Relinquishes Toll Road.
John Boyer, of Bear Creek, has been in town this week and while here told the Observer that he would probably relinquish the eight miles of toll road in Tillamook County, on Salmon river, this winter, at which time his contract with the county expires after ten years. There is much work to be done on this highway to put it into condition for travel, among other things several bridges to build, and Mr. Boyer does not care to continue possession of the road unless it be for a long term. This the county will not grant.—Observer.

GERMAN GUNNERS CHAINED TO MACHINE GUNS.

Tom Coats in The Thick of the Fight On the Western Front.

Private W. T. Coates, son of Thos. Coates, who is in Company E, 127th Infantry, and who was formerly in the Third Oregon, writes the following interesting letter from the firing line in France:

August 5, 1918.
Dear Papa—I can write a note now anyway. I am in the hospital again, but expect to be out soon. Nothing is wrong with me.

The last battle I was in was awful. Sherman lived way back in the Civil war, when they were just beginning to learn what war was—but he must have been right even then. And yet I saw some wonderful things. Nothing I have seen yet has just equalled the sight of the Americans advancing—in perfect formation across level and sloping wheat fields perfectly covered by German machine gun fire—and through artillery fire, in the middle of a terrible hot day. The shells lit here and there but they caused no confusion, and no break in the perfect advance. Something must be very wrong with the German morale, in places anyway. Men are found chained to machine guns, and, luckily for us, they don't shoot as well as they might. Then later, I became lost from my company when they withdrew from a small woods and returned to a village. I stood on the edge of the wood and watched the Germans put over a barrage, and the Americans put over a barrage, and saw the Americans bring up reserves, where the fighting was going on the fiercest just then. When they came they covered the whole face of a hill—not compact, massed, but dotted regularly all over it, so that the artillery or machine guns could not offer as effective resistance. There was never a stop, never a hesitation, in all that body of men as they advanced through a German barrage. In fact I have never seen an American soldier hesitate—going any place.

Must close now, but will write again as soon as I can. Tom.

Letters from the Portland Chapter, American Red Cross tell, of thousands of garments, all cut, and ready to be made up, and they ask how many we can make in a month. These are very simple garments, and can be taken to the houses to be made. The auxiliaries of the county will be asked to take assignments as large as they can make up, and the women of Tillamook are asked to volunteer for this work. The garments will not be here for two weeks probably. The sewing room will be open each Thursday for the distribution of yarn and when the pinafones come, they will be given out at the same time.

A new bog will be selected for next Sunday. Everybody is cordially invited to help, especially those who have not done so in previous moss gathering drives.

Keeping Your W. S. S. Pledge.

Buy your stamps early. Those you purchase are evidence that you are keeping your pledge.

You also pledge yourself to economize during the war. The government is requesting that you do not buy articles not necessary for your health and efficiency. You will thereby release both labor and material for the manufacture of articles needed to support our brave boys "over there" who are just now so heroically driving the Huns back. They make good their pledge. Are you keeping yours? Buy all you can afford.

Nut Shells and Fruit Pits Wanted.

The United States Government has issued an urgent call for all fruit pits and nut shells.

Poison gas was one of the first fruits of culture. It stings, blinds and kills. Charcoal or carbon made from fruit pits and nut shells is used to neutralize it.

The government needs the carbon. It asks the boys and girls, and men and women of America to save; Peach pits, bleary nuts, walnuts, butter-nuts, and shell of these nuts.

Two hundred peach pits or seven pounds of nuts produce enough carbon for one gas respirator. Carbon is made from fruit stones and nut shells. Don't waste them save all.

They should be nicely washed and dried in the sun or by the stove, after which they will be collected for the government.
