

TILLAMOOK, OREGON, OCTOBER 2, 1919.

Tillamook Jottings.

Spend your evenings at the Gem Theatre.

A marriage license was issued to Frank E. Cross and Mabel Harlung.

Ed. Dunn, of Dallas, is visiting friends and relatives here this week.

Rev. C. E. Gibson, of the Allied Church, is attending the annual M. E. conference at Salem this week.

Wanted, housekeeper, girl or middle aged woman, good wages. Phone 169-R or call room 4, Masonic Bldg.

Dr. Shearer returned from Portland on Wednesday where he has been attending a medical convention held there.

The regular meeting of the Civic Improvement Club will occur next Wednesday afternoon in the City Hall at 2:30 o'clock.

Have you looked at the Gem Theatre program this week? Do it now. You will want to see the plays offered, they're all good.

A. G. Beals vs. Silver-Spruce Co., is a suit filed in the circuit court to recover $387.00 for goods sold the defendant company.

A decree was granted in the divorce case of Alice Benner vs. Allen Benner, which was tried before Justice Bagley on Wednesday evening.

Miss Elaine Todd left Sunday for Seattle, Wash. She will attend the State University there and take up a course in fine arts and designing.

Weather conditions in Tillamook changed the first of the week. After two nights of frost, rain again made its appearance on Tuesday morning.

Druggists methods used in chronic diseases of stomach, bowels, liver, diabetes, brights disease, and nervous conditions. Room 4 Masonic, Bldg.

Stop! Look! Read the program offered at the Gem Theatre this week will interest you. You can't pick a poor one, you'll want to see all of them.

C. W. Miller was in from Portland Tuesday. He will move his family to Aberdeen, Wash., for about two months and will then move to California for the winter.

Owing to the Tillamook Creamery Association having to place considerable cheese in cold storage, the monthly checks will not be issued until the 15th of October.

F. H. Brades vs. Lindie Thompson, et al, is a suit filed in the circuit court to recover certain sums of money from the defendant and the estate of L. E. Thompson.

Any one having a room or apartment, unfurnished or partly unfurnished which they will rent to desirable party, leave word at the Headlight office for appointment.

If you are looking for any one this week and don't locate them, call at the Gem Theatre, they will probably be there enjoying one of the classy programs that are billed in the program.

Dr. and Mrs. Lebow have returned and will be at Dr. Wise's Tillamook office on Monday and Tuesday, Bay City on Wednesday; at Cloverdale on Thursday; Nehalem, Fridays and Wheeler Saturdays.

Conover & Condit moved into their new quarters on Wednesday having bought out the 'Tillamook Feed Co.' stock, where they will do business in the future and will be glad to see their old and new customers.

John Plasker has sold the 'Palm' confectionery to F. L. Eberman, a former Tillamook boy, who took over the stock on Wednesday. Mr. Eberman was recently discharged from the navy, having served a year and a half.

Piano tuner, J. L. Wall, from Portland is in town. If your piano needs attention leave orders at the Tillamook Drug store, and be assured of first class work at the most moderate price, consistent with best workmanship.

County Agriculturist Roy Jones and wife returned from Salem where they had charge of the county exhibit. Tillamook County had a good exhibit but the judges placed it fourth on the list, there being only four coast counties exhibiting in this district.

Married, on the 28th of September at the home of E. E. Cross, at Hebö, Oregon, Frank E. Cross and Miss Mabel Harlung. The ceremony being performed by Justice of the Peace R. B. Black. The happy couple are well known in the south part of the county.

Dr. M. E. Rinehart, of Nehalem, is now in charge of Dr. Boals practice while he is in the east. Dr. Boals had the misfortune to have his fingers burned with the X-ray, and went east to have them treated. Should the treatment not bring about the desirable results, it is thought he will have to have several fingers amputated.

Albert Byers, who has been with Halton's for five years, left on Wednesday for McMinnville, where he will have an interest in the Osborn department store of that city. Mr. Byers made good while in Tillamook, and became quite popular with those who traded at Halton's store, especially in the dry goods department. Mr. Byers was a good all round man, having a thorough knowledge of the dry goods business as well as a good window dresser and advt. writer, and for that reason we were sorry to see him leave the city, where he has made many friends, who wish him success in his new field of effort. What is Tillamook's loss is McMinnville's gain.

Clay Daniels took two Holstein heifers to the State Fair and carried off the grand and grand champion prizes. Had the Holstein breeders of Tillamook county taken the same interest in displaying their blooded stock at the state fair as they did at the county fair, they would have carried off a large number of blue ribbons and won over $1,000 in prizes.

A call was made on Saturday for a contribution of old clothes to be sent to Armenia. Owing to conditions brought on by the war the people of that country are suffering, and a relief ship will leave New York early in November for that place. Anything that will keep a man, woman or child warm through an Oregon winter is needed. Clothes to be left at the Fire Co.'s rooms or in the basement of the city hall before noon on Saturday of this week.

Robert J. Watt vs. Silsby Wood Working Machine Co. is a suit filed in the circuit court to recover money for labor performed between April and August, 1919, at the request of defendant. The complaint alleges that plaintiff and Alex Watt agreed to work for the defendant, and when they demanded their wages, after giving three days' notice that they were going to quit work, the defendant refused to pay them, the amounts due being $761.24 and $104.44.

Bert Pugh was in the city Tuesday from Portland. He has been engaged by E. T. Halton to take charge of the dry goods department of his store and will be the ad man. Previous to coming to Portland, where he is employed by Ben Selling, he was in Colorado. Mr. Pugh appears to be an exceedingly fine gentleman and Mr. Halton has been fortunate in obtaining his services for the dry goods department of his store, for Mr. Pugh has had considerable experience. He left Tuesday for Portland, and will return the first of the week with his wife and family, taking Mr. Byer's place in the store.

From present indications the Allied church, which is composed of the Methodists, Presbyterians and United Brethren will be dissolved, which was formed during the war, as it was thought the city had too many churches. It seems that the presiding elder of the M. E. Church has promised to appropriate $10,000 towards the building of a new M. E. church in the city and in that event the Methodists will have to retain their organization. The Presbyterians agreed to retain the present arrangements, provided, however, that a Presbyterian minister be engaged next year and a United Brethren the following year.

CHEESE SCORE AT STATE FAIR.

Tillamook County Fell Down—Coo County Taking First Place.

Coo County obtained first honors in the cheese scoring contest at the State Fair last week, with Tillamook County fourth on the list, which caused more or less surprise in this county. Prof. E. H. Farrington, of Wisconsin, did the scoring, and the reason that Tillamook cheese fell down was on account of newly made cheese being sent from this county, and cheese with more age from the other counties, and as Prof. Farrington favors cheese with age to it was the reason that the Coo County and Lane County cheese obtained more points.

The scores were as follows:
Guy Bunn, Coo 95 1/2
— Martig, Lane 95
— Anderson, Coo 95
Harry Thomas, Tillamook 94
Albert Schiappi, Tillamook 94
Albert Worthington, Tillamook 94
— Lundy, Coo 94
Frank Wilson, Tillamook 93
Harry Hogan, Tillamook 93
Garden Road Cheese factory
— Marion 93
Wisconsin cheese 93
E. L. Hopkins, Tillamook 92
Hugh Barber, Tillamook 91 1/2
— Valentine, Coo 91
Argo Cheese Factory, Coo 88

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS TO ORGANIZE.

Large Enthusiastic Meeting of Breeders at State Fair—F. R. Beals Elected Vice-President.

The Holstein breeders of the state had their annual meeting at the State Fair at Salem last Thursday afternoon in the assembly hall. After the election of officers for the ensuing year everybody got acquainted and many matters of importance to the pure bred live stock industry of the state were discussed, not only for the promotion of the black and white but for all breeds of cattle as well as hogs, sheep and horses, as well as the feathered tribes of pure-bred production.

The general theme was, that all producers of critters in the state should begin at once to lay the foundation for the future to get into the pure-bred game from every point of vantage.

The Holstein breeders of the state, who believe in the black and whites, are asked to join their county organization, and in this way become a member of the state wide organization for promoting their best interests individually and collectively, by co-operating along a given line.

Those counties of the state, wherein the organization work is not active are to be promoted at once, with the end in view of securing a large co-operative organization. The board of directors have provided that the membership and dues shall be $2.50 per year, for the county association, out of these dues shall be levied the sum of $1.00 per year for the state membership from which sum will be subscribed and sent to each member a Holstein Breeder's publication, thus placing each member in touch with the larger side of their problems by coming closely in touch with their fellow breeders.

It was decided to show at the Pacific International Live Stock Show at Portland in November and with this end in view many breeders are now laying their future plans to be at the big livestock show in Portland next month.

The officers elected were W. McCall, of Prineville, Pres.; F. R. Beals, of Tillamook, Vice-Pres.; Mr. Hall, of Gresham, Sec-Treas. Directors four in number were elected from each district in the state, the state being divided into four districts for organization. Rollie W. Watson, of Tillamook, was elected to carry out the plans for a booth and publicity at the Pacific International Show. Much enthusiasm was shown for the coming big show and it was also evident that Tillamook County has the largest and liveliest organization in the state at this time. Those present from Tillamook were F. R. Beals, Clay Daniels, R. W. Watson, B. A. Folks, J. J. Rupp and Frank Trout. Clay Daniels was much elated over the fact that his yearling junior and senior heifers took all the prizes at the fair this year, and by the way, the only show from Tillamook that got a look in.

Ed, as he was familiarly known, has been a resident of this state for the past 16 years and was well known in this county, having made his home here the greater part of the time.

Ed, possessed a kind, congenial disposition and made friends wherever he went. During the last year of the late war he was stationed at Fort McDowell, California, being a member of Company C, Coast Artillery Corps, and at the time of his discharge had attained the rank of Sergeant.

In being called while in the prime of young manhood, he leaves, besides young friends, his mother Mrs. Della Smallwood, of Salem, Oregon; also three sisters, Mrs. Francis J. Welsh, of Beaver, Oregon, and Edith and Iol Bailey, of Salem. Also many other relatives both in this state and in Ohio.

His father preceded him 17 years ago, and Ed, grew to young manhood without the protection and comradeship of a father's love. During his brief life, he bore his suffering with great fortitude and welcomed death as a release from pain. He was laid at rest at Beaver cemetery, September 28, 1919, Rev. Young officiating.

We will not say that he is dead but only gone before—Where no farewell tears are shed And partings are no more.

Arrest Deaf Mutes Who Peddle.

Recently a middle aged man appeared on the streets of Tillamook peddling a cheap quality of jewelry. He presented a card which declared himself to be a mute. Unwittingly he knelt at the back door of Mrs. J. A. Craven, who is a real deaf mute. The man was apparently startled at coming face to face with a genuine deaf mute and made a hasty retreat, but he still tried his luck at the other houses, working on the sympathy of the public under false pretenses.

Mr. B. L. Craven, deaf brother of Mrs. Craven's husband, who happened to be visiting at the house with his wife, confronted him and almost used force in attempting to make him desist from his further peddling. He had a neighbor call up the police department and when the sheriff ar-

MEETING OF JERSEY CATTLE CLUB.

Jersey Men First in Line With Pure Bred Stock—A Model Farm Run By A Woman.

The regular meeting of the Jersey Cattle Club was held at the home of Theresa Ross on Thursday of last week. The members of the Jersey Cattle Club are an enthusiastic and progressive class of people. It will be remembered that it was among these men that the first pure bred stock of any breed was brought into Tillamook County. It is the Jersey men who have preached "better bulls at the head of your herd" and were also the first to form resolutions and go on record to banish the scrubs. Soon the other breeds fell in line, and now the Guernsey, the Holstein and other breeds have taken up the good work and many pure bred registered cattle are in the county, with the Jersey in the lead, for with economy in production, persistency in Yield, Quality of product, health and vigor, early maturity, longevity, prepotency, beauty and attractiveness—to find all these qualities in one animal is to find the perfect cow, and this is the Jersey.

At this meeting of the club, the men looked over the thrifty little farm of 17 acres belonging to Mrs. Ross. Most men with larger farms and more strength would do well "to sit up and take notice". Mrs. Ross keeps twelve cows, two heifers, one bull and two horses on her seventeen acres. It may be possible that she will have to buy two tons of hay. Her fence rows are mowed out and kept clean and the grass cut away from the few stumps that remain on her place. She has a fine garden of many varieties of vegetables, besides a splendid potato crop. Mrs. Ross and her young daughter do most of the work. During haying she employs help in putting in her crop. But all the milking and other work that must be done on a farm is done by Mrs. Ross and her daughter.

Death of Ed Bailey.

Again the Death Angel has entered our midst and called to his eternal home, Edward Albert Bailey, who was born near Malta, Morgan County, Ohio, September 18, 1879, aged 39 years.

Ed, as he was familiarly known, has been a resident of this state for the past 16 years and was well known in this county, having made his home here the greater part of the time.

Ed, possessed a kind, congenial disposition and made friends wherever he went. During the last year of the late war he was stationed at Fort McDowell, California, being a member of Company C, Coast Artillery Corps, and at the time of his discharge had attained the rank of Sergeant.

In being called while in the prime of young manhood, he leaves, besides young friends, his mother Mrs. Della Smallwood, of Salem, Oregon; also three sisters, Mrs. Francis J. Welsh, of Beaver, Oregon, and Edith and Iol Bailey, of Salem. Also many other relatives both in this state and in Ohio.

We will not say that he is dead but only gone before—Where no farewell tears are shed And partings are no more.

Vivian Martin Has Fine Role in Her New Picture.

In her newest Paramount picture, "You Never Saw Such a Girl," Vivian Martin is almost a feminine version of the Beloved Vagabond. As a little child she is left parentless with a farming couple who later die and she, with an old maid school teacher, a dog, a cat and shotgun, starts forth in a dilapidated automobile to hunt for a grandmother. She finds instead love, adventure, romance and riches. This picture will be seen at the Gem Theatre next Monday, and it is certain to prove wholly delightful. In the cast appears Harrison Ford, as leading man, with a fine company of players.

But all the milking and other work that must be done on a farm is done by Mrs. Ross and her daughter.

A Jersey Breeder Writes:

"From a recent article in the Headlight by the Holstein Breeders' Association, one would imagine that the other pure bred live stock breeders are not progressing any. The Jersey Club can readily prove this a misstatement. There were eighteen pure bred Jersey breeders who exhibited at the fair and only eight Holstein breeders: 66 2-3 per cent of the herds on official test in the county are Jerseys and 83 per cent in the state. This official testing is one of the most important steps in the pure bred live stock. If pure bred breeders do not take advantage of it they may as well have scrubs or grade cows."

"Why does the Jersey lead in the county and state? Because she is the most economical producer. Our experimenting colleges have proven that for quality and quantity of cheese the Jersey cow cannot be beaten."

"Jersey milk proved to be the most appetizing at our recent county fair. A glass of milk and a piece of cheese was given to all who wished until 75 gallons of milk had been consumed."
