Ewing, to allow the jurymen to return to their of Cecil, Oregon, Mr. Henriksen gets an alfalfa ranch at Cecil, Ore., containing 600 acres, 300 acres of fine alfalfa land, and 2400 acres about 14 miles east of Heppner, which is grazing land. The alfalfa ranch has 200 acres in alfalfa and 100 more about ready for alfalfa. This is first class Willow Creek bottom land, and the most fertile land to be found anywhere in Oregon. The balance of this tract lies on the bench and is used for pasture. The other place which Mr. Henriksen gets is at the edge of the mountains East of Meppner, and is very good bunch grass range.

Mr. Henricksen expects to keep about 3000 sheep besides selling seven or eight tons of baled alfalfa hay on the ranches each year. It is considered the best ranch in Morrow county.

The deal was made through the Ralph Ackley Land Co., of Portland.
