The number of fishing and hunters licenses issued in Tillamook county were 1813, made up as follows: Hunters' licenses, 592 at $1.50; $888.00; anglers licenses, 1121, at $1.50, $1,681.50; combination licenses, 109 at $3.00, $300.00; certificates of lost licenses, 12 at 25c., $3.00. Total amount from same was $2872.50, which (less 5 per cent, $143.64) was forwarded to the state.
J. S. Diehl vs. F. L. Braden is a suit filed in the circuit court to recover $255.00, the value of four cows sold by the defendant to plaintiff. It is alleged that the defendant represented and guaranteed the cows to be sound, in good health and would freshen in March, 1919, which the plaintiff claims were false. He returned the cows and demanded his money, which he now sues for.
For sale—John Dear Plow with 2 shears and 1 rolling cutter, 1 case drag harrow, 1 horse cultivator, 1 set chain harness, 1 collar, 3 halters, 1 poultry shell grinder, 1 set of plow double trees, 1 neck yoke, 1 square shovel, 1 pointed shovel, 1 onion hoe, 2 garden hoses, 1 shrub trimmer, 2 axes 1 double bit, 1 5 foot falling saw, 1 garden rake, 1 ads, 3 cords of wood, 1 potato hook, 1 kitchen cabinet.—S. Michaud, Tillamook.
Owing to a rough bar the hull of the new Ferris steamer Bedloe was not started from Tillamook to Portland on Saturday, because it was not moved from the inner bay to the tug Wallula which was waiting outside to tow the hull to Portland and on account of bad weather the Wallula was ordered to Astoria, and when a small tug gets the hull into deep water she will return to Tillamook when weather conditions are favorable.
Mrs. J. B. Munro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Powell, writing from Cray, N. D., says: "I used to live in your lovely town and think there is no place like it. This is a vast country for a man who wishes to farm. We will farm 1200 acres this summer, about 800 acres of wheat, so I think we are helping Uncle Sam some. We keep 17 horses, herd of cows and young stock with lots of porkers and all kinds of poultry. There is lots of snow. For a few days it was 45 below zero. What would Tillamook people think of that? But we don't mind it at all. The land here is level and you can see our lights for six miles."
Julietta Davey vs. Scott Bozorth, Bay City Land Co., a corporation, Ben Peck and W. McClaren is a suit filed in the circuit court to recover $4,200.00, the same being three times the amount of damages claimed to have been suffered by the plaintiff on account of defendants' unlawful act. It is alleged in the complaint that the defendants unlawfully and without permission entered into and upon real property owned by the plaintiff and caused to be cut and destroyed six large standing spruce trees valued at $1200.00, and that defendants also caused to be cut one spruce tree standing between the center line of the street, of the value of $200.00. For a second cause of action plaintiff claims $200 for destroying a spruce tree.
To give work to soldiers and improve the state, Representative B. F. Jones, of Lincoln, wants to build the Roosevelt coast military highway, stretching along the Oregon coast for 300 miles. He wants it to run through Clatsop, Tillamook, Lincoln, Douglas, Coos and Curry counties to the California line. A large part of the 16,000,000 acres of Oregon's forest reserve lies in these seven counties and is used principally as a playground for tourists, hunters and forest officers. With the government owning so much of the land along the coast, Mr. Jones suggests that the government go 50-50 with the state in building the coastal highway, which incidentally would open up vast stretches of country for settlement. The Jones idea is to have the state issue $2,000,000 or more of bonds to match whatever sum Congress would vote for this enterprise.
Iva Seamon vs. John Seamon and Alfred Seamon is a divorce suit filed in the circuit court. These parties were married in Tillamook County on the 8th of June, 1915. The defendant John Seamon has two daughters by a former wife. It is alleged that John Seamon treated his wife in a cruel and inhuman manner making her life burdensome. Defendant, on one occasion when drinking heavily, told the plaintiff to go and sit down and he took a rifle and shot at her feet. He frequently beat and choked the plaintiff and injured her ear. He engaged in bootlegging and forced plaintiff under duress to deliver liquor to men he would send to the house and threatened to beat her. He accused her of being criminally intimate with other men and threatened to shoot her on different occasions, and on the 10th of January he told plaintiff he would give her 36 hours to get out of his house, and said that if she did not leave he had something, meaning a revolver, that would take her out. Plaintiff asks that the court cause the defendant to pay $350.00 into court to pay for prosecuting the suit, and $50.00 for her support while the case is pending and decreeing her to be the owner of one-third interest in real property and one-half in personal property.

Death of Mrs. Jessie E. Hargrove
Jessie Elizabeth Rock Hargrove, only daughter of S. H. Rock and wife, was born at Oretown, Ore., Aug. 21, 1889, and departed this life at midnight, January 1st, 1919, in San Francisco, Cal.
Her baby son was born Dec. 24, 1918, after which she sank rapidly from double pneumonia and anemia, following Spanish influenza. Her husband and mother were with her to the last.
Her husband, Charles C. Hargrove, became prostrated with grief on the train and is at present in Salem hospital. The baby is with its aunt, Mrs. Ed Smith, of Corvallis. The body was brought to Oretown, the funeral services being held Tuesday, Jan. 7, 1919, Paul Lewis officiating.
Besides her loving and most devoted husband and her infant son, she leaves a father, mother, two brothers and an aged grandfather, also hosts of friends in Oregon, Washington and California.
Red Cross Notes.
There seems to be a feeling throughout the county that now the war is over, there is no more need for Red Cross work. The sewing department of the Red Cross have canvassed and begged; and begged and canvassed for women to make refugee garments; and yet the number of workers grows less, as the weeks go by.
We do not seem to realize that as the smoke of the battlefield clears away, a condition of distress has been revealed, such as the world has never witnessed before. Food, clothing, homes—even the soil in which vegetation has previously grown are gone. And this one sad service the women of America can render: They can make clothing for these war-cursed beings over there. In another year it will not be needed so seriously, but now, right now, we should all work; and work with the vision in our minds of human beings who are dying for want of the clothing which it is possible for us to provide. Cannot each and every woman in this county call up her sewing chairman and offer to give some time every week for the next three months?
Gasoline Consumption
Thirty-five million (35,000,000) gallons of gasoline were consumed in the State of Oregon during 1918, according to authoritative estimates. Practically all of this was used in pleasure automobiles, as motor trucks and stationary gas engines were fueled mainly with distillate or kerosene.
For this 35,000,000 gallons, consumers paid more than 20 cents a gallon, or more than $7,000,000.
A tax of one cent a gallon on gasoline would yield $350,000 a year on the basis of 1918 consumption.
If gasoline continues to be used as the main fuel for pleasure autos, if the constitutionality of the tax were sustained and if the $350,000 annual receipts were applied on paying interest and principal of a highway bond issue, from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000 of highway bonds could be issued from the financial source alone, depending on the number of years over which payment was spread.—Oregon Voter.

Resolution of Sympathy.
Whereas, The Master of the Great Grange above has called for her eternal rest our beloved sister, Maria Maynard, who was one of our oldest and most honored members, and one whose passing has caused a vacancy in our ranks, which never can be filled; now, therefore, be it Resolved, that Fairview Grange extend to the aged husband and family our sorrow and heartfelt sympathy and show our appreciation of her good works by draping our charter in mourning for a period of thirty days; and be it further Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, to the local papers and the Grange Bulletin.

LENGTH OF COW TESTING ADDS TO VALUE OF WORK.
Fat Production of Owners in Association for Six Years is 114.9 lbs. Ahead of Beginners.
Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Jan. 15.—Dairy men who have been in cow testing associations continuously for six years show an average production of 114.9 pounds of fat per cow per year above the production of the men in the association the first year.
The average monthly production for the 35,000 cows kept on test in the western dairy division in 1917 was 34.5 pounds of fat for those who had been on test two years, 31 for those on test from one to two years, and 27.5 for those on test less than one year.
"If you get an increased average production for your dairy herd it will be only because the daughters of your herd bull are producing more than their dams," asserts E. L. Westover, field dairyman of the O. A. C. extension service. "Continuous record keeping is necessary to check up on each cow and also on the herd bull by comparing the record of the daughters with that of the dams."
"A cow influences but one offspring, while a bull will influence every offspring in your herd. If the herd is less than 30 cows, within five to six years it will be made up entirely of offsprings from your present dairy herd bull, except for the cows added by purchase. Fewer than one bull out of a thousand has a tendency to get daughters that will produce 600 pounds of fat a year."
Service Flag Exercises at Nehalem.
The Service Flag Exercises, which were given by the students of the Nehalem High School, January 4th, were a great success.
The programme was opened by a salute to the flag and the students as a body pledged their allegiance to the American flag. Following the invocation, which was given by Rev. Pogue, America was sung by the audience.
"The American's Creed," which clearly states the creed of loyal Americans, was given by Minnie Olson. Rev. Pogue delivered an excellent address on "Service" and Prof. Brimhall favored the audience by a fine talk in which he related the story of "A Man Without a Country".
A very pretty song was given by several pupils of the grade school and a vocal duet was rendered by Mrs. Pogue and Mrs. Purcell.
Several members of the high school took part in uncovering the stars, representing the boys who were once fellow students and who later gave their services to their country. Red crosses were uncovered in honor of the girls who offered their services to their fellow men.
Jennie Crawford delivered an interesting and appropriate "Eulogy on Woman." Entirely original and embracing many facts which disclosed the true character of the women of America, this production was well received by all. The good works of the Red Cross as an organization were also cleverly outlined by Miss Crawford.
An excellent talk was given by Professor Barnes upon his acceptance of the Service Flag from Anna Steele. The program was concluded by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the audience.
The attendance, usually very large at exercises of this sort, was smaller than usual on account of the "flu".
Roster—Gilbert Zaddach, Leo Batzner, Thaddeus McKimens, * Corp. Don McKimens, Franklin Knight, Basil Scovell, * Guy Loerpel, Gambrell Summers, Allie Effenberger, Fritz Tubbesing, Daniel Davidson, Emil Schollmeyer, Lt. William Christensen, Leonard Cain, Joseph Boyakin, Oscar Steele, William Peregon, Beverly Daniel, Howard Tilden. * Fell on the field of honor.
Red Cross Nurses—Louise McKimens, Catherine Loerpel, Leona Ailey and Mildred Tilden.
Notice to Contractors.
Sealed bids will be received by the Directors of School District No. 28, Tillamook County, Oregon, for the clearing of two acres of land, situated near the residence of Fred Kebbe, Sr., said land to be cleared of all trees, logs, stumps and brush, so that the land can be plowed, and leveled ready for school building and playground. Clearing of the land to be completed not later than May 1st, 1919. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check made payable to the district clerk, for an amount equal to 5 per cent of the amount of the bid, which shall be forfeited to the school district in case the bid be accepted, and the bidder shall fail, neglect or refuse to enter into a contract, and file a bond satisfactory to the directors, not later than 2 o'clock p. m., January 27, 1919. The board of directors reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
Dated this 13th day of Jan., 1919.
Geo. R. McKimens, Clerk.

THE FEED QUESTION.
Dairy Cattle Feeding Schools for Tillamook County Next Week.
The Tillamook County Farm Bureau has arranged with the Extension Division of O. A. C. for two day schools in feeding dairy cattle at Tillamook on Monday and Tuesday, the 20th and 21st; at Cloverdale, on Wednesday and Thursday, the 22nd and 23rd; and at Nehalem, on Friday and Saturday, the 24th and 25th. The school at Tillamook will be held in the court house, at Cloverdale in the Grange Hall and Nehalem to be arranged.
It pays to study your feeding operations, especially when feeds are as high as they are now. If you do not feed the right combinations you may be losing heavily.
Profs. Pitts and Westover will discuss the subjects listed in the following program.
First Day.
10:00 a. m.—Principles of Feeding, Composition of feeds, digestion, assimilation and uses in the animal body.
11:00 a. m.—Developing the Herd, Breeding methods and selection of the sire.
1:00 p. m.—Feed requirements for growth and milk production. Profitable feeding dependent upon knowledge of requirements. Basis for balancing rations.
2:00 p. m.—Balancing rations. Rations will be made up of home grown feeds and those available on the local market.
Second Day.
10:00 a. m.—Succulent feed and their value. Importance of green feeds in the ration. Silos and Silage.
11:00 a. m.—Feeding the bull, calf, and dry cow. These are often neglected, proper handling and feeding are very important.
1:00 p. m.—Buying feeds. Comparative value of different feeds, securing the most nutritious for the money. Cooperative buying.
2:00 p. m.—Herd record keeping. The importance of records, methods of securing them, Cow testing associations.
Roy C. Jones, Co. Agent.

What more do you want? What more could you ask?
Rollie W. Watson, Tillamook Real Estate.
Nazarene Church Services.
The pastor is continuing the talks on prayer on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.
Sunday services as follows:
10 a. m.—Sunday School; Mrs. B. E. King, Supt.
11 a. m.—Preaching by the pastor, Rev. A. F. Ingler, Subject: "The Blood Atonement." Reception of members and communion at the close of the service.
6:30 p. m.—Peoples' service with songs and testimonies.
7:30 p. m.—Evening sermon with special singing. Strangers welcome.
You Do Want Better Cows!
It is through the sire you get them. Just recall that our herd sire, Maplecrest De Kol Beauty, has five sisters with an average yearly production of 1171 lbs. butter from 23,726.6 lbs. milk; that his dam made 664 lbs. butter in 10 months; that she has 10 yearly record sisters that average 1946 lbs butter from 20,603.3 lbs. milk; that the entire number average a 4 per cent test. We will sell our spring grade calves at a reasonable price from cows with C. T. A. records.
