Frank A. Rowe, of Wheeler, Representative from Yamhill and Tillamook counties, is an active all around legislator, but is a regular squirrel when it comes to cracking financial nuts. While he is chairman of the commerce and navigation committee of the House, he also is a member of the ways and means committee and is among a few of the members of that committee with a batting average of 1000 when it comes to attendance. It is doubtful if there is a single state activity that has asked for money that has not come under a close scrutiny by Mr. Rowe. He is particularly interested in matters of finance anyway, and so has been a particularly active member on that committee.—Oregonian.

L. A. Stephens, of Willets, California is visiting his cousin, J. S. Stephens in this city. The visiting cousin had a rather queer experience of late. He was on his way overland from some point in California to his home at Willets, Cal., when he found it necessary to stop on the road on account of the conditions of the roads. For about a month his friends at Willets lost track of him and he was supposed to have died on a train, in the mean time legal proceedings were instituted for the disposal of his property and his money had been drawn from the bank when suddenly one morning he happened on the scene causing considerable surprise. Mr. Stephens is acquainted here, having been here for a time about eight years ago and again two years ago. He has some property here.
Dr. Turner, the well known eye specialist of Portland, will be in Tillamook again Friday and Saturday, March 2-3, at Jenkins' Jewelry store; also in Cloverdale, Thursday, March 1st. Dr. Turner is a specialist of experience and standing, and you will make no mistake in consulting him about your eyes and glasses. Headaches relieved, cross eyes straightened. Consult him. Don't forget the date.
Be sure and let Dr. Turner show you the double vision glass, without lines or seams to catch dirt, strain the eyes or come apart. One light solid piece of glass that looks like a single pair, yet answers the purpose of two, enabling you to read or do close work and see distant objects perfectly. Call and see them.

Commissioners Decide to Apply Dead Line Only to Commercial Fishing.
Through the efforts of Senator T. B. Handley, the Fish and Game Commission decided to allow angling by hook and line in Tillamook and Trask rivers, the dead line applying only to commercial fishing. The Tillamook Commercial Club and others interested themselves in this matter, with the result Senator Handley succeeded in having the change made.
Little Folks Entertain Rebekhas.
An enjoyable entertainment consisting of recitations, vocal and instrumental selections was given by the little folks at the L. O. O. F. hall Wednesday night after the business session of the Rebekah lodge. After the entertainment by the children they were introduced to the banquet room where refreshments had been amply provided by the Rebekhas. The entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by all and voted a great success; with the suggestion that in the near future the entertainment be repeated for the social enjoyment of all.

Basket Ball on Saturday.
Tillamook fans will have the privilege this year of seeing the fastest high school basket ball team in action. The first game, with McMinnville, is a matter of history, but the second game, with Newberg High School, will be played here Saturday evening February 17.
Newberg defeated the local high school team when they made their trip to the Willamette Valley, but had every thing to their advantage. Saturday just the reverse will be true and our high school boys have a feeling that Newberg will have to admit that they have had to play some in order to take this game.
Our local team is working more smoothly, showing more team work, and also more ability to hit the basket than ever before, and those who attend Saturday evening are sure of witnessing as fast and clean a game as has ever been played here. The boys promise that every moment of the game will be hotly contested.
St. Valentine Party.
On Wednesday afternoon a St. Valentine party was given by Mrs. C. I. Clough, Mrs. Webster Holmes, Mrs. W. L. Campbell and Mrs. F. C. Baker to a large number of their lady friends, which took place at the home of the latter. It was a beautiful spring day, which added to the enjoyment of the occasion. The decorations were hearts and ferns and the floral favors were pink carnations. Rook and fancy work formed the features of the afternoon's diversion, the honors falling to Mrs. Ammer and the consolation to Mrs. David Robinson. The hostesses served a delicious lunch, and the guests were highly pleased with the delightful time.
The invited guests were: Mesdames Leonard, Shreve, Jones, W. Baker, Edwards, Winslow, Rasmussen, Gruber, Reedy, Burton, Alderman, Olson, Haner, Holden, Chappe, Hall, B. D. Lamar, E. D. Allen, Farley, J. S. Lamar, Geo. Financial Report of the Community Xmas Tree Enterprise.
As secretary of the Minister's Association, I have been asked to make a report of the finances of the Community Christmas Tree enterprise. I have been delayed in making this report by the fact that some bill were very slow in coming in.
There was contributed by the citizens of Tillamook, in cash, besides other offerings of labor and commodities, $113.50, of which there remained after all bills were paid $36.81. This balance was turned over to Mr. Thad Robison, as Treasurer of the Associated Charities of Tillamook, to be used according to the purpose of this organization, for the relief of the needy.
Together with this report we decide to express our appreciation and gratitude for the hearty co-operation of the public in this worthy and significant enterprise.
Respectfully submitted,
Tillamook Minister's Association.
C. C. Curtis, Secretary.
County Court Jottings.
In the matter of the petition of Emil Kardell and others for a county road, an order having been entered by mistake, this was changed to a continuance of the petition to Feb. 17.
In the matter of claims for indemnity for cattle slaughtered, the following claims were continued until the March term, Ella Hemple, E. L. Robertson, N. P. Nelson, W. M. Harrison, F. R. Beals, A. O. Jackson, Mrs. P. H. Messner and Oscar Tittle.
In the matter of the petition of J. J. Hudson and others for a county road, same was continued until Feb. 17.
In the matter of the petition of F. C. Skomp for a county road. Continued until March 9th. Also the petition of D. L. Jones.

Anniversary Celebration.
At the regular convention of Marathon Lodge No. 37 K. of P. Tillamook, Oregon, held at their Castle Hall Monday evening, Feb. 19th, National Bldg. cor. 2nd ave. and 1st st., it was unanimously agreed to hold an open meeting Feb. 19th, for the purpose of celebrating the 15th anniversary of Marathon Lodge.
Some weeks ago a committee was appointed to make arrangements for this event. The committee has worked untiringly to make the occasion a success. They have secured some good speakers, also some good singers and musicians. They are co-operating with the Pythian Sisters, and from all accounts everyone interested is working with thought and action for a rousing good time. It is hoped that all Knights and their families will be present. Everyone, whether a Knight or otherwise will be welcome.
There will be refreshments served. Marathon Lodge was at a standstill sometime back, but during the past 2 years, the old Pythian Spirit has been aroused, and with the addition of about 20 new members, the lodge is in a position to entertain the public in the good old Pythian way.
If you have other engagements, it would be well to postpone same and join us for the night of February 19th, and help us to make Pythianism what it was in the past.
The Best Recommendation.
The strongest recommendation any article may receive is a favorable word from the user. It is the recommendation of those who have used it that makes Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so popular. Mrs. Amanda Gerbert, Waynesfield, Ohio, writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my family off and on for twenty years and it has never failed to cure a cough or cold." NAVAL DISASTERS
Their Rarity Is a Tribute to the Skill of Our Seamen.
THE WRECK OF THE SAGINAW.
This Catastrophe Brought Into Play the Wonderful Ability and Energy of Commander Seward and His Officers and Crew—An Epic of the Sea.
American naval officers are noted for their efficiency, fearlessness and energy not alone in the stress and turmoil of war, but also when emergencies arise where a battle with the elements may be more perilous than would be the heaviest big gun fire of an enemy.
Maritime disasters happily have been rare in our naval history. Their rarity indeed speaks volumes for the skill of our navigators, to whom negligence or incompetence has hardly ever been imputed. At most an overconfidence may be urged in one or two instances; but, generally speaking, our naval wrecks have been caused by violent convulsions of nature in her angriest mood or from causes over which our naval commanders had no control.
In the latter class was the wreck of the United States steamship Saginaw on Ocean Island in the north Pacific Oct. 29, 1870. This disaster was due to faulty charts that did not show the existence of an outlying reef upon which the vessel plied up in the darkness of the night. Through the energy and good seamanship of its commanding officer, Lieutenant Commander Montgomery Seward, who realized at once that his ship was a total loss, every soul was safely landed, together with such stores and provisions as the time permitted which elapsed between the accident and the ship's breaking up.
Without delay he organized a camp on shore, establishing and enforcing the strictest rules, for upon them depended the lives of all concerned. He managed to secure a boiler from the wreck, and he converted it into a distiller, thus obtaining a constant supply of fresh water for drinking. It is difficult to imagine the sufferings those poor fellows would otherwise have undergone, since there was no potable water on the island.
Recognizing the fact that his party might be detained many weeks, if not months, and that Ocean Island was a breeding ground for sea fowl, he at once drew a line around his camp and forbade any one crossing it without authority, lest the birds be scared away and the only source of food disappear with them.
Raids for obtaining eggs and fowls were stealthily carried out at night under specific orders by selected and carefully instructed men. In this manner, reflecting great credit on Seward's forethought, there was never any lack of food, such as it was.
Since the scene of the disaster was a thousand miles removed from the ordinary path of vessels traversing the Pacific, little or no hope could be entertained of casual rescue. In some way or other word had to go to the outside world. One of the Saginaw's boats, prepared for this perilous service, was dispatched under Lieutenant John G. Talbot, with four seamen, to the Hawaiian Islands, some 1,500 miles away across a wintry ocean. Upon this slender thread hung the salvation of a hundred and more men.
The difficulties, storms and dangers encountered, the hardships and sufferings endured, make this trip of these gallant sailors one of the finest among the countless epics of the sea. Terribly exhausted by privation and the ceaseless struggle against old ocean's fury, their own all lost in a heavy gale of wind, the boat pushed on under sail, only to be capsized by the surf in landing on the beach of the island of Kauai.
It is related that Talbot sighted the very last outlying rocky islet of the Hawaiian group, fortunately recognized by one of his crew, and from there beat up against the trade wind to Kauai. Had he missed this islet, no more, in all probability, would ever have been heard of him, and it is equally likely that his shipmates on Ocean Island might not all have survived until success should crown a second attempt to communicate with civilization.
In the overturning of the boat four of its occupants were drowned, the brave Talbot among the number. Happily one seaman got ashore, more than half dead, to bring Seward's dispatches to the American minister to the Sandwich Islands, who at once chartered a steamer and called the same day to the relief of the marooned ship's company of the Saginaw. Except for the sad ending to Talbot's mission, this wreck, however unfortunate in itself, is a splendid example of the resourcefulness and skill of the American naval officer and so may be regarded with vastly more pride than regret.—Rear Admiral Caspar F. Goodrich in Philadelphia Ledger.
Odd Name Oddly Won.
The inn known as the "Same Yet," at Prestwick, has a curious history which Mr. Hackwood relates: "The House originally bore the 'Seven Stars,' but many years ago it became necessary to have its faded sign repainted. When the painter asked the landlord what he was to put on the board he received the answer, 'The same yet!' And the man took him at his word."—London News.
