Wilson-Moe Wedding.

The wedding of Roland Oliver Wilson, of Tillamook, and Miss Eunice Janetta Moe daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moe, of Silk Creek, Oregon, was solemnized at the Seventh-day Adventist church at 8 o'clock Sunday evening, July 14, Elder J. A. Rippey, of Roseburg, officiating.

On the stroke of the hour Mrs. Celia Johnson began playing the wedding march. Elder Rippey walked up the center aisle, followed by little Kate Luchterland and Eldon Wheeler, who scattered rose leaves as they walked. The bride followed, attended by her sister Mrs. D. Wheeler, who acted as matron of honor. The bridegroom, accompanied by D. A. Wheeler as best man, came up the left aisle and met his bride at the altar, where, under an arch of ferns and white roses, the ceremony was performed. While congratulations were being extended, J. B. Moe, brother of the bride, sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," accompanied by Mrs. Celia Johnson, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride wore white crepe de chine, her veil of white tulle was fastened with white carnations and she carried white carnations. The matron of honor wore white and carried pink carnations.

Refreshments were served by Miss Elize Deardorff and Miss Verna Estes in the assembly room of the academy building. The presents were numerous. The couple will make their home at Tillamook.

About a hundred guests were present. Those from outside points were: Mr. and Mrs. Roderick and Mrs. Spurgeon, of Portland; Mrs. Young, Mrs. Post and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Pittbone and children, of Eugene; Mrs. McLaughlin, of Creswell; Lloyd Wilson, of Bonnevillie; Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Wilson, and daughter Celia, of Tillamook; H. J. Shinn, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Chinn and Miss Bonita Beager, of Cottage Grove, and Mr. Cook, of Chitwood.

To Educate Selective Men.

Uncle Sam wants his selective service men who are called to the colors hereafter to reach the training camps mentally and morally fit in every way, and with at least an elementary knowledge of military drill.

The condition in which a man reaches camp makes a surprising difference in his usefulness as a soldier. Actual experience has demonstrated that men who come to camp clean, sober, willing and determined to do their part, will be ready to leave for the battle field at least a whole month and often more, earlier than others not so fit.

This having been demonstrated, Uncle Sam has undertaken a plan to educate all selective service men so they will be better soldiers and better men when it comes their time to be called to the colors.

With this in view, the various local draft boards throughout the country have just been notified, through a leaflet from the Provost Marshal General at Washington, of a method for bringing personal instruction to each by means of local boards of instruction, to be appointed by the draft boards.

These boards of instruction are to be composed of thoroughly patriotic and capable citizens of each community. It is intended that they shall do more than instruct. For instance, the members of the instruction board will endeavor to ascertain and clear up all perplexities that may beset the registrant, and to be of practical assistance to him in every way.

The first meeting of registrants for instruction, the leaflet suggests, might well be at the time of the medical examination. The registrants may be assembled in small groups for personal interviews, it is suggested, and encouraging suggestions made to them as to the personal value of military training and outdoor life, the chances for promotion, and aid and friendly support of the Red Cross, the Army Knights of Columbia, the Y. M. C. A., the Hebrew Welfare Board, and the Commission on training camp activities.

Prior to their induction, it is planned that the men shall be called together once or twice by order of the local draft board, to meet in groups for instruction in the following subjects:

(a) The provision which the government has made for the protection and welfare of disabled soldiers and, in the event of death, of their families and dependents, through its War

Risk Insurance Bureau.

(b) The government provision for allowances and allotments to soldiers' dependents will be amply cared for.

(c) Discussion of such topics as "Why America entered the War," "Why America must win the War," "The Necessary character of the American Soldier," "Sexual Restraint and the Avoidance of Liquor as a Patriotic Obligation," "Camp Life," etc.

It is also to conduct preliminary military drill to familiarize the men with its first principles. It has been found that this work actually places the men a month or so ahead in capacity to become efficient soldiers, and of course the well drilled man has a much better opportunity of obtaining quick promotion than the man who has to begin at the beginning and learn everything after he enters the service.

The government is encouraging draft registrants wherever possible to enter local militia reserve organizations in their communities for drill.

Editor Tells the Truth.

A West Texas editor got tired of being called a "liar" because of an occasional typographical error or a slight disarrangement of the facts in publishing a commonplace news item. In his wrath, he announced in bold face type as follows:

"A lot of folks in this town fall out with the editor and brand him as a liar when the ordinary human mistakes of life show up in a newspaper. You have a little charity and fellow feeling for every man in town but your editor. You claim that you want the facts and see if I don't give 'em to you. Read the next few lines and you'll see some facts with the bark off. I'll admit that I have been a liar, ever since I printed a lie in these columns except to save somebody's feelings being hurt. I'm not afraid of any of you and I'll be blamed if I don't print the truth from now on, or until you get out of the habit of calling me a liar every time I make some little unavoidable typographical error. Watch my smoke."

Here are some paragraphs culled from the next issue.

John Coyle, our grocery man, who voted with the republicans in 1916, and consumes more mail order whiskey than any other member of the Baptist church in this country, is doing poor business. It is a wonder he has any business at all.

Rev. Sty preached last Sunday night at the Christian church. His sermon was punk and uninteresting, except some stuff he quoted from Bob Ingersoll, for which he failed to give Bob credit. He also recited a few passages from one of William Elbert Munsey's sermons and had the gall to palm it off as his own.

Dave Carter died at his home two miles north of this place last Thursday night. Dock Holderness, who is an old friend of the family, attended him a few minutes before he expired. He gave it out that Dave died of heart failure. That is a lie. Dave died from drinking too much of a very poor grade of mail order liquor. This paper prints the truth.

Tom Spardin married Miss Cordie Meador last trades' day at the county seat. It ain't generally known, but the marriage was brought about mainly by Remington shotgun manipulated by the bride's father; Tom concluding that marryin' was the healthiest thing he could do until other arrangements were made.

Roger Lloyd, cashier of the State Bank at Willow Grove, died Wednesday evening and was buried Friday by the Odd Fellows at Pleasant Mound cemetery. He has been taking this paper seven years and so far he hasn't paid us a cent; we thinking that he being a banker, would pay some time. We shall sell the account for two bits' worth of fresh greens.

Married: Miss Susie Scruggs and Horace Guffin, last Saturday, at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. James C. Williams officiating. The bride is a very ordinary town girl who flirts with all the traveling men she meets and never helped her mother three days all put together in her whole life. She is anything but a beauty. Resembles a gravel pit in the face, and walks like a duck. The groom is a natural born loafer and bum. He never did a lick of work until his father ran him away from home last fall. He went to the county seat, and just before starving to death, accepted a job as chambermaid, in a livery stable. As soon as his ma found out where he was, she went after him and brought him home. He now resides at the home of his wife's father and says he has no definite plans for the future. Susie will have a hard row to hoe.—Exchange.

Shortage of Nurses.

With the Red Cross still enrolling trained nurses for war work, various cities and sections are commencing to discover that this class of professional workers has been so closely combed that it is difficult to secure nurses to care for the sick at home. This, of course, is unfortunate but it is one of the sacrifices made necessary by the war. The people at home will have to get along the best they can, and meanwhile it is likely that many young women will improve the opportunity to perfect selves in this profession. However trained nurses are not made in a few weeks, or months, and there is little prospect that the present shortage of nurses will be relieved for some time to come.

Much credit is due the nurses who so freely are enlisting for war work. If there be those who think the work of a war nurse is one of ease and safety, they are the more deluded. Next to the fighters in the field, the services required of nurses are the hardest. They know no "hours of labor" and are accustomed to going days and nights continuously without rest. Deaths and disability average as high among the nurses as in the army. No one who has had any experience in war can over estimate the services of these loyal workers, who are making sacrifices fully as great as are the soldiers themselves. And when victory crowns the efforts of this nation, the nurses will share with the fighters the credit and glory which an appreciative nation will bestow on those who did their bit for the success of our righteous cause.—Polk County Observer.

"The Rose of Blood" at the Gem.

Lovers of motion pictures which interest and enthrall will welcome the glad news that Theda Bara is about to appear at the Gem Theatre in her newest William Fox production, "The Rose of Blood."

Miss Bara portrays a Russian heroine, but Lisza Tapenka is different from every other leading lady of Slavonic origin. She is a Russian who fights, made of the same stuff which has formed the brave Legion of Death.

Lisza allies herself with a band of revolutionists who are seeking the freedom of the empire. She is successful in assassinating several persons whose acts of oppression have made the lot of the people more miserable. She signifies the completion of her deeds by dropping a blood colored rose on the body of each victim.

Opera House in New York. Mr. Ordynski, who himself acts the role of the leading revolutionist in the film, was born in Poland and lived there for many years. He personally supervised the details of the production and insured the accuracy of every setting and incident.

Almost Entire World at War.

Of the 1,600,000,000 people who populate the earth only 120,000,000, or less than one tenth, are at peace. The Teutonic allies have 160,000,000 people and the entente nations have 1,360,000,000. If the war should continue two or three years longer it is quite possible only a few millions of all the people in the world would be on a peace footing, and they will be suffering all the rigors of war except those of actual combat.

Are You One of Them?

There are a great many people who would be very much benefited by taking Chamberlain's Tablets for a week for disordered stomach. Are you one of them? Mrs. M. R. Searl, Baldwinville, N. Y., relates her experience in the use of these tablets: "I had a bad spell with my stomach about six months ago, and was troubled for two or three weeks with gas and severe pains in the pit of my stomach. Our druggist advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. I took a bottle home and the first dose relieved me wonderfully, and I kept on taking them until I was cured." These tablets do not relieve pain, but after the pain has been relieved may prevent its recurrence. For sale by Lamar's Drug Store.—Pd. Adv.
