

TILLAMOOK, OREGON, SEPTEMBER 18, 1919.

Tillamook Jottings.

This is fun week at the Gem. Six nights of comedy at Gem Theatre, see program.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sackett on Sept. 14, a daughter.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bousie, of Bay City, Sept. 16, a son.

Four pigs for sale, 2 months old, for $8.00 if sold at once. W. H. Banke, Netarts, Phone 9F14.

Charles Kunze was in from Hermon and was again enjoying Tillamook weather.

A fire in the O'Donnell house called out the hose company on Tuesday, and the damage amounted to about $200.00.

Kasper Zweifel and family left Monday for the East, where they will visit relatives and friends for about six weeks.

Three stages of love, Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Gem, "Almost Married," "Getting Married" and "Happy Tho Married."

St. Mawes Eminent lass, a high bred Jersey calf, owned by Joe Donaldson, died of disentry. This calf was valued at one thousand dollars.

Tillamook Jersey Club will meet at the farm of Mrs. Theresa Ross, one half mile southwest of Tillamook on Trask river, Thursday, Sept. 25.

Mrs. Clifton Ross and family, of Salem, who were visiting at the home of Attorney Geo. P. Winslow, returned to their home on Wednesday.

Marriage licenses were issued to Wilfred Bonin and Susanna Brown; Charles Fred Edwards and Elma Elsie Stimpson; Alvin A. Wicklund and Cecil Kinnaman.

The Tillamook Meat Co. has given orders for a cold storage plant to be placed in the Sanitary Market, which will be a valuable addition to that establishment.

The case of Vern Blanchard who is charged with violating the fishing law, will be tried before Justice of the Peace Stanley and a jury tomorrow.

A typographical error in the Automobile Record's report of Tillamook county placed the number of Maxwell cars at 12, whereas the correct number is 72.

The Tillamook quota for the Boy Scouts is almost full. If you want in and are over 12 years of age, see the Scoutmaster at once and register or it will be too late for this year. Harry E. Tucker, Scoutmaster.

Sherriff Campbell was advised that a Saxon Six was stolen from the garage at Bay City, which belonged to Geo. Matthews. As far as the Sheriff's office is aware, no trace of the auto has been found.

William Chisholm, of Nehalem, and one of the well known loggers of that part of the county, was declared insane on Wednesday, and will be taken to the asylum at Salem.

If you are not able to laugh, or do not have the habit of laughing, you will get some good practice at the Gem Theatre this week, look at the program and you'll want to come every night.

Fred C. Scamp vs. Charles Elliott is a suit filed in the circuit court to recover the sum of $195.65, the value of 12,910 pounds of chittim bark taken from the plaintiff's place, which the defendant agreed but failed to pay for.

Ruth Partridge, sister of L. E. Partridge, of the Gem Theatre, who spent the fall and winter here two years ago, is expected to arrive the last of this week and will probably make Tillamook her prominent home.

Dr. J. E. Shearer announces his return from the service in the medical corps, United States Army, and will resume his medical and surgical practice in office rooms 12 and 13, National Building, Tillamook.

A large number of local people are planning to go to the State Fair next week. County Agriculturist Jones will have charge of the Tillamook booth and the exhibit left here on Wednesday.

Mrs. H. T. Botts left for the East the first of the week, and will be away about three months. Mr. Botts went to Portland with his wife and expects to leave for the East later in the year.

Isaac Moore and Margarite J. Moore vs. Tillamook County is a suit filed in the circuit court to restrain and enjoin the agents of the county from trespassing upon their land, and that the plaintiffs have judgment against the county for $300.00.

All patrons of the rural mail delivery routes, whose mail boxes are not located on the right hand side of road to the carrier, are hereby requested to move them as provided in Section 827 Postal Laws and Regulations. All failures to be reported.

Dr. and Mrs. Lebow have returned and will be at Dr. Wise's Tillamook office on Monday and Tuesday, Bay City on Wednesday; at Cloverdale on Thursdays; Nehalem, Fridays and Wheeler Saturdays.

Married Monday, Sept. 15, at the Christian Church parsonage by Rev. Harry E. Tucker, Leroy T. Edwards and Katie Agnes Stimpson, of Tillamook. They left immediately for Salem, where they will make their future home.

There will be a sale of 20 head of registered and grades at the Cattle Exchange next Saturday, Sept. 20. 12 head two years and over and two yearling heifers. Same will freshen within the next eight weeks. All high producers and high testers, some milking. Sale starts at 1 p.m.

Wilfred Bonin and Miss Susanna Brown were married at the home of the bride, at Yellow Fir, Sunday, Sept. 14, at high noon. Mrs. Dora Young, of Beaver, assisted by Rev. G. E. McDonald, of Portland performing the ceremony. A sumptuous dinner was served to twenty-two people. The bride wore blue taffeta silk.

Henry Leach, of Fairview, has purchased the Anderson cottage at Bay-ocean. This cottage is in a sheltered cove with a fine view over the bay. They will occupy the cottage at intervals during the year, especially during the winter hunting season. A number of Tillamookers are contemplating securing cottages at Bay-ocean.

There is some controversy as to who the blackberry patches belong to on the public road opposite a person's property. The same question was raised last year and it seems to us that an opinion was given by somebody that the bushes belonged to the owner of the property. This is not authentic information, and only given for what it is worth.

Weather conditions in Tillamook county have been peculiar the last week. Early Saturday morning there was a frost and later in the day the wind turned to the East, making it the hottest day of the year. The east wind continued until Sunday afternoon, when a refreshing west wind took its place. Since then the weather has been threatening to rain, but the rain did not materialize.

Attorney Geo. P. Winslow has accepted the chairmanship for Tillamook county for the Roosevelt memorial association, which was offered the editor. Mr. Winslow left Wednesday for Portland, but would not be there in time to attend the conference of the state executive committee but would attend the meeting last evening, which was addressed by Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.

N. P. Wheeler Jr., of Pennsylvania, whose family have large timber interests in Tillamook county, and A. L. Hall, of Los Angeles, Cal., were in the county last week. As they were also interested in dairy cattle, County Clerk Mason on Friday morning took them to see some of the dairy herds. They were more interested in the Holstein, but Mr. Mason showed them some Guernsey herds as well.

On Wednesday afternoon, September 10, Mrs. Winslow and Mrs. W. A. Lewis entertained the J. U. G. club at the home of the former. After a pleasant afternoon of needle work, the hostesses served a dainty luncheon to the following guests and members. Those present were Mrs. Ross, of Salem, Mrs. Bales, Mrs. Partridge, Mrs. Mannix, Mrs. Anderson and Mesdames Foster, Hanslmair, Stanley, Christensen, Carroll, Small, King, Williams, Allen and Swenson.

It is reported that the clerk of the Hotel Portland, where President Wilson stopped while in that city, had requests from 50 persons who wanted to occupy the room and bed the next night that the president occupied. We wonder whether postmaster Todd, C. E. Trombley, J. S. Lamar and S. A. Brodhead were among the number. It must surely be some honor to sleep in the bed that the president occupied who kept us out of war and promised to reduce the high cost of living six years ago, but hasn't done so.

All discharged soldiers who did not receive their papers while in the service, and who were not discharged on account of physical disability, may appear before the examiner, and the circuit court on Monday, October 6, with two witnesses who knew them before they entered the service and can identify them as the persons named in the discharge. Proof of five years' residence is not necessary, nor is it necessary to post the names. They can appear and be naturalized the same day before U. S. Commissioner Tomlinson.

Evangelistic services at Tillamook Christian Church beginning next Thursday evening, Sept. 25. Mr. Cross and wife have an international reputation as gospel workers and we invite all to hear these noted people.

The grocers can only dole out $1.00 worth of sugar to their customers, as the government still controls that necessary article of domestic use. We hope and pray that the food commissioners will not make us eat again those nasty "substitutes" the democrats filled us up on during the war. It may, however, come to that, for food stuffs are going out of the country in large quantities to feed people in other countries.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan Hawkinson, who have been conducting "Bungalow City" at Bayocean for the past season, have closed up the bungalows and have moved to their cottage for the winter. They had a very successful season this year and have given very good satisfaction to their patrons. Mr. Hawkinson has charge of a number of the best cottages at Bay-ocean and will make a number of improvements in and about these premises during the closed season.

Miss Ethel White returned from her vacation Friday, and will start her classes this week. She has devoted herself to the study of music for a number of years, having studied in the Albany and O. A. C. conservatories besides taking the Dunning normal course of Mrs. Carrick Burke of Portland. She has taught the Dunning system for two years and feels especially capable of teaching the beginners as well as the more advanced. At present she can be found at Prof. O. V. Whites on 3rd St and 3rd Ave. Phone 18 W.

The O. E. S. Kensington Club met in regular session Thursday afternoon at the Masonic hall. Mrs. McMurry, of Salem, Worthy Grand Matron of order of Eastern Star for Oregon, was guest of honor, and during the afternoon gave a most interesting talk on Eastern Star work. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served in the dining hall, where lovely bouquets of pink and white sweet peas were artistically arranged adding a charming note to the affair. After a time spent in social conversation the club adjourned, with a vote of thanks to the hostesses for a very pleasant and profitable afternoon.

Wicklund-Kinnaman Wedding

The marriage of Miss Cecil Kinnaman and Alvin Wicklund was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kinnaman, in Tillamook, Sunday afternoon, Sept. 14.

The bride was gowned in Georgette crepe, over white satin and carried a shower bouquet of roses.

Miss Jetta Little, gowned in pale pink satin, was bride's made, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Clifford Kinnaman attended the bridegroom as best man. Mrs. H. S. Mann played the wedding march.

Following the service, which was read by the Rev. Dr. Gibson, of the M. E. Church, the bridal dinner was served.

Miss Kinnaman for the past few years has been connected with the E. T. Haltom's dry good store, of Tillamook, where she has made a host of friends.

Mr. Wicklund, who has but recently returned from service overseas, is a well known and prosperous farmer of this vicinity. There were about fifty friends and relatives present at the ceremony. The bridal couple left Monday morning for Pendleton and Salem, where they will visit the hostesses served a dainty luncheon to the following guests and members. Those present were Mrs. Ross, of Salem, Mrs. Bales, Mrs. Partridge, Mrs. Mannix, Mrs. Anderson and Mesdames Foster, Hanslmair, Stanley, Christensen, Carroll, Small, King, Williams, Allen and Swenson.

Fighting For Gold.

Tom Mix the William Fox star will appear on the screen at the Gem Theatre next Thursday in as fine a Western play as has been put on the screen. It is called "Fighting For Gold," and the scenario, which was written by Charles Kenyon, is based on "The Highbinder," the book by William Macleod Raine. It contains a charming love story, and Mix again demonstrates that he can ride up and down at any angle, that he can rope four men at one time and break up a plot against him, and that he is a wonderful marksman. He proves, too, that his leading lady, Teddy Simpson is much safer in his arms than she is riding in a runaway wagon. In this scene Mix gives his audience a thrill, for riding at break neck speed he calls to the girl to jump from the wagon and he catches her in his arms as easily as a professional catches a baseball.

A bear is a lively feature in the film and acts his part wonderfully well. The bear was either tame or was mesmerized, because Mix handled him as he would a pet collie.

Favors Continuation of Allied Church

At a meeting of the members of the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, it was decided to continue the Allied Church, composed of the Methodist, Presbyterian and United Brethren, provided that in the selection of a pastor it rotate with the three denominations. Following was the resolution passed by the Presbyterians:

"Resolved, that we continue the present arrangement, provided that the other congregations remaining in the alliance agree to a rotation of ministers in the order of Methodist, Presbyterian, and United Brethren; if being understood that the Allied Church will receive and support a Presbyterian pastor beginning October 1st, 1920; and further provided, that this arrangement and provision be accepted and ratified by all the congregations involved and their constituted authorities (district superintendents, etc) by October 1st, 1919."

Jury List for October Term.

The jury for the October term of the circuit court, which will convene the first Monday in October, was drawn on Wednesday, as follows: James Williams, farmer, Tillamook. Frank Mayer, farmer, Hebo. L. J. White, farmer, Meda. J. W. McKinley, laborer, Bay City. T. D. Lucas, farmer, Cloverdale. Frank Clark, farmer, Tillamook. N. G. Boquist, farmer, Tillamook. F. R. Beals, real estate, Tillamook. Andrew Anderson, farmer, Tillamook. E. M. Condit, merchant, Tillamook. V. Donaldson, farmer, Tillamook. J. T. Nevins, shoemaker, Bay City. Verner Holden, farmer, Tillamook. Claude Lewallen, farmer, Hebo. William Glick, farmer, Cloverdale. W. F. Messner, farmer, Cloverdale. D. J. Dunn, farmer, Meda. Geo. H. Williams, cruiser, Bay City. Edw. Morehead, farmer, Beaver. Robt. Watt, millman, Bay City. D. L. Jones, farmer, Blaine. W. H. Edson, farmer, Blaine. Lewis Anderson, millman, Hemlock. F. L. Buell, farmer, Tillamook. Wm. Goeres, farmer, Tillamook. P. E. Allen, farmer, Nehalem. C. W. McIlvaine, theatre, Bay City. C. Christensen, farmer, Bay City. Albert Boon, blacksmith, Cloverdale. P. W. Barrett, printer, Tillamook. D. A. Bailey, farmer, Cloverdale. Judge Geo. R. Bagley will come to Tillamook the end of the month and will take up equity cases until the time of holding the regular session.

Fairview Farmers to Build Water System.

A company has been organized among the Fairview dairymen and has been incorporated as the Fairview Water Supply Co., of Tillamook, Oregon, of which Wm. Maxwell is president; John Schild, vice-president, and Rollie W. Watson, Sec. Treas. The directors of the corporation are Wm. Maxwell, John Schild and Geo. Williams. Articles of incorporation were filed several weeks ago for $20,000.00, and the company proposes to commence at once to build a modern up-to-date gravity water system, with their source of supply from Hughey creek, above the site of the old May-Cooper water system that supplied Tillamook for years. The new system is a long felt want, and the dairy farmers interested are very much in need of this water system. Besides supplying the farmers it will also supply the Holstein, Fairview and Elwood factories with an abundance of pure water, and also the Odd Fellows Cemetery and the new fair grounds. Some 50 or more farmers will be supplied with water, which will accommodate over 1500 head of cows. This is a move in the right direction in putting in a permanent gravity water system, and will add a great convenience as well as a value to the district which it will serve. It is planned to have the supply installed and in operation at the earliest possible date. We wish to congratulate the stockholders and the promoters of the enterprise for their spirit of progress in making this improvement.

Nestucca Valley Dairymen's First Annual Festival.

On account of the rain last Thursday, Sept. 11, the big dairy festival planned by the Nestucca Cow Testing Association, which was to have been held at the farm of Mr. McKilip, was held at the grange hall at Cloverdale. A large number of dairymen and their families spent the best part of the day in social enjoyment as a consequence of this festival. A great community spirit was further cemented together by the good things that were brought forth. The noon hour arrived with a bounteous spread such as the dairymen of the Nestucca valley know how to prepare and from well filled baskets and other places too numerous to mention the tables were loaded to groaning under the feast prepared by willing feminine hands. Mark Bays affiliated at the coffee pot, and believe me it was some coffee with rich cream and sugar. A number of visitors from the Tillamook Cow Testing Association were present and enjoyed the hospitality of the Nestucca Association as well as the remarks made at the afternoon session. State Dairy and Food Commissioner Mickie, was the principal speaker and made an excellent talk on lines of development and progress shown by the dairying interests of Tillamook County. Carl Haberlach and Ben Kuppenbender, of the Tillamook County Creamery Association; Mr. Westover, of the O. A. C.; Dr. Lyttle, State Veterinarian and Roy C. Jones, County Agriculturist, made some very fine talks on interest to all. County Agent Jones also acted as master of ceremonies.

State Dairy and Food Commissioner Mickie, drove his car from Portland to Cloverdale on Wednesday, the day before the festival, through the reservation mud in the rain and made several detours on account of road work in Yamhill county, and got stuck in the mud at one place until he was helped out. He stated that if any one wanted to take a chance of riding with him that they could do so that afternoon after the meeting as he was determined to be in Portland that night. This shows the spirit of our state commissioner as it was quite noticeable that there were a number of dairymen who lived close by who did not attend and who would have profited by the excellent remarks made at the meeting.

Professor Westover, of O. A. C., spent several days in Tillamook county, during the week with county agent Jones, in visiting numerous herds and farms in the county, as did also State Veterinarian, Dr. Lyttle, with Dr. E. L. Glaisyer, County veterinarian.

Wm. Hare and his wife and family were present at the festival. Dr. Reedy and his wife; Miss Cary, Jimmie Watson, Rolleta Watson, and Rollie W. Watson spent the day at the festival also. The attendance filled the grange hall almost to standing room being at a premium.

Now to the arrangements and inspiration of the First Annual Nestucca Cow Testing Association Festival, it appears that Miss Miller, the Test-rite, was responsible for the meeting, and many compliments were paid her for carrying out the plans that made the day so enjoyable to all. Many thanks to her and here's hoping that this will not be the last of a most enjoyable event.

Everything Good About "Getting Mary Married."

Marion Davies' latest Select Picture "Getting Mary Married" which can be seen at the Gem Theatre, Sunday, September 21, is the best thing Miss Davies has ever done. It so completely eclipses her previous productions that there is no comparison. Miss Davies has seized an opportunity to show her sterling worth. There is a long list of good things to be said about Miss Davies and her latest production. Her support is good, the titles are good, the continuity is good, the photography is good, the direction is good, and the lead, played by Norman Kerry, is unusually good. Altogether it is a top notch picture.

Sensational Cases Filed.

C. E. Hadley vs Paul Ebinger and Tillamook County Bank, and Paul Ebinger, trustee, is a suit filed in the circuit court growing out of a purchase of promissory note to the amount of $9,200.00. Prays that the defendants be cited to appear, and that the Tillamook County Bank be decreed to be the trustee of the plaintiff and to hold for the plaintiff the promissory notes and agreements, and that the defendant bank be required to deposit in court the notes and documents.

F. D. Small and D. C. Urie, partners doing business under the name of Small and Urie, vs. Sam Bauer, otherwise known as Simon Bauer, Emma Bauer his wife, F. R. Beals and Thad Robison, is a case filed in the circuit court, in which the complainant alleges:

On May 8, 1915, Sam Bauer, of Neskowin, executed a mortgage to F. R. Beals, on certain real estate near Neskowin, to secure a note for $11,500.00, payable sixty days after date. On the following day F. R. Beals assigned the note and mortgage to Thad Robison. On the 31st day of July, Thad Robison assigned the note and mortgage to the First National Bank of Camas, Wash., as security for a debt which is said to amount to about $7000.00.

F. D. Small and D. C. Urie signed the note to the bank as securities for Robison. About the 15th of August, in compliance with an agreement between Robison and Sam Bauer, Thad Robison obtained a loan from the Mortgage Company, Holland-America, for $6,500.00 on a portion of the real estate, and at the same time, released from the operation of the original mortgage, the portion of the real estate securing the loan of the Mortgage Company. Up to this time no assignments of the mortgage to the First National Bank of Camas, had been recorded.

The Holland bank advanced the $6,500.00, which was paid over to Robison. Upon learning of this situation, the First National Bank of Camas, assigned their claim to F. D. Small and D. C. Urie, sureties on Robison's note to the bank, and they bring suit for the full value of the original note, amounting to $11,500 and for foreclosure of the entire original mortgage to Beals.

The Cheese Situation.

Carl Haberlach returned from a trip to Portland and Seattle, where he had gone in the interest of the cheese market. He also heard President Wilson at Portland Monday evening at the Auditorium. He reports a great deal of miscellaneous Washington and Oregon cheese in dealers hands in Seattle, but many of the factories have closed down and will be compelled to close down shortly because they cannot get enough money for their cheese to meet the condenser competition. Much of their cheese has been selling for 28c, and the condensers are now paying $3.25 per 100 lbs. of milk. Should our market be placed at 30c, it will bring their prices down to 26c, and it would be only a short time until their cheese stocks are used up and the market be in good shape again. It is expected when the present stocks are used up, the market will be in good condition until next spring.

The Wisconsin market dropped to 26 1/2c at Plymouth this week on twins, and for that reason it was thought best to drop the Tillamook trip price to 30c. That will keep the Wisconsin cheese off our market, as it is felt it would be a mistake to permit our market to be flooded with cheaper Wisconsin cheese now and then have a slow sale here the balance of the season. It is felt that the drop will be only temporary, however, and that better prices will again prevail when present miscellaneous stocks are used up. Many Tillamook people do not yet fully realize that we are getting large returns for the comparative small cost of inspection, selling and advertising. On the other hand, many people demand cheese they can sell cheaper, especially to certain classes in the larger cities.

The association will store several thousand boxes of cheese in Los Angeles and San Francisco for awhile, as there is a certain demand for older cheese and buyers do not feel like storing cheese in face of the agitation for lower prices. It is either to store some cheese or to cut prices below cost of production to move it, and the dairymen have decided to do some storing on their own account. If it pays the dealer it should pay us.

Novel Theme Employed in "Happy Though Married."

That the management of husbands cannot be reduced to a written formula with the same accuracy as a receipt for doughnuts is the theme about which is developed a series of delightful comedy situations in "Happy Though Married." Enid Bennett's new Paramount photoplay which will be shown at the Gem Theatre next Monday.

This new picture from the studio of Thomas H. Ince is a story that turns the laugh on jealous husbands and wives with a heavy sugar coating of comedy slips over the advice to brides not to accept too seriously keepakes of olden days they may find in their husband's trunk.

That man is a ready victim to the green-eyed monster is brought out by the action of the story and the conclusion is that literary treatises on how to manage wives and husbands all must have been written by bachelors and old maids.
