THE TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT.

Editorial Snap Shots.

We believe that it is the right thing for Gov. Withycombe to do is to call a special session of the legislature for the purpose of providing funds to assist the families of the Oregon boys who offered their services and who have gone to the front. We do not like the idea of the families being dependent upon charity. The state should make liberal provisions for their support, and we are sure that the people of Oregon are patriotic and ready to share the burdens of the families of those who have been left without adequate support.

What's the use of contracts with school teachers, anyway. If a school board undertakes to fire a teacher with a contract, it is up against a law suit, for the teacher claims the full amount of money for the time the contract calls for. But a teacher, whenever he sees an opportunity to obtain a better job, resigns, leaving school district often in a dilemma. It is plain to see that teachers' contracts are binding on one side and not on the other, and it may be that school boards are to blame, in accepting resignations from teachers who are under contract. No one wants to place anything in the way of teachers obtaining better positions, but we do not like the idea of contracts with teachers who hold it as a whip hand over the district to hold onto their jobs and throw it up whenever they feel like doing so.

DOUGAL-DOUGALLY-DO-ISM

The Snap Shot Man Gets Hot in the Collar Over Bayocean Road.

When County Judge Hare told the Commercial Club and the property owners of Bayocean that their taxes should be reduced one half, simply provokes what the snap shot man has repeatedly stated, that Bayocean is not getting a square deal.

The only person at the meeting of the Commercial Club who opposed spending the $15,000 appropriated for Bayocean road was the Dougally-Dougally-Do-Man, who is not a resident of this county nor does he pay a cent of taxes towards building roads and other public improvements. But he seems to think he is the big "It" and boss of the county.

If the timbermen whom the Dougally-Dougally-Do-Man represents are going to be such sticklers about hard surfacing and insist that the money appropriated for Bayocean road be used for hard surfacing, they let all get the hard surface fever and bond the county for $420,000 and have a good lot of it, and not show a mean disposition and deprive Bayocean, which is paying twice the amount of taxes it should, of the money that rightly belongs to building the road to that place. The people of this county are in favor of giving Bayocean a road and a way out because they know that it is justly entitled to it. Bonding the county for $420,000 for hard surfacing will be the best kind of resentment to Dougally-Dougally-Do-ism in this county. The snap shot man does not want to be driven into the bonding band wagon, but the way things have developed over the Bayocean road, we want to tell the timber men they are creating a decidedly favorable impression in favor of bonding the county, and if it carries, and we are inclined to think it will, then they can thank the Dougally-Dougally-Do-Man. If the timbermen were farmers and business men of this county, and the other fellows paid 75 percent of the taxes we believe every man jack of them would be strong advocates for $420,000 worth of surfaced highway in the county and would be out and out boosters for bonding the county.

The County Court is in a dilemma, and between the devil and the deep blue sea, over the Bayocean road. If it uses the money appropriated for that purpose the timber men threaten to take proceedings, and if the court uses the money for hard surfacing, they will meet with the same legal proceedings by the Bayocean people. Two years ago the budget contained an item of $10,000 for a bridge at Woods, the money being placed there at the request of Carl Haberlach, who claimed that a bridge would be a great benefit to the dairymen in that section, and on that occasion no objections were raised and at the budget meeting the taxpayers approved of this expenditure. But the County Court ignored the action of the budget meeting and expended the money for other purposes. No one ever heard of the timbermen insisting upon the County Court expending the $10,000 as provided for in the budget for a bridge to benefit the dairymen in the vicinity of Woods, nor did Mr. Haberlach, who so strenuously advocated the bridge for the benefit of the dairymen and which would help develop the dairy industry. We are casting no reflections on the County Court that the $10,000 was not used to good advantage and a benefit to the people in the south part of the county, but it established a precedent in not complying with its own budget and the vote of the taxpayers at the budget meeting. The County Court, when making up its budget last year placed $10,000 in it for the Bayocean road, and at the budget meeting the taxpayers increased this to $15,000, provided a bid was made to complete the road for that amount of money. Then a foolish motion was made, that if the court failed to obtain a bid to complete the road, the money should be used for hard surfacing, the plea being made again that the hard surfaced roads were a great benefit to the dairymen. The Potter Realty Co. having failed to make good its promise, leaves the County Court in a bad fix. If it insists upon spending the money appropriated for Bayocean on hard surfacing, and believes it is right and proper to comply with the action of the taxpayers' meeting, it should have expended the $10,000 in the previous budget for a bridge at Woods. This is the situation that confronts the County Court today, for it established a precedent that, although the budget two years ago contained an item for $10,000 for a bridge at Woods, it expended the money elsewhere. We believe the court have the right to expend the $15,000 appropriated for the Bayocean road in the construction of that road, notwithstanding the foolish string that was tied to the resolution, for we contend that the budget meeting is advisory and not binding on the court. But if the $15,000 is to be used for hard surfacing to benefit the dairymen, why not bond the county for $420,000 so as to give them 40 miles of hard surfaced road so that they can get to the cheese factories and have a great deal of pleasure driving over hard surfaced roads in their autos? Mr. Dougal says the timber men are in favor of good roads and pays 75 per cent of the taxes, and all the dear farmers have to do is to step up to the polls this fall and vote for 40 miles of hard surfaced road. That's easy. And then come in at the next annual budget meeting and demand that the county court go the limit of 10 miles for road purposes and put some more money into hard surfacing. That's the way to get hard surfaced roads, and let the poor devils over at Bayocean who have invested money there and have been discriminated against and assessed twice the amount they should be without one cent's benefit, go to blazes. If our readers think that the snap shot man is in a scrapping mood this week they think about right, for its enough to make any newspaper man's blood boil when he sees the injustice of some people in endeavoring to deprive Bayocean of a road and a way out after the property owners have taken hold of a piece of property which only paid about $100.00 in taxes which is now paying over $7,000.00. Every fair minded person in Tillamook believes that Bayocean is justly entitled to a road and it is an outrage to deprive it of a way out, especially as nearly all the money is available to complete it, and if the money is diverted it will only mean additional money to be provided for in the next budget to complete the road, which the people will demand.

Relief Measure.

Governor Withycombe has sent out the following letter to interest the people in helping the families of the Oregon boys who have been called out and ordered to the front.

My Dear Sir:—About 1400 enlisted men of Oregon have responded to their country's call. This has resulted in numerous instances in the removal of the source of support to many dependent families and immediate organized relief action is urgently needed.

In order to organize relief work throughout the state I have appointed a State wide committee to be known as the Executive Committee of the Oregon Patriotic League. Hon. A. L. Mills, president of the First National Bank, of Portland, is Chairman of the organization. The purposes of the league are to co-operate with local relief bodies in providing assistance for dependent families whose wage earners have been called away on military duty, and to prevent duplication of the relief work.

To make this movement a thorough success, every social, fraternal, religious and commercial organization in the State of Oregon should participate.

As the head of the commercial organization of your city, you can render this worthy cause valuable assistance by enlisting the aid of all patriotic bodies in your community. Will you, therefore, kindly present this matter immediately to any organization that would be interested, leaving one of the enclosed registry cards for the immediate appointment of delegates to the Oregon Patriotic League? In the event that sufficient registry cards are not enclosed, kindly have similar cards prepared. Upon return of the registry card, the organization will receive communications from time to time from headquarters as to the duties.

You are urgently asked to name a committee to represent your organization.

Let us show our patriotism by acting promptly in the relief of the dependent ones left behind by our brave men who so nobly answer the call of their country.

Sincerely yours,
 James Withycombe, Gov.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure, with local treatment, it became incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Chautauqua Week Starts on Tuesday.

The big week starts Tuesday. Jack T. Stanton, the local representative of the Ellison White Chautauqua System, is in town to devote his entire time and energy in boosting and helping the local committee and the people of Tillamook in making this your chautauqua a big thing. Chautauqua people are to be regaled with America's most premier orators, entertainers and musicians. The Ionian Serenaders are four vivacious pieces of femininity coached by Elias Lay of the Chicago Conservatory of Music, and regarded as the greatest musical coach in America today. The Ionian's afternoon program will be variegated with readings by Miss Ruth Meeker, of much fame on Chautauqua platforms, S. Platt Jones, the Yankee monologist, will give you a sixty-five minute program, with a laugh every ten seconds. Vincenzo Gullotta is a violinist of international fame, having won much fame in Europe before coming to this country. Miss Goltra, with Gullotta trio, sings in grand opera during the winter and to Chautauqua audiences in the summer.

Dr. Elliott A. Boyle is the coworker of Dr. Gunnar of Chicago, having exchanged pulpits with the latter. Dr. Boyle's inspirational lecture, "The Seen and Unseen," is a work of art and will be especially appreciated by fathers and mothers. Frederick Vining Fischer was dean of the lecture bureau and was introduced to eastern platforms as "a great lecturer with an illustrated obligato." Dr. Fisher has a collection of pictures that are wonderful, chosen by him from the exhibit of pictures at the Panama Exposition. The personnel of the Lyric Opera Company are picked from the leading light opera companies of the United States. In the afternoon they present a musical burlesque and in the evening they present in costume the famous opera "Martha." Mrs. Harriet Gunn Robertson is a writer of much repute and a big club woman. She is a direct relation of Louise Mary Alcott and the authoress of "Mary of Magdala." In her lecture, "Success Where You Are" she takes up those problems of home and community life and shows the relation of each part, no matter how complex. Ernest J. Sias, the town doctor, has a lecture with a punch. He has been on the platform for twelve years and in the east was receiving $150 a lecture. He adheres strictly to problems of civic and community developments and solves them for you by methods worked out by himself or thoroughly familiar with.

Mandel Witespie's Royal Hungarian Orchestra is composed of six Hungarians and two Americans. The former are picked from royal orchestras in Europe and the Americans from the two largest symphony orchestras in New York.

Joseph Kekuku's Hawaiian Quintette were picked from the original Toots Paka Alisky and Pird of Paradise companies, who make the records for the Victor and Edison people.

Victor Murdock, the fiery and red-headed insurgent from Kansas, is back from the war zone in Europe and the Chicago convention in all his glory. Mr. Murdock needs no introduction.

Junior Chautauqua work is one of the big things. Miss Morse, junior supervisor, has been coached for a week in Boise, Idaho, by a special teacher to prepare for handling children. The work deals with the early English period and is educational and entertaining for children. Miss Morse organizes the children into King Arthur's court, and on the last day presents a pageant. Don't let your children miss this.

Off the Chautauqua platform a single admission to any one of the attractions the Chautauqua brings to you would cost you the price of a season ticket. An adult season ticket at $2.50 gives you these wonderful people at the ridiculously low price of 20 cents a performance. Children's tickets 13¢ and admit the holder to junior Chautauqua and all performances. Our local business men were public spirited enough to obligate themselves by contract with no thought of hope or reward to bring this Chautauqua to you. When you buy a season ticket you are supporting your business men and helping them make good this obligation. Don't you owe them your support?

Farmer Reed to Build New Barn.

S. G. Reed is getting the foundation laid for the erection of a big new barn on his Neah-Kah-nie ranch and it is to be one of the largest and most modern structures of the kind in the county.

It has been customary in the past for the people hereabouts to consider Mr. Reed in the light of a beach promoter rather than a farmer. This is not just to Mr. Reed because a 1000 acre ranch on which he farms and pastures 960 acres 40 acres platted to beach lots.

Mr. Reed is a progressive citizen and farmer. He is improving his herds, both in quality and quantity and along economic and scientific lines. The Reed milk check is increasing in size and will soon equal those of others, who are older at the farming game.

If Tillamook county had more energetic people of the Farmer Reed stripe, it would do no harm.—Neahalem Times.

By order of the Common Council, dated this 13th day of June, 1916.

Elizabeth De Barrie Gill.

It is unusual an artist of several talents is found to be equally proficient in each, but this is the distinction of Mrs. Elizabeth de Barrie Gill, harpist, contralto soloist and entertainer, who renders three-in-one concert at Chautauqua.

Mrs. Gill's exceptional work on the harp has established the popularity of this instrument with the thousands who have heard her. The harp that she carries is gold, of rare workmanship and of a tone which reveals the carrying qualities even of the violin or piano. The sounding board which will be especially built on the platform perfects the acoustic properties for an open air concert in the big tent.

To the great joy of Chautauqua patrons Mr. Gill specializes on the old home ballads, negro dialect and folk songs of all nations. She plays some as instrumental solos others she sings to her own accompaniment, the colorful sweetness of her voice adding a measurable charm to her concert.

Also Mrs. Gill is an accomplished reader and impersonator giving several splendid selections enjoyably interwoven with choice interludes on the harp.

Mrs. Elizabeth de Barrie Gill is one of the most pleasurable numbers offered by western chautauqs this year, and will certainly carry away her share of the honors.

Madame Fay Marvilius.

Poor polly Dick Steel, friend of Addison, who outlived every thing but his great heart, and a delicacy of fine feeling which enabled him to say all that an inspiration called forth without overreading the proprieties of good taste, or falling into the rut of stereotyped phrases the meaning of which continuous usage had weakened.

In speaking of Madame Fay Marvilius, who sings at chautauqua to the accompaniment of Witespie's Royal Hungarian Orchestra, nothing could more fittingly describe her than a few words of Steel written in emulation of one of the Ladies of Queen Ann's Court—who was known far and wide for the exceptional graciousness of manner which was a chief glory of her accomplishments. Of her Dick Steel wrote: "To have seen her was unconsciously to think finer thoughts—to have known her was a liberal education in the arts."

That is the charm of Marvilius, you expect to hear her sing usually well the moment you see her, and the beauty of it is that you are not disappointed. Everyone has noted the qualities that make the most pictorial display in an art gallery; when the picture and the frame harmoniously complement each other a single impression is produced that hangs pendulantly in the mind for many days. This is the delight of the Royal Hungarians—Marvilius concert at chautauqua.

Witespie's Royal Hungarian Orchestra.

Chautauqua folks are expecting a great program from Witespie's Royal Hungarian Orchestra, who are returned to western chautauqs at the unanimous solicitation of all towns on the circuit which were privileged to hear them last year. The popularity of Witespie's Royal Hungarians in America is as great as that enjoyed by them in music centers of Europe where they frequently played for the Royal dignitaries and court functions.

The way Witespie's Royal Hungarian Orchestra play the rhapsodies is the wonder of all who hear them. The lively touch given to the best syncopation in modern music is a delight to lovers of popular music. Classics and light operas, home ballads and folk songs all have an equally conspicuous place on a Royal Hungarian program.

Mandel Witespie is an orchestral leader of international prominence who has kept intact a company of musicians whose artistic sense enables them to reflect the interpretive concepts of their director to the fullest extent.

The big brown tent will be crowded to its utmost capacity at the appearance of Witespie's Royal Hungarian Orchestra on the fourth day of the chautauqua.
