lined up with the Warren Construction Company, which from all appearances endeavored to rob our people. In fact it seems that the Headlight is ready to line up with any old thing in preference to the people.—Tillamook Herald.

The editor of the Tillamook Herald is a member of a church and a Sunday School teacher, yet for all that he frequently publishes deliberate falsehoods about the snap shot man. This is another deliberate falsehood by our Christian friend that makes him a good Christian liar—and hypocrite. It is no wonder that churches and Sunday Schools don't prosper and people keep away from them when members of the church show themselves to be such consummate perverters of the truth and who fail to follow the precepts of the good old book. We are sorry that we have to chastise our respected Bro. again, for this is another sin that the recording angel will have against him when the great white book is opened. If, as the Herald says, the snap shot man is ready to line up with any old thing, we must draw the line at being lined up with a professing Christian and a Sunday School teacher who deliberately publishes lies and slander. The good old book says, first cast the mote out of your own eye, and then one can see more clearly to cast the mote out of his brother's eye is good advice to everybody. But, shame Bro., shame, for you show yourself to be only professing Christianity in name and not in every day life and daily practice.

The Little Nestucca Road.

T. R. Wilson and W. Kandle called on the editor this week in regard to the Little Nestucca road, in which they are both interested in seeing built as soon as possible. They contend that the road will benefit a great many dairymen, and pointed out that from Three Rivers (not including the Three Rivers factory) to the new Sour Grass road, there are six cheese factories now in operation, with two more to be built, one at Pacific City, and the other at Baxters, while between Hebo and the Sour Grass road there are no cheese factories. They claim that the road will be but a short distance longer than the Three Rivers road. It is 2 1/2 miles from Three Rivers to Cloverdale, and it is an equal distance from the latter place by either road to the Sour Grass road, and they believe the new road can be greatly shortened. They ridicule the idea that it will cost $100,000 to finish the Little Nestucca Road. We find that in the neighborhood of the proposed new Little Nestucca road the Cloverdale factory received 1,582,620 pounds of milk, Cold Springs 1,160,563 pounds, Central 1,605,881 pounds, Meda 906,938 pounds, Oretown 1,262,547 pounds and Neskovinn 903,941 pounds. It is upon this showing that Messrs. Wilson and Kandle contend that the Little Nestucca road should be finished, for it benefits a far larger number of dairymen than the Three Rivers road, and from a tourists view point it is far ahead of the other road into the county for scenic beauty and will afford far more enjoyment to those who come to the county for pleasure.

Obituary.

Edmund James Lyster, who was accidentally killed June 7th, 1916, in the logging camp in which he was interested, at Bay City, Oregon, was born September 19, 1877, at Eldora, Harden County, Iowa, and at the age of one year he moved, with his parents, to York Town, Kansas, where he grew to manhood, coming to the Pacific Coast about 1897, spending the remainder of his life in the states of Oregon, Washington and California, with the exception of about two years, during which time he was in Kansas, being called there by the illness and death of his mother July 1908.

He is survived by five brothers and two sisters, T. W. Lyster, A. C. Lyster and S. Louisa Lyster, all of Tillamook, Oregon, and R. D. Lyster, and Gregory Lyster, of Vesper, Kansas; John A. Lyster and Isabella G. Farrand both of Beloit, Kansas, and numerous relatives in Michigan, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Oregon, besides a large number of sympathetic friends.

The remains will be buried at the family burial ground at Victor, Kansas, where his mother and father are laid to rest.

The remains left here Saturday accompanied by the members of the family, including T. W. Lyster and wife and daughter Irene, S. Louisa Lyster, C. A. Lyster and Miss Nell Fowler. A large number of friends gathered at the depot to pay a last tribute of respect to the deceased.

Fairview Giants Win.

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Fairview Giants	2	1	.750
Pleasant Valley Cubs	2	1	.400
Wilson River Tigers	1	2	.200
Blaine All-Stars	0	2	.000
Tillamook White Sox	0	2	.000

The Fairview team won from the Blaine All Stars Sunday on the Tillamook Diamond by a score of 19 to 6. About all through the game the score stood a tie or the Giants were 2 ahead until the first of the eighth inning when the Giants found their batting eye and began slugging the ball until they ran up a total of nine runs. Heisel, Millis and Shultzen were the star performers with the willow. Shultzen of the Giants has made a good record for the team, winning all the games he pitched this season. Batteries—Giants: Shultzen and Heisel; Blaine: Hollett and King.

The Fairview team will travel to Blaine next Sunday where they will meet the Blaine All Stars.

CALF HIDES WANTED.

GRANT THAYER WILL PAY 18 CENTS FOR CALF HIDES.

Wedding Reception.

A very delightful reception was given last Saturday night at Saitair, by W. M. Bergen, in honor of Mrs. and Mr. Paul A. Dowling, recent bride and bridegroom of that place.

The bride looked very charming in her lovely white voile and shadow lace gown. All of the surrounding towns were largely represented. The guests spent a very delightful evening in dancing to the merry strains of lovely music, later a very appetizing lunch was served by friends of the couple. On departing their many friends wished them much happiness for the future.

The young couple will make their home in Elmore Park where Mr. Dowling is engaged in business.

Injunction Granted the United Railways Company.

The United Railways Company were granted an injunction before Judge Bagley at Hillsboro Friday, staying the Marshal and Bay City from selling certain property belonging to the above company in Bay City in lieu of delinquent improvement taxes for the Fourth street improvement.

The company originally sued to have the injunction granted on the ground that their property was neither adjacent or abutting the said improvement, but when the case came up Judge Bagley had their attorneys change the complaint and granted the injunction on the decision of the Supreme Court that a city cannot improve or take over a county road or state highway in the state of Oregon without a special act of the legislature. Attorney Callahan acted for the city.

This decision was looked for by the city officials as they were informed by the city attorney a few weeks ago that the supreme court had handed down the above decision in a recent case. Bay City is not the only corporation to be effected by this decision as there are hundreds of other similar instances throughout the state.

BEAVER NEWS ITEMS.

Miss Ethel Jensen is visiting in Cloverdale for a few days.

Miss Hazel Erdt, who has been working at Bay City for the last few months, is spending a few days in Beaver with her friends.

The largest crowd that has yet attended the Beaver dances was out last Friday night. A large crowd came from Cloverdale and several from Tillamook and Blaine. The music was fine and every one seemed to enjoy themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. McKinley were Tillamook visitors Tuesday.

Jim Baker, our road supervisor, is doing some good work on the road between Beaver and Tillamook, and we would like for someone to suggest a little trip to Blaine and observe the roads in that direction.

W. J. Stephens and family have moved onto their ranch for the summer.

Andrew Vetch has bought the lower 160 acres of Billy Stephen's place. We understand that the consideration was $20,000. F. B. McKinley made the deal.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard and Mrs. C. S. Woods were Tillamook visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. Geo. Kostic has been quite ill for the past week, but is better now.

Mrs. I. W. Hiner was a Beaver visitor Tuesday.

Gilbert's truck took a large crowd to Tillamook Sunday to attend the ball game, and while they were not exactly pleased with the score, nevertheless they all reported a good time.

R. E. Wilson has got in a new lot of sport hats and from the way the weather has started in we believe we will all have to lay aside our rain coats and invest in sun shades.

Harmony.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Hopkins returned Monday from Banks, Oregon, where they have been visiting while there they attended the Salem deaf and dumb school exercises, where their son Lloyd attends school. Lloyd returned home with them to spend vacation. They also visited Portland, Newberg and other valley points.

Lillie Chester and Inez Hopkins spent a few days with their brother, Ole Hopkins, on the Wilson river, returning home Tuesday.

Sunday being Roy Graves' birthday, dinner was served down on the Trask river where all enjoyed a good time.

The Krebs Bros. are burning out a lot of tile which will be ready to take off by Friday of this week.

D. P. Hopkins and family and Herman Hopkins and wife spent Tuesday at Elmer Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. John Evans moved Wednesday up on Fossil Creek.

The warm weather and beautiful sunshine is welcome but much of this kind of weather will make dairymen pray for rain again. It seems the human race is very hard to please.

No Help from the Party in Power

The situation is such that we cannot afford to dillydally around here, delaying action to future disposal by a possible tariff commission which would mean more delay and more years of investigation of something which we already know about. The point is, does Congress intend to take action which will safeguard the investment of capital in developing the dyestuff manufacture in this country? The present attitude certainly does not indicate it. Moreover it is right to suppose that there will be coalitions among manufacturers of other products in Europe at the end of the war with a view to making large exports to the United States and other countries as well.

These exports will be made at ruinously low prices, a competition which we certainly could not meet geared up to such a tremendously high wage standard and a general cost of production standard as at present. Any thinking business man knows full well that we are not in a position now to meet such competition, nor is there any hope of relief in the frantic efforts the present administration is making to meet the impending situation by anti-dumping acts which are not anti, and by Tariff commissions which would only be operative in so far as it pleases the party in power. It is hardly likely that a democratic administration would appoint a commission to arrange the tariff contrary to their wishes, nor is it likely that a Republican Congress would accept the finding of the commission appointed by Democrats if they were opposite to the Republican idea of protection. We have been through this before.

Mill men throughout the country should realize that the textile trade need expect no more consideration from the party in power should they be returned than was given when the present tariff was enacted.

Conciliation But no Surrender.

Never in the history of political parties has there been such a situation as that which exists in Chicago last week. Never has there been a convention in which the influence of party leadership was so little apparent as in the Republican convention. Never has there been a convention in which the delegates were so completely in control of their own action, and never one in which the difficulties of selection were so increased and confused by extraneous circumstances. Always heretofore the task of the convention has been simply to decide upon the attitude of the party toward certain issues and to choose a candidate who would be representative of the party and its principles, without having to give consideration to the wishes to the political interests or personalities outside the party.

But this convention was confronted by unique conditions. It gave thought to exterior forces that it earnestly desired to bring into line and harmony with it for the good of the country as well as of the party, and these forces seem disposed to name conditions of alignment that will be difficult if not impossible to meet.

That party unity is desirable at this time cannot be questioned. Republican success may not be wholly dependent upon it, but it would make success certain. The country wants a return to Republican government. It is not deceived by the temporary prosperity caused by the war. It realizes that there is a hereafter, and policies are not the sort to prevent disaster when the war ends. Therefore some sacrifices may properly be made and should be made to bring the party together. But the sacrifice must not be a surrender. The Republican party must continue to be itself dominant and independent. It may make concessions, but it cannot kneel. No considerations of expediency can induce it to trail its banner in the dust. Its platform must be Republican, and its candidate must stand on and with that platform. If with that understanding a conciliation can be effected, it is well; if not, then the party should march on to the consequences, whatever they may be.

They were a very saving old couple and as a result they had a beautifully furnished home. One day the old woman missed her husband.

Joseph, where are you?" she called out.

"I'm resting in the parlor," came the reply.

"What on the sofa?" cried the old woman horrified.

"No, on the floor."

"Not on that grand carpet!" came in tones of anguish. "No; I've rolled it up!"

Three of a Kind.

A lawyer was retained for the defense of a burglar whom the police had taken after a desperate struggle with someone not in custody. In consultation with his client the lawyer asked, "Have you accomplices?"

"Yes sir," replied the burglar. "I have two, but neither has been taken. I hired one to defend me against capture and you to defend me against conviction."

This answer deeply impressed the lawyer, and having ascertained that the burglar had accumulated no money in his profession he threw up the case.

Some Doubt.

"Let me sell your wedding ring, my dear, and give the money to the Fatherland!"

"All right. But where can we get the most for it—at the bank, the pawn shop, or the brass foundry?"

Notice.
