These parties were married in Tillamook County on October 1st, 1914, and they lived together until November 21st, 1917, when the defendant forced and compelled the plaintiff to leave their home and deserted and abandoned the plaintiff, and this without any just cause. Plaintiff asks the court also to allow her to resume her maiden name, Alice M. Davis.
Lumbermen of the northwest may accept commercial business at their pleasure. Government control of the mills was nominally relinquished Monday night in accordance with a message received from Washington during the day by H. B. Van Duzer, chairman of the production board.
Thos. B. Wait, Manager of the Brighton Mills Company is now in Washington, D. C., having been called there by the government for consultation relative to the lumber business conditions of the Northwest.
A. D. McGinley, who has lived in the county for 30 years, was found dead in his cabin at Meda on Saturday by John Baker. It was thought that the deceased had been dead about a week. Coroner Hinkle made an investigation and decided that it was not necessary to hold an inquest, as the man had evidently died from natural causes. He was about 69 years of age. His niece, Mrs. J. D. Sullivan, and a nephew, Thomas McGinley, of Portland, came in on Sunday to take care of the remains, which were buried on Tuesday.

INFLUENZA BAN LIFTED.
People Should Use Precaution And Keep Cases Isolated.
The following communication was received by Rr. R. T. Boals from the State Board of Health in regard to lifting the ban in Tillamook City.
Portland, Nov. 26, 1918.
Dr. R. T. Boals, Tillamook Ore.
Dear Doctor:—Following our long distance conversation I took the trouble to go over your reports from Tillamook County, and with this table before me, I deem it advisable to lift the ban in your city, with the understanding that all cases of influenza be strictly isolated and those in close contact with the sick to use masks under proper sanitary precautions. Each person should try to protect himself and others by avoiding crowds and covering up the cough and sneeze.
This disease will probably remain with us all winter and obviously it would not be practicable to remain closed until there are no longer any cases.
Yours truly,
A. C. Seely,
State Health Officer.
DONALD B. MCKIMENS IS KILLED IN ACTION.
Other Tillamook Boys Added to the County's Honor Roll.
When it became known on Saturday that Donald B. McKimens had been killed in action in France it was with general regret and sympathy for the bereaved family, who had previously been worried because the young man had been gassed and spent two months in the hospital. Young McKimens volunteered his services, who with Guy Loerpabel, son of George Loerpabel, left Nehalem together and joined the Third Oregon. We have already reported the death of Guy Loerpabel in action, and now we are sorry to hear of the death of Donald B. McKimens. Both were splendid young men and highly respected, and their deaths are a loss to the county.
Corporal Donald B. McKimens, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McKimens, of Mohler, Ore., who was killed in action October 15. About a month ago Mr. McKimens sent him some money by wire.
Corporal McKimens enlisted in Company B, 162d Infantry (the old Third Oregon) at the beginning of the war. After going to France he was transferred to Company G, 104th Infantry. In August he was gassed in battle and spent two months in a hospital. He was released September 16 and rejoined his company in action, only to be killed a month later.
Another sister, Louise McKimens, is taking a training course at the Good Samaritan hospital. Two other brothers are also in the service, B. T. McKimens, in the tank corps at Camp Colt, Gettysburg and Frank G. on the U. S. S. Yorktown.
Asa G. Krumlauf Missing.
A telegram was received from Washington, D. C., stating that Asa G. Krumlauf was reported missing in France. Krumlauf was in the Tillamook County draft, and left this city for Camp Lewis on the 25th of June, and from there was sent to France. His mother resides at Brighton and he has two brothers in the service, both of whom are in the Navy. There is a slight possibility that young Krumlauf may not be killed, but may turn up later, but of course no one can vouch that he will.
Appreciate Publicity.
Fred C. Baker, Editor, Headlight, Tillamook, Ore.
Dear Sir:—I want to express to you my appreciation of your very generous support of the United War Work Campaign in the columns of your paper. This service was of peculiar value to the success of the campaign owing to our inability to reach the people from the public platform.
I am pleased to report that the campaign was an entire success in this state, there having been reported subscriptions amounting to $1,100,000. To this may be added at least another $50,000 which I am advised will be reported soon by various counties. This will make up the full increased Oregon quota amounting to $1,150,000 as requested by National Headquarters. Oregon is the only state in the Western department which was able to reach the increased quota. For this result we are largely indebted to you.
Very truly yours,
O. W. Davidson,
State Director.

Do Your Christmas Shopping Early.
Do your Christmas shopping early and avoid the rush a few days before Christmas. Most of the stores will have their Christmas goods on display after Thanksgiving, and as help is somewhat hard to obtain it will be a great advantage to store keepers if people will start in at once and buy their Christmas presents, and in this way customers will be better cared for and obtain better attention. This is of mutual benefit to the storekeepers and their customers to shop early, especially in the morning if possible. From all indications there will be a big rush of business for the next few weeks, and by starting buying early the people will be better served and better pleased.
Annual Meeting of Tillamook Agricultural Council, Wednesday December 4, 1918.
The annual meeting of the Tillamook County Agricultural Council will be held in the court house on Wednesday, December 4th, at eleven o'clock in the morning. At this meeting the work of the past year will be reviewed and plans for the work of the coming year will be taken up. The change of the organization into a County Farm Bureau will also be discussed. This will be in conformity to the other states of the Union and to the other counties of this state.
This Farm Bureau will consist of representative farmers from each community in the county. The plan is not materially different from the Council plan except that it will include all the communities, will be changed in name, and, we believe, will give a more workable organization.
What can the Farm Bureau do? This is a big question. There is almost nothing connected with the welfare of the farmers or farming community which the Farm Bureau may not do. The first thing they will be called upon to do is to outline a program of work for the County Agent to carry out this next year. The County Agent is not here to force any utopian schemes on the farmers of the county but rather to aid them in every way possible in solving the problems that come to them. The farmers themselves, then, or their representatives, are best qualified to lay out the work of the County Agent.
Destructive criticism never accomplishes anything, but friendly criticism, showing what should be done, will accomplish wonders.
The great war is over but the food crisis is still with us, and we cannot look for conditions to be normal for some time to come.
The Department of Agriculture, which is delegated by Congress to handle the food situation, frequently looks to the County Agent for information regarding crops, labor, machinery, and other things. The County Agent, in turn, goes to his Farm Bureau members who know the conditions in their respective neighborhoods.
Again, the Experiment Stations are established to work out the scientific facts governing the best agricultural practice. The County Agent and the Farm Bureau are to sort these over and apply those that fit their community. Consider the value of such a system throughout the country. Without it, it would have taken longer and cost more lives to have subdued the Germans for it helped materially in solving the food problem which was so vital a factor in the war.
If there are no farm problems in the County then farm is going backward; if there are, then the County needs this farm bureau organization and its agent to help solve them.
Providing the "Flu" ban is lifted by December 4th, all interested farmers are invited to be present at this meeting. If not, at least a full attendance of the council members and the new Farm Bureau members is essential. It is expected that some one from the Agricultural College will be present.
A. W. Bunn,
Vice-President Tillamook Agricultural Council.
The W. S. S. Drive.
With but little more than a month to go, it may be necessary to put on special campaigns in some counties of the state in order to put Oregon War Savings Stamp "in the clear."
Henry E. Reed, associate state director of W. S. S. work has completed a table showing the relative standing of the counties in the percentage of quota attained, and those counties showing less than 85 per cent of their quota subscribed will be considered in line for special campaign work between now and the first of the year.
Counties more than 85 per cent efficient now are considered in a fair way to reach their goal before the first of the year, when the campaign closes, but all county workers are being urged, nevertheless, to keep at it until success is clinched.
Eight counties of the state are already well "over the top". They are Clatsop, Coos, Jackson, Lincoln, Tillamook, Baker, Sherman and Wheeler.

The standing of the counties of the state, each county's quota, and each county's percentage of its quota sold on that date, is shown in the following table:

Pay for October Butter Fat.
Carl Haberlach reports that farmers will be paid for October butter fat next week as follows:
Tillamook Creamery, 86c.
Maple Leaf Creamery, 86c.
Holstein Creamery, new way, 80c., old way, 91c.
Fairview, 85c.
Elwood, 84c.
Red Clover, 83c.
South Prairie, 84c.
Long Prairie, no whey fat, 82c.
Southern factories as a rule range between 79c. and 82c.
Factories close to Tillamook where whey was separated received the following amounts per 100 lbs. milk for whey cream returns, returns being figured into butter fat prices.
Tillamook Creamery, 17.40c. per 100 pounds milk.
Maple Leaf Creamery, 16 1/2 c. per 100 pounds milk.
Holstein Creamery, 19.4c. per 100 pounds of milk.
Fairview Dairy, 17 1/2 c. per 100 lbs. milk.
Elwood Creamery, 18 1/2 c. per 100 pounds of milk.
Clover Leaf, 17c. per 100 lbs. milk.
South Prairie, 14c. per 100 pounds milk.
Three Rivers, applied on Separator plant, 21c.
Fairview paid over $4.20 on an average per 100 lbs. milk. Mr. Haberlach says that prices should have been higher, but from 4c. to 5c. the lb. was charged for making cheese, so as to pull all factories out even on making charge for the year. Supplies of all kinds are so much higher than other years, that it has been necessary to charge more for making. It would be poor business policy to operate factories at a loss while prices are as high as they have been.
