

What the Editors Say.

Judging from the inside working of the German spies which have come to light in the last few days it might be well to look around at home and take an inventory. You can never tell where one of these fellows is apt to light. They're mighty clever in their mission.—Umpqua Valley News.

There will always be those who will think in the case of Harry Lane, as so many do in that of Horace Greeley, that disappointment over the chagged attitude toward him of a public with which he had believed himself popular caused the nervous breakdown which ended his life.—Oregon Register.

America must guard all her property against destruction by German spies, which are numerous in this country. They are a desperate gang and through sympathy get information from people who are not true-blue Americans. Let every American be true to his trust and watch.—Banks Herald.

The mother who "didn't raise her boy to be soldier" seems to forget the fact that the liberties she enjoys were secured for her by other mothers who did raise their boys to be soldiers. The mother who gives her son now, to render his service and risk of life, may be giving him to prevent her daughter, or her daughter's daughter, from the fate of the daughters of Europe. Remember Belgium. We do not want that fate to overtake us.—Telephone Register.

The Missouri equal suffragists will urge upon congress as a war-time measure the adoption of a suffrage amendment to the national constitution. If congress refuses, they will resort to other measures which they will make sufficiently warlike to impress congress that there is no peace in sight. Woman suffrage may come as an outgrowth of the war, but it is to be seriously questioned whether this nation should take on its shoulders issues that engender strife and divert attention from the real business in hand—the prosecution of the war to a successful issue. Woman suffrage is destined to come about the same time that nations agree to establish a firm basis of international peace, and the women will be on hand to help enforce observance.—Telephone Register.

There is going to be no escape for "mamma's boys" from being drafted, if Uncle Sam's plans are carried out. No favoritism is to be shown. No political or other pull is to be allowed to prevent any able-bodied young man between the ages of 21 and 30 from being called to his country's service, if he is needed. Rich and poor alike are to be made to enter the army and fight for his country, which is as it should be. Predictions are freely being made that this war will last from three to five years and that before it is over all able-bodied men will be called to the colors. Anyway, the government is proceeding exactly as if the war is to be a long drawn out matter and it would be well for everyone to lay aside optimism over it being a mere deviation from the ordinary course of things.—Itemizer.

The cost of living is becoming intolerable. Upon the flimsiest kind of an excuse prices of food stuffs are raised, and if no other excuse can be found they are boosted on general principles. Millions of people who are dependent upon their daily labor find it almost impossible to keep soul and body together. In hundreds of thousands of cases their vitality is slipping away solely from lack of sufficient nourishment. Yet in the very face of this the insatiable food speculators and profit grabbers are turning the screws tighter every day. There appears to be but one way in which this sucking of the blood of humanity can be stopped, and that is for the government to take prompt action and fix a maximum price at which every article of food is to be sold, and in fixing the maximum the price should be first scheduled down to normal. The fact that a scarcity of food stuffs exists should not be accepted as an excuse for allowing the present prices to prevail.—Seaside Signal.

There is still pro-Germans in Washington county and it is evident that they are so obsessed with the idea which is slowly drawing the empire to ruin that they are unable to view the war in the correct perspective. As an illustration, one explained the other day that as between the United States and Germany there could be no question of his loyalty, but the alliance, or the fact that we have made common cause with England, was the stumbling block. Strangely enough he is unable to see that the accident of making common cause with England has nothing to do with the war. This was made clear by President Wilson's proclamation and the events of the months which preceded it. When the United States entered the war it was with the clear purpose of enforcing the rights of humanity and the issue was clear cut as between democracy and the autocracy of the central powers. It was made clear that if liberty is to prevail the power of one man to affect the destiny and welfare of the world must be eliminated, and the United States is in the war for that purpose only. The old issues and commercial rivalries or the warring nations have nothing to do with it, but if England is making common cause with us to enforce what we have set out to do, so much the better for us and for her also. Excuses of this kind for divided loyalty have not a leg to stand upon.—Independent.

Home Trained Citizens.

To build a home, with love as architect. Is one of those God given gifts that we At times are given, that men may erect On earth a model of Heaven above; For wood and stone themselves can nothing be Till placed together by hands of love. And then we hear from the celestial dome: "Ye have done well, for ye have built a home And comfort, beauty and protection give To all those little ones who come to live On earth, and grow and love and still again The world replenish with its mead of man."

The above beautiful thought of home calls to mind that each head of a family has an obligation to fulfill, a duty imposed by the Deity which, if the flame of love burns brightly, will be a pleasure to perform—building a home giving comfort, beauty and protection to his family. Here is the place where characters are formed; where the essentials of citizenship are instilled into the minds and hearts of the children; where they should be taught to look for the beautiful and pure things of life.

"A home first" should be the motto for every family in our city. Some of us are prone to slight our duty. We are engrossed in commercial pursuits to the detriment of our family obligations. We mean well, but are thoughtless. Others set up as their purpose of life "having a good time," and devote all their time and energy to that end, growing narrower in their vision, having the wrong conception of life's duties.—Mt. Scott Herald.

Flag and the Tariff.

A writer on the Philadelphia Public Ledger learned from the owners of a worsted mill in Jamestown that the American flag raised over the mill was Made from American sheep. Carded by an Italian. Spun by a Swede. Warped by a German. Dressed by an Englishman. Drawn by a Scotchman. Woven by a Belgian. Supervised by a Frenchman. Inspected by an American. Scoured by an Albanian. Dyed by a Turk. Examined by an Irishman. Pressed by a Pole.

What attracted those various races to our shores? The prospect of higher wages than they received at home. What made those higher wages and better standard of living possible? The Republican policy of protection to home industries. Such a policy resulted in these men working shoulder to shoulder for the betterment of themselves and the development of this nation. Is that not to be preferred to the Democratic policy which would boost foreign competition to a point destructive of domestic industries? Is it not better to have these men working for us than to have their products working against us? The flag and protection stand for united action.

THAT KNIFE-LIKE PAIN.

Is Only One of Nature's Warnings of Weak or Disordered Kidneys. Have you lame back, aching day and night? Do you feel sharp pains after stooping? Are the kidneys sore? Is their action irregular? Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the medicine that is recommended by so many people in this locality. Read this Hillsboro resident's experience.

Mrs. A. R. England, 728 W. Oak St., Hillsboro, Ore., says: "Two years ago I had such a bad attack of lumbago that I wasn't able to get up or down stairs. When I sat down on a chair, I could hardly straighten up. Sharp pains, like a knife sticking me in my back, nearly killed me at times. I could hardly drag myself around, as I felt so completely played out. I had taken only a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills when my back commenced to feel stronger. I had used only one box when I was able to get about as well as ever. Since then I have never had any trouble with my back or kidneys."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. England had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
