What's the Matter with Oregon?

ROBERT N. STANFIELD,

Republican for United States Senator.

"I have a very strong conviction that Oregon has been discriminated against by the National Government in many ways. Mr. Stanfield shares this feeling and promises, if elected, to correct it as far as it lies in his power to do so. Senator McNary denies that any such discrimination exists. He was quoted in a dispatch from Washington to the Oregon Journal as saying that he took no stock in the statement that there had been discrimination against Oregon. Of course, if he believes there has been no such discrimination he will make no effort to remove it.—S. B. Huston, who withdrew from the Senatorial contest and is supporting Stanfield.

Why do the Telegram and Journal complain that Seattle is always taking payrolls away from Portland and then attack Stanfield because he has built up an industry which benefits Oregon and Portland, creates a payroll and adds thousands of dollars to the tax list? Why has Portland lost so much to Seattle—is it because there are elements in Portland always ready to knock anyone who tries to help the community?

Five lawyers comprise the Oregon delegation at Washington; there has not been a business man, farmer, or toiler in the delegation in a generation.

Why has the Chamber of Commerce felt it necessary to hire special representative at a senator's salary of $7500 a year to look after Oregon's interests?

Stanfield never represented a corporation at Salem. Stanfield is no man's man.

Stanfield will not be dictated to and controlled by a political boss, by corporations or newspapers, but he will serve all the people of his state, playing no favorites and giving a square deal.

No one has ever said that Bob Stanfield is a double-crosser, or that he is selfish or not liberal with his resources or his friendship. There isn't a lazy bone in his body. He has been a toiler all his life and never had a cushy job.

Raised on the range, he is no silk-stocking. Stanfield has built up from nothing through constructive labor until today he is one of the genuine assets of Oregon. He did not marry his money, nor did he inherit it—he worked for it.

Republicans know that Stanfield is 100 per cent Republican. He is not a 50-50 Demo-Rep.

What the Press Says.

It is likely that the Food Administration will make good its purpose to see to it that "sauerkraut" is eliminated from our vocabulary by substituting for the appellation of that eatable concoction the term "Liberty Gabbage."—News Reporter.

We realize that politics is a mighty good thing to stay out of. The editor of this paper was a candidate for the legislature two years ago, but the people were not for him and he is still out of jail.—Forest Grove News-Times.

The marvelous extent to which Great Britain is organized for war is disclosed in a striking manner in the address of Winston Spencer Churchill, British minister of munitions, to the house of commons. The combined losses and consumption of munitions in the great battle under way in France have been tremendous, amounting to something between one and three weeks total of manufacture. This is practically significant in view of the fact that the offensive has now been going on for a little more than a month. In spite of tremendous consumption during the past month, Minister Churchill told the house it did not exceed the maximum potential capacity of the British factories without touching enormous reserves which had been accumulated against just such a contingency. Barring some unforeseen circumstances, he said, the British supply of munitions will make it possible to carry on a battle at the supreme pitch of intensity until next winter without compromising requirements for 1919.—Oregon Register.

Newspaper enterprise in Portland appears to be largely a matter of geography and things which are not news when they affect Portland citizens appear to assume great importance when transferred to Hillsboro. A few weeks ago the courts got busy and took a crack at the metropolitan bootleggers with the result that court records were cluttered up with an amazing number of well known and prominent names. Did the newspapers publish the list of "among those present?" Not so you would notice it; indeed, the silence was positively painful. But later when unsophisticated residents of Hillsboro, led astray by the example of their city brethren, followed their teachings and also committed the unpardonable error of getting caught, was there the same deathlike silence? Again, we sorrowfully admit, the silence was not such as to be painful. Candor compels the admission that facts and names were sprawled all over metropolitan front pages and it dawned upon an amazed state that after all the doings of a county business man are of more news value than those of his city brother.—Hillsboro Independent.

Wake Up, Washington.

A war department statement says "ours is the imperative duty of providing replacement units for the armies in France," and that "very large quotas will be required in the immediate future to fill the gaps." And secretary Baker, speaking at Baltimore Monday, said, "it is of the highest importance that we in America should have a full realization of conditions on the allies front. Men of vision pointed out these truths months ago. Leaders of foresight urged the government, with all the intense earnestness of patriotic fervor, to speed up the vital work of training reserves, but it was like hammering on cold iron, for their counsel was opposed. "Put the young men in training" they urged, "the youths of 19 and 20 now, so that they will be fit soldiers by the time they are 21." But administration opposition defeated that measure in Congress, and now, when France and England are calling for help, many of our great training camps are half empty and others are all but deserted.

A year has passed since the present draft law was passed to provide a drafted army of 1,000,000 men, and although it is evident that 1,000,000 are not enough little provision is yet made for the enlistment and training of the greater army which we must have to win this war. Both ex-presidents realize the need of quick and heroic work, but their voices fail to penetrate the halls of congress, the inner sanctum of the war department and the cloistered precincts of the White House.

"I am in favor of amending the draft law so that we can raise an army of five or six million men in two years" said Mr. Taft in an address at Boston last week. "We can get this number of men in two years he continued. "We can get the ships to send them over. This is to be a three years war, two in which to send our boys across and a year to win the war. We cannot make omelets without eggs, neither can we fight a battle without men. We won't win until Boston, Mass., and the rest of the nation is a house of mourning."

The war department now says that very large quotas will be required in the immediate future to fill the gaps. But the war department fails as yet to suit the action of the word. We are plodding along on half-matured plans that were formulated more than a year ago, ambling along as though the war had taught no lessons not already known.—Spokesman Review.

Farewell Dance Rockaway.

A farewell dance was given by the Loyal Legion of Loggers in honor of James S. Graham, on Friday evening of last week, in the Saltair dance hall. Mr. Graham who was an enthusiastic member of the L. L. of L. left shortly after for military training at Camp Lewis. The great number of friends who attended the party was a fitting tribute to his popularity, for he was a most highly respected and well known young man in Tillamook county. As a token of the deep regard in which he was held Mr. Graham was presented with a beautiful Gillette Safety Razor by the members of the L. L. L. The military note which lends itself to all affairs in this war time was made manifest by the beautiful flag decorations in the hall and by the presence of many soldiers from the nearby military camps. With the departure of "Jimmie" Graham is marked with sincere regret on the part of his friends and associates, nevertheless all are proud that he is going to do his share to help Uncle Sam and the best wishes of everyone go with him.

Red Cross Dance at Rockaway.

The Red Cross of Rockaway went "over the top", both as to financial and social results of the entertainment and dance given in the dancing pavilion here Saturday night, it being the climax of the Red Cross entertainments, of which there have been many during the recent months past. Music and dancing occupied the evening until about midnight, after which a fine lunch was served to the 200 or more present. The ladies of the Red Cross, who provided everything for the lunch, supplied so liberally of the "good things to eat" that there was a surplus left over which was auctioned off, netting a very neat sum. The soldier boys were here in full force, as they always are to all Red Cross entertainments, and to which they are always liberal contributors. Several who were unable to attend sent up "their bit" just the same as though they had been there, which shows the consistent loyalty of our soldier boys to the Red Cross. The Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen were also in attendance in large numbers. The L. L. L. are largely represented in this vicinity just at this time getting out the special aeroplane spruce timber for Uncle Sam's airships, several carloads of which are being shipped out daily to the aeroplane manufacturing plants. Sergeant Jorgensen's orchestra of No. 3 B. from the Miami camp furnished the music for the entertainment and dancing and for which the ladies of the Red Cross wish to extend their sincere thanks and appreciation to Sergeant Jorgensen and his assistants.

Great credit must be given to the unceasing efforts of Mrs. C. L. Lindsay of the Hotel Ebnore for the success of the entertainment and for providing the extensive Red Cross decorations for the hall, also to her able assistants Mrs. A. H. Russell and Mrs. J. G. Jassman as well as the numerous other members of the Red Cross who contributed so liberally and loyally to the success of the entertainment.

UNITED STATES SENATOR CHARLES L. McNARY.

Because United States Senator Charles L. McNary has made good he should be nominated to succeed himself in the Republican Primary, May 17th.

From the day he became Senator he has loyally championed the prosecution of the war, and during his term of office has accomplished more for Oregon than any other member in Congress in a like period.

Among his colleagues he is known as "the man on the job," and during the present war crisis Oregon should consider itself fortunate in having an opportunity to return him and not be compelled to send to Washington, a new, untrained man.

Believing that the supreme obligation he owes his country is to help win the war, Senator McNary, instead of returning to his state to conduct a political campaign, is at his post in Washington working for Oregon and aiding in the prosecution of the war.

Always since entering the Senate he has been a friend of our soldiers and sailors and has introduced legislation giving them preferential homestead rights and repeatedly championed their cause when their welfare was in jeopardy.

Championing the cause of the Oregon farmers, Senator McNary procured for them a primary wheat market, saving thereby several million dollars to the wheat growers of the Northwest.

Realizing the present Food Control Law fails to fix prices for many commodities, Senator McNary has introduced, and is laboring for the passage of a bill, striking at profiteering and fixing prices on the necessities of life.

Senator McNary has procured:

Government contracts for the first time in the State's history for Oregon products, such as prunes, dehydrated potatoes and vegetables in large quantities.

Large contracts for army clothing and shipbuilding yards and the lumber industry.

He procured space on British ships for the shipment of condensed milk and cream from Oregon condenseries, whereby the disaster which threatened this industry, through inability to get its products to market, was averted.

Senator McNary is working:

For prompt payment of allotments to dependent relatives of our soldiers and sailors.

For the construction of a coast Military Highway at Government expense.

For a comprehensive plan for the utilization of Oregon's water power resources.

Senator McNary was born on a farm in Oregon; reared in the Baptist Church; educated in the public schools, worked his way through Stanford University; is a lawyer and farmer and has been a life long Republican. He was formerly a justice on the Supreme Court and later chairman of the State Republican Central Committee.

Space forbids further enumeration of the vast amount of work Senator McNary has done for Oregon, but anyone will realize from the foregoing that the Senator has displayed truly remarkable ability, coupled with extraordinary diligence and energy. His native state can best show its appreciation of his faithful and efficient services by nominating and electing him.

Thomas B. Kay, State Treasurer.

B. W. Sleema, Bus. Rep. of District Council of Carpenters.

Mrs. Geo. W. McMath, Pres. of Co-operative League.

Thomas A. McBride, Chief Justice of Oregon Supreme Court.

T. B. Neuhausen, Vice-Chairman Hughes Campaign Committee.
