COAXING YOU TO SMILE.

Hubby's Wearing Apparel.

A woman crossing from Detroit to Windsor, Canada, was asked by the customs officer if she had anything dutiable. She assured him that she had nothing but wearing apparel in her trunk, but at the bottom of the largest one, which to him seemed the most suspicious, were found twelve bottles of whisky.

"Madam," said the officer, sarcastically, "do you call these wearing apparel?"

"Certainly," she replied archly. "Those are my husband's nightgowns."

What He Plays.

Two men who had been old school fellows met the other day in a restaurant. After exchanging greetings, one said:

"By the way, old chap, when at school you used to be rather fond of music. Do you play any instrument now?"

"Yes," was the reply; "second fiddle at home."

Not What She Wanted.

They are next door neighbors. She was sprinkling the lawn and he was sitting out in the yard taking the cool of the air. He's a bit slow of comprehension.

"Give me leaf!" she called to him, meaning that she dared him to let her turn the hose on him.

"What's that," he asked.

"I said do you give me leaf?" she repeated.

"Sure you can have the whole paper," he replied, reaching for the newspaper on which he was sitting. He thought she wanted a page from the paper.

He Feared the Worst.

She was a sweet little thing with the warplike waist, and passersby had nothing but admiration in their eyes for her. But what was that? She had fainted.

Tenderly they carried her into a drug store. An Irishman, who had observed the occurrence looked in after a few minutes, and inquired:

"How is she now?"

"Oh," was the reply, "she's coming to."

"Ah" murmured the son of Erin, "come in two—has she? Poor thing, bedad, it's just what I was afraid of!"

Cause for Gratitude.

"I got a cinder in my eye. Should I complain to the railroad administration?"

"You reached your destination without other mishap and in a reasonable length of time, didn't you?"

"Oh, yes."

"In that case, instead of complaining, you ought to wire your thanks to the railroad administration."

Duck Shooting October First.

The federal season for duck shooting will be followed by the State Game authorities, according to an announcement made by Carl D. Shoemaker, State Game Warden. For all of Western Oregon, or Game District No. 1, which takes in all of the counties west of the summit of the Cascade Mountains, the season opens on October 1st and closes on January 15th, both days inclusive. For Eastern Oregon, or Game District No. 2, the season opens on September 15 and closes December 15th, both days inclusive.

The courts have uniformly held that the Federal law is supreme and if seasons are to be changed they must come through the Federal Government and not the state. Sportsmen throughout Oregon will, therefore, observe the Federal laws and seasons with reference to the shooting of ducks. However, all other provisions of the state law, with the exception of the opening and closing dates, will be enforced as there is no conflict with reference to bag limits, hours for shooting and method of pursuit. The bag limit for migratory birds is twenty-five in any one day and not to exceed thirty in any seven consecutive days.

Bids Wanted.

Bids for the erection of a play shed will be received by the District Clerk of District No. 4, on or before 1 p.m. September, 22nd, 1919. Specifications can be seen at the office of the Nestucca Valley Enterprise. The school board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Alexander Rock, Clerk.

The report of the railway commission shows that 1599 relatives of officials hold annual railway passes under government ownership. Those who know this administration's disposition to look out for its relatives, that isn't surprising, but there ought to be some explanation of the fact that four mother-in-laws are on the list.

Passing the Word Along

THERE'S a good fellowship between car-owners which makes everybody anxious that the other should get all the benefits going in the handling of his car.

That's why there is so much mouth-to-mouth advertising of Firestone Gray Sidewall Tires.

One man tells the story of the better-than-ever work he is getting this year from the Gray Sidewall Firestones. The other buys a set—and so the good word passes along.

Result—wonderful and constantly growing numbers of this tire all over the West.

Used to be the American policy, in case of injury to an American citizen to demand an indemnity. Now we pay a ransom.

Vice President Marshall says that the real cure for the high cost of living is for the people not to live so high. Well, there is more sense in that than in continuing to blame it on the damnable Payne-Aldrich tariff law, under the circumstances.

A reservation of "regret" as to Japan's acquisition of Shantung would be a queer bit of mollycoddlism. Why express regret about something that you help perpetrate?

Democratic congressmen are complaining because a hold-over chaplain in the House has been requested to deliver no more prayers from the Speaker's rostrum in favor of the British league of nations. But what a howl they would have set up if he had been allowed to pray on the other side of the question.
