Don't fail to see the display advertisement of the Gem Theatre on page five of this issue, as they are to have four of the most celebrated photoplays of the present day. These have been secured as a result of tireless efforts on the part of the management. It will be time and money well spent to see all of these.

Owing to the tie up on the railroad, the play "Alice in Wonderland," cannot be given, as the film failed to reach the city. The performance was to have been given by the Women's Civic Improvement League and the proceeds given to the Red Cross. Watch the Headlight next week for the date of this wonderful photoplay.

Tillamook Red Cross received 1000 Red Cross buttons on Saturday, and those who are entitled to them can obtain one by showing their membership card. They have been placed in Clough's Drug Store. It is a serious offence for a person to wear a Red Cross button if they are not a member, for there is a penalty of $500.00 for doing so.

The Shakespeare Club had another delightful time on Friday, it being the regular monthly meeting of the club. Mrs. Riechers was the hostess for the occasion, and the invited guests were Mrs. E. T. Haltom, Mrs. Condit, Mrs. Thad Robison, Mrs. E. Bales, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. J. C. Holden, Mrs. Partidge and Mrs. E. E. Koch. Part of the afternoon was spent in patch work for the Red Cross. The hostess served a dainty lunch.

F. M. Dunn vs. Heata F. Dunn is a divorce suit filed in the circuit court. These parties were married in Tillamook county on the 13th of September, 1917. It is alleged that after the marriage defendant began a course of treatment towards the plaintiff which constitutes cruel and inhuman treatment, and on the 27th of Oct., 1917, without any cause whatsoever, defendant left plaintiff and refused to return.

Subscribe for the Tillamook Headlight, the pioneer newspaper of Tillamook county, and get three years subscription to the Oregon Farmer. The Headlight is published regularly on Thursday afternoons, and you are not disappointed in receiving your home newspaper. It gets there on time. Send the Headlight to your friends, for the coming year we are going to do another "bit" to help boost Tillamook county.

"Slide Kelly Slide" Slides between Tillamook and Portland have tied up the train service for a time, but not so with the film for the Gem Theatre. We have one film on hand at this time, others will be secured, so that the show will be open every night as usual. Don't stay at home, but go to the show at night where you will forget that you have missed your daily paper.

On next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the management of the Gem Theatre have secured the services of Mr. Wilkins to direct the music for their feature pictures on these nights. The pictures are all good, the music will be good and every one who comes will be sure to have a good evening's entertainment. If you miss these you are the loser.

Fred Lyster and Clara Schmidt were united in marriage at Portland, Oregon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Schmidt. Fred Lyster is a well known young man of this county the son of an old settler, Ed Lyster, of Hemlock. The bride is a well liked and a plucky homesteader in the Blaine country. They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Now is the time to use gallon fruits. We have the best line.—C. O. & C. M. Dawson.

There are 55 men now working at the ship yard, and 15 more will be put to work in a few days. They will be local men, there being quite a number of men in different parts of the county who have applied for work at the ship yards.

No children were born to the union.

The annual meeting of the Holstein Breeders' Association will be held next Monday, January 21st, at the Court House, at one p.m. Prof. Westover of the O. A. C. will be present.

The question is asked why you are or are not a Holstein breeder. The cheese factory proposition will be explained at this meeting.

Only 32 inches rain in December. The rainfall for the month of December was exceedingly heavy, it being 31.95 inches. One day it amounted to 4.35 inches. The weather this winter is quite different from a year ago, when it was cold with east wind and a good deal of frost. This year, however there have been a continuous rainfall, with no frost up to the present, with the meadows as green as in the spring of the year.

From the present indications the rainfall for January will be also heavy. One peculiar thing about the weather this year, the frogs have been croaking all winter.

Bruce Ross Dies from Injuries. Bruce Wallace Ross, who was a machinist in the U. S. Navy, died at the Naval Hospital, at Norfolk, Va., from injuries due to a fuel oil fire at an Atlantic port last month. The body was brought to Portland, where it was buried. He was the son of Mrs. J. Jensen, now residing at Florence, Oregon, and spent his early manhood at Fairview, in this county. He enlisted about six years ago and was a bright intelligent young man, having married Miss Gertrude Warren two years since. At the time of his death he was a little over thirty years of age. His untimely death came as a great shock to his wife and relatives. Besides his wife and mother, two sisters survive him.

Hose Company Elects Officers. The Tillamook Hose Company held its annual election last Thursday, when the following officers were elected for the year 1918: President C. Curtis; Sec. Bert Thayer; Tres. C. A. Mahan; Chief, Thos. Coates; Asst. Chief, Harry Long; Captains: No. 1, Wm. Foster; No. 2, A. C. Everson; No. 3, Bert Thayer; No. 4, Claude Frisbie; No. 5, Lewis Dick; Hook and Ladder, Marsh Burdick; Electrician, Marsh Burdick.

During the year 1917, Tillamook City was remarkably free from fires. There were only five alarms, one of which was false, and one for a fire outside the city limits. There was no damage at any of the other places to which the company was called out, except one, where the damage, amounting, not to exceed $100 was not covered by insurance. The last call was at midnight of July 22nd, at the Coats Lumber Co. saw mill.

On Monday night Chief Coates arranged with the Council for permission to fit up the attic in the city hall for a gymnasium for the Hose Company, and also made arrangements with the Water Commission to install a number of new hydrants.

Talented Billy at Gem Theatre. William Courtleigh, Jr., the hero in the latest Fox production, "Miss U. S. A.," the stirring patriotic photoplay in which June Caprice is the star, is the son of the eminent actor William Courtleigh, and has fallen heir to much of the talent which made his father popular throughout the country. "Miss U. S. A." will be seen at the Gem Theatre next Thursday.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES IN TILLAMOOK COUNTY.

Auxiliaries and Social Clubs are All Busy—Oretown has Membership of Seventy-Two.

The four day service began this week on Tuesday, with Mrs. R. W. Kirk as captain. There were several garments completed and the shelves where these are placed seem to have a satisfactory showing.

Mrs. Fred Beals, superintendent of sewing, states that the shipment to Portland should be within the next ten days. Every woman who can do so, is asked to come one or more days and help in this urgency.

Mrs. David Robinson directs the work on Wednesday; Mrs. I. M. Smith on Thursday; and Mrs. Chas. E. Gibson on Friday. The clubs are giving special service to this work.

The Shakespeare club is knitting the 12 inch squares that become the blankets for the wounded Belgians' cots. The Kill Kair is making ambulance pillows. The Swastika is making tea towels. The Kingston goes every Wednesday to the rooms to work.

The auxiliaries are busy as bees. Patterns, one set of finished garments and material, has been sent to each as they have been ready to work. There are twelve auxiliaries in the county now. Any school or other neighborhood that desires to help can have an auxiliary formed by calling to their aid Mrs. C. J. Edwards, president of the Tillamook Red Cross.

A communication from Oretown reports a good attendance at their meeting Jan. 7. The following were elected to office: Chairman, Mrs. S. H. Rock; vice-chairman, Mrs. L. M. Bailey; Secretary, Mrs. Retta Ray; Treasurer, Mrs. Zada Christensen, 18 new members were added making a total of 72 members, Florence M. Parsons is publicity chairman.

The Beaver and Wheeler each gave a social function netting quite a sum of money.

The business meeting on Tuesday night was full of interest. At the next meeting the report of the first quarter's receipts and expenses will be given. Committees made satisfactory reports, bills were allowed and the machinery for running this organization seems to be in satisfactory condition. A committee consisting of Mrs. H. H. Rosenberg, phone 131 m; Mrs. Geo. Morgan, phone 42; Mrs. H. D. Harford, phone 36 J, was appointed to secure from the homes the following needed articles, worn out table linen, old muslin of any sort, sheets, pillow slips, bed spreads, all kinds of garments that are laid aside as useless, out-grown children's garments, baby wardrobes. The only specification is that they must be clean. If those having such in small or large quantities will phone either member of this committee and have these articles tied up in a bundle, an auto will call for it giving the housewife no further trouble.

Before the money can be divided that was sent to Tillamook of the first Red Cross drive, it is necessary to segregate the names and amounts of each district before the money can be divided. Mrs. C. J. Edwards is endeavoring to straighten this out as soon as possible, when the different auxiliaries will receive their proper share of the money.

A Former Resident of Tillamook Passes Away Los Angeles, Cal.

Mrs. Premelia McKinley, widow of Dr. Erasus McKinley, died on December 20 at the home of her youngest daughter, Mrs. Viola Snyder, 117 East Eighth street, at the advanced aged of nearly 97 years.

Mrs. McKinley was born in New York state March 8, 1821. When she was quite young her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry, emigrated to Ohio where Premelia was married to Erasus McKinley, a rising young physician and a scion of the family made famous by the late William McKinley, former president of the United States.

Dr. McKinley and Miss Henry were married October 16, 1844. They followed the westward trend of emigration and lived in several states contiguous to Ohio until the late '50s when they removed to Texas. Here Dr. McKinley had established a large practice when the question of slavery arose and Northerners were regarded with suspicion. Dr. and Mrs. McKinley with their four children then joined a party to travel over the plains and mountains to the Pacific coast. This party formed one of the largest caravans which crossed the country with ox teams. Mrs. McKinley, who was possessed of a remarkable memory for her advanced age, was able to tell many thrilling things of the trip.

After living in California for some years the McKinley family came north and located at Tillamook, Oregon, where the father died May 20, 1891. Eighteen years ago Mrs. McKinley went to Washington, making her home with her eldest daughter, Mrs. B. S. Pettygrove, in Port Townsend, until Mrs. Pettygrove's death. Last May Mrs. McKinley came to Port Angeles with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Viola Snyder, at whose home she died. Grippie was the cause of her death. At her advanced age she was not able to successfully fight this enemy.

BUSINESS MEN MEET.

Commercial Club Taxes Active Measures for Betterment of City and County.

There was a "smoker" on Monday evening at the Club rooms of the Commercial Club in the city hall. There was a fairly good attendance, but not as large as it should have been.

The first matter to be discussed was the ship building industry and the condition of the road to the ship yard. There was a large delegation from the ship plant present, who took a lively interest in this matter. It was reported that the shipbuilding was going along fairly well, but not so rapidly as expected. The present condition of the road is anything but satisfactory, it being reported that the county court would be asked to have the road closed and only those working in the ship yard and the county officials allowed to use it. This was on account of autos and wagons going there carrying persons who wanted to see the plant. They got stalled on the road, and on account of this there is delay in getting material to the plant. The club pledged its support to see that the road was put in the best shape possible, for it was pointed out that nothing should be allowed to delay the ship building.

Some of the business men thought that Tillamook was somewhat neglected in the matter of news sent to the Portland papers, and contrasted the large number of news items that appeared from Coos county and the small amount from Tillamook.

The loganberry industry was the next topic. There were several parties figuring upon coming to Tillamook and putting in a fruit cannery. An effort had been made to induce some of the people to raise loganberries, but thus far but few had shown any inclination to plant several acres.

The matter of bonding the county for hard surfaced roads came up and was discussed, the club being in favor of it. It seems that the supreme court passed upon the petition of a rehearing in the bonding case last November, when it would not permit it. A question was raised whether another special election could be held. It was decided to go ahead, and the president was authorized to appoint a committee to push this matter through.

It was reported that some parties were figuring upon locating a furniture factory in this city, which would employ 40 men.

The old shacks, or fire traps, come under fire, and the meeting thought that the city council should condemn a number of them.

In future the club will meet the second Monday in each month. Several new members joined the club and an effort is to be made to have every business man belong.

A Wonderful Photo Play.

Something new in the way of film entertainment will be seen at the Gem Theatre next Wednesday, January 23, "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" will be presented. This dramatization of Jules Verne's famous novel has been made into a wonderful photo-play after many difficulties encountered in taking the pictures under the water. Over 900 scenes and 2,000 actors were required to tell the story of the imaginative Captain Nemo. Adults 20 cents, Children 10 cents.

"20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," Jules Verne's famous prophetic story has been filmed, and a genuine under sea photoplay is the result. It will be shown at the Gem Theatre next Wednesday. The submarine scenes in which are shown the mysteries and wonders of the deep are the results of the greatest achievement of motion photoplay. One scene shows a hunting trip taken under the guidance of Captain Nemo who leads his companions out of his submarine, Nautilus, on the floor of the ocean. The exploration of the coral gardens and the shooting of sharks is shown in this remarkable feature film. Adults 20c. Children 10c.

Those who have read and enjoyed Jules Verne's "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" will have a chance to see this wonderful piece of fiction visualized in motion pictures when the management of the Gem Theatre presents this big feature Wednesday, January 23.
