What a Woman Should Know. One of the important things to know in life, especially if you are a woman, is how to let yourself alone, writes Mary Carolyn Davies in the Mother's Magazine. The ability to relax, the art of being judiciously lazy, the tact to let yourself alone has saved many a person from a nervous breakdown. We all know the housewife who nags herself into such a state of conscientiousness that she cannot rest. If she lies down she is continually worrying herself with thoughts of the work that she is neglecting. Much of the blame for this state of affairs lies at the doors of the mothers. The mistake is in their training of their children, especially their daughters. They are taught from earliest infancy to be kind to others, to bear with them, to forgive them, to help them; but from birth to death no one ever tells them to be kind, also, to themselves. The woman who nags herself can make herself more miserable than anyone else possibly could. She can make her life more of a nightmare than any misfortune could possibly make it. If such women could learn to be kinder to themselves there is no doubt that their own lives would be lengthened; and not only that, but the lives of those with whom they come in close contact would be made far more pleasant.

America's Richest Woman. Mrs. Hetty Green, long considered one of America's richest women, if not the richest, has died, leaving a fortune beyond the power of the average imagination to conceive. Left rich as a girl, she added to her millions by shrewd management. She lived in such frugal fashion as to make her name a national synonym for stinginess. She may have had worthy secret motives for the accumulation of wealth. If so, they will become public only when her will is read. Russell Sage, whose habits were similar, left a princely fortune for philanthropy. But Hetty Green died without giving the world any hint of philanthropic purposes. For a long time she was suspected of refusing for sentimental reasons to sell an abandoned gold mine, acquired by her husband. But a few months ago she sold the mine at a fancy price, for which she had been waiting. She engaged in no great enterprises. She seemed to care little for the power wealth gave her. She seemed to be thrifty for thrift's sake, a worthy disciple of Poor Richard. If gathering and holding money be the chief aim of life Mrs. Green was a great success. Her judgment in financial matters was almost infallible. She foresaw the panic of 1907 and mobilized her resources so that she was able to render aid to her associates, on terms profitable to her. She was apparently never swayed by sentiment. Before her marriage she demanded a contract that precluded the possibility of Mr. Green ever wasting any of her money. She sought to train her son in her financial ways and is said to have hoped to make him the richest American. Although a loyal son, Mr. Green has shown a better conception of relative values, and it may safely be predicted that his portions of his mother's money will do vastly more for human betterment than it did while in possession of "America's richest woman."

A young woman went into a grocery store and asked the clerk if he had some cheese. "Yes, indeed," he replied, "I have some lovely cheese!" "It is not correct to call cheese 'lovely,'" she said. "How is that?" he inquired. "Because 'lovely' should be used to qualify only something that is alive." "Well," retorted the clerk, "I'll stick to 'lovely.'"

DON'T WAIT. Take Advantage of a Hillsboro Citizen's Experience. When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic; Till urinary troubles develop; Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest. Profit by a Hillsboro citizen's experience. Zina Wood, Broadway St., Hillsboro, Ore., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills helped my back and relieved me of kidney trouble, I recommend them as first class kidney medicine. I haven't used them to any great extent but what I took relieved my back in short order. My experience proves that Doan's Kidney Pills can benefit the system." Price, 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy - get Doan's Kidney Pills - the same that Zina Wood had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. Druggist.
