SILVER IS KING IN ARIZONA

Old and New Mines Are Being Opened After Peace Brought Slump in Copper.

Silver is king again in Arizona, says C. P. Reiniger, president of the Association of Arizona Mining Men, according to the Philadelphia Ledger's Phoenix correspondent. With the copper market stagnant as a result of the cessation of war requirements, the demands for white metal are pouring in from all quarters of the globe. Many of the producers are replacing their copper handling equipment with plants to turn out silver.

"There is a big demand for silver in China and India," says George D. Bethune of Globe. "The United States government is filling it at $1 an ounce, the same price at which it is supplying 200,000,000 ounces of the metal to the British government on contract."

Years ago, when Tombstone was at the height of its fame, Arizona was a great silver producer. Then came the slump. Copper was discovered. Last year, according to the estimate of the United States geological survey, Arizona produced $192,000,000 worth of copper. "Give us copper," was the cry from the United States and the allies.

With the armistice conditions changed overnight. One billion pounds of copper, more than a third of which was Arizona production, are estimated to be awaiting sale. So copper is down and silver is up.

Surveys of the state indicate that in the Prescott and Tucson mines silver predominates over the other metals; in Bisbee, Jerome, Globe and Ajo its values as a by-product run heavily. From the neighborhood of Prescott come reports of the revival of old silver mines. Battle Flat, scene of a sanguinary Indian fight in the seventies, is reported to have yielded new discoveries of silver, and two fresh camps have been opened on this spur of the northern slope of the Bradshaw.

DID SEEM LIKE PROFANITY

But Really, Prospective Bride Was Merely Trying to Tell Marriage License Clerk Her Name.

C. M. Kennedy, who issues marriage licenses in Seattle, Wash., is an exceedingly polite and withal a proper young man. When a prospective bride and groom approached his desk recently here's what happened that shocked Kennedy:

"Name, please?" said Kennedy to the sweet-faced young thing before him.

"Helmheart Hurts," came the unexpected reply.

"Er—I'm sorry," said Kennedy with a frown. Turning to the prospective groom, Kennedy asked his name, thinking to give the coming bride an opportunity to recover from her evident attack of heart trouble.

"George T. Halliday," said the man. "And now your name?" said Kennedy to the apparently recovered bride-to-be.

"Helmheart Hurts," she repeated. "Young lady," said Kennedy severely, "I am a married man and a father, and it grieves me to hear such language from a girl getting a marriage license. If your heart hurts I'm sorry, but profanity is wholly unnecessary."

"What the future Mrs. Halliday is trying to tell you," said the young man, "is that her name is H-e-l-m-h-a-r-t H-u-r-t-z." Kennedy apologized.—Cincinnati Inquirer.

Wireless vs. Wire.

Will all the telegraph and telephone poles, wires and instruments connected with these methods of communication be simply so much "scrap" in a year or so? Representative Steenerson of Minnesota, ranking Republican member of the house post office committee, predicted "Yes," if the progress now being made in wireless communication continues. Mr. Steenerson, as quoted in The Wireless Age, says:

"Radio communication is the combatant that before the end of the year the average American will not be bothering much about the transmission of an ordinary message over an ordinary telegraph or telephone wire or as to whether the ordinary telephone or telegraph wire is owned or controlled by government or private interests."

Spoiled Sarah's Great Scene.

During a performance of "Hamlet," in which Sarah Bernhardt was impersonating the melancholy Dane, the graveyard scene was entirely ruined by the unfortunate appearance on the stage of a cat, which walked in from the wings and began to wash its face. The Divine Sarah, somewhat disconcerted, stamped her foot, and the cat, taking fright, jumped into the open grave, the resting place of "poor Yorick!" Madame withdrew and the curtain descended. A cat can look at a king, but not at a queen—of the drama!

Life in Other Planets.

Marconi truthfully says that many of the planets are much older than ours; therefore, beings who dwell thereon ought to possess vast funds of information that would be of incalculable value to us poor mortals. He makes this reasonable statement in a recent interview: "It is silly to assert that other planets are uninhabited because they have no atmosphere or are so hot or otherwise totally different from the earth. If there were no life in the sea, we would maintain to our last breath that life therein is a dream."

Coming "The Squaw Man" With an All Star Cast.
No photoplay produced in recent years presents a better cast of screen players than that employed by Cecil B. De Mille in his superb production of "The Squaw Man," a picture production of Edwin Milton Royle's famous stage play, which will be presented at the Gem Theatre next Tuesday, October 7. From start to finish, the photoplay is made up of "The Squaw Man" is a drama of the most graphic character, with intense human interest, stirring heart appeal of character depiction. Sam Wood and Ann Baughens aided Mr. De Mille in the direction and Alvin Whickoff was the camera expert.
