Read 'Em Over Carefully.

The national committee of the American Bankers' association at its recent convention in St. Louis handed down ten rules to be observed by man in his tussle with the cost of living:

1. Make a budget.
2. Keep an intelligent record of expenditures.
3. Have a bank account.
4. Carry life insurance.
5. Make a will.
6. Own your own home eventually.
7. Pay your bills promptly.
8. Invest in War Savings Stamps and other government securities.
9. Spend less than you earn.
10. Share with others. Thrift without benevolence is a doubtful blessing.

Pacific International Live Stock Exposition Notes.

In its ninth year of growing success the Pacific International Live-stock Exposition will be given at Portland, Oregon, the week of November 17 to 22 under the roof of a new pavilion covering 7 1/2 acres and representing an investment of nearly half a million dollars. Three thousand pure bred animals in the cattle, horse, sheep, swine and goat classes have been entered. Eleven states are represented in the exhibits. Coincident with the Exposition will be held the extensive exhibits and practical educational program of the Western Dairy Products show. The annual convention of the Western Dairy Instructors' Association will also be held in conjunction.

Mr. McAdoo's Mistakes.

Taxes will not be reduced says an exchange. Congressman Longworth says: "The late congress made one serious mistake. It accepted the statement of the former Secretary of the Treasury Mr. McAdoo that $4,000,000,000 of taxation would be sufficient to finance this government next year. Now we find that $4,000,000,000 will not come within about $7,000,000,000 of meeting the present estimate of our actual expenses for the next fiscal year." The present Congress therefore has to assume the burden of the miscalculation of the last Congress, or rather the miscalculation of Mr. McAdoo. So taxes will not be reduced because they cannot be reduced. One is justified in asking where, beyond being Mr. Wilson's son-in-law, Mr. McAdoo is entitled to consideration for the presidency? The above shows his incapacity as an administrator of the treasury. His failure as a railroad administrator was unpeakable.

Women Voters of World 100,000,000.

There are approximately 100,000,000 women voters in the world today according to the statistics compiled by the National American Woman Suffrage Association. Of these 15,000,000 in 29 of the states of this country have the right to vote for the next President.

Seventeen countries of the world have now granted their women full suffrage: They are: New Zealand, Australia, Finland, Norway, Iceland, Denmark, Russia, Great Britain, Austria, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Sweden, Germany, Holland, and, very recently, Italy. In all but the first four this reform has been brought about since the outbreak of the war. A bill for equal suffrage has passed one house in France since the war ended and French women say that their complete enfranchisement cannot be long delayed. Italian women expect to cast their first votes in 1920 when, it is hoped, all women in the United States will have equal political rights with men.

More Propaganda in the Public Schools.

The Duluth News-Tribune has exposed use of the public schools of Duluth for league of nations propaganda. In the Central High School it was found that the students were using a pamphlet containing the covenant of the league of nations, with this inscription on the title page: "A charter for world democracy, framed by the representatives of the victorious, free nations, extending to all the world the principles of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and the Monroe Doctrine."

The Duluth High School uses as a text a book called "Democracy of today," by Christian Gauss, of Princeton University. It carries a portrait of President Wilson as a frontpiece. Fourteen of the eighteen speeches printed in the work are by President Wilson. Curiously enough, this book is used in the English department. The same work is used in the Washington, D. C. High School, and has been widely introduced wherever heads of schools are in sympathy with this sort of propaganda.

Indicating the importance of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition, opening on Monday November 17, at Portland, Oregon, is the fact that there are 1200 entries in the beef and dairy classes. The Pacific International is the culminating event of the coast circuit and all the finest entries that have carried off premiums and trophies at other coast shows will compete for final honors at Portland. Premiums aggregate $75,000.00.

President Wilson is said to have been greatly cheered when he learned that the amendment to the peace treaty given the Chinese province of Shantung to the republic of China rather than to the Japanese empire had been defeated. News that the great doctrine of self-determination of peoples and of the reign of justice and right in international relationships had been so gloriously vindicated as in this case ought to cheer anybody up, even the author of the fourteen fine points.

The opening of the new pavilion of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition at Portland occurs on November 17. This show is now in its ninth year and will celebrate with proper ceremonies the occupation of the new half million home. It will mark an important epoch in the history of the livestock industry of the Pacific Northwest. Three thousand pure bred animals have been entered, also 150 show horses. An important feature of the Livestock Exposition which will run for one week is the Western Dairy Products Show and the convention of the Western Dairy Instructors' Association under the same spacious roof. Eleven or more states will be represented in the exhibits. The United States government exhibit from the National Dairy Show at Chicago, costing $25,000, is to be shown in its entirety at the Pacific International Livestock show at Portland, November 17-22.
