TILLAMOOK COUNTY BANK
JOINS FEDERAL RESERVE.

County's Big Institution Links
Up With Nation's Bank System.

The announcement that the Tillamook County Bank, the largest banking organization in this county, has just joined the Federal Reserve System is naturally attracting attention in financial circles all over the United States. The reasons that impelled the Bank to take this step are set forth in the following statement by Mr. Thad Robison, Vice President, and will be read with much interest by the people of this community as they indicate that the Bank is thinking for its customers from a national standpoint and is doing its part to make the finances of our county as well as of our nation as solid as a rock and instantly responsive to emergency demands.

"The Tillamook County Bank decided to join the Federal Reserve System after giving the matter very serious and very careful consideration covering many months of close study, keen analysis and continuous observation," said Mr. Robison.

"We feel that the Federal Reserve Act is by far the best financial legislation that has ever been enacted. It is a long step in the direction of banking and currency reform that makes permanent the solidity of the business structure of our country."

"Now that our country is engaged in this great war we must conserve all our financial as well as physical and moral resources in order to win it and in our judgment this absolutely necessary condition can best be made permanently effective by the concentration of the banking strength of our country in the Federal Reserve System. Therefore we believe that membership in this system and especially so at this time is a distinct and significant evidence of practical patriotism."

"Our Central Federal Reserve Bank, located in San Francisco has nine directors of whom six are elected by its member banks. Three of these directors are bankers and three of them must represent the industrial, commercial and agricultural interests in the district. The three remaining directors are appointed by the Federal Reserve Bank to represent the public at large and at least two of them must be men with banking experience. Therefore it can be seen that the Federal Reserve Bank is managed by men representing the public and the business and the farming interests of a district and strengthening a member bank's ability to give broader co-operation to its depositors."

"When analyzed from all angles the Federal Reserve System was created by Congress more for the benefit of business men and producers than for the benefit of banks and I am thoroughly borne out in this statement by the fact that the Reserve System has played a large part in maintaining business confidence and steady business conditions during the past thirty-six months."

"The system is like a huge reservoir of gold and currency with direct connection to all its member banks and through them extending its service into every mill, every store and every farm which desires it. Its efficiency as a shock absorber has been tested over and over again during these months and the confidence its mere existence creates is perhaps one of its most beneficial results. This system with its immense resources is a bulwark of strength to the banks which the members of it and it will assist them in any financial needs which they may be called upon to meet."

"Of every dollar the people of this community keep on deposit with us a certain portion—and the portion is the same whether you are our largest or smallest depositor—is in turn deposited by us in our Federal Reserve Bank where it adds to the strength of the system. The resources of the system being always available to us our depositors may feel sure that their money kept with us is not only safe but may be drawn out at any time when wanted."

"We joined the Federal Reserve System because we believe at this critical period of our Nation's history—when our manufacturers are offering their mills, and our young men are offering their services to the United States Government—that we should provide the fullest measure of co-operation, stability, strength and protection to our depositors through this Government enterprise."—Paid Advt.

Huston Withdraws from Race.

With the approach of the primaries and the withdrawal of Mr. Huston the lines are being more sharply drawn in the contest for the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

It is true there is a spirited contest on in the Democratic party for the nomination, but it is a foregone conclusion that Oswald West will be the nominee of that party, as he is now and has been for many years the absolute boss of that party in Oregon. West will be a hard candidate to beat unless the republicans are united. He will have the support and backing of the national and state Democratic organizations, the radical and the extremist vote and will make his favorite "non-partisan" campaign, so it is up to the Republicans to unite on some man in the primaries and eliminate the possibility of a divided party and thus insure the election of a Republican. The Republicans must now choose between R. N. Stanfield and C. L. McNary and the question is which of those men is the most likely to defeat West. Will it be the latter who has always been the close friend and confident of West, having recently been appointed Supreme Judge of Oregon by him, or will the strongest candidate be the eastern Oregon man? We have looked up the life and achievements of Mr. Stanfield and we believe that in him the Republicans have a candidate who is unbeatable and it is already apparent that West is trembling in his boots for fear Bob Stanfield will be his opponent.

Mr. Stanfield is a vigorous young man, who has made a success of his own business, starting as a poor farmer boy he has become one of the leading stockraisers and business men of the state, he is fearless and honest and is not tied up to any clique or faction.

At the last session of the legislature he was Speaker of the House of Representatives and proved himself to be a man of ability and statesmanship. He is independent, fearless and able, has made a success of his own business and will do so with the state's business.

Another thing in his favor is the fact that he is not a lawyer, as there seems to be a general feeling that the nation has enough lawyers in office and that practical men are needed at this time and particularly will this be true after the war when our allies of today become our commercial enemies of tomorrow.

The Republicans of Oregon should unite on Bob Stanfield and insure the election of a Republican Senator from Republican Oregon.

TEAT PULLERS ARE "STUNG."

Farmers Settle with Condenser at Only Fifty Cents on the Dollar.

What would Tillamook dairymen think if they had to take 50c on the dollar for their milk at the present time if they went into the condensing business?

There were quite a number of dairymen, when the market conditions for cheese were in doubt, wanted to start milk condensers. The snap shot man advised the dairymen to stay with the cheese industry, and it is fortunate that they did so. The following clipping from the Telephone Register, of McMinnville will prove interesting reading not only to the dairymen who refuse to tie up with a milk condenser but those who advocated it as well:

"Petitions have been circulated the past week among the patrons of the McMinnville condenser asking for signatures agreeing to take 50c. on the dollar for all amounts owing for milk furnished to this bankrupt institution. A meeting was held in the court house on Wednesday to hear the report of the committee appointed a few weeks since at the time the institution suspended. Chester Mulkey presided at the meeting, and Attorney Burdett, who had been employed by the farmers as legal adviser in the investigation of conditions financial, reported in substance that the committee had met the management and other creditors in Portland and found that there was a mortgage on the property of $39,000, a lien of $2,500 for a recent addition, $5,000 taxes unpaid, $10,000 for labor, and $7,000 for local accounts. The American Can Company has a claim for material of $48,601, the farmers for milk claim 66 to 68 thousand dollars, and the stock of 15,000 cases of milk is said not to be of standard quality, and some recent sales may not be binding for that reason. Including a branch plant at Badon, and contracting business in Portland of Giebish & Joplin, their liabilities were found by the committee to be over $400,000."

"John Kernan, contractor of Portland, has made the proposition that if all farmers having claims will accept 50c. on the dollar and sign such an agreement, he will pay off the indebtedness. The committee recommended accepting this offer, as otherwise they could not see more than 25 cents on the dollar and a long time to wait for it. It is understood that all creditors will soon have signed the agreement and will be paid their 50 per cent."

"It is believed that Kernan is interested in clearing the plant of all indebtedness and operating it in conjunction with the new plant at Bandon."

Some years ago, it will be remembered Tillamook dairymen did get "stung" by private concerns. Millar & Gangloff "stung" them, J. H. beach "stung" them McIntosh Cheese Company "stung" them and likewise R. Robinson succeeded in doing so. These were all individual concerns. The last fifteen years a wonderful improvement took place under the co-operative system, and the sharks and dead beats who used to handle Tillamook cheese can't deceive and defraud the dairymen like they used to, and it is gratifying to know that, considering the large amount of business done, that there is so little loss. The past five years the loss to the factories in the Tillamook County Creamery Association amounted to $40,000, and this was for cheese shipped to a party who went bankrupt.

The Right Kind of a Man for United States Senator.

ROBERT N. STANFIELD,
Farmer, Stock Raiser and Producer.

The state is entitled to the active services of a man who knows how to work. Work for the state generally and work for the people of the State, both individually and collectively.

Oregon does not need any orators for orators are a drug on the market, and like constitutional lawyers, they do not get anything.

The Federal government needs all the assistance Oregon can give, but is not receiving it because it has not been put up to the department on a business basis.

Today business men are having more to do with the government affairs than ever before. We are spending twenty-four million dollars a day and the people who will pay this money are the people who actually create wealth, the farmer, producer and the toiler.

Our prosperity depends upon our continued industrial activities and every one of these should be maintained at the maximum capacity.

The prosperity of the small farmer, the small producer and the small manufacturer is as essential to the state and the nation as the prosperity of the big men. Every one of our occupations should be given equal consideration regardless of the amount produced.

Every encouragement must be given to increase production and this can be obtained only through assurance that the small farmers as well as the big man is going to receive his proportionate share of the war expenditures, and that there will be a market for his products and a profit to him for his work based proportionately upon his cost of production.

There must be equality in all phases of our State and National industry, and the small fellow must not be forgotten, overlooked or crowded out through the rush for big things and big orders and big accomplishments.

If the people of the state want a business man, a worker, a man who knows, is thoroughly acquainted with every phase of the industrial situation in Oregon, a man who is capable, honest and fearless, a man who has by his own labor and through his own advancement aided in the progress and development of Oregon, they want Robert N. Stanfield.
