Choice Holstein Bulls For Sale.

I have a few choice registered Holstein bulls I am offering for sale for a price much less than the same breeding can be procured elsewhere. The dams of these bulls are all good individuals and good producers; one of them Lady Aagie Ormsby of Rock won the milking contest at the recent County Fair. The sires are Maplecrest and King Segis breeding. These animals are here at home where you can inspect them; we invite the fullest investigation; come at milking time and bring your scales and Babcock tester.

The Mohammedan, an American missionary organization proudly announces, have elected Mr. Wilson a prophet. Well, he is a prophet, isn't he? Didn't he tell us a few days before the election of 1916 that the election of Hughes meant war while his own election would be a guarantee of perpetual peace?

America The Laggard.

Sir Auckland C. Geddes, the British Minister for National Service and Reconstruction, is quoted as saying that Great Britain has before her the greatest trade opportunity in all her history, and that she has no occasion to fear American rivalry in the markets of the world if only her manufacturers and merchants make up their minds to work together. That they will work together and improve their opportunity, we may be quite sure.

Professor Lucien L. Bruhl, the distinguished French economist, reports that "A new France, rejuvenated and vigorous, is undertaking the gigantic problems of reconstruction. Her friends are optimistic and look forward to a period of productive activity." There is every reason to believe that the wonderful vitality and efficiency which France displayed during the war will also be triumphantly manifested in the peace which follows the war, and that she will show herself as potent in industry and commerce as she did on the field of battle.

Germany in reopening commercial relations with all the nations of the world, is reminding her that her industries remained unravaged and unimpaired by the war, and that her productive efficiency is now practically as great as ever—in some respects, greater than ever, because of the enormous quantities of machinery and materials which she stole from France and Belgium. There can be no doubt that in this there is far more truth than idle boasting, and that Germany is once more one of the most formidable factors in the trade of the world.

Meanwhile the United States marks time. It has no minister for National Service and Reconstruction, nor anybody doing the work which pertains to such an official. All through the war our administration refused to make the preparations for resuming commerce in time of peace which all the other important Powers were making, because it was afraid of being suspected of mercenary and sordid motives! And even now that the war is over, it does nothing. Strikes prevail and diminish our productive capacity, shipping is demoralized, and we fall steadily behind in the competition for the markets of the world.

It may be that the administration is deliberately delaying all promotion of our commercial interests until the ratification of the treaty without reservation or amendments. It may be that we are not to be permitted to improve our commercial opportunities until we have assented to the abrogation of the Monroe Doctrine and the ham-stringing of the Constitution. But we cannot help wondering what it would profit us to meddle in the politics of ever nation under the sun and lose our place in the markets of the world.—Harvey's Weekly.
