ing and hearts aflame we look out across the peaceful hills of home, hear the singing birds, view the green hills, adore the breeze rippled waters of our quiet seas and watch the sun rays pencil across the shimmering lakes and see the silvery streams wending their singing ways to the flower bedecked and grass carpeted vales of plenty. We see our stalwart and sturdy sons blessed with youth and vigor; bravest lads that ever marched beneath the banner of liberty; and we exclaim with one accord: "Go boys, go carry that flag of liberty, that bonny bunting of freedom to every slave in every land; go rid the hand of tyranny that generations yet to come may know the sweet, low, melodious song of liberty and peace and know that again no more shall babies be slaughtered to enhance the glory of a kaiser, or mothers and sisters be ravished to appease a Prussian lust. This is why you boys are beyond the waters and is the why that thousands of others are coming and coming to stay until the last ravishing Hun has laid away his sabre; until the last slave chain is broken and the last born soul of Adam's posterity sits beneath the sunligh of freedom."

Young men of America, go. Go where your brother is fighting, that babies and mothers may live and breathe the free air of liberty; that the cotter may claim his own, that labor may claim its reward, that the seas may be free for the commerce of the world and Peace once more shed its golden halo above the broken homes of Europe and fields grow green and bountiful where now but crosses stand. Go, we can't, but we can keep the fields green and golden with harvest; the larder bountiful and the home secure and when you return, the birds will still be singing in the virgin firs, the morning sun will pencil across the blue waters, the streams sing as they flow to the valley and world will bless you for the gift of Universal Peace.

1,300,000 German Killed in War.

According to Herr Seglitz a socialist member of the Bavarian lower house, "1,300,000 Germans have already been killed and the country's debt is now over a hundred million marks (nominally $25,000,000,000)." In view of such facts Herr Seglitz asked "Who is so foolish to believe in war indemnities to cover that amount?" Such questionings would not have been tolerated a year or two ago, but it is noticeable that not only the Bavarian, but in the reichstag in Berlin some of the members are beginning to ask very embarrassing questions, and all they get in reply is more talk about the might of the German sword.—New York World.

What About Dad?

They think of us soldiers as heroes
And praise our names to the skies;
There's tears for the one who is wounded,
There's prayer's for the one who dies
They write songs of our waxes or our sweethearts,
And of mothers so brave and so sad
But just name a singer or poet
Who mentions one word about dad.
Poor dad with his checkbook and troubles,
Has never a look in at all.
It's mother and wife and sweetheart,
And Sammy who answered the call.
But dad must keep thinking and working,
In factory or mine or a mill
To capture the good iron dollar
To pay up the family bill.
He buys liberty bonds by the dozen,
Though his shoes are run down at the heel.
And his overcoat's old and looks shabby,
But you never hear old daddy squeal
He doesn't write much of a letter
To his boy who is gag to France,
But he sends him a favor or ten spot
Whenever he has a good chance.
And evenings when he sits with his paper,
And smoking his pipe or cigar,
He's thinking of the boy in khaki,
Wondering if it's storming out where you are
Now I think a lot of my mother—
She's written every day I've been gone;
And sister and brother and sweet-heart,
Have helped to cheer me along.
But dad is as good as a human,
He's thinking of his boy in khaki,
And sometimes I kinda feel
That dad has to pay and work every day,
And I don't think he gets a square deal.
—Private Tully.

A Bilious Attack.

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter. For sale by Lamar's Drug Store.

NOTICE.

RAY & CO.

It's the Fixtures that Make the Silo

RATCHET WRENCH
A handy, reversible ratchet wrench furnished free with every silo.

ANCHOR FASTENING
Anchor cables fastened to both inner and outer hoops by means of a steel U-bolt passing through stave and around both hoops.

EXTRA HEAVY STEEL STAPLES
Heavy steel staples four inches long fasten staves to both inner and outer hoops. Note that staves are also stapled to bottom hoop, a construction that cannot collapse from shrinkage of staves.

STEEL HOOPS
High grade steel hoops, 5/8-in. in diameter. Nine inches of machine-cut thread at each end. Best quality closed malleable iron lugs for connecting sections.

STEEL LADDER
Steel-step ladder. Steps every 18 inches all the way to top. Better and safer than climbing cross-bars.

LARGE DOOR OPENING
Door swings all the way back, leaving entire opening free. Requires only ten-inch clearance.

FOUR DOOR LATCHES
Four door latches, two at top and two at bottom. Prevents warping. Fits tight. Stays tight.

STEEL HINGE
Makes door twice as easy to handle as hinged door. Doors never have to be lifted around, never get lost, are always in place.

DOUBLE-CABLE ANCHORS
Four double-cable with all silos over 26 ft. high. (Single cables with smaller ones.) Notice this silo is anchored at top, middle and bottom. Can't blow down or collapse when properly put up.

PATENT CABLE-TIGHTENERS
Tightens both cables at the same time with even tension. Nine inches of thread on anchor rod. Cables tightened by simply turning nut above tightener.

SIX BASE ANCHORS
Six of these steel base anchors on all silos over 10 ft. in diameter. (4 with smaller ones.) Together with double-cable anchors they constitute the secure anchorage ever devised for a silo.
