The case of Lloyd Kellow, charged with speeding, was tried on Monday before Justice Stanley and jury of three, which failed to agree and was discharged. In all probability the case will be dropped, as the "speed cop" is leaving the county.

Supt. of the Eugene schools, W. R. Rutherford, a prominent educator of Oregon, came to Tillamook yesterday with his wife, and her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Edwards. They drove in over the Astoria route from Portland.

G. G. Graves and family left for Banks today to visit their daughter who lives there. Later they will go to Newberg where Mr. Graves parents live. After that they will visit a Salem, Oregon City and other valley points. They don't expect to return to Tillamook.

Thad Robison, president of Tillamook Co. Bank severed his connections with that institution on Tuesday, and left the next day, with his wife and family for Portland, where they will reside for a while. Mr. Robison will go immediately to California.

J. W. Browning, who lives up in the hills about 8 miles above Blaine, sold about 2000 pounds of mountain honey this month. The climate there is ideal for bees, no cold north wind, and all the dead trees make the ground rich for flowers. Last year his bees produced nearly 1600 pounds.

After being in the navy for two years and two months, Tom Keys came home Tuesday night. He was on the U. S. S. South Carolina, which served as a convoy during the war. He was discharged from Bremerton. Mrs. Keys, his mother, has many beautiful souvenirs of France that he sent to her from time to time, and brought home with him.

Ben Stam, a lieutenant in the army and instructor in Machine gunnery, came to visit his parents on furlough of 28 days. Lieut. Stam's wife came from Georgia with him, and is at present confined to her parent's home at Eugene, with her four day old daughter. She will come over to Tillamook soon. Lt. Stam will be sent to Ft. Benning, Georgia when his furlough is over.

A revised draft of the bill appropriating $2,500,000 for the Roosevelt highway in Oregon was introduced in the House by Representative Hawley. This bill, which goes to the committee on public roads, takes the place of a similar bill which was referred to the committee on appropriations. The bill introduced cures a parliamentary situation whereby the first bill would have been subject to a point of order.

A Ford automobile driven by Fred Zuer hit the brush on the road near Trask River, and was thrown over the bank, just above a big pool.

It had not been for the thick undergrowth of brush just above the pool, the machine would have gone in and under the water, but as it was it caught on the thicket, and a team of horses dug it out of the dangerous place.

Ornamental concrete urns have been placed on the main intersections of street traffic on Second Ave. and at the corner of Third Ave and Third street. These urns it is hoped, will last longer than the old signs, and people are asked to kindly leave them on the streets, and not to run into them. Flowers will be planted in the bowls of the urns, and they will improve the streets appearance, it is thought.

L. C. Wilton, who enlisted from Wheeler over a year ago arrived home last week. He was in the Argentine drive and on the 9th day his left leg was torn off just below the knee by a high explosive shell. He was recently discharged from the hospital at Washington, D. C., and plans on attending a trade school this fall. He is visiting his brother L. G. Wilton, who was also in the service.

The Tillamook High School Alumni Association was formed Friday night after the graduation ceremonies in the Christian Church, for the purpose of building up and keeping alive a spirit in the school and among its graduates. A banquet for the seniors had been one of the things the alumni wished to do, but the organization was formed too late to permit of that this year. John Aschlin, a graduate of a few years ago, was chosen president, and Lowell Edwards secretary.

The first closing of the school year exercises ever held at Blaine, Oregon, attracted most of the neighborhood last Friday. Blaine is a progressive little place about eight miles above Beaver on the Nestucca river, and very enthusiastic over the Roosevelt Highway, and good roads. An interesting program of songs and recitations was held and greatly pleased the audience, according to G. B. Lamb, county superintendent. One girl in the school received her eighth grade diploma, Miss Ruth Gould.

Fred Bohmer vs. F. L. Braden and A. A. Yager is a suit filed in the circuit court to recover the sum of $140 growing out of the sale of a cow. It is alleged that when a trade was being made for the cow defendants falsely, wrongfully and fraudulently represented that the cow was only six years old and was a good cow for dairying purposes and in good health whereas the plaintiff claims the cow is 13 years of age, in poor health, unfit for dairy purposes, and only worth $35.00.

According to the City Recorder, Mrs. Frances B. Stranahan, a number of people in town have sidewalks that are badly out of repair. Many of these are on streets where the grade has not yet been established, and the people hate to build a new walk off-grade, and neglect their old walks. The owners of the poor sidewalks are notified when complaints are made, and also after tours of inspection. Any property owner who has a walk out of repair, and is notified by the city to fix it, is liable personally to any party injured on his walk. A fine of from $5 to $25 may be assessed anyone not repairing their walk after notification of needed repairs.

Belle Brydon vs. William B. Brydon is a divorce suit filed in the circuit court. These parties were married in Tillamook the 3rd of July, 1918, and no children have been born to the union. The complaint alleges cruel and inhuman treatment, and that last February the defendant told the plaintiff that he was going to Alaska and that she would never see him again. Instead of doing so he located in Tillamook, the threat to leave the United States having been made for the purpose of harassing and annoying the plaintiff. The defendant never provided a home for his wife, and since the 1st of February paid only $89.00 towards her support. The plaintiff wants her maiden name restored, which was Belle Fauling.

Salvation Army Drive Open Few Days Longer.

Owing to the fact that only about 70 per cent of the Salvation Army quota has been raised, the campaign will continue open, though little soliciting will take place. People who wish to have their names on the honor roll to be published in the Headlight next week, when every contribution and contributor's name will be given, may leave their money with I. E. Keldson at the First National Bank. It is hoped that some of the people who can afford to will raise their contributions, as well as new subscriptions come in.

$10 Reward.
Strayed from Kitchis River, four yearlings, steers and heifers, may walk over onto Wilson river.

ERWIN HARRISON RESIGNS Position Offered to Homer Mason, Who Accepts Clerkship.

Late on Wednesday afternoon County Clerk Erwin Harrison tendered his resignation to the county court, to take effect at once, and the court accepted the same. Mr. Harrison was serving his second term as county clerk, and has given good satisfaction and conducted his office in a businesslike manner. Previous to the time of occupying the clerk's office Mr. Harrison was cashier of the Tillamook County Bank. Mr. Harrison will devote his time to dairying, having purchased part of his father's farm and leased the other part.

After considering the matter the County Court offered the position to Homer Mason, who accepted. Mr. Mason had previously occupied that position, as well as that of county judge, and being well qualified and experienced with county affairs, as well as the Clerk's office, the court made a good selection.

GEM THEATRE PROGRAM

Friday, July 4—"Smiles" William Fox production featuring Jane & Katherine Lee. In this picture the Lee Kids have as an assistant, their playful dog. They try to give him a bath as well as a set of new teeth. Continuous show all day, starting as soon as the parade is over.

Saturday, July 5—"Blind Man's Eyes." Metro production featuring Bert Lytell.
"Next Isle Over" Harold Lloyd Comedy.

Sunday, July 6—"The Reason Why" Select production featuring Clara Kimball Young.
"Pathe News."

Monday, July 7—"My Cousin" Artcraft production featuring Enrico Caruso. Caruso will need no introduction, his name is one with which every one is familiar in music circles, but this is his debut in the screen world. In "My Cousin" he takes a dual role. Don't fail to see this one.
"Lyons-Moran Comedy."

Tuesday, July 8—"In Pursuit of Polly" Paramount production featuring Billie Burke. A classy comedy drama.
"Pathe News."

Wednesday, July 9—"When Do We Eat" Paramount production featuring Enid Bennett. "When Do We Eat" is just one long laugh, or hundreds of short ones, just as you like about it. You'll make a mistake if you miss it.
"Bray Photograph."

Thursday, July 10—"Hell Roaring Reform" William Fox production featuring Tom Mix.
"Once a Mason" Comedy.

Sustained Broken Leg.

While on the way from McMinnville to Tillamook F. E. Thomas and family met with an auto accident near town which resulted in Miss Thomas being thrown from the machine and sustained a broken leg. The other members of the party were not seriously injured. Miss Thomas was brought to the hospital at Sheridan. The car was not badly damaged. Mr. Thomas resides in Tillamook and was on his way home when the accident occurred. He stated that he had turned off the pavement when coming into Sheridan and was turning back again when the throttle stuck and the car turned over, throwing the occupants out.—Sheridan Sun.

"When Do We Eat" Strong Photoplay.

Enid Bennett seems to have again scored in her newest Thomas H. Ince Paramount picture, "When Do We Eat?" which is to be shown at the Gem next Wednesday, July 9th. It gives her a role to portray which calls upon all her powers of characterization. From the time she is cast adrift when the Uncle Tom show wherein she plays Little Eva is seized by the sheriff, to the moment she saves the young bank cashier and defeats the bank robbers, she gives, it is declared, a performance that is not only artistic but characterized by its sincerity and verisimilitude. Miss Bennett is a close student and when she is entrusted with a new role studies its every phase and endeavors to mentally put herself in the position of the character—which results in a perfect rendition.

W. R. C. Attention.

The following paragraph has been turned into this office for publication by one of your committee.
"We want all the W. R. C. women to come out and take part in the parade and help carry those dear banners that have saved our country. Once more let us be loyal as our boys are all back. Let us all be at the K. P. Hall at 9:30 sharp."

Jersey Breeders Hold Their Regular Meeting.

Tillamook County Jersey Breeders met at the farm of F. Blackadore and Mr. McCormick, Thursday, June 26th. The forenoon was spent looking over the farm and the splendid Jerseys. Mr. McCormick can be complimented on this splendid herd which holds the highest record of butter fat production in the county over all pure bred herds. In looking over some of the young females they would remind one of looking at twins in the human family. They all looked alike.

A big dinner was served at the noon hour. The tables were all loaded to full capacity with the best the world could produce, which was enjoyed by all present. As there were over ninety persons present, it was necessary for them all to proceed to the barn after dinner, to hold their regular business meeting, which was called to order by F. Blackadore, president of the Tillamook County Jersey Club.

The Secretary read a letter from Mr. W. H. Murphy, of Buena Vista, Oregon, wanting to dispose of his herd of Jerseys in Tillamook. The club appointed a committee of three to investigate the health of the herd before they would be allowed to ship them in, as the club has gone on record wanting nothing but good healthy cows to come into Tillamook.

Prof. E. L. Weston of O. A. C. gave an interesting talk along breeding lines and also showed where a grade bull had been sold for beef for a few cents per pound. Where if he had been kept until some of his daughters that did make a great butter fat record were noticed, the bull would have sold for $1.00 or more per pound.

Mr. R. C. Jones, County Agriculturist, gave an illustration on feeding, as to whether the feeding of grain ration with pasture would prove profitable. A chart was used to illustrate a period of years from figures taken from the herd of Joe Durrer, that found without any doubt that a grain ration along with pasture did prove very profitable.

Mr. Ben Kuppenbender, President of the Tillamook County Creamery Association, gave an interesting talk on his trip to California in connection with the advertising campaign. Mrs. Rose Crawford who attended the Jersey Jubilee in the Willamette valley, which lasted for five days, gave a brief descriptive talk on the same. They saw some of the finest Jerseys in the world, Vive La France the cow that holds the world record. Mrs. Crawford told that she got near enough to the cow to place her hand on her, saying "just think to get my hand on the world's record Jersey Cow." There were about 2000 people there to see Vive La France.

Pickard Bros., of Marion, that own Vive La France are thinking of moving to a new location. The Tillamook Breeders have extended a hand of welcome to Pickard Bros. to locate in Tillamook. How fine we should feel to have such men as they are locate in our midst.

This is what Mr. J. L. Siple has to say about Vive La France. Mr. Siple is famous for his art photographs of pure bred cows.

"She is the most beautiful cow in the world, she is absolute perfection, except for an accident in being deprived of green feed for several weeks last year, she would now be holding the world's dairy record. I predict that she will make a record better than 1200 lbs. this year and win the world's record by more than 120 lbs. I also unhesitatingly predict that if she goes to the International Dairy Show at Chicago, this fall she will easily carry off the grand championship of the world. She is a sample of what can be done by way of breeding in Oregon, and Oregon ought to be proud of this perfect cow."—Journal.

It will not be a great while until Tillamook County will have such cows as Vive La France. Why not make our Jersey cows more famous than our Tillamook cheese? Several breeders from the South end of the county were present, they expect to show some cattle at the county fair. We now have several head signed up to exhibit. The club is offering a large sum of money for prizes. Several new members joined the club. There were also several Holstein breeders present.

M. N. Bays, of Cloverdale, reported on his trip to the Cary and Stuart sales.

The next meeting will be held at the farm of Frank Bester, on the 4th Thursday of July.

Enrico Caruso At The Gem.

Under the direction of Edward Jose Enrico Caruso and his company engaged in the filming of "My Cousin", the great tenor's first picture for Artcraft which will be shown at the Gem Theatre next Monday, July 7, went to the Metropolitan Opera House for a number of interior scenes. About five hundred extras were used in the making of scenes with the world famous "Diamond Horseshoe" and balconies and background.

The remainder of the shots for this series of scenes were made at the Manhattan Opera House, due to the fact that the stage of the Metropolitan was utilized for other purposes. Chiefly the painting of scenes for next year's production. About members of the Metropolitan took part in the scene from "I Accel", which was produced on stage at the Manhattan. The support provided for Mr. Caruso is especially fine, his leading woman is Carolina White, a famous opera singer.

Announcement.

Mrs. Holden, after spending months in extensive study in technique and interpretation with Mrs. Carrie Louise Dunning, of New York, will return to Tillamook and open her studio September 1. Applications for admittance to the classes of the Dunning system or for private lessons will be received after August 1st.

Lost a Wheel.

Owing to the fact that his front wheel came off, Charley Kunes who was driving his Ford in from McMinnville last Thursday had to take it to be repaired. If it hadn't been for that, the mere matter of getting forty feet over the bluff, a mile past Grand Ronde wouldn't have fazed him or the Ford. It just happened like this—wheel came off, machine went over, and then they had to haul it back up. The bushes along the bank kept the car from being injured and Charley, being lucky, wasn't injured either.

Hubert O'Dell, who was driving in the same day said it took him 10 hours to come from McMinnville. He thinks his machine knows every hillside along the way, for he had to climb around and over all the bushy slopes there were, and ford the streams as the road is saving very extensive improvements carried out along it.

We Pay

In the application of Mutual Life Insurance Co., of New York, is the following:
"I have paid $— in cash to the subsiding soliciting agent and received a conditional receipt therefor, signed by the secretary of the company, making insurance in force from this date, providing application shall be approved, and policy duly issued."

So if an applicant die or be killed accidentally before policy is received by him or in good health, we pay We also pay dividends at end of 1st policy year.

Billy Burke At Gem.

If you saw "Let's Get a Divorce," a recent Paramount photoplay in which Billie Burke scored so signally a success, you will doubtless be delighted to know that her latest photoproduction, "In Pursuit of Polly," in which the elements of comedy and drama are happily blended, will be presented at the Gem Theatre next Tuesday, July 8.

Miss Burke invariably is delightful in any portrayal she attempts. In this excellent comedy she is seen in the role of the daughter of a wealthy cotton broker, who is loved by two men, but neither of whom she is able to choose for her husband. When requested by her father to make up her mind, she announces she will marry the first man that catches her in an automobile race, in which she is to be given an hour's start.

And so it happens that Polly is involved in a series of adventures, as unexpected as they are diverting. In the course of her efforts to elude her suitors she encounters Colby Mason, a millionaire Secret Service agent, who is searching for German spies and observing her in the company of Emile Kremer, a recognized Hun spy, he concludes that she is his confederate and this ultimately prompts him to place her under arrest on an accusation of espionage. The absurdity of the charge is disproved later, when her two suitors appear and it then develops that according to the agreement, Mason was the first to capture her, is entitled to her hand and greatly to the disgust of the suitors Polly agrees that this verdict is just. Miss Burke is splendidly supported in this unusual photoplay.
