

GET TOGETHER BANQUET.

Large Attendance of Farmers and Business Men—Club Officers Breeders' Prize.

The get together banquet, which was initiated by the Holstein Breeders' Association, drew together a large number of farmers and business men on Friday evening, which brought the county fair to a fitting close. It was a representative gathering of most every industry in the county and the get together community spirit was everywhere prevalent. The banquet proved a big success, which was held in the school building at the Fair Grounds. The Ladies' Aid of the Christian Church provided the banquet, and it reflected great credit on the ladies of that church for the excellent manner in which the banquet was served. McGhee's orchestra furnished the music, and gave some splendid selections.

Fred C. Baker, president of the Tillamook Commercial Club presided, and in his opening remarks said that it was a get together, pull together gathering. He stated that the business men, the farmers, the school districts and the Women's Civic Improvement League had given the fair a great boost, which proved such a success. The president made the announcement that the Tillamook Commercial Club offered a prize of $100 to assist the breeders' associations in their efforts to breed better stock, conditions to be left to the Holstein and Jersey Breeders' Associations.

The speakers of the evening were Charles Kunze, J. M. Dickson, of Shed, ex State Senator S. B. Huston, and W. S. Raker, of Portland. Carl Haberlach, D. L. Shrode, Prof. R. W. Kirk, Erwin Harrison, W. E. Noyes, Mrs. C. J. Edwards, Attorney J. R. Callahan, District Attorney T. H. Goynce and C. J. Edwards.

Quite a number of subjects were touched upon by the different speakers. Charles Kunze was the first speaker and he spoke of the efforts he had put forth to win in the contest for blooded stock, but he seemed to be a little disappointed that the results had not been better, but showed his determination when he stated that he would come up smiling at the next county fair and would help to make it a success.

Senator Huston said that he had lived on a farm and in the city and that to some extent the interests of the farmer and the business man was identical and they should co-operate one with another. He praised the cooperative spirit of the people of the county and predicted great things in the near future for Tillamook, one of which was the timber industry and the tourist travel that would come into the county. He said that he would be in the next State Legislature and would do everything possible for good roads.

W. S. Raker dwelt principally on the tourist travel and what it meant for Tillamook County, which had some of the best roads in the state. He showed the amount of money that was left in the county by tourists and said it would surpass the dairy industry in a few years. He referred to the opening of the Seaside Tillamook road and what a benefit it would be to the county.

Erwin Harrison, secretary of the Fair Board, praised those who had given the fair such a boost, and spoke highly of Mrs. Dunstan.

D. L. Shrode said that the business men could not get along without the farmer and the farmer could not get along without the business man, so it was necessary for them to co-operate one with another.

Prof. R. W. Kirk said he could not tell which were Holstein or Jersey men, nor could he tell which were business men, bankers, attorneys or doctors, for everybody at the banquet looked alike to him, but it was a good thing to get together no matter what our vocation might be.

Carl Haberlach spoke of the cheese industry and advocated a hard surfaced highway for the Portland, Astoria-Tillamook loop, each county to construct its own hard surfacing.

Mrs. C. J. Edwards, as president of the Women's Civic Improvement League, spoke briefly of the efforts of the league in helping to beautify the city and in making this the dahlia city.

J. M. Dickson, W. E. Noyes, J. R. Callahan and T. H. Goynce told some amusing stories which caused more or less amusement.

C. J. Edwards, in behalf of the Tillamook Commercial Club, informed the Fair Board that it would have the club's support for next year's fair.

MILK TEST AT THE COUNTY FAIR.

John Hathaway Wins First Prize and Chas. Kunze, Second.

One of the things at the County Fair that created the most interest was the milk production test. This is as it should be, and it is to be hoped that next year much better prizes can be awarded in this class as it probably requires more effort in preparation, and in carrying the contest through than any other class in the fair. The first requirement for success in this contest is a good cow. The second requirement is good care and intelligent feeding. This applies not only to fair week, but to the six months previous to fair week and even into the preceding lactation period. In order to prepare a cow for maximum production you must see that she is in good shape at time of calving and keep her coming from then on. It is a great deal easier to maintain the flow in a cow than it is to increase it after it drops.

The question was asked many times "Why do they milk three times a day?" First, heavy producing cows should be milked more than twice so as to relieve the pressure on the glands of the udder. The cow should not be allowed to carry over 25 lbs. of milk, as it is liable to injure her udder. This is one reason that udder troubles are much more prevalent in the high producing cows. Too much milk will break down the udder. Second, a cow will produce more milk milked three times per day than when milked but twice. The good dairy cow is so organized that she does her utmost to respond to the demands made upon her. The act of milking tends to stimulate the glands to greater action, consequently a greater flow of milk results from frequent stimulation. Third, the milk which stands in the udder a long time loses some of its fat, presumably by absorption back into the system of the cow. Frequent milking then, tends to increase the percentage of butterfat.

The result of this test are such that every one in the county should be proud of them. Very few tests are conducted at fairs where the actual production of fat exceeds 4 pounds. The leading cows in this test would be a credit to their owners and their communities in a similar test at any fair. This feature of the fair should be emphasized more strongly by our Fair Board. Few people realize the effort required by the handlers of these cattle to make this feature of the fair a success.

Next year there should be no difficulty in securing 25 entries in this class, and making it by far the biggest feature of the fair.

Hillside Jewell Hengerveld, 2nd, No. 131867, which won the first honors, is a Holstein, owned by J. H. Hathaway. This cow holds the record over Tillamook county's best cows in a two days test held at the fair last week. She gave 5,829 lbs. of butter fat in 48 hours at her seven month period. Up to one week before the test the cow was fed only on grass.
