

CHEESE IS SENT EAST.

Tillamook Goods Believed to be On Way to England.

Several carloads of Tillamook cheese are being shipped to the East this week. This is the first time in the history of Oregon industry that cheese has been sent from here to the Eastern states, though many carloads of Eastern and foreign cheese were brought to Oregon annually before the war changed conditions in the cheese trade.

The distinction of this week's shipments was not divulged, but it is said on good authority that the Oregon product will find its way to England.

As a result of this strong demand for cheese, which exceeds the output of the Oregon factories, prices were advanced 3 cents a pound yesterday. Tillamook flat cheese is now selling at 24 cents a pound wholesale, the highest price ever known here.—Oregonian.
