Editorial Snap Shots.

Rollie W. Watson is deserving of a good deal of credit for the interest and energy he put into the Red Cross movement in this county and the success that followed his strenuous efforts.

It seems only a short time since the litigants in the pavement case were up in arms opposing an assessment being made on the pavement. Now they are wanting the assessment made. Gee, wiz. It is awfully laughable at the sudden change of front, now that a little "hush money" is offered placed on the end of a hook.

Some smart guy at Washington has hit upon what he thought was a great improvement in the rural mail service but which, in fact, is not so. A ruling is made that rural letter boxes shall be placed on the right side of the road. That means that some persons mail box is to be placed opposite his neighbor's property, and which necessitates crossing the road. It, no doubt, will be a little more convenient to the mail carrier, but it is, to say the least, a silly and unnecessary ruling.

Before the City Council takes any action in regard to making an assessment for the pavement, it should carefully read the report of Mr. Roy, who was authorized to obtain a disinterested opinion of the pavement. This was done at the initiative of a former city council, and although it cost only a few hundred dollars it was in our judgment, worth more than the thousands of dollars it took to satisfy a lot of high priced lawyers from Portland and other places. Look it up gentlemen and compare it with the conditions in the contract.

The case tried last week in which the county judge and two commissioners were sued for damages for an alleged accident to Mrs. Nell Rasmussen pestered out as we predicted. It took only a few minutes for the jury to decide in favor of the county officials. If that was all there is to the case no one could raise any objections. The county officials were put to the expense of defending the suit, and now the taxpayers will, no doubt, have to pay several hundred dollars for court and witness expenses. This is one way to "bleed" the taxpayers when people will rush into law suits.

A proposition has been made to the County Court by the State Highway Commission, that if the government will give $15,000 and the state $15,000, whether this county would give $15,000 to improve the road from Delph to Hebo. The County Court decided to accept the offer, but would have to take the $15,000 appropriated in the budget for the Little Nestucca road, as that is the only money available to cover government and state aid the county has on hand at present. That does not mean that the money will be taken from the Little Nestucca road, but would be simply a temporary arrangement to obtain $2 for $1 expended on the Three Rivers road, it being planned to spend $15,000 on that road this summer.

"Waste not, want not," is not only a good motto in times of war, but in times of peace and plenty, and should be taught not only in the public schools but in the homes as well. There is much valuable food wasted today, too much, together, and it is a good thing to preach a sermon in these columns once in a while about wastefulness. No well regulated home wastes good food. No good house keeper throws away good food. The wasteful husband and wife and wasteful children are responsible for a great deal of good food being thrown in the swill barrel or to the chicken. We can all learn a lesson when it comes to wastefulness in some way or other, and the present war is going to do us all some good in preventing so much waste in food in the future.

It's enough to make a monkey laugh the way the litigants have allowed themselves to be monkeyed with in the pavement case. With overabundance of evidence that the Warren Construction Co. had not complied with the conditions of the paving contract, the Supreme Court has reversed the decision of Judge Campbell and decrees that the Warren Construction Company has substantially performed its contract. The Supreme Court may be able to force the Mayor and city council to swallow that kind of a ruling, but we poor mortals who know that the construction company did not comply with their contract with the city, won't stand that kind of a ruling being rammed down our throats. It places the Mayor and City Council in an embarrassing position, but if they have any grit they won't be forced to accept a pavement that was pronounced by the litigants to be different to that for which the city contracted for.

The Holstein Breeders' Association is wanting to discuss with the Tillamook Commercial Club the question of starting a Hog Club for Tillamook County. Hog clubs have been started in a good many rural communities with flattering results, and there is no reason why one should not succeed in this county. Briefly stated, a Hog Club gives a boy a pig, on condition that he is to return a pig of like age from the first litter, and this pig is given to another boy, thus creating an interest among the boys on the farm in hog raising, not only so, but in good remuneration to the boys who are given pigs for a starter. The banks in some communities have taken hold of this matter, and the plan is working well. The snap shot man would like to see a Hog Club started in Tillamook County, and will offer several suggestions as to which will be the best plan to get them started, so that those who are interested may have time to consider which is the best before a meeting is arranged to discuss the Hog Club problem.

1st plan—The first thing to consider is finances, how to raise it and what amount of money should be put into it.

Our idea would be to put $1000 into a Hog Club, to be raised by popular subscription of $1.00 each. There are 1000 dairymen in the county who should be willing to give $1.00 to get Hog Clubs started, and with $1.00 from business men and others this would not become a burden on anyone and would make the Hog Clubs a community affair.

2nd plan—The Breeders' Association, Grangers, Banks, Commercial Clubs, and the business men of each city to guarantee a certain number of pigs.

3rd plan—Divide the county up into three hog districts, and compete for a prize as to which district could raise the most hogs in a given time. Perhaps others can suggest some other or better plan, for the above are only offered for a suggestion. The snap shot man is cognizant of this fact and especially the business men of Tillamook City, have been called upon quite frequently for subscriptions and who have responded most liberally, otherwise it would not be hard to raise a good sum of money for a Hog Club in this city, and for that reason we are inclined to believe that $1,000 should be raised by popular subscription of $1.00 each.

As to the management of the Hog Club, this, we believe, should be left in the hands of some local organization working through the County Agriculturist which would be far better than forming another organization, for we believe that better results would be obtained if some of our organizations were consolidated. However, we want to create some interest in a Hog Club for Tillamook county, and hope some plan will be decided upon that is satisfactory.

The generous act of Miss Lillian Groat, who was elected Goddess for the patriotic demonstration in this city, in turning the money over to the Company Fund that the committee had appropriated for her dress, is worthy of commendation, for it emphasizes two things, that the young people of this city have caught the patriotic spirit and that we as citizens have not responded to the Company Fund as we should have done. The citizens have been urged to subscribe money for Y. M. C. A., Liberty Bonds and Red Cross, and they have done so most liberally, but, to use a common expression, charity should commence at home. Tillamook County organized a company of Coast Artillery, and the young men who joined it are about to be mustered into the United States army. They are our boys and we should all take a lively interest in their welfare and show that we appreciate the sacrifices they have made in offering their services to the government and ready to fight for us.

Some few weeks ago several business men thought that the Company Fund had not received the support that it should have done, and it was practically decided to raise $1,000 for the fund, but owing to Y. M. C. A., Liberty Bonds and Red Cross campaigns, it was thought best not to place any obstacles in the way of these worthy causes. The snap shot man is one of those who believe we should show our appreciation of the Tillamook boys by giving them all the encouragement that we possibly can, and this can be done through subscribing to the Company Fund. Should the boys be sent to the front, as, no doubt, they will be, we Tillamookers will be more interested in our own boys who are engaged in the war, not that they are more brave and courageous, but simply because we are personally acquainted with most of them, some of whom we have seen grow from infancy to manhood. We are fully aware of the many demands now made upon people for money, yet for all that, when it comes down to brass tacks, it seems to us that it is our first duty and privilege to look after our own boys and show that we are heart and soul with them in the dangers that will confront them when taking part in some terrible battle. The committee having the management of the patriotic demonstration in hand was more than pleased when it heard that Miss Groat had decided to give the $200.00 that was coming to her in the contest to the Company Fund. It was not the amount of money involved, but the right patriotic spirit that promoted it that is commended. Let's all consider well Miss Lillian Groat's commendable action, and endeavor to do something more than we have done to encourage our home boys and show our appreciation of what they are sacrificing. We Tillamookers ought to feel proud that we have a company of Coast Artillery that is offering its services to the government in the world wide war, which we all hope will terminate soon. With these few remarks, we will close with an appeal to the people in all parts of the county to take a lively interest in the Tillamook boys. Anyway, come to the city on the Fourth and help give them a rousing cheer.

POINTS THE WAY

The Statement of this Hillsboro Resident Will Interest Our Readers
Our neighboring town Hillsboro points the way in the words of one of its most respected residents:
Mrs. W. H. Morton, 1439 Second St., Hillsboro Ore., says: "I can always speak a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills, since they pulled me through a terrible attack of rheumatic pains. For over a year, I wasn't able to dress myself and every cord and muscle in my body pained so that I couldn't rest day or night. I was in constant misery every minute. During this time trouble with my kidneys set in and they were irregular in action and congested. I felt sick and nervous all over. I couldn't get anything to relieve the suffering, until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. In a few weeks, my kidneys acted more freely and the rheumatic pains began to ease up. I stuck to them until I had finished about twelve boxes when I was able to get around as well as ever and do my work. Today I can get around without any pain or effort. I take a box of Doan's Kidney Pills now and then however and they keep my kidneys in good condition."

Anderson Bibby Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Helen Bibby and Roy J. Anderson was solemnized last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride, 205 Lincoln Street, with Rev. Carl H. Elliott reading the nuptial vows. The only guests were the immediate relatives of the bridal couple.
The living room was effectively decorated in pink carnations and sweet peas combined with smilax and maidenhair fern. The dining room being in yellow lotus and fern. The bride wore a charming going-away gown of Belgian blue, set de cygne with accessories of silver grey and carried a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas. Both young people are popular here. Mrs. Anderson was for some time social editor on the Statesman staff, and is well known in state house circles as a competent stenographer, having also been associated with her sister, Miss Edna Garfield, court reporter of this city. Mr. Anderson is an expert electrician, graduate of the electrical engineering department of Oregon Agricultural college, class of 1913. At present he is manager for southwestern Oregon for the Willard Service Agency, with headquarters at Eugene.
After the ceremony a collation was served. Later Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left for Eugene, their future home.—Oregon Statesman.

The bride formerly resided in this city and attended the public school, and the groom is a son of Mrs. Annie Anderson, both of whom are highly respected young people.
