Lew A. Cates, editor of the Polk County Observer, was in the city Monday, having spent the week end at Barview. When the Headlight man said he was going to spend a few weeks at Eugene, Lew came back with the remark that it was a good place for an editor to go, for there was a divinity school there.

E. J. Bowers is to can berries for the A. E. Rupert Cannery Co., of Portland. This will make the second factory to can these berries, and as there are an abundance of berries the Portland firm will import pickers as well as obtain them in this county. About 100 tons were picked last year, and it would not be surprising if double that amount will be picked this fall, as the berries are ripening earlier this year, which will give the women and children longer time to pick.

It is to your interest to see our mens' and boys' dress, work, and school shoes, made of solid leather no substitutes. Morris Schnal, Popular Price Clothier.

On Saturday evening the W. R. C. dedicated its service flag to mothers who have sons in the army and navy. It proved an highly interesting gathering, and Rev. Chas. E. Gibson, pastor of the M. E. Church, who dedicated the flag made a splendid address which appealed to all present. The mothers who belong to the W. R. C. and who have sons in the service of the government, are: John Vivian Fitzpatrick, Charles Floyd Wolfe, Samuel Verlé Stanley, Joseph Leslie Conover, William Thomas Coates, Leslie Harrison, Arthur Wallace, Tom Higgins, John Higgins, William Kennedy, William Ernest Anderson, James Levi Smith, Harry Hubbert Smith, Sidney Owen Blanchard, George Arthur Blanchard, Nelson Gardner, Clarence A. Gardner, Claud Perish, John G. Harris, Beldon Smith, Marjion Stevenson and Otis Edwards.

AGRICULTURE NOTES.

By R. C. Jones, County Agent.

Important Farmers' Meeting

The Tillamook Cow Testing Association will hold a picnic meeting at the farm of Joseph Durrer on Tuesday, August 13th. Prof. E. L. Westover, the representative of the U. S. Dairy Division for the State will be present and give a talk to the dairymen.

If you are in need of hay or grain this winter you can not afford to miss this meeting for the matter of an adequate supply of these feeds will be thoroughly discussed and steps taken to secure a quantity, if thought advisable.

Mr. Durrer's herd of 39 cows made the highest average production in the county for the month of June and contains fifteen out of the 25 sixty pound cows in the Association for the same month as well as the cow that had the highest production for the month. The high cow, Baby, made 1800 lbs. of milk and 82.8 lbs. fat while the herd averaged over 55 lbs. fat from 1285 lbs. milk. This is not luck or happen-stance. Mr. Durrer has been a member of the Testing Association ever since its inception and by using its records has successfully built up his herd. It is well worth while to take time to look them over.

Mr. Olson, the tester, expects to leave soon for the army and this will be a good chance to give him a good send-off. It is hoped that the new tester will be here by that time as it will be a fine opportunity to get acquainted. Whether you are a member or not, be sure and attend this meeting and bring your neighbors.

The Nestucca Cow Testing Association will also hold a picnic and business meeting on Thursday, Aug. 15th, at the farm of A. O. Jackson at Hebo. The same subjects will be taken up there. Everybody is invited to attend.

Notice of Error.

There was an error in the June report of the Nestucca Cow Testing Association. The highest herds for average milk production should have read as follows:

F. R. Beals, 16 cows averaged 1270 pounds of milk.

Craven & Craven 30 cows averaged 1125 pounds of milk.

J. L. Gay, 8 cows, averaged 1053 pounds of milk.

A. Haedinger, 39 cows, averaged 1043 pounds of milk.

The highest average fat production

F. R. Beals, 16 cows averaged 44.7 pounds fat.

J. L. Gay, 8 cows averaged 43.6 pounds fat.

Clent King, 11 cows, averaged 40.5 pounds of fat.

Craven & Craven, 30 cows averaged 38.0 pounds fat.

A. Haedinger, 39 cows averaged 36.4 pounds fat.

Resolution of Condolence.

Whereas our wise Father has seen fit to call from our midst our dearly beloved brother W. F. Newcomb and Whereas we deeply mourn his loss. Be it resolved that our deepest sympathy goes out to sister Newcomb, wife of our departed brother, and to the other members of the bereaved family.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be printed in our local paper, a copy sent to the family of our departed brother, a copy be spread upon the minutes of this meeting, and our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

Like the stars high in the heavens,
Their deeds are shining bright,
And the world is shining brighter
From its darkness into light.
No recorded deed of greatness
Has a sculptor's chisel wrought,
But the link of love and duty
Tells the story they have taught.
Let the blessed be that binds us
Like the link be inter-twined,
Let friendships love be with us
And our truth forever shine.

Carmel Myers at the Gem.

A wealthy American tourist, obtaining work in an Italian vineyard for a lark, meets the niece and house keeper of the owner, Carmel Myers in her new Bluebird picture "The Wine Girl" to be seen at the Gem Theatre, Monday, August 12.

A pretty love story is started, replete with obstacles and troubles created by the wealthy American parents and a rival, who is a member of the Italian secret societies.

Carmel Myers is supported by Kenneth Harlan, Rex De Roselli, E. A. Warren and Katherine Kirkwood. Character parts are undoubtedly the forte of Carmel Myers, Bluebird's youngest star, and in "The Wine Girl," she is in here element.

French Heels Doomed.

There is no doubt of the fact that French heels are doomed for street wear, but this does not mean that they will not still be worn in doors. French heels were never really intended for walking, and the wonder is that women of good sense and good taste have for so long been willing to follow the vogue for high-heeled walking shoes.

The French heeled shoe undoubtedly gained popularity because of the short skirt, and many persons have predicted that the sensible walking shoe would not return to favor until the short skirt had passed out of fashion. But as indications point now, skirts are still to be moderately short and at the same time we are to wear sensible heels.

Dairy Ranch for Sale.

160 acres on Tillamook River, half bottom land, 13 cows and other stock Price $12,500. Net income from farm in 1917 $1,800.—E. R. Garner, Hemlock, Oregon.

Wants to Rent Dairy Farm

Practical farmer and rancher wants to rent dairy ranch for half the proceeds, everything furnished. His son and wife will assist him in a systematic and workmanlike manner. Apply at the Headlight office.

Income Tax in England.

A rather interesting idea for altering the incidence of the income tax in proportion to the number of persons dependent for support upon the income was put forward in the British house of commons recently in the form of an amendment to the finance bill. The idea was that any man of family, instead of receiving exemptions to a certain amount for his wife and children, should divide his income into equal shares, one share for each person dependent upon it, and then income tax should be assessed on each share as a separate per capita income. It was argued that this was a far more scientific method of regulating the incidence of the tax and of recognizing the superior claims of those who had undertaken the responsibility of bringing up children than the exemption system which obtains in England very much as in this country. The chancellor of the exchequer said he had "great sympathy" with the idea, but could not accept it, apparently because of the necessary labor involved in recasting the bill to bring in the same amount of revenue under a different scheme of levying. The British tax, of course, extends much further down and is more closely graduated than the American.

Hindenburg and History.

Hindenburg's chief asset was his martial appearance. He had the face and bulk of an old pagan war god—a Thor and Odin combined. He was the spirit of German militarism incarnated. No wonder the German populace worshiped him and put him in a niche even higher than that reserved for the supreme war lord.

He had one great military quality, an almost solid sincerity. He said when he was beginning the invasion of Poland late in 1914 that the war was a matter of nerves and that the Russians would crack under the strain. He knew absolutely that he would win in the east. He never said that he could win in the west, for there Germany enjoyed no similar moral superiority.

What has been done in the west has been done more by Lundenorf than by Hindenburg. Fortunately for himself, he drew out of the limelight while German progress on the west front was still unchecked.

He will remain one of the semi-legendary figures of the great war. History will never be able to appraise him accurately. So far as his future renown is concerned, it is perhaps better so.—New York Tribune.

A Great American Achievement.

The problem of supplies for an American army in France must become increasingly difficult to solve as the army become larger month by month. No less than 1,200,000 men have now been shipped across the Atlantic, according to the chief of staff. German military critics encourage their newspaper readers with talk to the effect that America cannot maintain a large army abroad because it cannot be fed, clothed and munitioned. Lack of shipping must prove fatal to the overseas enterprise of the United States, it is said in Germany. What were the facts concerning the supply problem at the beginning of last week?

There were in France army food-stuff enough to feed 1,000,000 men for three months. Here are some of the details: Flour for 102 days, meat for 72 days; canned milk for 350 days, vegetables for 358 days, coffee for 77 days; butter for 81 days; prunes for 43 days; jam for 36 days; hay for horses and mules for 60 days and grain for 113 days, coats for 80 days; breeches for 70 days, shirts for 90 days, puttees for 30 days, stockings for 110 days; undershirts for 80 days. Thus the army's supply departments have obtained a flying start. As a matter of fact, the supplies landed in France hitherto have increased at a faster ratio than the number of soldiers, and there is every prospect that the supplies on hand will keep ahead of the demand for them to the end of the war.

This is an achievement of which one hears almost nothing. The public thinks of the number of soldiers in France and by those figures measures the government's performance. Yet the task of supplying the soldiers is colossal; the real test of the significance of its successful accomplishments is what the Germans think of it. And what they think is known from the positive assurances of the German staff that it could never be done.

Shirtsleeves Fighting.

Old Europe has almost forgotten what shirtsleeves fighting is. Even a Frenchman was astounded by what he saw the Yankees do in a charge where his detachment was in close contact with them:

They leaped over the trenches, some of them peeling off their coats after running a few hundred meters in the great heat, and fighting in their shirtsleeves.

What would have happened to boches who threw aside imperial government khaki coats in this rude and reckless style? Would any success have prevented summary punishment? We believe not.

The American is as proud of his uniform as any soldier on earth, but resentful of being checked by mere accessories, as resentful as Mulvaney at the taking of Lung Tung Pen. Hes' out to "get" the Hun, and he gets him when and how he can. His officers couldn't possible make an unthinking machine of him, and wouldn't if they could. Shirtsleeves fighting is symbolical. Not uniforms, but fearlessness and straight shooting won the battle of New Orleans. The ragged regimentals of the old Continentals didn't save their over-disciplined forces. In this newest form of warfare the same elements count. The spirit of manhood wins, always, when it fights with the spirit of slavishness.

Baseball or War?

The decision of Secretary Baker to end the favoritism that has been shown the baseball players was bound to come. The small numbers involved could not effect the principle at stake. Here was a group of our huskiest youth, the best material for soldiering the world around. And they were exempted upon the easy going theory that the pleasure of stay-at-home crowds was more important than the war.

The whole psychology of this theory was wrong. The deeper we go into the war the clearer we see our mistake. Our fighting men in France are not getting any exciting seventh innings, nor need we get them. Recreation is as necessary for us as for the men at the front. But it must never be permitted to interfere with the making of war. That means ball players; it means each and every American, old and young.

We must reduce our recreation and so plan it that it does not delay one stroke of the war. The sooner we all realize this the better. We can think of no more wholesome illustration of the truth, no better way of bringing it home to all America, than the present act of drafting ball players, great and small, heroes or bushers, simply because they are good American fighting material.

It is by no means an easy matter, to cure this disease, but it can be done in most instances by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and complying with the plain printed directions that accompany each package. For sale by Lamar's Drug Store.—Paid Adv.

Safe For Democracy.

The war is making the democracy safer even in the confines of the most exclusive college circles, according to a story told by Governor Samuel W. McCall at the Harvard commencement. The governor said:

"Only a few days ago, upon yonder common—or what was a common a few days ago—I said goodbye to the boys from Cambridge who were going to the front and I read from a letter which I had been privileged to see—written by a boy who is in the trenches, to his mother. That boy had been educated at Groton school and at Harvard, and brought up in peculiarly exclusive surroundings. He had been serving at the front 8 months as a private, and in this letter—which he intended only for his mother—he told about his two special associates and chums, one of them named Ernie O'Callahan and the other Billy Sweeney. He said: 'You can't beat those boys on the face of the earth. I want you to call upon their mothers.'"

Slackers Now Quoted at $50 Apiece.

Showing draft registration cards to cops in New York has so worn the ink of many cards that more durable steel tablets, suitably engraved, may have to be substituted for the pasteboards. The reason for this overwork on the part of the cards is that the government is offering $50 a head for every wilful delinquent bagged for evading the selective draft law. The bounty will not be paid on the ears, scalp or other parts of the hunted animal; the policeman must bring him to the station house all in one piece and still breathing.

To the honor and glory of the nation it must be said that the blue-coated hunters are not getting rich. An occasional delinquent may be flushed and brought down, but by and large the cops are finding the pursuit of slackers pretty poor picking. A vast majority of the country's young men have manfully done their duty without seeking to evade service—all the more reason why the occasional slacker should be brought up with a round turn and be made to realize the enormity of his offense.

Summer Complaint.

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as such as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results." For sale by Lamar's Drug Store.—Paid Adv.

DULL AND SHARP SHOOTING PAINS

Michigan Lady Suffered Such Pains In Back and Head, But Says Cardui Stopped These Bad Spells.

Palmyra, Mich.—Mrs. Chas. T. Fuller, of this place, writes: "In 1911 I got run-down, and I suffered great pain...with both dull and sharp shooting pains...also back and head. I was weak and could only drag around, and should have been in bed, for I really wasn't able to be up. At times I would have spells that would be so bad I'd have to go to bed, and suffered intensely..."

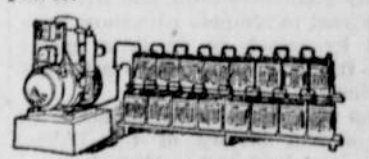

I decided to try Cardui, and saw a great improvement in less than a month's time. I used 7 or 8 bottles and was stronger...I got so much better that my strength returned and my work was easy for me. Cardui did me a world of good. It built me up in health and strength. I haven't had one of those bad spells since. I haven't had to take any more medicine since or have any doctors either and have been able to do my work right along...I recommend it to other women highly as the best medicine I know of for women who suffer from female trouble."

If you suffer from female troubles, follow this advice. Get a bottle of Cardui today and give it a thorough trial. It should help you, as it has helped thousands of other women in the past 40 years. At all druggists.
