

THE FAIR OPENS.

Tillamook Day Brought out a Big Crowd.

The Tillamook County Fair opened on Tuesday, the weather being ideal and considerable interest was taken in the opening proceedings by the business men of this city, who gave the fair a real live boost and commendable send off, which brought considerable money into the fair's treasury. This was brought about by the activity of the Tillamook Commercial Club and the business men. The fair this year is well up to the average of other fairs, the lateness of the season and variable weather the past few months having much to do with the smaller display of agricultural products and floral displays.

Business Men's Parade.

One hundred business men took part in the parade on Tuesday, and as this was the first time that they had taken part in a parade of that character it proved highly successful as well as attractive. The business men were dressed in white pants, white shirts and white hats. Preceding the procession was the band and a small delegation from the G. A. R. and W. R. C., and following the two lines of business men the city council occupied an auto and Governor Withycombe, Mayor Broadhead and City Attorney H. T. Boots rode in another auto.

There was only one decorated car, that of the Grand Leader.

One attractive feature was a number of young girls dressed in yellow and carrying milk pails and milk stools. They drew what was supposed to be a large Tillamook cheese, one third cut. This was on two wheels, and the young milk maids came in for a good deal of applause on the line of march and at the fair grounds.

The Governor Speaks.

At the meeting in the afternoon, Fred C. Baker welcomed the people to the fair and H. T. Boots represented the Mayor and city. After making a few remarks he introduced Governor Withycombe.

Governor Withycombe opened his address by expressing his very, very great pleasure in coming back to this great dairy country, not being an entire stranger here, and ever since his first trip has not lost faith in the future before us. The Governor particularly emphasized on the necessity of the improvement of the home, the farm home particularly, the home of all homes, as he expressed it; something to keep the boys and girls at home and be with them always a pleasant memory. The Governor commented favorably on the vast contrast between our first fairs held here and our present undertaking. He commented on his being indirectly the cause, not entirely but to some extent of the consolidation of the dairymen in this community, consequential to which was the standardization and increased price obtained for our commodities. When the Governor first came here, over the old Wilson route, he was struck at once with the sight of cows grazing on the green fields when over on the other side of the divide everything was desolate. The Governor praised in strong terms the work of the early pioneers, the ones who laid the way for us, which was greeted with much applause. He expressed his earnest hope and desire that we should work together and soon see the time when each acre would produce enough to feed a cow and that cow would bring a return of $100 per year, which could best be realized by an intelligent study of more careful feeding, silage, etc. The Governor spoke very favorably of the differences and work together, for there should be no friction in our community, it being to the best interest of everybody to pull together. Loyalty to our county by preparing ourselves to compete successfully with the foreign invasion of labor after the present European conflict was strongly laid before the audience.

Boosters' Meeting.

At the evening meeting H. T. Boots, Rev. Van Winkle, and D. L. Shrode were the local speakers and W. S. Raker, of Portland, spoke on the community spirit and preparedness in local matters, emphasizing the fact the entire community was made up of one family and there should be entire co-operation between all sections of the county. Mr. Raker dwelt principally on the importance of the beach business and what a great financial help it was to the county. He said that 100 cars a day were coming to the county by way of the South road, and now that the Seaside-Tillamook road was finished a large number were coming in by that route also. He strongly pleaded for better roads to reach the splendid beach in Tillamook county and now that tourists could loop the loop he predicted that travel into Tillamook would greatly increase for the beach business brings thousands of dollars every day into the county. He had hoped the loop last week and the day was a revelation to him for beauty and pleasure. He predicted that the tourist business would become larger than the dairy industry and was a great asset to the county.

Wednesday was Farmers' day at the fair and the parade was composed of how people reached Tillamook from its early settlement until now.

Farmers' Meeting.

The meeting was packed in the evening, there being hundreds unable to find seats. The speaker of the evening was J. M. Dickson, who made a strong plea for better protection of cattle during winter. This was preceded by a concert given by McGhee's orchestra. The musical and other features of the program were pleasing events especially the flea drill.

Orange Display.

There are orange displays in the main building, and one by C. E. Donaldson. These are all very creditable displays and meet the attention of the different products. The Granges represented are Nestucca, Fairview, Pleasant Valley, White Clover, Sandlake and Cloverdale.

the different products. The Granges represented are Nestucca, Fairview, Pleasant Valley, White Clover, Sandlake and Cloverdale.

Exhibits by District Schools.

One of the most pleasing features of the fair is the exhibits by the district schools, and although there are a large number of exhibits, every school district in the county should take part in this laudable part of the county fair. There are some very pretty school exhibits, gotten together in fine artistic taste. Tillamook, Garibaldi, Bay City and Fairview are certainly deserving of a great deal of credit.

The school districts which took part were Miami, Tillamook, Bay City, Cloverdale, Maple Leaf, Fairview, Garibaldi, Ginger, Crane, Sandlake, South Prairie, Krebs and Long Prairie, with a booth for miscellaneous articles from other schools.

Nehalem Wins Dahlia Prize

Nehalem won the first prize for the best display of dahlias and Tillamook second prize.

Wednesday was another big day at the fair, the crowd being probably a little larger than the previous day, while the attendance at the evening meeting drew such a large crowd hundreds were unable to get into the building.

Cheese Scoring Contest.

The cheese scoring contest at the fair resulted in Fairview gaining first honors.

The scores were as follows: Cloverdale, H. W. Thomas, maker—Flavor, 34; texture, 11; body, 12½; color, 8½; salt, 10; finish, 9; total, 85.

The Prize Winners.

We were unable to obtain complete list of the prize winners for this issue, and the Headlight will make an effort in conjunction with the Fair Board to have a complete list published next week.

Banquet Friday Evening.

The Holstein and Jersey Breeders' Association and the Commercial Club will give a banquet Friday evening at the Fair Grounds. Tickets are 75c, to be obtained from Charles Kunze and Ira Smith.

To help boost better stock breeding and next year's fair, the President of the Tillamook Commercial Club will offer some cash prizes for the dairy herd that makes the best production of milk next year.

The children's parade was well attended today.

The parade on Friday is under the auspices of the Women's Civic Improvement League where the Dahlia Queen will shine forth in all her glory for Friday is Dahlia day.

HITLESS BASEBALL.

Remarkable Record That Was Made by Cy Young In 1904.

The proud record for pitching consecutive innings of hitless baseball is held by no less a personage than the Hon. Denton Tecumseh Young of blessed baseball memory. Mr. Young, better known as "Cy," is the holder of several records in unusual feats in the pitching line.

It was back in April, 1904, that Young proceeded to shatter all figures in this line, and before he got through he had created a new record in hurling hitless ball and one which stands today clean cut and without a spot or blemish and without a doubt the greatest piece of pitching the game ever witnessed.

On April 30 against the Washington team Young took Winter's place in the third inning, no one out, and pitched out the game, retiring the next twenty-one batsmen in order. Young's next game took place May 5 against the Athletics. Cy pitched the best game of his long and honorable career that day and retired twenty-seven of those famous swatsmen of Connie Mack in a row. In a game against Detroit on May 11 Denton T. pitched his famous fifteen inning 1 to 0 game against the Tigers, and in the first seven innings Young set them down without a base hit.

This would give Cy twenty-three innings of hitless ball, or, in other words, as far as the records show, sixty-eight batsmen stepped to the plate and were retired in succession. In that same period the big Obloan pitched forty-eight consecutive innings where in his opponents failed to get a run across the plate. After his great no hit-no run game against the Athletics he pitched fifteen innings of hitless ball, as mentioned, against the Tigers with Ed Killian opposing him. It was a battle royal, and the clever Killian met defeat by a score of 1 to 0.—New York Sun.

CHARTING THE GREAT LAKES.

Uncle Sam Has a Steady Job in These Perilous Waters.

Summer after summer the fleet of the lake survey sails the broad expanse of the five lakes and the score of bays and inlets searching for danger spots that may claim their heavy toll of human life and vessel tonnage.

Since 1841 the United States government has been silently carrying on this work a herculean fight against the jagged reef and the unseen shoal that menace navigation. Sounding lines have been plunged into black depths of 95,000 square miles of water, and still today there are areas that have not been charted in which passing barks may founder.

Probably no frequented waterways in the world are so hazardous as the great lakes. At no time is a steamer or on them more than a comparatively few hours from shore and periodically fierce storms arise, fully as violent as those experienced on the ocean, which play with the steel ships, battering them helplessly about, threatening to engulf or sweep them ashore.

Over $5,000,000 has been spent by the government since 1841 for the prosecution of the work of charting the lakes. Locked in heavy timbered boxes, protected from fire in immense vaults in the old postoffice building, Detroit, are over 1,200 field charts, dating back to 1818, when a survey of Lake Erie was made by officers of the British navy. With few exceptions the maps are the result of the scientific searches of United States officers and surveyors.—New York Sun.

Some People Never Satisfied.

We lived for awhile in a Korean home, eating Korean rice, pickles and seaweed, padding about in stocking feet, sitting on our heels in lieu of chairs, sleeping on stone floors with our heads resting (?) on the customary pine blocks which the Koreans much prefer to pillows. But we had these experiences only when we deliberately sought them. The orient is the orient de luxe to those who wish it so.—Christian Herald.

Railways in Shakespeare's Time.

An American lady at Stratford on Avon showed even more than the usual American enthusiasm and fervor. She had not recovered when she reached the railway station, for she remarked to a friend as they walked on the platform, "To think that it was from this very platform the immortal bard would depart whenever he journeyed to town."

A Straight Tip.

"Say," growled the first hobo, "why didn't yer go ter dat big house an' git a handout?" "Why I started ter," replied the other, "but a minister lookin' guy gimme a tip not ter. He sez: 'Turn from yer present path. Yer'e goin' ter de dogs.'" —Philadelphia Press.

"Spin" Is Right.

"I was out for a spin in my new car yesterday." "Spin is right, old man. I saw you when you skidded on the wet asphalt and turned around three times before you could get control of the car again." —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
