Miron Perkins Passes Away.
Miron Perkins, an old pioneer of Tillamook County, and one of our most respected citizens, passed away in Portland on Sunday last, where he had gone a few days previous. The remains were brought to Tillamook on Tuesday, and on Wednesday were buried in the Oddfellows' cemetery. A large number of persons attended the religious services which were held in the Nazarene Church, who paid their last tribute of respect to the deceased.
Miron Perkins was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Perkins, pioneers of Oregon and Tillamook county, who crossed the plains in 1852. Wm. Perkins returned to Indiana and recrossed the plains again in the following year with his family, settling in Yamhill county. Miron Perkins was born near Lafayette, Oregon, on the 11th of August, 1854. The family moved to Tillamook County in 1862, taking a donation claim known as the Perkins hill.
In 1876, Miron Perkins was married to Emma Thurman, and of this union four children were born, all of whom are living viz. Mrs. A. F. Kerremans, of Portland; Mrs. B. E. King, Mrs. C. B. Vantress, of Tillamook; and Mrs. W. H. Hosley, of Claverton, Oregon. The deceased leaves a wife, four daughters, nine grandchildren and one sister. A few weeks before his death he acknowledged his faith in Jesus Christ. He was an active member of the W. O. W.
President Kerr and the War.
On Sunday afternoon President Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural College, addressed a large audience in the Christian Church of this city on the vital issues of the war.
President Kerr recently returned from Washington, D. C., where he was called with others from various sections of the country to get first hand information from the government as to the war conditions and especially the food conditions in this country, and the allied nations. He is making his present speaking tour of the Northern and Western states by order of the Federal Government.
While in Washington, the conferences attended were made up of the heads of the various departments and the French High Commissioner and British High Commissioner. Every opportunity was afforded Dr. Kerr and others to learn the facts as they actually are.
According to the officials the food situation in the allied countries is a very critical one. The allies must have wheat and flour. This country must supply the demand. Possibly two or three months before the harvest there will be no more wheat flour in this country. Then we will all be using substitutes for a time. But whatever happens our soldiers in France must have food as well as our allies. Victory can only be won by supplying the armies with food. We are not at all short ourselves, excepting on flour and fats and sugar; these we must save.
Military and government experts estimate that there is no probability of the war ending inside of three years at the very least. Such being the case we must exert every ounce of effort and defeat the Hun at the earliest possible date. The nation is solidly united for this great purpose and will not be diverted from it. German propaganda in this land must be suppressed.

The speaker stated that the people of this country have met every requirement of the government cheerfully. But we have not taken the matter of food conservation as seriously as we should. Much has been saved but more must be saved. We must realize that this war is one for our very existence. Nothing must be left undone that will help win it.
"The Moral Law" at the Gem.
A new William Fox play with Gladys Brockwell as the star will be presented at the Gem Theatre on Thursday, May 16. It is called "The Moral Law" and is one of the most remarkable dramas that has been put upon the screen. It is only necessary to announce the appearance of the brilliant star, Gladys Brockwell, to excite interest.
In the new drama, Miss Brockwell plays a dual role of two sisters who look almost exactly alike. They are, however, as unlike in character, as it is possible to imagine. Miss Brockwell's ability to display feeling and express mental condition by her face and manner places her in a class by herself.
The scene of the play is laid in this country and South America. It gives opportunity for the splendor of production for which William Fox is noted.
The plot deals with a man who leaves all of his wealth to a high-minded and charitable daughter who is about to be married. The father had however, a wife whom he had divorced because of her vicious temperament, and she and her daughter live in a South American capital in the midst of evil and degraded surroundings. The father cut off both in his will with one dollar each. The high minded daughter fearing that an injustice may have been done, goes to her sister to divide the money. What this fine and high-minded girl goes through before she is again reunited to the man she loves, form the basis for the absorbing story that follows.
Large Class to be Confirmed.
May the twelfth will mark a gala day in the Sacred Heart Parish of Tillamook, Oregon. Some thirty-five children will be admitted for the first time to receive Holy Communion. The girls will be dressed in white, wearing wreaths and veils. The class begins to march to the church from St. Alphonsus Academy. During the eight o'clock Mass the children will approach for the first time the table of the Lord. In the afternoon the class assemblies for the Renewal of Baptismal Vows and the Imposition of the Scapular. The afternoon services begin at three o'clock.
On June the second, His Grace, Archbishop Alexander Christie, D. D. will honor the Sacred Heart Parish with a visit. During his stay the Sacrament of Confirmation will be administered to a class of one hundred and fifty children and adults. His Grace will visit the north and south ends of the county with a view to determine suitable locations for churches.
"The Winged Mystery" at Gem.
Twins born of American parents in Germany grow to manhood exactly alike—except at heart. August Siever became pro-German and joined the Kaiser's army, while Louis remained true to the Stars and Stripes. When the world war extended to America the twins parted—after August had fittingly shown his miserable disposition. What resulted from this condition of affairs has been prepared in Bluebird photoplays for exhibition at the Gem Theatre, Friday, May 10, with Franklin Farnum playing the twins in "The Winged Mystery." Thrilling episodes result from complications of the most puzzling variety and swift moving episodes will furnish an abundance of excitement for lovers of realism and sensation. Through all the many and various changes runs an engaging love story in which the twins are abetted by two of the prettiest girls in filmdom Claire DuBrey and Rosemary Theby.
Another Divorce Suit.
Rose S. Clark vs. Edward M. Clark is a divorce suit filed in the circuit court. These parties were married at Bridal Vale, Multnomah county, Ore., on the 19th of September, 1918. The complaint alleges cruel and inhuman treatment on the part of the defendant who used vile and coarse epithets towards the plaintiff, and accused her, in the presence of friends and relatives of infidelity. On the 2nd of May at Nehalem, defendant violently struck and beat plaintiff, and being unable to stand such cruel treatment, she left her husband. Plaintiff wants the court to give her the care of two minor children and an undivided one-half interest in the property, that defendant be required to pay to the clerk $250.00 as attorney's fees, $100.00 as suit money, a judgment against the defendant for $30.00 per month for the care and support of each of the children and the further sum of $40.00 per month for the care and support of the plaintiff.
