CONTRACT LET FOR ROAD'S FIRST UNIT.

December 31 to See Work Completed on Gales Creek & Wilson River

& Wilson River railroad, the shortest line between Portland and navagable tidewater at Tillamook, have been let, and work will begin May 15. 1. J. let, and work will begin May 15. I. J. Rosten and Arthur Porter have been awarding the clearing and grading, the Interstate Bridge Co., the bridge work, and W. D. Haley the furnishing of materials. In the near future contracts will be let for the second unit of 12 miles. It is the intention to have the 50 miles of line completed before the end of 1917. announced John Pearson, president of the new railway company, this morning at his railway company, this morning at his office in the Spalding building.

Arrangements have been made for trackage rights over the United Rail-ways line, a unit of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle line, to give entrance to Portland and also to Forest Grove. Construction will begin at Wilkesboro, 27 miles west of Portland, the end of the United Railways line, which will make the distance from this city to Tillamook less than 80 miles.

With completion of the new line it will be possible to deliver at ship-yards in tidewater and in and near Portland the long timbers required in ship construction. It will be a standard railway, built to carry the big timber of the coast range, of which there is approximately 15,000,000,000 feet tributary to the Gales Creek & Wilson River road as located One of the direct effects of the new line will be the creation of a large capacity sawmill in Gales Creek valley, where extra demension stuff will be worked up.

Besides president Pearson, O. M.
Clark, Ralph E. Williams, E. Z. Ferguson and Jesse Stearns, all identified with large holdings of timber, are active in the new company. Mr.
Pearson reports that other large interests have come into the project and that ample funds are available to carry the road to completion this season, despite the shortage of labor. The company's plans were originally announced five weeks ago.

New Milk Law Explained.

There has been considerable misunderstanding as to the provisions of an act passed by the recent legislature requiring the pasteurizing of milk. The pasteurizing applies only to milk which is to be retailed, and then only from cows that have not passed the tuberculine test. Milk to be sold in bulk at wholesale, or to creameries, shall not be pasteurized.

The tuberculine test will be made by the state livestock sanitary board and after a farmer or retailer of milk has made application for such test he shall be exempt from the provisions of the act until the test is made, that is, he may go ahead selling milk just as if the test had been made.

The act does not state that the person shall pay any fee, so that the test is probably made at the expense of the state. If the test is successful, the milk from such cows may be sold without being pasteurized. The law goes into effect September 1.

Spelling Contest Results.

Last week and part of this the County School Superintendent has been in various parts of the county solding the final spelling contests.

The results shown are most enouraging. In every school where the plan has been followed out the pupils have shown a marked improvement in spelling for the year. In many instances the grades in the first contest last fall were very low, some as low as 24 was disappointing at times, the boys per cent, which means only twelve words out of fifty were properly spelled. In the April contest the same pupils raised grades from ninety to one hundred. Showing an increase in very contest. The teachers in nearly all the schools have been very faithful in the spelling drill, and have obtained re-sults gratifying them. The whole obect of this contest has been to make better spellers of our boys and girls. Championship certificates were issued to all pupils making 100 per cent n the final contest. Certificates of fficiency will be issued to all pupils naking 94 to 99 per cent. These will be mailed to the children ithin the next thirty days. The following named pupils are deerving of especial mention as having taken part in all four contests during the year and receiving 100 per cent in each contest, spelling all words cor-
