

A New Spirit of Good Will

Thanks to the opportunity given it by the War Department at home and abroad, a new spirit of good will has grown up around Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

Wherever soldiers meet, this car is spoken of in terms of admiration and even affection.

Soldiers grow to love the tools and weapons and implements that serve them.

They admire especially the inanimate thing that shows grit and endurance in a tight place.

That is American—and that is the American soldier in particular—and that is the sort of glory being woven around Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

There will always be associated with it the remembrance of the work it did in the world war in army service on both sides of the ocean.

Thousands of American soldiers are coming back now from the camps in America and the battle-front in France, telling how well that work was done.

They are telling it to their fathers and mothers, their worshipping small brothers, their sisters, their sweet-hearts and their friends.

It is the central figure in many a stirring story told about the family fire-place.

To many a white-haired American mother it means something more, as it goes by, than just a motor car.

She links it, somehow, with what her own boy did, with what America did, and with what America stands for.

Dodge Brothers are proud that theirs was the one car of its type and class chosen by the War Department.

They are prouder still that it has been taken into the hearts and homes of the American people.

The old folks, and the little folks who don't forget, are spreading a leaven of good will which will endure for years to come.

Dodge Brothers cherish this new spirit of good will which has come out of the world war as their most valued possession.

PERFECTION MILKER

Put your finger in the calves mouth and feel the way the calf milks. First it sucks gently. Next it squeezes downward with its tongue and the roof of its mouth. Then it stops sucking for an instant while it swallows, letting go of your finger and allowing the blood to flow freely.

This is the natural safe way to milk.

Now put your finger in the teat cup of the Perfection Milker. Notice how it first applies a gentle steady suction, second squeezes downward, and third releases your finger from the suction.

This is the same way of milking as that used by the calf. It is nature's way. No wonder the cow likes it.

That is why so many hundred famous dairymen with high priced stock use the Perfection, they feel it is safe.

The flu situation in Tillamook County does not look as well as one would wish, for there are, from all reports, an increase in the number of cases in all parts of the county.

We are sorry to announce the death of Mrs. Emeline Gray, wife of W. A. Gray, which occurred at Orchards, Wash., on December 18, from pneumonia. The remains were buried at Woodland, Wash., on December 22. The deceased was known here, her husband having made cheese for several years in Tillamook County, and they had quite a number of friends who will be sorry to hear of the sad news. The deceased leaves two small children.

Attorney H. T. Botts, who went before the County Court and appeared before the State Highway Commission, returned on Wednesday, and reports getting along fairly well. A proposition was put up to the State Highway Commission to pave the Three Rivers road, the state to bear one half of the expense and the county the other half, which appeared to meet with the approval of the Commission, for Commissioner Booth stated that it was one of the best offers made to the Commission. The Commission was not in a position to make any promises until after the State Legislature meets. In all probability some arrangements will be made so that the Three Rivers road will be paved this year and made into a 16 foot road. The local delegation took up the matter of hard surfaced roads in other parts of the county with a view of obtaining financial assistance. The Commission promised to send engineers to Tillamook Co., and decide on the best route in the north part of the county, there being a difference of opinion amongst the people living there. When the route is settled this will finally dispose of that matter, as the selection of the Three Rivers road did in the south part of the county.

School Opening to be Decided in a Few Days.

At a meeting of the School Board on Wednesday to take up the matter of opening the schools of the city, it was decided to send out post cards to the parents to ascertain whether they are in favor of opening or closing the schools. There is considerable of a difference of opinion amongst the citizens, which appear to be divided into two factions, one being emphatic that the schools should be opened and the other that they should be closed down. It places the School Board in a rather delicate position, for if they decide to open the schools and another flu wave strikes this community and pupils come down with it they will be blamed, while on the other hand they will be criticised for keeping the schools closed and paying the teachers for a whole term's work. There is some doubt, should the school be opened whether any considerable number of pupils would attend, and to retain a large number of teachers for a small number of pupils is another phase of the situation. The schools that are running in other parts of the county have so few pupils that directors are considering the advisability of closing them on that account.

Gem Theatre Notes.

The Gem Theatre is open again tonight after being closed for some time by order of the City Board of Health in an effort to clear the community of influenza. By the action of the City Council at their regular meeting last Monday night the ban was lifted and public gatherings are again permitted. The theatre will operate only on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday evenings until further notice. On the above evenings we will endeavor to present to the people of Tillamook the regular high class photo plays as has been our practice at all times in the past. We have done some altering and repairing on the interior and feel now that we are better prepared to present to the best advantage and under the most pleasant surroundings our programs than at any time in the past. We invite the people of this community to visit our place when in town.

To correct the false impression that has come to our attention, to the effect that we have refused in the past to be governed by the orders issued from the office of the Board of Health we wish to state the following. At no time have we made any such refusal nor do we intend to in the future. In both instances of closing our place of business by the orders of the Board we have complied and have repeatedly offered to cooperate and assist in any way that we could to help bring results in banishing the flu from our midst, and the Board of Health will substantiate our statements as above.
