

Thanks the County Court.

Mr. F. C. Baker, Tillamook, Ore. My Dear Sir—I, and several real property owners, were at Bayoccan this summer. We all wish to thank through you, the Tillamook County Court for their interest in Bayoccan. We feel that the road means prosperity for Bayoccan and that prosperity also assist in the development of still greater business for Tillamook. I have visited all the other Seaside resorts and think Bayoccan by far the best. If the element which only tries to destroy could be exterminated I believe Bayoccan would flourish like a "green bay tree." I think your editorials on Bayoccan were timely and true.

Yours truly, Cornith L. Crook.

Homesteaders' Fair.

The annual Homesteaders' Fair will be held on Friday, September 14, at the Magarrill place on the Blaine road. The parade will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 11 a.m. there will be songs and speaking, after which there will be the regular picnic dinner. In the afternoon there will be bicycles, horse and foot races. Following are additional premiums: Largest Pumpkin—1st, 75c.; 2nd, 25c., by H. T. Botts. Largest kale plant—1st, 75c.; 2nd, 25c., by Smithy's Variety store. Best display of vegetables by a homesteader—1st, $2.50; 2nd, $1.50; 3rd, $1.00 cash by Tillamook Meat company. Largest Cabbage—1st, $1.00 by Bennett the Jeweler, 2nd, 50c. by the Grange. Best decorated animal or vehicle in the parade—1st, sack of flour, by Standard Feed Co.; 2nd, $2.00 by Grange; 3rd, $1.00 by the Grange.

Mrs. Isabel Alderman McLees.

The funeral of Mrs. Isabel Alderman McLees, wife of Mr. J. C. McLees, of Bend, Oregon, was held from the Methodist Church, Lafayette, on last Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Bruce J. Giffen, pastor of the McMinnville Presbyterian church. Mrs. McLees was a sister to W. B. Alderman, of Tillamook, A. L. Alderman, of Astoria, Wash., and Mrs. Mary A. Bird, of McMinnville and Mrs. Emma Duncan, of Salem. Her parents were among the seven families that first settled in the region of Tillamook, and their descendants have had an honorable part in the making of Western Oregon. Their names were Isaac and Harriet Alderman. As a young woman Mrs. McLees spent some years in Lafayette, and was married May 22, 1902, to J. C. McLees at Pendleton. Only recently they made their home at Bend, and there she was taken sick with pneumonia and passed away Friday, August 24th.

Besides her husband and two sisters and brothers, Mrs. McLees leaves nephews and nieces to mourn her loss and to pay tribute to her memory. She was a good woman, reared in the Christian faith, and serving her day and generation with faithfulness and devotion. The world is poorer because of the passing of such sons and daughters of the race, but the world is richer too, because of the heritage of the service and memory of such lives lived among us.

Rev. R. E. Jope, Pastor of Roseburg Christian Church, Resigns.

(Roseburg Daily News.) Rev. R. E. Jope, who has been pastor of the Christian church in this city for the past three and a half years, yesterday tendered his resignation to the official board of the church, and expects to engage in evangelistic work. He asks that his resignation take effect October 31.

In the loss of Mr. Jope, the local Christian Church not only loses one of the strongest pastors it has ever had, but the city loses a very useful citizen as well, and one that has been vitally connected with Roseburg for the betterment of Roseburg since he came to this city, and he and his estimable family will be greatly missed.

Very soon after coming here he took charge of the young men's class of the Christian Sunday school, and is at present their teacher. He has proven himself a wonderful leader of young men, and "his boys" will regret to see him go. Another place where he will be missed is at the old soldiers home, where he often went to preach or deliver an address on some patriotic occasion, and always had a word of cheer for the men who had sacrificed so much for their country.

Rev. Jope was a great factor in the Twilight baseball league of this city.

He came here from Tillamook, at which place he was pastor of the Christian church for two and a half years, during which time the present Christian church building was built. The evangelistic work is by no means a new field to Mr. Jope, as he has had much experience in this department of the church work during his past 20 years in the ministry. He celebrated his 20th anniversary as a minister on June 17 of this year.

As to where his headquarters will be, Mr. Jope does not know, but it is quite certain he will not continue to reside here, as the city is not centrally located for his work.

It was stated today that Mr. Jope's resignation will be acted upon one week from next Wednesday. What action will be taken in regard to the resignation can, not of course, be stated at this time, but it was learned from a very prominent official member of the church today that great pressure would be brought upon Rev. Jope to influence him to withdraw his resignation.

WANT EXECUTOR REMOVED

Heirs in Henry Tohl Estate Petition that H. F. Effenberger be Replaced.

The heirs in the estate of Henry Tohl have petitioned the County Court for the removal of H. F. Effenberger, the executor, whose deposition was taken on Tuesday.

Two letters were placed on file on Tuesday, which have some connection with the petition for Effenberger's removal. They are as follows: Nehalem, Ore. Aug. 11, 1917.

Dear Sir—Am herewith enclosing check for $1,350.00 in full payment of amount due you as per our agreement. I trust this will appease your anger and restore your nervous system to a normal state, although mine is somewhat shattered due to too much dealings with the legal lights at the county seat.

Now that this matter is settled think kindly of me in the event that I should pass in my checks and place flowers to brighten the pathway of those with whom you may have occasion to deal hereafter.

Thanking you for the courtesy extended me in this matter, I am, Yours very truly, H. F. Effenberger.

August 13, 1917.

Mr. H. F. Effenberger, Nehalem, Ore. Dear Sir—I am pleased to acknowledge the receipt of your check of August 11th for $1,350. I assure you that my nervous system has not been affected by this, although it has annoyed me that you have been so dilatory in carrying out your plain agreement. I think that your own nerves might have been in better condition had you not tried to delay performing your contract. However, as to this particular matter, we will regard it as a closed incident.

Now, as to the future I will say that I don't want to have to wait until you pass in your checks before I can throw some bouquets at you. I would like to present some flowers of appreciation for good conduct to you while you are alive to receive them. I certainly don't intend to give you any afterward if I don't feel like extending them before. I think that's the best time for these things to be done while the recipient can have the full benefit of everything that he is entitled to, but I must say that so far you haven't given me a very good opportunity to do anything of this sort for you.

For some reason which I don't know, but which I presume appeals to you to be sufficient, you haven't felt very friendly towards me. Of course, that is your privilege whether you have any good reason for it or not, but I want to say that I have not intended to give you any reason for thinking that I have ever mistreated you, and I don't intend to mistreat you in the future, but we are still going to be brought into relation with each other in some business matters and the best way for us to get along in that is for each one to do the right thing. I don't intend to call on you for anything else and don't intend to do anything else so far as you are concerned.

In the Tohl estate my connection in the future will be, so far as I know, solely in behalf of my clients, and for them I shall expect you to fully respect their rights at all times. If you don't do it voluntarily, I shall feel obliged to take the necessary steps to compel it, and in order that this may be gotten under way promptly I will call your attention to the following matters which now require attention.

You have failed to file any account of your proceedings as executor to date. The law requires this to be done twice a year.

You have failed to inventory some of the property of the estate and I mention particularly the motor boat, which I am told cost some $1,100 about two years ago, and you think is probably worth not more than $150 at this time. There is also your uncle's gold watch and furniture which he owned. I am also advised that he owned some books and had something of a library. The books cost considerable money. These should all be inventoried. These items may not amount to a great deal, but whatever they are they should be accounted for and must be.

In making the settlement by which you get the share you do in the estate you will now paid out of the money of the estate for yourself, your mother and your two uncles, together owning three fourths of the estate, for your own expenses in litigation $3,200. Mrs. Klein, who owns the other one-fourth interest in the estate which would make $1068.66, I would ask you to make payment of that at this time.

I am informed that you have taken it on yourself without any authority from the rest of the heirs or from the Court to sell the old store building or warehouse, and that it is being torn down. I understand that you are getting $25.00 for this. A responsible party has informed me that he would have been willing to pay, and still is, as I understand it, $150 for the same lumber as it stood. You shouldn't proceed further with this part of the business until you get the consent of the rest of the heirs.

Now, if there is anything about these matters which I have mentioned that is out of the way, so far as any demands I make of you, let me know what it is and I will try to make it right, but if there isn't anything out of the way in it, will ask you to proceed in accordance with what I have demanded, and do so promptly. Please don't take this as a matter to which I am trying in any way to coerce you, but I am simply asking that you do for my clients what they are entitled to have done, as I understand it. I am making the demand kindly but seriously, and I hope you will take it in the same way and avoid any trouble which might be caused to any of the parties interested.

Second Annual Live Stock Breeders' Banquet.

By R. C. Jones, County Agriculturist. On Tuesday night of Fair Week the second Annual Breeders' Banquet took place at the Presbyterian Guild Hall. The ladies of the Guild furnished a sumptuous repast for the hundred people in attendance, after which short talks were given and general good time enjoyed. Mr. Chas. Kunze, president of the County Holstein Breeders' Association, acted as toast master and explained the object of the meeting as that of smoothing over any jealousies that may have arisen during the fair and starting every breeder off with a firmer determination to champion next year with another grand champion offering.

Mr. W. K. Newell, now of Portland, but formerly a Holstein breeder at Gaston, judged the black and whites at the fair and was called on to tell how he dared to stay over to the banquet. He complimented the cattle show at the fair, saying that it was as good a Holstein and Guernsey show as he had ever seen at any county fair in the state.

Thomas Carmichael, also a Holstein breeder from the valley, seconded Mr. Newell's remarks and complimented our co-operation spirit and fine climate. C. M. McAlister, commonly known as "Mac", of the Portland Union Stock Yards, complimented the stock show at the fair and spoke particularly of the improvement in the swine of the county as shown, not only at our fair, but in the quality of the hogs sent to the Portland market.

County Agent Jones gave the result of the production competition for the Wisconsin Holsteins that were brought in last winter as follows: Sweepstakes prize to Mutual Betz of Rock, owned by Noyfolk Farm, judged 50 per cent on her 30-day record; 25 per cent on her type and 25 per cent on type of her calf.

In the two-year old class: 1st to Pontiac Champion Vale De Kole, owned by Ebinger & Son. 2nd to Pauline Vicery Longfield De Kole, owned by Ebinger & Son. 3rd to Daisy Pauline Brooks De Kole, owned by Ebinger & Son. 4th to Lady Aggy Crosby of Rock, owned by F. R. Beals. 5th to Mechtide Pontiac Longfield, owned by C. Kunze. 6th to Canary Fobes May De Kole, owned by R. W. Watson. 7th to Stella De Kole Sarcastic Lad, owned by Noyfolk Farm. 8th to Lady Dulcinea Vale of Rock, owned by F. R. Beals.

Rollie Watson, feeling fine as owner of the grand champion Holstein female of the show, was given a chance to express some of his enthusiasm and thus kept from exploding. Col. J. W. Hughes, of Forest Grove showed his bravery by coming to the banquet after having sold most of the cattle shown at the fair to their present owners. No one mobbed him, in fact, everyone seemed glad that they had the cattle and glad to have the Colonel with us again. The Colonel's remarks on the improvement of the stock in the county were enjoyed by all. Mr. Kuppenbender spoke for the Fair Board and Mr. Baker for the Commercial Club.

The chairman appointed a committee to send a message to Mr. Hoover, the Food Administrator, asking that, as much weight be lifted in the northwest as possible so as to leave the by-products for our cattle feed. The meeting broke up and it is hoped that next year a similar banquet will be held where the looser in the show ring can congratulate the winner and advise him to look for his laurels another year.

News From Tillamook Boys.

Another Lieutenant was added to the list of officers of the 10th Company this week, 2nd Lieutenant V. V. Mills having been assigned to the company. Lieutenant Mills was recently commissioned after having attended the training camp at the Presidio. He joined the company on last Friday. The company now has its full complement of officers in 1st Lieutenant Ray B. Walls, commanding officer, 2nd Lieutenant James H. Wolford and 2nd Lieutenant V. V. Mills. Mrs. Mills accompanied her husband and is quartered at the fort.

Inspections still hold sway. On Wednesday, Colonel Ellis again inspected our ranks and on Friday Major Copperrill, the fort commander, made a monthly inspection and muster. Another inspection, by the company officers, should have been held on Saturday, but this was omitted.

Because of the inspections and vaccinations, little was accomplished during this week. Up to date we have received three "shots in the arm" to make us immune from typhoid besides smallpox vaccination. Three more "shots" are due before the work is completed. As expressed by one of the boys, we will make good salt shakers when they are finished with us.

A machine loaded with boys from the company made the usual Saturday excursion to Tillamook. Another load is scheduled for next Saturday, provided that the chauffeur (Billie Williams) doesn't forget to get up at reveille some morning between now and then. That happened a week ago, and as a result a number of faces were seen about camp that would otherwise have been in Tillamook. Billie says that the corporal in charge of his tent should have wakened him.

The peace and tranquility of the camp were disturbed on Thursday evening when a private from the Quartermaster's Department thought that the Germans were after him. He emptied two clips of cartridges from his pistol and fell down a flight of stairs, fracturing two ribs slightly. The guard hastened to the scene and made a thorough search of the neighborhood but were unable to find anything except the injured man and a strong odor of alcohol. Extra guards were set for the rest of the night but nothing further happened.

A big bundle of dish towels was received during the week as a gift from the ladies of Tillamook. They are now doing violent service and the camp "silverware" is shining as it never shone before. Mrs. N. J. Myers and Mrs. Oscar G. Swenson were recent visitors. Mrs. Myers, we understand, is to move to the town of Chinook, two miles from here and establish a residence. Sergeant Swenson accompanied his wife to Tillamook and is to drive Peter Bosma's jinty back to camp. A library tent is to be erected in camp.

The Pendleton Round-Up.

The Pendleton Round-Up will take place on September 20, 21 and 22, and this is the genuine and original round-up that attracts people from all parts. It will be unusually attractive and exciting this year, and those who want three days of real enjoyment should go to Pendleton this year.

PRESERVE YOUR SHOES.

It Will Repay You to Give Them Proper Care and Attention.

We all wear shoes. If we manage them rightly they will last longer, we will not need so many new ones and there will be more left for others. The following suggestions from the leather and paper laboratory of the United States department of agriculture can be utilized by every one who walks.

Shoes should be oiled or greased whenever the leather begins to get hard or dry. They should be brushed thoroughly, and then all the dirt and mud that remains washed off with warm water, the excess water being taken off with a dry cloth. While the shoes are still wet and warm apply the oil or grease with a swab of wool. It is best to have the oil or grease about as warm as the hand can bear, and it should be rubbed well into the leather, preferably with the palm. If necessary the oil can be applied to dry leather, but it penetrates better when the latter is wet. After treatment the shoes should be left to dry in a place that is warm, not hot.

Castor oil is satisfactory for shoes that are to be polished; for plainer footgear neatfoot, fish oil or oleine may be substituted. If it is desired to make the shoes and boots more water proof beef tallow may be added to any of these substances at the rate of half a pound of tallow to a pint of oil. The edge of the sole and the welt should be greased thoroughly. Tallow grease cannot be applied to these parts. A simple method of making the soles more durable, pliable and water resistant is to swab them occasionally with linseed oil, setting them aside to dry overnight.

Many of the common shoe polishes are harmful to leather. All those which contain sulphuric, hydrochloric or oxalic acids, turpentine, benzine or other volatile solvents have a tendency to harden the leather and make it more liable to crack. It is poor economy, too, to wear a shoe with the heel badly worn on one side. This throws the shoe out of shape and may soon result in its ruin. It is also likely to cause temporary injury to the foot.

Mrs. N. J. Myers and Mrs. Oscar G. Swenson were recent visitors. Mrs. Myers, we understand, is to move to the town of Chinook, two miles from here and establish a residence. Sergeant Swenson accompanied his wife to Tillamook and is to drive Peter

MINE OF AMERICAN HISTORY.

Seville Has a Treasure House Packed With Authentic Facts.

In the historic Spanish city of Seville, near the famous cathedral and occupying a frontage of about 200 feet, stands a building that is of paramount interest to the people of practically all the American republics. Because of the contents of this building Seville is becoming the Mecca of American historians.

The structure is a veritable treasure house of authentic facts concerning the colonial period of all the Spanish speaking countries of the new world as well as a mine of information relative to the early history of a very large part of the United States.

The house is known as the Casa Lonja, and the treasures it contains consist of the general archives of the Indies, that wonderful collection of unpublished, unedited and for the most part even unindexed original documents, reports, letters, etc., which practically embrace the administration of the colonies under the domination of Spain in all the Americas.

The mother country kept in very close touch with her children across the sea, and these detailed reports, contracts, cedulas and legal documents of every kind, as well as thousands of letters of officials—private and confidential as well as of a public character—form an almost inexhaustible mine of historical facts.—Exchange.

INSTINCT OF THE SPIDERS.

They All Knew How to Land When Cast Adrift Upon the Waters.

I took a large spider from his web under the basement of a mill, put him on a chip and set him afloat on the quiet waters of the pond. He walked all about the sides of his bark, surveying the situation very carefully, and when the fact that he was really afloat and about a yard from shore seemed to be fully comprehended he looked out for the nearest land.

This point fairly settled upon, he immediately began to cast a web for it. He threw it as far as possible in the air and with the wind. It soon reached the shore and made fast to the spires of grass. Then he turned himself about and in true sailor fashion began to haul in hand over hand on his cable. Carefully he drew upon it until his bark began to move toward the shore. As it moved the faster he the faster drew upon it to keep his hawsers taut and from touching the water. Very soon he reached the shore, and, quickly leaping to terra firma, he sped his way homeward.

Thinking that he might be a special expert and an exception in that line of boatmanship to the rest of his companions, I tried several of them. They all came to shore in like manner.—Virginia Pilot.

Radium Cures Cancer.

Practically all experimenters have demonstrated one basic fact—that radium does destroy cancer cells without producing any disintegrating effect upon normal tissue. The radium molecule is the only agent known to man which succeeds in doing this. Of that supremely important fact there is no longer the slightest room for doubt—that is to say, if the radium rays could be brought to bear upon every cancer cell this scourge would vanish from the world. The reasons that its use does not always succeed are many and too intricate for description in this place. But the records of so many positive cures are now available, cures of cancers usually regarded as hopeless and inoperable, that we must finally conclude that medical science has obtained a powerful weapon in its struggle with this disease.—World's Work.

The Rocker Rebelled.

In the early days of missions in Persia the people were naturally suspicious of the missionaries and were constantly on the lookout for something in their houses which would exert a baleful influence upon native visitors. A Persian lady, calling one day on an American missionary lady, wished to sit in a rocking chair, which was something she had never seen before. She got up into it with her feet and attempted to squat upon her heels, as she would have done upon the floor, with the result that she and the chair both took a tumble backward. Hence there went abroad a report that the missionaries kept in their houses a machine for converting people to Christianity.—Los Angeles Times.

Wen's Need a Gun.

Mrs. Irons—Do you aren't afraid of burglars? No doubt your husband has a revolver? Mrs. Lyons—Yes, but I'm so afraid of firearms that I have hidden it. Mrs. Irons—Then what protection would you have in case of a robbery? Mrs. Lyons—My dear, the way that will roar at me when he can't that gun will scare any burglar of his wits.—London Answers.

Human Faces.

Dreadful limits are set in nature to the powers of dissimulation. Truth tyrannizes over the unwilling members of the body. Faces never lie, it is said. No man need be deceived who will study the changes of expression.—Emerson.
