JURY DISAGREE IN CIDER CASE

Other Cases Tried or Disposed of by Circuit Court.

Circuit Court is still in session with Judge G. R. Bagley on the bench. There are several jury cases set for trial, which will keep the jury until next week. Tuesday being a judicial holiday on account of Lincoln's birthday, no session of the court was held that day.

The case of C. F. DeFord was on trial this morning, but owing to an accident to some of the witnesses the case was continued until Monday at one o'clock.

State of Oregon vs. L. Gruttner, et al. Contemnation. State allowed right of way 30 feet wide and defendants allowed $150.00 damages.

M. W. Harrison vs. Oregon Box & Manufacturing Co., a corporation. Action for money. Judgment for plaintiff for $3187.50.

J. Tone vs. Tillamook Hotel Co. Action for money. Continued until another case is decided by the supreme court.

State of Oregon vs. L. Gruttner, et al. Contemnation. Default as to all defendants except L. Gruttner.

Webster Holmes as trustee of Lyster Brothers and Jennings, bankrupt, vs. Fred Burton and Geo. W. Liger. Action for money. Motion for non-suit allowed.

Claude Meinecke and Phillip S. Seabrook, doing business as Meinecke & Seabrook vs. T. H. Goyne. Action for money. This was a case where the district attorney seized cider belonging to the defendants and it was destroyed. Claude Meinecke, agreeing to that to avoid prosecution under the prohibition law. The case was hotly contested, attorneys H. T. Botts and S. S. Johnson appearing for the district attorney and Attorney J. Mannix, of Willamina, for the plaintiffs. The case took up the whole of Saturday, and an evening session was held, when the judge instructed the jury. The jury was unable to agree. On the first ballot it is reported that it stood six to six but on the final ballot the jury stood eight for defendant and four for plaintiffs. The jury was discharged and the case will be tried again at the May term of the circuit court.

Francis Buckles, who was indicted on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon pleaded guilty and was fined $100.00.

Edwin Pretilla, who was indicted for breaking into a store at Beaver, on a charge of larceny, entered a plea of guilty, and was sentenced to serve a term in the state penitentiary for one year and not more than seven. The judge, however, paroled the defendant on the understanding that he pay all costs, restitution to Wilson & Co. for value of articles stolen, that he was to return to his father's farm in Yamhill county and make a monthly report to the court and the state parole officer once a month.

Anna Rutgers vs. Derk Rutgers. Divorce. Continued for term.

Citizens Bank, a corporation, vs. J. T. Alexander et al. Foreclosure of mortgage. Order of default.

Thornton B. Turney, vs. John Bell and Anna Bell. Foreclosure of mortgage. Sale confirmed.

Lee McCracken vs. Bay City Land Company, a corporation. Recision. Order extending time to plea.

L. Bettman vs. Carl E. Emery and E. N. Emery. Foreclosure of mortgage. Default and decree.

"Pride of the Clan" at the Gem.

"The Pride of the Clan"—a big 7 reel Artcraft picture to be shown at the Gem Theatre, Tuesday, February 19, of which a short synopsis follows:

Among the simple fishing-folk of a little island on the west coast of Scotland lives MacTavish, head of a clan. Here he rules as a chieftain and his word is law. One day a hurricane sweeps across the Herbrides and the fishermen turn their boats to the inlet for shelter. On the shore the women and children watch the fight of their men with the waves. Among those who wait is Margaret MacTavish, who sees her father's boat dashed to pieces in the roaring surf. A party of men headed by Jamie Campbell, try to rescue the old chieftain but the waves close over him before they can reach the battling craft. With MacTavish lost, according to the law of the land the succession of authority passes to his daughter, Margaret, just eighteen.

She, with a spirit of kindness and in a tender, sweet and girlish way, rules the fishermen and their families. Her disposition wins them. Jamie Campbell has always been regarded as the son of Mrs. Campbell, one of the clan. The old lady realizes that Jamie is reaching his 31st birthday, feels that she cannot keep her secret longer. So she writes to the Countess of Dunstable that the baby of her first marriage, which she left with the old woman of the island, did not die but had grown to be a fine young man, and is now known as Jamie Campbell.

The Countess accompanied by her husband starts out to seek her son. It is on the eve of Jamie's betrothal to Margaret that the Countess finds the young man and tells him of his real identity. She swears him to secrecy even to his own sweetheart. The Countess goes to watch the quaint betrothal ceremony of her son and Margaret. Meeting him they are seen by those who do not know the relation to embrace and this fact is told to Margaret. The disappearance of the Countess has aroused the suspicion of the Earl, and he, having learned of secret meeting with Jamie and not knowing the relation, confronts her. The wife breaks down and confesses that the young man is her son. For the rest of this interesting story, which is full of life and touching incidents attend the Gem Theatre next Tuesday, February 19.

CLUB GOES ON RECORD IN REGARD TO ROAD BONDS.

Proposition of Military Highway Through County is Endorsed.

The regular meeting of the Commercial Club, which was held on Monday evening at the club rooms, was chiefly one of resolutions. However, matters of importance to the city and county were discussed and decided steps for action were taken.

The first subject of interest to all was the road bonding measure which has given the people of the county so much concern since the last election was declared void. It was recommended that the following resolution be sent to the County Court:

"It is hereby resolved that the Tillamook Commercial Club go on record as favoring the issuing of bonds for permanent road building, but that such bonds shall not be sold and roads built with money received from the same until such time as the money market may be easier and roads can be built with greater economy, the main object of the issuance of bonds being to build permanent roads and be in a position to meet state aid whenever said state aid may be available."

It has been felt that one of the chief objections, by many, to the issuance of bonds has been the fact that most people have understood that it would be necessary to sell the bonds at once if the election carried. The above resolution explains the position taken by the business men of this city. If Tillamook county is not prepared with money when the State Highway Commission decides to build the additional 15 miles of hard surfaced road, it may not do so if this county is unprepared with money to pay its share.

A map of proposed military highways on the Pacific Coast, one of which will, if considered, pass through Tillamook County, was examined. The club decided to send a letter to our representatives in which the hearty co-operation of the club would be pledged to further the construction of these roads.

The map showing the location of these military roads, is now in the Commercial Club rooms and may be seen at any time.

Some days ago a letter was received from the Home Industry League, of Oregon, asking that the Commercial Club, as a body, do all in its power to further the use of local products. This is a subject of vital interest to each and everyone of us and should be constantly in our minds. It is pointed out in the letter received that it is the duty of every citizen to do all in his or her power to conserve the State's interests so as to offset the heavy drain which the war is making. The letter also calls attention to the fact the Oregon did not invent the idea of "boosting" home products. We are in reality behind other states in our loyalty to Oregon's factory output. Let us wake up and get in the lead regarding this subject. The club passed the following resolution: "Resolved that the Tillamook Commercial Club go on record as favoring and furthering the use of all local products."

Another subject which must now be met by the city is the immediate need for adequate living accommodations being supplied to the people who are coming in from the outside. Several who are in a position to be familiar with conditions gave some clear evidence to show that Tillamook is losing some valuable families through the lack of proper homes with which to supply them.

It was suggested at the meeting that a request be sent to the Mayor and City Council asking for consideration of plans to number the houses throughout the city. This is a much needed convenience and should be given prompt attention.

The president reported that one of the government vessels building in Portland was to be called "Tillamook". The next meeting of the club will be held the second Monday in March. The Club needs you and you need the Club, so remember the date and come out.

HOARDING FOOD IN COUNTY.

Tillamook Farmer, Jacked Up for Violating Food Law.

"That person who willfully hoards any necessities shall upon conviction thereof be fined not to exceed $5,000 or be imprisoned for not more than two years, or both. Necessaries shall be deemed to be hoarded within the meaning of this act if held, contracted for, or arranged for by any person in a quantity in excess of his reasonable requirements for use or consumption by himself and dependents for a reasonable time."—U. S. Food Administration Act of August 10, 1917.

Some time ago it came to the ears of Robert H. McGrath, the Local Food Administrator for Tillamook County, that a certain farmer, whose name is withheld, had purchased from a certain dealer, whose name is withheld, three barrels of flour, which amount was in excess of his requirements. Last week, after making certain of the facts, Mr. McGrath sent for the farmer and gave him the choice of returning the flour to the dealer or facing prosecution in the United States Court at Portland for violation of the anti-hoarding law. It is needless to say that the farmer chose to return the flour to the dealer.

Any person who, since August tenth of last year, has purchased in excess of his reasonable requirements is guilty of a violation of this act; and any person who, since that date, has held in excess of his reasonable requirements any necessities is also guilty of a violation of the Act.

The anti-hoarding laws are being strictly enforced in England and in other countries of the allies, regardless whom the offender may be. Recent news dispatches tell of the conviction of a member of the British Parliament and the laying upon him of a fine of $2,000 and $175 costs. Admiral Sir Richard Poore of the British Navy was fined $450 for having in his possession five hundred pounds of foodstuffs. Marie Corelli, the novelist, was fined $250 for having in her possession one hundred and eighty pounds of sugar—she being entitled to have not more than thirty-two pounds. Lady Mabel Gore Langton was fined $400, while others who were fined included a railway worker, a wealthy widow and the proprietors of several hotels, the last being charged with exceeding the official ration.

It is the purpose of the Food Administration in this country to break up the hoarding of sugar, flour and other food stuffs. The County Food Administration has been instructed to be alert to discover hoarders of food. It is the duty of all patriotic citizens to report to Mr. McGrath, the Food Administrator for Tillamook County, any violations that may come to their notice. The practice of hoarding must be stopped, for food will win the war. No one would think of keeping a gun for shooting rabbits if that gun were needed by a soldier at the front, when all the rabbits could be caught in a trap. Wheat is needed in fighting Europe and we can use the substitutes. Save the wheat and send it to the front.

Coming Attraction at the Gem.

A loud report, the swaying of the ocean liner and then the screeching of men, women and children. Only a few moments before the decks, which now contain the panic stricken crowd, were scenes of peace and contentment. The passengers were lounging in their chairs or playing quots, happily at peace with themselves and the world. But their course ran through the war zone and man's ambition to be victor has deemed it necessary that certain cargo on that liner be lost.

An insane desire to reach the life boat seizes one and all. In some cases the men even forget their chivalry in an effort to be saved.

Slowly the huge hulk sinks beneath the waves while the frantic passengers cling to the sides of the life boats, overturned by their heavy loads. Cries for help sink beneath the blue of the water unheeded for there is no life about except the sea gulls flying in circles in the clear sky above.

Never before was a shipwreck scene staged with the realism that Director Sturgeon has instilled in the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature released by the V-L-S-E entitled "Through the Wall," which is the attraction at the Gem Theatre on Monday, Feb. 18.
