Monday was Labor Day, but it made little or no difference with business, for most of the stores and banks remained open. The Dunning System of music will be taught this year in Tillamook by Miss Ethel White. Miss White is a graduate of the Dunning school and has had several years successful experience in teaching, one of which was spent in the Brownsville schools where her work was highly satisfactory. As a teacher Miss White comes highly recommended. Miss White will be in Tillamook Sept. 15th for the purpose of organizing classes and beginning work for the year. Bq order of Provost Marshal General Crowder, all men of all classes subject to draft are ordered to report at the Christian Church at eight o'clock on Thursday, Sept. 12, and all patriotic citizens are also urged to attend. Instruction will be given by representatives of the State Council of Defense, State Committee of the Army Y. M. C. A. and the Oregon Social Hygiene Society. The object of the meeting is to give men subject to draft intelligent instruction in social purity and to avoid disease and to cooperate with the government in keeping men in the prime of health and fit to fight. The Methodist, Presbyterian and United Brethren have agreed to form a church union of the three denominations, to cut out some of the waste and duplication in church work. Each of the three denominations will hold to their religious tenets, and in this respect it is doubtful in the minds of some persons whether this was the right thing to do. However that may be, it is a wise thing for church people in small places to get together and put a stop to wasted efforts in having one preacher preach to a few persons on Sunday's and row after row of empty seats. Elmer L. Plog vs. Mava E. Plog is a divorce suit filed in the circuit court. These parties were married in Tillamook County, on the 22nd of October, 1916, and lived together until the 6th of April, 1918, when the defendant without any just cause deserted the plaintiff, and left their home in Tillamook in company with Tebbey Stuart, a soldier, going with him to the state of Washington, where she assumed the name of Clark. The complaint alleges while living in the state of Washington she unmodestly associated with soldiers and corresponded by letters with other soldiers in Tillamook, in which she ridiculed and scandalized the plaintiff. These letters also asserted that she had left her husband for good and did not longer consider herself his wife, and offered to exchange pictures and become upon intimate terms with strangers, that upon the defendant's return to Tillamook, after her stay in the state of Washington, she has assumed the name of Goodspeed, and is now publicly repudiating the relationship between her and the plaintiff.

Death of Mrs. C. B. Wiley It is with sincere regret that we have to record the death of Mrs. C. B. Wiley, which was brought about by the excitement attending the fire at the Foland house north of town on Tuesday, which was nearly opposite Mrs. Wiley's home. Mr. Wiley had driven his wife to the Red Cross rooms, and shortly after the fire alarm was sounded he started for home, when Mrs. Wiley appeared at the door of the moss rooms, and she entered the car. Mr. Wiley drove the car nearly to his home, when he got out to fight the fire and protect his house and barn from burning, leaving Mrs. Wiley in the car. It seems that Mrs. Wiley stepped from the car and became suddenly ill from heart failure, caused by the excitement. Mrs. Hoskins being near at the time had her placed in a car and taken to her home, but she soon passed away. Dr. Boals and Dr. Robinson were soon on the spot but life was extinct. Her death caused profound grief to pass over the large crowd that witnessed the fire, and Mr. Wiley was not advised of the sad occurrence until all danger of the fire was over. The deceased was greatly loved by all who knew her, being an active member of the Christian Church, and a faithful worker at the Red Cross rooms. Her object in life was to do as much good as possible, and that was one reason why she devoted so much time and took so much interest in Red Cross work since the branch was established in this city, and to her credit she died in harness picking moss to be made into absorbent pads for our boys who are wounded in France. The funeral service was held in the Christian Church this morning, the Rev. Harry E. Tucker, the pastor, preaching the funeral sermon. There was a large attendance with a profusion of flowers. The remains were taken to Yamhill county for interment. The bereaved family have the heart felt sympathy of a large number of friends and neighbors, and the editor's family has lost a kind, good, Christian neighbor. Emma Tucker Fristoe was born in Missouri Dec. 23, 1855, and departed this life Sept. 3, 1918, aged 62 years, 9 months and 10 days. She crossed the plains with her parents by ox team to Boise, Idaho, in 1863. In 1864 they came to Lafayette, Yamhill County, Oregon. She was married to Charles B. Wiley in 1873. She united with the Christian church in the early part of her married life and lived a Christian life for more than forty years. The family came to Tillamook county in 1886, where they have since resided. She leaves to mourn her death, her husband, one daughter Mrs. W. S. Buel, of Bellevue, Ore., three grandsons, one brother and three sisters, and a host of friends. Card of Thanks. We ask the many friends to accept our heartfelt thanks for their tokens of kindness and sympathy, and for the beautiful flowers in the hour of our sad bereavement, in the death of our beloved wife and mother. Mr. C. B. Wiley, Mr. W. S. Buel and family. First Methodist Church. Chas. E. Gibson, D. D., Pastor. Services every Sunday at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Sunday School at 10 a.m. Parents desiring their children baptized will please present them at the morning service. For Sale—121 acres of Wilson river bottom land. Inquire of L. G. Freeman, Tillamook, Oregon.

Beaver had a disastrous fire on Monday afternoon with a $100,000 loss in property destroyed. The first intimation received in this city was a call for help, the telephone message stating that Beaver was on fire and to send our fire department. A few of our citizens hustled around and in a few minutes a dozen or more autos had left, each crowded with fire fighters. Fire buckets and fire extinguishers were taken along. The origin of the fire is in doubt. It appears that the wind suddenly changed to the east and fanned a smoldering fire in the brush into a flame, which spread very rapidly. Will Gilbert was filling his auto with gasoline when he first became alarmed, for a piece of burning ember dropped on his machine. He then noticed that the roof of the church were on fire, and at the same time of the preacher they succeeded in putting it out, but it was soon noticed that the parsonage and woodshed was on fire, and at the same time the Gilbert store caught fire and in a short time it spread from one building to another, until $100,000 damage had been done. Though late in arriving at Beaver, the boys saved several buildings from burning. The greatest loss falls on Gilbert Bros., who not only lost their store building and its valuable stock but $15,000 worth of chittam bark. Gilbert Bros. loss amounts to $50,000 with only a small amount of insurance. The loss includes the home and furniture of Will Gilbert. Very little was saved from the store. Beaver Creamery Association's cheese factory was destroyed, which was a newly constructed building with $1,500 worth of cheese. There was insurance on the building for $1,400 and $800.00 on the cheese. The Oddfellows have a loss of about $7,000, and the Bays Hotel loss is somewhere near $4,000. J. C. Bell last a barn and contents, the loss amounting to $3,000. Other losses were as follows: Bays cottage, $1,200; W. A. Saling, residence, $1,500; Church, $2,000; Ed. Mallery, residence, $1,400; F. Jackson, residence, $500; J. D. Jones, two buildings, $1,200. There is no truth whatever in the report that John Aschim, the fire warden, had given Forrest Ayer a permit to set out fire. Mr. Aschim was in Beaver on Saturday and positively refused to give a permit. We make this statement to put a stop to the false reports about the fire warden giving a permit. Serious Fire at Logging Camp A serious fire occurred on Tuesday at the Wheeler logging camp at Cole Creek, which did $20,000 worth of damage. It seems that a charge of powder had been placed, but instead of exploding commenced to burn, setting fire to the brush. No one cared to go near the powder and the fire soon extended and was out of control, burning up logs and destroying the logging machinery and camp. Foland Farm House Burned. Quite an excitement was caused on Tuesday afternoon when a fire alarm was turned in. It was first reported that the editor's home was on fire, but it was the Foland house that had caught fire. Just previous to the fire starting the wind was in the east, when it suddenly changed to the west. The fire originated from the chimney and in a few minutes the house was enveloped in flames, a large quantity of gasoline helping the fire fiend. It was with considerable difficulty that W. F. Baker's house was saved, and it was through the efforts of a small army of fire fighters that it did not wipe out the other houses and barns in that vicinity. Had the wind been a little more to the north the fire would have wiped out the two bungalows adjoining and the wind being directly west, this blew the burning embers east, which placed the Buel house and Mr. Wiley's house and barn in jeopardy. The embers lighted on the houses and barns and were soon put out by the fire fighters, but the burning embers were so thick that they set fire to a large number of stumps. The Foland house was occupied by T. Leverich, who leased the place, and he lost his entire furniture and some money as well. The only damage done to W. F. Baker's house was on the north side, the paint being scorched off and the windows broken by the heat, while the roof will have to be repaired owing to so many men on it fighting fire. Mr. Wiley when he left for town saw considerable smoke coming out of the chimney, as did Mr. Foland, both of whom thought that the Leverich's had just started a fire. Mr. Foland had $500.00 insurance on the house and $200.00 on the contents.

Bid On Three Rivers Road.

Bids on the Three Rivers road were opened in Portland last week, and as they have to be approved by the Secretary of Agriculture, they will not be awarded until they arrive in Washington. We may state that the Federal authorities in Portland and the State Highway Commission have approved giving the contracts to the lowest bidders, Tillamook County being the lowest for grading and surfacing and Curtis Gardner for bridges and abutments. Whether the latter will take the contract is doubtful, for he has evidently bid too low and will lose money by taking the contract, and will have to forfeit his bond if he does not. The bids were as follows: Grading and Surfacing. Tillamook County $77,631.95 A. J. McGarry 89,695.75 V. R. Dennis 99,606.50 Bridges and Abutments Tillamook County $17,240.00 A. J. McGarry 22,640.00 V. R. Dennis 21,000.00 Curtis Gardner 13,368.00 LeDonx and LeDonx 23,630.00 Lindstrom & Ferguson 28,550.00
