State Council of Defense.

REPORT WAS FALSE.
Portland Journal Makes Ass of Itself Circulating Lies.
Thursday morning news reached the city that Germany had signed the armistice, when the whistles and bells soon put the people of the city and surrounding country on the move, who hurried here in their autos. Quite a large demonstration, headed by the fire department, paraded the streets. It was planned to hold a big demonstration in the afternoon. When a large crowd had assembled it was ascertained that the Oregonian could not confirm the news, reports coming in that the news was true and other reports to the effect that it was not true until near midnight.
Word was received this (Friday) morning that the armistice had not been signed.
It was the Portland Journal that was so positive that the news was true, which goes to prove that that newspaper is unreliable.
It was learned also this morning that Germany will sign the armistice.
The Armistice had not been signed up to noon on Friday, says the Oregonian.
Registrants Are Called.
Provost Marshal-General Crowder has called for 18,300 draft registrants physically qualified for limited service to be in training for camps between November 25 and 27. Voluntary enlistments will be accepted until November 20.
A variety of trades and occupations are mentioned in the call.
Young Gamblers are Nabbed.
Tillamook City used to be a wide open, gambling town not many years since, but the strong arm of the law and public sentiment eliminated it, but not for good, for every once in a while the poker players get together behind closed doors and pass the chips around to one another, and play for money. A gambling joint of this character was unearthed, and it proved to be the Tillamook Cleaning and Pressing parlor of E. Mills on First Street. The military police say the back room of the parlor was nicely curtained so that no one could peek in and closed up tight. E. Mills the proprietor of the place was fined by City Recorder Gaylord $50.00; Henry Leach, of this city, $25.00; J. L. Mills, $25.00 and another young man is to be arrested.
Lieut F. M. Phelps Heard From.
Geo. W. Phelps, of Garibaldi, received a letter from his son, 1st Lieutenant Francis M. Phelps, who was seriously wounded in France on September 27th. Having received no news from him only that he was seriously wounded until he received this letter, his many friends in this county will be glad to hear of his condition. The letter follows.
Oct. 11th, 1918.
Dear Father and Mother,—Just a word to let you know that I am still alive, for which I thank God.
I was wounded on Sept. 27th. Was shot through both legs, just below the knee. When I fell it was in a shell hole about one foot deep and half full of water, in which I had to lay for twelve hours. Owing to the fact that I couldn't move, and every time I did try to do so some German would take a shot at me. When I got home I will tell you all about it.
However I am doing fine. Am in a good hospital and will be able to get back and hit them another crack, for I am anxious to get back into the fight again. Well, will ring off for this time as I have to write in bed on my back. With love to all.
Marion.

Decker Fined $1000.00 and Six Months in Jail.
All the romance and revenue of making illicit whiskey by the moonshine method received a severe setback Monday in Portland before Federal Judge Woverton, when three of the clan pleaded guilty and were uniformly sentenced to serve six months in jail and pay fines of $1000.
Joseph Handy, whose still was traced out by Federal officers near Heppner; Joseph Decker, who chose Tillamook County as his zone of operations, and Manly Teepie were the convicted moonshiners.
Geo. Tone Fined $500.00.
A funny incident occurred on Thursday, but was not very funny for Geo. Tone. The Military police hired him to take him on one of their crusades for stills and bootleg whiskey. When near Tone's place the military police confidently told Tone a profound secret. It was to the effect that they intended to "rubber" around in his home. Tone almost went through his jitney with surprise, for he was conscious of something radically unlawful having taken place there. But that did not deter the Military Police from rubbering around, for somebody had given them some tangible proof that they would make a haul, in fact somebody had squealed on Tone. The Military police did not have long to rubber around, for they soon came across a complete still, a barrel of mesh and a number of bottles of liquor that had been taken out of bond in 1918. Tone first denied that the liquor belonged to him, but owned up after that it was his. The Military Police phoned Sheriff Campbell and Tone was arrested and the outfit and liquor brought to the city. Tone pleaded guilty this (Friday) morning. Justice Stanley politely told Tone that he would have to puntle up $500.000 which he did without a demurrer. Tone, however, had a comeback which was $3.00 for auto hire.
"Soaked" Em for $1000.00.
The State Military Police is raising hades in Tillamook county with those who operate stills and manufacture intoxicating liquors, as well as making it tropical for pro-Germans and those who make seditious remarks about the United States government, and with the assistance of the sheriff, district attorney and justice of the peace, five violators were "soaked" for $1000.00 on Wednesday.
Andrew Vetsch was charged with manufacturing and having in his possession intoxicating liquor, and owning up to the charge, Justice Stanley "soaked" him for $200.00 which was paid.
John Enzler was next to stand before the bar of justice for manufacturing and having in his possession intoxicating liquor, and the justice "pinched" him for $200.00.
Joseph Martin Blaser, who is held over to the grand jury charged with violating the liquor regulations, had also been engaged in the manufacture of some "tangle foot" with a strong flavor of alcohol in it, and having peached on himself the justice "touched" him for the little sum of $200 and he "coughed up."
Arnold Mettler, another amateur booze manufacturer was unfortunate in getting nabbed by the Military Police when his home was raided for "spirits," not that the Military Police is superstitious about ghosts or scared of spirits, but it was the real, intoxicating stuff that they happened to run across. The justice "squeezed" Mettler for $200.00 and he pungeled up.
Joe Durrer No. 2, of Longg Prairie, was the last of the five victims to be arrested who faced the bar of justice, charged with manufacturing and having in his possession intoxicating beverages, and after squealing on himself, the justice thought the county's treasury need another little helping out, "soaked" him for $200, Justice Stanley making a wonderful record in adding $1000.00 to the county funds.
The City Election.
The city election did not pass off without some excitement. Owing to the usual city caucus falling down, about 15 citizens managed to get together at the city hall on Thursday evening and put up the following ticket:
Mayor—Thos Coates.
Treasurer—M. W. Harrison.
Councilmen—Geo. R. Edmunds, W. B. Alderman, C. A. Johnson and Blaine Hayes.
Water Commissioner—W. G. Dwight and H. Crenshaw.
Notwithstanding that it requires a hundred persons to be present to hold a caucus, the above persons were put up as caucus nominees, but they failed to circulate petitions. It seems that some opposition arose and petitions were circulated to place on the ballot R. T. Boals for mayor and S. M. Moulton to oppose Geo. R. Edmunds and A. H. Harris to oppose Blaine Hayes. There is some question whether the caucus nominees had a right to be placed on the ballot, and it is claimed by some that those who were nominated by petition had no right to be on the ballot because their petitions were not in the hands of the recorder in time. However, an interesting fight took place between Boals and Coates, the former winning with only 13 votes, while he was his number on the ballot. Moulton beat Edmunds and Harris beat Hays. There was no candidate in the first ward, but Allen Page was given a few votes, which entitles him to a seat in the city council.

Another Tillamook Soldier Victim of Influenza.
Word was received here on Tuesday that Floyd Williams was sick with Spanish Influenza at Fort Stevens, and that he was not expected to live. Later in the day the news of his death was received from his mother at Warrenton, who had left the previous day to see him. He was stationed at Fort Columbia and was taken to the hospital at Fort Stevens. Williams was a member of Company C, Coast Artillery, when that company left this city for active duty. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Williams. The body arrived today and will be buried Friday, The Home Guard having charge of the funeral arrangements.
Much Alive.
It was reported here over a week ago that Miss Lolo DeLillies had died at the Dalles from an attack of the Spanish Influenza. We received this letter from her on Monday.
Dear Mr. Baker—Will you please kindly notify the people that I am not dead. The rumor got started that I had died of the flussie, but it is all camafloose.
About Teachers' Wages.
The matter of paying teachers their wages is not settled yet, as Attorney General Brown has not given his opinion. The matter is somewhat complex as it depends a good deal upon who had authority to close the schools during the Spanish influenza embargo.
County School Supt Lamb has received the following letter, which is an opinion of a former attorney general, but whether this covers the present embargo is not known:
Salem, Ore., Oct. 23, 1918.
To County School Superintendents:
This department is receiving many letters now from teachers asking if school boards are required to pay their salaries during the time that the board keeps the school closed on account of the influenza. Our answer to one and all is that the school boards are required to pay, and we base this statement on the opinion of Attorney General Crawford, found on page 50, under paragraph 133, of the 1917 edition of Oregon School laws.
Very truly yours,
J. A. Churchill,
Supt. Public Instruction.
