THE TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT. Editorial Snap Shots.

One Portland gentleman has expended over $50,000 on three cottages at Bayocean, which are three of the best cottages in the county and spends a large part of the winter at that place, but the county takes his taxes but won't give him a way out.

On account of the County Court depriving Bayocean of a road and a way out they have placed the $75,000 investment of a natorium at that place on the bum. With a road it would be a paying investment, for it is greatly enjoyed by all who visit that seaside resort. Is that the way to treat those who come here and expend money in making our seaside resorts attractive?

Bro. Trombley has flopped again. It will be remembered that when the election was held to grant a franchise to the Standard Oil Co., he opposed it and pointed out all kinds of imaginary dangers that would happen to the city, but the citizens knew that he was trying to pump hot air into them. Now the oil station is erected and he can see for himself what a foolish stand he took, he has flopped over and is now praising the oil station, and pointing out the safety in handling and storing of oil. We are compelled to ask our respected Bro., which articles were correct, the scare crowd ones published a few months ago or the one published this week. One or the other must be bare faced falsehoods.

The snap shot man made an inspection of the Bayocean road that is built from the Biggs place, in all about 3,000 feet, and we were greatly pleased to see that the dirt thrown up by the dredge had packed so well, and, in our judgment, it is foolishness to throw away that piece of road for another route simply because the rock used for riprapping slacked with the heavy frost of last winter. Another fifteen or sixteen hundred feet will take the road to Flower Pot, and from there it will simply be side hill construction, with a few points to blast off of soft rock. Over $4,000 was expended on the road near the Biggs place, and this will be money thrown away if another route is located.

If the County Court follows implicitly the vote of the taxpayers at the budget meeting, and thinks that it is good horse sense, all that the "hold up" men have to do in future is to get a few persons to attend the budget meeting and vote to place a string on every appropriation and "hold up" the whole of the road work of the county. That is the ludicrous position that the County Court is placing itself in by the precedent it is adopting by diverting money for the Bayocean road for other purposes, because a few persons voted and wanted a string placed on the money for the purpose of holding up the work. This game of "hold up" can be played by a few persons from one road district voting against improvements in another, and the merry war of "hold up" can be carried on until it creates bitter feeling all over the county, which the "hold up" of the Bayocean appropriation is now doing against those who take part in the "hold up."

The snap shot man must say a good word for the Nehalem Valley. The enterprising citizens who had the business foresight and went ahead and gave Nehalem Valley deep water facilities, opened up that rich part of the county to the commerce of the world, and we want to say that in a few years the whole of the Nehalem Valley will be a bee hive of industrial activity, and it won't be many years either before this comes about. It has been the pleasure and pride of the snap shot man to boost and say a good word for all sections of the county and advocate anything that will help benefit it, and we rejoice today that we can say another good word for the Nehalem Valley, and those who have so nobly stood by that section of the county. We hope in the future that the spirit of harmony, good will and pull together will prevail, for that is what makes any locality attractive and progressive. The snap shot man takes his hat off to the Nehalem Valley, for it is going to grow and develop in leaps and bounds and nothing can prevent it.

One thing the snap shot man would like to enlighten the people upon and that is the injustice that is being done lot and property owners of Bayocean. There are somewhere near 700 persons who have bought and now own lots at Bayocean, and a like number who are paying for them on installments, and these persons are the ones who are unjustly dealt with on account of diverting the money for the Bayocean road for hard surfacing. We are told that these lot owners were well satisfied with the $10,000 that was appropriated for the road in last year's budget, but when the matter was before the taxpayers' meeting it was Mr. Clements the president of the Potter Realty Company who put up the proposition to complete the road if the taxpayers appropriated another $5,000. We are sorry to say, he failed to make good and by the "string" that was after-words tied to the motion, if one gentleman failed to live up to his own proposition, it is plain to everybody that everybody else having interests in Bayocean and that vicinity must suffer. We feel free to express our opinion that Mr. Clements should have been fully assured that his proposition would not miscarry, but having done so, we feel that it is absolutely wrong to make other property owners suffer because he failed to come through. We appeal to the justice and good common sense of the people of Tillamook and ask them if they think the lot and property owners of Bayocean have been properly dealt with in taking away all the money from Bayocean because one person failed to live up to his agreement?

Dr. F. L. Loveland, pastor of the First M. E. Church of Portland, played the scandal-mongers in a sermon last Sunday, the blab, the back-biter, the tattler, the busybody, or whatever other name by which we choose to characterize persons who destroy the good names of individuals through the scattering of subtle innuendoes, and he hoped that "some day evangelists will come who are strong enough and big enough to tear the masks off the scandal-mongers who do more damage than is done by all the dances and the card playing and the theatre going that church members do." That is a severe indictment hurled at some church members. Here is another sally from the Rev. gentleman: "Mere garrulity leads to evil speech because the person who is merely garrulous knows nothing else. He knows not how to talk about art, literature, the tariff, theology. All he knows is to talk mean about his neighbor." The snap shot man will add to this that a good many of the meetings by women connected with church work develop into scandal. They open their meetings with prayer and then talk scandal about other persons and other churches. We hope this will not offend any of the women who are church members in this city, but we want to say also that the scandal monger, whether man or woman, in any church, is a dangerous person to take part in church work. They need weeding out of the church.

The system of one road district aiming to get the better of another road district is wrong, but it is only human nature after all. The road district that can get the most "strings" on the road funds generally get the lion's share of the road money, and with three road districts in the county there is always more or less strife to get a "pull" on the road funds. But no one can blame the county judge or commissioners if they put one over on one another, for their constituents expect them to get all that is coming to them and a little more if they can "pull" the "string". We will illustrate this by a little story: A Jew was giving his son some advice, and he said "My son, get money; get it honestly if you can, but get money." When County Judge Hare and Commissioner Owens decided to get the money that should have gone into the Bayocean road they must have been prompted by the same motives that the Jew had in getting money. The first and second road districts have contributed $15,000 towards a road project in road district No. 3—the Sour Grass road—and now $15,000 that should be placed on the Bayocean road is to be diverted and used for the benefit of road district No. 3, even though it is expended in road district No. 2. Personally, the snap shot man is in favor of expending the road money where it is most needed and will do the most good, no matter which district the money is expended in, but we want to raise another word of protest at the action of the county court is keeping Bayocean "bottled up" and expending the money that was intended to give the property owners a way out and expending it upon a road in another part of the county where the citizens have had a good road for years. It is wrong and unjust, to say the least.

HARMONY.

Miss Lydia Erhick, of Portland, sister of Mrs. Otto Krebs, returned to her home on Monday after a two weeks' visit. Mrs. Wm. True and family spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. D. P. Hopkins. Mark Comstick, of Portland, uncle of Mrs. G. G. Graves, also Miss Ella Rogers and Mrs. A. F. Waldson, of Willamette, a cousin and niece, visited relatives at Harmony. Chas. Krebs and family, of Sandy, and Chas. Bookman, wife and son Emil, of Sherwood, parents and brother of Mrs. Chas. Krebs, are visiting at the Krebs Bros. for a few days. They came in by auto and are making daily trips from here to coast points, returning each night. The Krebs Bros., of the Tillamook Clay Works, are building a new dry shed. Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Hopkins were Tillamookers callers on Friday. There is a great deal of hay down and unless the rain ceases and a good bright sun comes soon there will be a great deal lost in this vicinity as well as elsewhere in the county. Mrs. John Mix and son, Wesley, of South Prairie, visited the home of G. G. Graves, Sunday. Ole Hopkins and family, Elmer Hopkins and family and Herman Hopkins and wife spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Hopkins.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address H. S. HUGHES DEMANDS AMERICAN POLICY.

Unflinching Upholding of Rights His Keynote—Campaign Issues Outlined.

New York, July 31.—Charles E. Hughes tonight outlined in his speech of acceptance the issue upon which he will conduct his campaign for the presidency. Mr. Hughes assailed the Administration for the course it has pursued with reference to Mexico, maintenance of American rights during the European war, preparedness and other great questions of the day. He declared for a new policy of "firmness and consistency" toward Mexico, for "the unflinching maintenance of all American rights on land and seas" and for adequate national defense; adequate protection on both our Western and Eastern coasts.

"Alien Intrigues Condemned." "We denounce all plots and conspiracies in the interest of any foreign nation," Mr. Hughes said. "Utterly intolerable is the use of our soil for alien intrigues. Every American must unreservedly condemn them and support every effort of their suppression."

The nominee assailed the administration for its "direction of diplomatic intercourse" from the beginning, declaring that where there should have been conspicuous strength and expertise there had been weakness and inexperience. He cited Santo Domingo as an instance where appointments had gone to "deserving Democrats" and to the failure to continue Ambassador Herrick at his post in Paris after the war had started as "a lamentable sacrifice of international repute."

"Vote for Women Indorsed." "I indorse the declaration in the platform in favor of woman suffrage," Mr. Hughes declared, and he added: "Objection cannot be made, but in my judgment cannot delay, this movement. I favor the vote for women."

One-fourth of the speech was devoted to Mexico. Step after step taken by the administration with reference to Mexico was assailed, from the days of Huerta to the note sent the de facto government by the State Department June 20 last, part of which was quoted in the speech. The seizure of Vera Cruz, the nominee said, was "a war of course."

"Later we retired from Vera Cruz," he continued, "giving up this noble warfare. Recently the naked truth was admitted by a Cabinet officer. We are now informed that we did not go to Vera Cruz to force Huerta to salute the flag. We are told that we went there to 'show Mexico' that we were in earnest in our demand that Huerta must go."

"America," Mr. Hughes continued, "has no policy of aggression toward Mexico, no desire for any part of her territory, but wishes her to have peace, stability and prosperity."

"The conduct of the administration has created difficulties we shall have to surmount," he said. "We demand from Mexico, the protection of the lives and property of our citizens and the security of our border from depredations."

"Brave Words Not Enough." Safeguarding American rights abroad had not been accomplished by the administration, he said. There had been "brave words in a series of notes," but "what does it avail to use some of the strongest words known to diplomacy if Ambassadors can receive the impression that the words are not to be taken seriously."

The nominee reiterated his declaration that had this Government left no doubt that it meant to hold Germany "to strict accountability" there would have been no loss of life on the Lusitania.

Discussing preparedness Mr. Hughes said it was apparent that the United States was "shockingly unprepared."

"Naval Administration Incompetent." "The Administration has failed to discharge its responsibilities," Mr. Hughes continued. "Apparently it is now seeking to meet political exigencies by its naval programme. But it has imposed upon the country an incompetent naval administration."

"We demand adequate protection on both our Eastern and Western coasts. We demand thoroughness and efficiency in both arms of the service. It seems to be plain that our regular army is too small. We are too great a country to require of our citizens who are engaged in peaceful vocations the sort of military service to which they are now called."

Of the present prosperity, Mr. Hughes said: "We are living in a fool's paradise." "It is about by the abnormal conditions of the war. For the protection of the industries and workmen of the United States against the competition of an energized Europe."

"Protective Policy Needed." Mr. Hughes said it was plain that we must have protection, up-building policies. Other measures, too, should be applied, he said, notably the up-building of a merchant marine.

"To make peace lasting and effective when the present war shall end, Mr. Hughes advocated the formation of an international tribunal to dispose of controversies of a justiciable sort, backed by the co-operation of the nations to prevent war before peaceful methods of adjustment end."

Mr. Hughes also declared for the "conservation of the just interests of labor," for conservation of natural resources and for a national budget.

"Our opponents promise economy, but they have shown a reckless extravagance. It is time we had fiscal reform."

Mr. Hughes closed with an endorsement of the Republican platform adopted by the national convention and a formal acceptance of the nomination.
