

"DAYLIGHT SAVING" URGED.

Governor Appeals to Oregon People to Move Clocks Ahead.

Salem, Or., March 26—Oregon clocks are to be set one hour ahead March 31. The "daylight saving" plan of the President will go into effect at that time by virtue of a proclamation issued by Governor Withycombe today as follows:

Whereas, the President of the United States has expressed the desire that the people of this nation set all clocks ahead one hour on March 31, in accordance with a daylight saving plan which has operated with material benefit in many of the European countries, and

Whereas, This is in the nature of a war measure which must be given whole-hearted support by all who have the best interests of their country at heart;

Now, therefore, I, James Withycombe, by virtue of the authority in me vested as Governor of the State of Oregon, do hereby call upon the people of Oregon to adjust their clocks in accordance with the letter and spirit of the Federal enactment and give the daylight saving plan full support until the time set for its suspension in October.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Oregon to be hereunto affixed this 26th day of March, A. D., 1918.

James Withycombe, Governor.

"In Honor System," at the Gem.

Much has been said about the value of the sensational photoplay, "The Honor System," which will be seen in this city at the Gem Theatre Wednesday, April 3, and in the general human sympathy aroused from this angle one might lose sight of the other great and distinguishing qualities of this master drama which R. A. Walsh directed and which William Fox is presenting.

Eliminating the great moral story, the powerful record of human love and sympathy, and judging it from the viewpoint of a spectacle, one is forced to the conclusion that it is one of the finest pieces of realism the motion picture stage has yet seen.

True, no great cities tumble, and no heavens fall, and the bowels of the earth are not exposed to view, but this photoplay shows more real, flat on the earth human existence than any film story that has been made for the amusement of the public.

These are scenes depicting the frontier life of Arizona which are without parallel on the screen. Mr. Walsh was born and raised in Arizona and shows it first in his selection of types. He positively uses no Bergen (N. J.) cowboys, and, after all, that's a good start. His men of the West breathe, snort and fight western fashion. And they love that way, too.

The most moving scene is when the cowpunchers and rangers of one town dash madly on their mustangs and cayuses to the rescue of their pals in another boarder town. It has been raided by Mexican bandits, and Mr. Walsh's scene makes Villa's Columbus raid look like a game of croquet. The word has been brought to the boys of Lariat by Joe Stanton, the hero. In a whirlwind of passion they ride across the desert, the American flag at the head and save the town.

For sale—Two dwellings, lots 3 and 4 and 5th Street and Park Ave. Also furniture, stoves, tools, choice bulbs, peonys, lilies, chrysanthemums. Inquire of Mrs. K. White.
