

Summons.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Tillamook County, Tillamook County Bank, a corporation,

Plaintiff,

vs.

Red Marich, Defendant.

To Red Marich, the above named defendant:

You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled case on or before the expiration of six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, and if you fail to do so, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint, which is that the plaintiff have judgment against you for $265.00 with interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from September 2nd, 1914, for $11.80, with interest at 8 per cent per annum from October 30th, 1915, for $75.00 as attorney's fees, and the costs and disbursements of the suit, upon a promissory note executed by you to defendant of date August 26th, 1913 for $300.00, and a mortgage executed by you to secure the payment of the same, covering Lots 6, 7, 20 and 21, Block 13, of Ocean View, Tillamook County, Oregon, and the taxes paid by the plaintiff on account thereof, being the above sum of $11.80. That the said mortgage be foreclosed, the property therein described sold for the purpose of satisfying the said sums demanded against you, and that you be forever barred and foreclosed of all right, title or interest in or to said property except the statutory right of redemption.

This summons is published by order of the Hon. A. M. Hare, County Judge of Tillamook County, Oregon, requiring publication to be made for six successive weeks. Said order is dated May 31st, 1916, and the first publication thereof is made June 1st, 1916.

H. T. Botts, Attorney for Plaintiff. Last publication July 13, 1916.

Notice of Sale of Real Property on Execution.

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a writ of execution dated the 20th day of May, 1916, issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Tillamook County upon a judgment rendered in the Justice Court for the Second Justice District of Tillamook County, Oregon, on the 15th day of February, 1916, in a cause wherein H. P. Sheldon was plaintiff and E. P. Wells and Ora B. Wells were defendants, said judgment being for the sum of $18.96 with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the 6th day of July, 1914, $12.00 with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum from July 6th, 1914, and the further sum of $19.75 costs and disbursements, a transcript of which judgment was filed and docketed in the judgment docket of said Circuit Court on the 4th day of March, 1916, I did, on the 31st day of May, 1916, duly levy upon the real property hereinafter described owned by the said defendants E. P. Wells and Ora B. Wells.

Therefore, in order to satisfy the sums of money due upon said judgment and the costs on and upon this writ, I will, on the 30th day of June, 1916, at 10 o'clock a.m., at the court house in Tillamook City, Tillamook County, Oregon, sell at public auction for cash in hand, to the highest bidder, all the right, title and interest of said defendants E. P. Wells and Ora B. Wells in and to the real property situated in Tillamook County, Oregon described as follows:

AFTER ONE YEAR

Hillsboro Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Hillsboro story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point that will come straight home to many of us.

William Wolf, Jefferson St., Hillsboro, Ore., says: "My back was so bad that I could hardly get around. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me almost immediate relief. After I had finished one box, my back was all right. There is nothing equal to Doan's Kidney Pills for the cure of kidney trouble." (Statement given Sept. 23, 1911).

Over a year later, Mr. Wolf said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills brought has been permanent." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Wolf has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milbourn Co., Props. Buffalo, N. Y.

Without Profit or Pleasure.

"Whit way hae ye g'iven ower smokin' Donal?" Weel, its no sic a pleasure after a', for ye ken a buddys ain't tobacco costs over muckle; and if ye're smokin' nither buddys' ye hae to ram yer pipe sack tight it'll no draw.

What the Editors Say.

Waite, the self-confessed and condemned murderer, has had a change of heart since getting in the somber shadows of Sing Sing, and has filed his notice of appeal for a new trial. Evidently his new found religion and penitence did not reach far enough to take the grim walls of the death cell, and he must have more time to think it over.—Umpqua Valley News.

A Newberg resident who visited the county seat a few days ago spent a little time in the office of the county clerk, looking over the signed applications for the purchase of alcohol for outward application, and he says there is cause for alarm, since the records show an apparent epidemic of "sober legs" among druggstore patrons of the county. The malady "broke out" soon after the new law became operative and is said to have reached the contagious stage in this section.—Newberg Graphic.

A month in jail and a fine of $1,000 is the sentence which has been imposed on a New York man for desecrating the American flag. The culprit was Bouck White, pastor of the so-called Social Revolution Church, who admitted burning the national emblem and several other flags, which he declared was intended to symbolize the melting of all flags to signalize the establishment of international brotherhood. White also admitted making a statement to the effect that "The flag no longer represents idealism, but stand for the vulgar and greediest set of profit grabbers since history began."—Polk County Observer.

Have you noticed that the announcements say that the National Democratic convention, which will be held in St. Louis, will nominate Wilson and Marshall. The whole program is cut and dried in advance, and the delegates might just as well stay at home and let the Democratic bosses do the work. Isn't this a fine sample of a well oiled, smoothly operated Democratic machine? When it comes to liberty of choice, the Democratic rank and file have about as much to say in the selection of their candidates, as the hottentot has in the selection of his chief. And yet the Democratic press devotes columns to telling how we poor Republicans are boss ridden. Fine bunk, sure enough.—News Times.

The automobile industry is one of the remarkable symptoms of modern industry and enterprise. The automobile annexes the rural to the urban regions and makes the distance near. It advances the building of better roads. And yet the motor car industry is merely in its infancy. It employs more than 225,000 skilled workmen and gives employment to about 1,250,000 more men in other industries whose service is required by the automobile. There are those who deprecate the increase of automobiles in the West because of the enormous amount of money it carries back to the east. But it is equally so in other lines—but few implement for the farm are manufactured in the West; few of the package cereals and canned goods used in the West are put up in the West, nearly all come from the East; our garments are almost entirely made in the East. The West must forge ahead in industrial lines.—News Reporter.

The Seaside highway, or that portion of it now being improved between Columbia Beach and West Station, will be formerly opened with appropriate ceremonies June 29. This is the date set by the newly organized automobile club, which will have charge of the program. With the completion of the work now under way, the highway between Astoria and Seaside will be practically hard-surfaced all the way. Local autoists are enthusiastic over this and the ceremonies, more or less elaborate, of June 29 will be the outcome of this enthusiasm, and will later rebound to the benefit of the beach resorts, for it is probable that nearly every machine in Astoria will be somewhere along the Seaside highway every Sunday during the summer season, full to overflowing with pleasure seekers who have been barred by bad roads from enjoying to the fullest the outing facilities of Clatsop and Cannon Beach.—Seaside Signal.

John U. Smith, in his travels over the four counties comprising the senatorial district in which he was a candidate, met with many pleasant experiences. Was especially the case at Hillsboro. He arrived in the evening, and getting off the train was hailed by an old time friend, whom he had not seen for many years. This man took him in charge and for two hours introduced him to passersby. Finally the Newberg man said he would have to go and get some supper. "No you don't," said his friend. "There is to be a festival given by the Eastern Star this evening and you will go and get a big supper there and meet a lot of people." Which he did and had the time of his life. One man regretted that he could not vote for him. "I'm registered as an anti-prohib and of course I can not vote for any man on any other ticket." Mr. Smith fell in with the man who had an original idea. "If I had my way," he said, "I would have every child on birth tattooed on its back with name and date of birth. Then in case of an accident and it was necessary to find out who the person might be, there would be all the information wanted."—Newberg Enterprise.

Here is something you hadn't thought about: "Who will be the next president of the United States? Next Lansing. But it isn't necessary to get excited about it. It's a fact, but a fact that needn't upset the campaign plans of any presidential candidate. The secretary of state isn't in politics at all, and isn't likely to be. No convention is going to nominate him. He isn't going to be elected. Nevertheless he'll be the next president, and this is the way of it. A law enacted in 1886 provides that whenever the president and vice-president are both unable for any reason to perform the duties of the executive office, the secretary of state shall act as president. President Wilson's term expires at noon March 4, 1917. That is Sunday. It's contrary to precedent, although not illegal, to hold an inauguration on Sunday. It is planned, therefore to have it on Monday, March 5. And so for one day Secretary Lansing will be president. He will be empowered to occupy the White House if he chooses, issue pardons, command the army and navy, and even to ride to the capital as the outgoing president in the inauguration ceremonies. It will be the first time the secretary of state has ever had such an honor, and the second time the office has ever been held by any one except the president or vice-president."—Telephone Register.

A Great Institution.

The bankers of the state have set the seal of their approval upon the live stock show which is now annually held in North Portland and translated their confidence into terms of dollars—$10,000 to be specific. This means that the show will be financed as never before, therefore that things can be done which never could have been done before.

The Portland show is different from any other show in the country. It now ranks next to the great International Live Stock Show at Chicago which means that it is the second show in consequence held in the United States. But it is not run as a money making affair. There are no charges of admission; everybody is welcome. Everybody is received with open arms and made to feel that his presence is appreciated. Until the livestock show began here it was not generally recognized that the Willamette valley was the ideal spot in the United States for the raising of high grade stock. There is no place can beat it and here eventually the breeders will come for the finest types of breeding stock. Stockmen from over the country have been more surprised over this outlook than any other. They have been surprised at the quality of the stock, beef and dairy, but they have been still more surprised to find their natural conditions that so happily blend to produce them.

A few years ago people would have been satisfied to have had Portland recognized as the pure bred stock center of the Pacific coast. But now nothing short of actual rivalry with the International at Chicago will satisfy those in charge of it. In following this line they are simply following the line of least resistance. All that is needed is a little careful direction and the growth will follow as a matter of course. The Pacific Northwest is growing proud of the annual stockshow. It will grow prouder as time goes on for it is already one of the two great events in the pure bred stock business of the country.—Telegram.

"Swatting the Rooster."

The state of Illinois offers statistics showing that for the year 1915, the farmers of the state received $45,999,999 from the sale of eggs. In the same report, it is estimated that there was a loss of $5,000,000 from bad eggs. This heavy loss in bad eggs is attributed to the males running with the hens during the summer months.

Reports from other states place the loss proportionately high, and all agree with the report from Illinois as the cause of the loss.

Males in the flock are useful only to fertilize eggs and the only fertile eggs required are those used for hatching purposes. An infertile egg will keep for weeks and months under fertile conditions that would spoil a fertile egg in a very few hours.

Some states have started a movement known as "Swat the Rooster", the plan of which is to market on the 19th day of May of each year, all males that are no considered as being desirable to keep over another year for breeding purposes. Such males as are kept over for breeding purposes, to be kept in separate pens from the general flock after the breeding season.

A report from Missouri estimates that on May 10th, 1915, there were 225,000 males taken to market, and that the marketing of these males was a saving of $4,000,000 to the poultrymen and farmers of the state of Missouri.

"Swat the rooster and produce better eggs" is a good slogan, says Fren Moore, of the Idaho Experiment Station.

Campaign Revenue Bill.

Chairman Kitchin of the House Ways and Means Committee announces that a majority of his committee will report an omnibus revenue bill, which will include provisions for a tariff commission, antidumping legislation and prohibition of "unfair competition." High duties on importations of dyestuffs for five years are to be imposed, with the proviso that after that time they are to be reduced to a tariff-for-revenue basis. The revenue part of the bill will contain a tax on the manufacture of munitions of war, a tax on inheritance and an increase of the surtax on large incomes. All the so-called "war tax" is to be retained, except the stamp levy on notes, mortgages, telephone messages, bills of lading and other instruments.

Mr. Kitchin believes that the Republicans will be so averse to some features of the revenue measure that they will be put in the position of voting against the tariff commission idea, which they originated. Consequently, he looks upon the omnibus bill as a piece of brilliant political strategy. But Republicans need not be alarmed. The country will not recognize the trick, but it will readily see that the entire bill is a campaign document. A federal inheritance tax is of doubtful validity and a munitions tax is questionable on legal and other grounds, since it would make the government actively interested in the success of a contraband business which it is supposed to tolerate. As far as the tariff is concerned, Democratic folly is traditional. The free trade and tariff-for-revenue only obsessions will prevent the Democracy from dealing wisely with the tariff. The stressing of antidumping legislation, after rejecting it in 1913, illustrates Democratic limitations. Democrats are unwilling to protect American manufacturers and American laborers from products made by pauper labor, unless there is criminal intent to undersell American products in order to establish a monopoly. A tariff commission, appointed by a president opposed to protection and unfortunate beyond most of his predecessors in the charter of his general federal appointments, would be of little value. Republicans need not hesitate to vote against the omnibus bill, after failing to amend it satisfactorily.

Get a Transfer.

If you are on the gloomy line, Get a transfer. If you are inclined to fret and pine, Get a transfer. Get off the track of doubt and gloom, Get on the sunshine train; there's room. If you are in the worry train, Get a transfer. You must not stay there and complain Get a transfer. The cheerful cars are passing through And there's lots of room for you, Get a transfer. If you are on the grouchy track, Get a transfer. Just take a happy special back, Get a transfer. Jump on the train and pull the rope, That lands you at the station Hope, Get a transfer.

The Treasury Would be Full.

Imposing war taxes in time of peace and when we are making money hand over fist out of the wars of other countries, will not pay. The Democrats will find it so. There would be no trouble with our treasury under the Dingley or Payne Tariffs. It would be full. You took off duties to reduce the cost of living. You simply gave nine-tenths of the amount of those reductions to the foreign exporters and the importers to divide between them. The cost of living increases. You were plainly warned what your plan would do. Results would have been worse but for the fact that the European war has provided a greater protection than any tariff.

Importers for Free-Trade.

Importers of citrus fruits, dairy and poultry products, hides and leather, wool and woolens are making a tremendous fight to re-elect Woodrow Wilson and a Democratic Congress. They own a great city, dailies, and magazines and employ the shrewdest writers of the nation who understand the psychology of the human mind and warp and twist it to their own interest. They are sending out pamphlets and letters and carrying on an expensive campaign to protect them in their unholy gains made at the expenses of the American producer and laborer. Manufacturers of boots and shoes, harness and leather goods are fiercely fighting Republicans through every subterfuge known to modern political warfare that they may buy their hide and leather in cheap foreign markets.

Even with practically free trade in these products boots and shoes have jumped in price, and the Democrats rub their hands in ghoulish glee as they see the people they have misled lefranded out of their just rights.

Let every farmer take a solemn vow to organize and fight free trade and restore to power the party of protection and wipe out the odious and reasonable Wilson-Underwood Free-Trade that enriches the importer and impoverishes the producer. Let them refuse to pay for newspapers and magazines that advocate free trade and support only those agencies that stand for protection to American industries and American labor. Let them remember that love abroad is spite at home and that the first duty Americans is to protect their own markets.

HEAR WITHOUT EARS.

Police and Detectives Are Using Lip Reading in Place of the Dictagraph.

Thousands of deaf people are today throwing away all hearing devices and enjoying all conversation. This method is easily and quickly acquired through our system. Absolutely the only thing of its kind in the country. Our proposition is entirely original. Cost is trifling. See what New International Encyclopedia says on Lip Reading. Hundreds of people with normal hearing are taking up Lip reading for the many additional benefits gained. You can understand what the actors are saying just as far away as you can see them. The eye understands beyond the range of hearing. Send no money, but mention this paper and state whether or not you are deaf. All particulars will be sent you absolutely free and with no expense to you. Address, School of Lip Language, Kansas City, Missouri.

A Radical Departure.

"Just a word young man," said the owner of the store.

"Yes sir?"

Raising the Boys Well.

A negro mammy had a family of boys so well behaved that one day her mistress asked:

"Sally how did you raise your boys so well?"

"Ah! tell you missus," answered Sally, "Ah, raise 'em boys with a barrel stave, an' Ah raise 'em frequent."
