

GARIBALDI NEWS NOTES

Mrs. E.V. Stewart, of Portland, who is visiting friends here, and at Bay City.

Mrs. L.C. Hight, of Portland, who is staying at the Hight Cottage at Rockaway, fell into the bay Tuesday morning. Mrs. Hight was walking along the rocks near the railroad track and slipped and fell flat into the bay. She was poking around for crabs when the accident occurred, and went to the Green Tree Hotel where she was dried out and warmed before leaving.

Mrs. Wertman and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell, of Twin Rocks, were clamming on the island near here Tuesday morning, and all got a sack or more full of clams, as well as the fun of wading around in the water above their knees.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Smith from Bannister, Michigan, are staying at the Rockaway Hight's cottage. They came last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Beltau expected to leave for their old home in Louisiana this Wednesday. They came here with Mr. Remick when he built his mill, and are one of the many going way down south, returning home.

Frances Provoost was visiting here Monday. Everyone was glad to see him again after his years in the army.

The lumber to build the new school sidewalk has arrived, and W. H. Dirby, the builder, expects to begin right away.

Peter Svenson is clearing the block across the street from his home with probable intention to build new residences there.

Driving in from Seattle to visit his mother, Mrs. P. T. Thompson, was William Sharp, of Seattle, who arrived several days ago.

Leaving for her home in Bend, Oregon, Wednesday, was Leone Benner, and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Jeck of Bend, who have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Alice Benner, will drive back in their machine, and she is going with them.

A large number of summer visitors keep the beach inhabited near Garibaldi at all hours of the day. The Green Tree Inn is full, and many of the summer cottages at the cove, and along the bay nearby are full.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson, from Tillamook visited friends in Garibaldi a few days ago.

Ross Casler and wife are leaving early next week for Portland where they will reside.

Hiram Perry and family were down from Scofield Sunday, visiting her mother, Mrs. H. Lederer.

Leaving Monday for Portland were Arthur Hills and wife, who had been visiting here a few days.

Going out for a business trip, was E. E. Richardson of the Cummins Moberly Company.

Mrs. Mary Smith went to Vancouver, Washington, Sunday morning.

"Sure, and they can take it out," was the way many of the Garibaldi people received the news that the telephone from Tillamook had been placed on long distance. "All I had it for was to call up friends there, and order goods—guess they're forcing me to save on the phone bill, because I won't have one any more."

HOW'S YOUR BLOOD? Pimples and Eruptions Mean Bad Blood

People who have impure or impoverished blood should be careful to take only a temperance remedy made of wild roots and barks such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is and has been for nearly 50 years. Ingredients printed on wrapper.
The first day you start to take this reliable medicine, impure germs and accumulation begin to separate in the blood and are then expelled through the eliminative organs.
In place of the impurities, the arteries and veins gradually get fresh vitalized blood and the action of this good blood on the skin means that pimples, boils, carbuncles, eczema, rash, acne and all skin blemishes will disappear. Then you must remember that when the blood is right, the liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys become healthy, active and vigorous and you will have no more trouble with indigestion, backache, headache.
Get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to-day at any medicine dealer, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial package to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.
Spokane, Wash.—"I had scrofulous sores on my body and limbs and boils were always coming out in different places. I took treatment from several doctors but they did me no good. At last I began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for my blood. When I had taken three bottles of it the sores were all healed and I have not been troubled any more with boils."—U. S. Scraps of Paper.

Don't know what was the matter with Jess Willard, but maybe he had read too many of those "too proud to fight" speeches.

The use of church organizations and church papers for administration propaganda is hurting the churches far more than it is helping the administration.

President Wilson says those that criticize what was done at Paris lack vision. It would be better for some people if they had less vision and more eyesight.

The London Standard now claims that it was Lord Balfour who got the United States into the world war. We knew who it was who kept us out of the war, but we didn't know it was Balfour who got us in.

After having permitted the destruction in Mexico of a billion dollars worth of American property and the destruction of scores of American lives, the administration now begins to show signs of perking up to Carranza in behalf of some oil companies.

By and by the people of the world will find what the big bunk being passed out by the world statesmen will not provide food for clothing and will decide that it will be necessary, after all, for everybody to go back to work.

The New York World suggests that Senators Reed and Borah might start out to prove the world is flat. All they would have to do is to make the World advocate that doctrine, and denounce all who oppose it as numbskulls and traitors, and to have President Wilson espouse it.

The newspapers of Oregon which have attacked Townley and Gibert, of the non-patriotic Non-partisan league, have been vindicated. Both men have been found guilty in a Minnesota court of conspiracy to thwart the government's preparations.—The Sentinel.

Kings are no more, but only names of Kings," soulfully sings Robert Underwood Johnson, in a poem lauding the Versailles covenant as a character of freedom. Cable the news to the Mikado of Japan by way of Shantung. The kings are still with us but the jacks seem to be numerous.

It is officially announced that the vast new territory turned over to Great Britain by the pending treaty will be considered a part of the British Empire. Of course it is. The word "mandatory" is one of those numerous phrases invented to make something look like what it isn't.

First the league of nations to keep us out of war, and then the treaty with France which binds us to get into war whenever the peace of Europe is threatened again by any war in which Germany and France are both engaged. You can pass some people any old bunk and make 'em like it.

Japan has apologized to us for an attack on our marines in Peking and five Americans who went to France to stop the German invasion have been killed by a mob at Brest. We are going to appreciate more and more the job of chairman of other people's business which some "world characters" are trying to force on us.

President Wilson is to have the first Victory medal. The National Republican offers the hole in a Salvation Army doughnut to the subscriber who suggests the best design for the medal. Our idea is a gold brick, surrounded by the motto: "War in the East; Peace in the West; Thank God for Wilson. He kept Us out of War."

"I have never had a moment's doubt as to where the heart and purpose of this people lay," said President Wilson. The last show down on President Wilson's comprehension of the views of the American came at the election of November 5th last. Artemus Ward said: "It is better not to know so much, than to know so much that it isn't so."

President Wilson says what he calls the "old order of international politics" should be destroyed "at what ever cost of independent action." To make any sacrifice of American independence in the hope of bringing about an improved brand of European politics is being rather generous at the expense of the American people, isn't it.

W. J. McAdoo, told an audience at the Methodist Centenary at Columbus O., on the Fourth of July, that the league of nations would keep us out of war. Having been kept out of war once by Mr. Wilson, people who do not substitute the sway of rhetoric for the guidance of common sense are inclined to wonder whether one should continue to buy gold bricks of the same old confidence man.

How did it ever get into the head of any gentleman on Capitol Hill that the reason that the people turn the Democrats out of power in Congress was to give Republicans an opportunity to continue by legislation, waste or extravagance or unnecessary governmental expenditures in any form? The way to retrench is to retrench, and the present job requires not merely the pruning knife, but an axe.

Secretary McAdoo says in an article on the British-Wilson covenant: "We are now trying to restore to the different people of the world the territories which of right belong to them." Yes, that's the reason we took the Chinese province of Shantung and gave it to Japan, and then refused to sign the treaty with reservations against the peace of international grand larceny.

Prof. Charles W. Elliott, of Harvard refers to the opposition of the British-Wilson covenant in the Senate as "ignominious and dastardly." There were learned gentlemen in New England who regarded the declaration of Independence as "ignominious and dastardly" at the time it was adopted, and evidently there are some venerable reminiscences of that faction lingering in Massachusetts yet.

After the republic of China, without being consulted by the Paris peace makers, had been robbed of ten thousand square miles of land and forty million people, she was refused permission to sign the treaty with reservations. Probably the reason President Wilson's claquers say the United States cannot sign the treaty with reservations is that they think this country in the same class with China.

Members of the Wilson delegation to the peace conference were greatly surprised by the announcement that the trial of Kaiser Wilhelm had been decided upon, and declared they had never heard of it. These diplomats are surely entitled at least to the courtesy, in this day of open covenants openly arrived at, of being told in advance what they have decided upon, instead of being left to find out from the columns of the newspapers.

Speaking at Columbus, O., son-in-law McAdoo declared that opposition to the British-Wilson covenant was the work of the friends of war. Barring the general untruthfulness of that assertion, doesn't McAdoo know that if there were only friends of war in this country before his father-in-law was rejected on the pledge to keep us out of war, there wouldn't be any left after experiencing a war as conducted by a Democratic national administration?

Storage holdings of frozen and cured meats and poultry were decidedly larger July 1 than on the same date a year ago, reports made public by Department of Agriculture showed. The increase that meat supplies held in storage varied from 5 per cent in the case of dry salt pork to 199 per cent in the case of frozen lamb and mutton. Large amounts of all kinds of poultry were shown by the reports to be held in storage, amounting in some classes to an increase of 467 per cent over July 1, 1918.

Josephus Daniels says the league of nations constitution is the greatest covenant since the Sermon on the Mount. Greater than Magna Charta, greater than the United States constitution, greater than the Declaration of Independence, greater than the Emancipation proclamation, but it is hard to believe that it is greater than the North Carolina election law which prohibits the secret ballot and deprives about seventy-five percent of the citizenship of the state of the right to vote.

Continued falling off in the revenues of the railroads of the country are shown in the report made last week by Walker D. Hines, director general, on expenses and revenues of the class I railroads for the month of May and for the five months ending May 31. The net operating revenues for the roads during the month of May, 1919, were $58,637,741, as compared with $90,999,112 for the same month in 1918, a decrease of $32,361,371. Mr. Hines points out that one-twelfth of the annual rental use the companies covered by the report amounts to $74,351,326, so that the net loss to the government for the month was $35,511,330.

Hundreds of thousands of aliens are said to be preparing to leave this country for Europe as soon as they can get passports, carrying with them an average wealth, accumulated here, of two thousand dollars. This paper repeats its suggestion of an annual head tax for every unnaturalized alien employed or in business in the United States. No man unwilling to assume the obligation of American citizenship should be permitted to enjoy the privileges of accumulating money under the protection of our laws which he intends to carry with him abroad. Such a tax, moreover, would help equalize the competition between cheap foreign labor and labor accustomed to the American standard of wages and living.

"You are not allowed to smoke in this car," said the conductor to another Irishman.

"Faith I'm not smoking," said the Irishman.

"You have your pipe in your mouth," said the conductor.

"Yes, and I have my feet," said the Irishman.

"And I'm not walking," said Pat.

Victor Moore in "Snobs"...
Victor Moore, the famous comedian will be seen in his celebrated comedy "Snobs" at the Gem Theatre next Friday, August 1. There are few comedians who have Mr. Moore's ability to provide clean and wholesome amusement, and he never has appeared to greater advantage than in this production. Mr. Moore plays the part of a milk wagon driver who inherits a title and twenty millions and who enters society with more or less painful results to his pride. It is a charming comedy that will prove delightful to every spectator. Anita King heads the supporting cast of unusual merit.
