

I have made arrangements with DR. W. E. LEBOW to practice Dentistry with me, and have no hesitancy in recommending him to my friends. He is a clean man in person and habits and knows how to do reliable dental work. One or both of us will be at my office across the street, South of the Court House, on MONDAYS, TUESDAYS and WEDNESDAYS; at CLOVERDALE on THURSDAYS; at NEHALEM on FRIDAYS; at WHEELER on SATURDAYS and SUNDAYS until noon.

The most important teeth are the 6-year Molars.

These are the first permanent teeth the child erupts. Are most sure to decay early and should be filled before its too late. Most parents mistake these teeth for temporary ones and let them go until too badly gone to save. THERE ARE FOUR SIX YEAR MOLARS. We will gladly tell you what should be done, also the cost. No charge for consultation.

- The dentist has a duty as a teacher as well as an operator—to give instruction in the use of the brush, the toothpick, silk floss, etc. Only about 14 per cent of the people of America make any intelligent use of dentistry.
- 1—The mouth is a gateway of health and disease
 - 2—Hard foods, if well masticated, help to make and keep good teeth. The cleaning power of vigorous mastication is greater and better than artificial cleaning.
 - 3—Soft foods cling to the teeth; hard foods clean them.
 - 4—A clean mouth helps to make a sweet breath.
 - 5—Food left on teeth brings decay. Clean teeth seldom decay.
 - 6—Decay commences on the outside of teeth. Unclean teeth decay chiefly at night. Clean the teeth before going to bed. Clean the teeth again in the morning.
 - 7—Wash the mouth after every meal.
 - 8—Brush all the teeth thoroughly, especially the back teeth, on all surfaces.
 - 9—The medication used, whether a dentifrice or soap and water, is not so important as the - method of using. Avoid, however, any mixture that contains grit.

- 10—When cleaning the teeth the greatest care should be bestowed upon the removal of food and debris from between the teeth, using a brush with bristles to conform to and reach the spaces. An excellent adjunct and a great protection against decay consists in passing silk between all the teeth and drawing it outward in such a manner as not to hurt the gum.
 - 11—In use the brush should not be allowed to pass to and fro from the front to the back teeth only; but with a short pressing sweep from the gums to the cutting edge of the teeth. Thus the stroke in the upper jaw is from the gum downward, while in the lower jaw it is from the gum upward.
 - 12—The force used in chewing food is modified (1) by the use made habitually of the teeth, (2) by the loss of the pulp, (3) by disease of the periodontal membranes. The strength of the teeth is ample for reasonable stress, but metals, very hard substances, and some confections should be excluded.

ROOSEVELT HIGHWAY CAMPAIGN OUTLINED.
Officers are Elected and Finances Arranged.

Officers were elected, finances temporarily arranged, and a committee appointed to prepare a statement for voters' pamphlet, at a meeting of road enthusiasts in Portland on Friday to promote the $2,500,000 bond issue for the Roosevelt highway. The people will vote on the proposal to issue these bonds at the special election June 3. The bonds are contingent on the federal government matching the sum, and if the government declines to act, no bonds will be sold.

Elected at the conference were S. C. Pier, city commissioner elect of Portland, for president; Bruce Dennis, of LaGrande, vice-president; B. F. Jones, of Newport, father of the measure, secretary and E. D. Cusick, of Albany, treasurer.

Statement Committee Named.
The committee designated to prepare the statement, consisted of John B. Goss, of Marshfield, T. B. Handley, of Tillamook, A. W. Norblad, of Astoria; E. J. Adams of Eugene; and B. F. Jones, of Newport. To temporarily finance the promotion of the campaign, it was agreed that each of the seven counties on the coast, through which the road will run, shall subscribe $500, to be reimbursed later.

A campaign manager will be selected by the officers, and there will be a vice-president in each county of the state, these vice-presidents to act as an advisory board and to attend to the organization of their respective counties. Women's auxiliaries are to be started in each county. This program was worked by a committee consisting of J. C. Johnson, E. J. Adams, T. B. Handley, A. W. Norblad, J. B. Goss, Judge R. R. Miller and Fred Hollister. The temporary officers, B. F. Jones, and C. C. Chapman, the latter acting as secretary, will serve until the permanent officers are installed.

Coast Counties Represented.
Those registered for the meeting were B. F. Jones, L. W. Williams and D. T. Harding, of Newport; Judge R. R. Miller, J. W. Dunn and J. J. Christensen, of Toledo; Al L. Martin, of Coos Bay; J. B. Goss, of Marshfield, J. C. Johnson, of Gold Beach; E. N. Hurd, E. S. Prouty, M. F. Hardesty and D. J. Moore, of Seaside, A. W. Norblad, B. S. Worsley and D. E. Lagassee of Astoria; E. I. Baillagh of St. Helens; E. C. Roberts, of Myrtle Point; H. H. Rosenberg, W. J. Riechers, W. G. Dwight and T. B. Handley, of Tillamook; O. W. Taylor of Gearhart; Fred Hollister, of North Bend; G. W. Griffin and E. J. Adams of Eugene; J. W. Bergman of Florence. There was also a sprinkling of Portlanders present.

The Roosevelt highway will be the Oregon section of a coastal military road along the Pacific ocean. In Washington word was received that from Blaine to Aberdeen the road will soon be paved and money is available to grade it to Long Beach. L. J. Simpson sent word, that California officials have assured him that they will be ready to do their share through the state.

Oregon Dairy Council.

When the Oregon Dairy Council meeting is called to order March 26 at Multnomah Hotel, Portland, the membership list of 100 will be announced. This assurance was given when J. E. Dunne, chairman of the sustaining membership committee of the council telephoned that about seventeen new members had been secured in and about Tillamook.

Three cheers for the great cheese country, Tillamook the golden, glorious pride of the state," said Mr. Dunne.

The Oregon Dairy Council, according to the tentative plans of the board of directors, will put on an up-to-date advertising campaign in Oregon and will make its advantages as a dairy state known throughout the country. The council will do extensive bill board and newspaper advertising. It will have displays that will attract. The great possibilities of the state as headquarters for dairying, butter and cheese making and for the pursuit of all the various industries connected with the dairy will be exploited in such a manner that will go to attract tourists, business men, capitalists and those who would help in making Oregon famous as a leading dairy state.

The council will do educational work, having the cooperation of J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction who has heartily endorsed the council's work of spreading the doctrine of the food value and indispensability of milk. Through the schools, the children can be made to realize the vital value of milk, cheese, butter, ice cream and all dairy products and they can take the message to their parents. Attractive posters will help in interesting the little people and in giving them an idea that they need milk, butter, cheese, etc. Lectures, essays writing, reading lessons and many other means can be employed.

In all this campaign of advertising the council will stress the findings of such men as Dr. E. V. McCollum, of Johns Hopkins university, who experimented for over eleven years and who discovered in milk the perfect food and the vital elements that are not to be found in any substitute.

He found that there is in milk, butter and cheese a certain chemical ingredient that makes it absolutely necessary to human life. There is no substitute or imitation or alternate that contains these elements and therefore there is no substitute for dairy products."

The time had come when the dairy interests of Oregon realized that there must be some organization, some channel through which, working together cooperatively they could let the world know what a wealth of attraction there is to be found in Oregon in various dairy industries. In California the Sunkist fruits, the raisins and many other products have been widely advertised in cooperative fashion. The time had come when Oregon dairy interests had to get together and let the state and neighboring states know the value of milk and its products and the advantageous to be found here. And so the Oregon Dairy Council was formed. First it was a temporary organization working on small funds and yet getting splendid results. Now it will incorporate and do good live work that will make it a greater power for all branches of the industry.

Among the cheese factories that saw the advantage of getting behind this splendid movement were the Tillamook Creamery, Maple Leaf Creamery, Holstein Creamery, South Prairie Creamery, Fairview Dairy Association, Red Clover Creamery, Clover Leaf Creamery, Cloverdale Cheese Co., Central Creamery, Long Prairie Creamery, Three Rivers Creamery, Oretown Cheese Co., Neskwinn Dairy Association and Kuppenbender and Son, Tillamook County and First National Banks. All these are well known Tillamook concerns and are members of Tillamook's famous creamery association that made 5,936,900 pounds of cheese last year. Among the other new members are Eugene Farmers' Creamery, Lane county and Springfield Creameries, Corvallis Creamery, Junction City Creamery and First National Bank of Corvallis. This council is proud that among its members is the Albany Creamery Association that won first prize at the Western Dairy products show at Boise recently. It also has a large percentage of the leading banks and other concerns.

Dr. McCollum, of John Hopkins University, says: "I wish to point out the fact, which rests upon sound experimental evidence, that milk is an indispensable article of the diet of any people who wish to achieve; that milk production cannot rest upon a philanthropic basis, but must be a paying industry. I want to emphasize that the public must allow the price of milk to advance so that the industry is profitable to the dairymen. Milk is worth much more than its protein content would indicate. It is the great factor of safety in making good the deficiencies of the grains which form and must continue to form the principal source of energy in our diet. Without the continued use of milk, not only for the feeding of our children, but in liberal amounts in cookery and as an adjunct to our diet, we cannot as a nation maintain the position as a world power to which we have arisen. The keeping of dairy animals was the greatest factor in the history of the development of man from a state of barbarism. We are now in a critical time when the dairy industry is in jeopardy, I feel it my privilege to point out that we are still dependent upon the dairy industry for our continued prosperity. Let us appreciate the debt we owe to the milk producer, and reward him according to the service he renders."

Road Bill Details Filed.

Salem, Or., March 22.—The first statement filed for the special election pamphlet arrived Saturday at the office of secretary of state from Senator Baldwin, of Klamath county, in support of the proposed constitutional amendment giving counties power to bond themselves up to six per cent of their assessed valuation for road purposes.

The statement was prepared by Senator Baldwin and approved by Senator Banks and Representative Merryman, composing a legislative committee selected to prepare it.

The statement follows:

1—Why you should not oppose this measure—1. It imposes no burdens, it coerces no citizen; 2. It does not force public improvement upon unwilling counties; 3. It does not interfere with existing highway laws or plans; 4. It provides for no salaries or commissions or officials, it costs nothing; 5. It confines the application of the privileges to the counties electing to apply them, it is the concern only of the county desiring to use the opportunity.

2—Why you should support this measure—1. The measure is intended to grant to counties the option of voting bonds up to 6 per cent of assessed valuation for road purposes—it is a matter left entirely to the particular county. As to whether or not, after the passage of this measure a county votes bonds, will be no concern of any other county; 2. Many counties desiring more funds for road work are asking that you consent that they burden themselves if they so desire. Your affirmative vote on this measure does not prejudice you in the least, nor cost you a penny; 3. If, in the opinion of the county, good roads are a paying investment and badly needed, is it not your duty to vote to allow that county to put the question to its people?

4. A private corporation cannot do business with only 2 per cent of its capital available, much less can a public corporation make necessary improvements on that amount—6 per cent is little enough; 5. This is a purely local option measure, no county need assume burdens unless it desires.
