

TILLAMOOK, OREGON, JANUARY 8, 1920.

Tillamook Jottings.

Max Schultz and wife left for Portland on Wednesday.

Sheriff Campbell left this morning for Portland to consult an oculist.

The civil service examination for postmaster of Tillamook will take place next Wednesday at Hillsboro.

There were 110 births, 51 deaths and 97 marriages in Tillamook county last year.

W. B. Alderman vs. T. R. Fraser is suit filed in the circuit court to recover $210.00.

The weather since the first of the new year has been clear and bright, with frosts at night.

C. S. Graves is in the city this week for the purpose of shipping out car load of blackberries. He will ship another car later.

John A. Carroll, who was road master last year for Tillamook County, has returned from Portland. His family will return later.

Rev. Edward Gittens, former pastor of the M. E. Church, died last week at the home of his daughter at Newberg.

When you think of wood, coal or any other thing, think of "Tillamook Transfer Co.", Liberty Temple. "We Deliver the Goods."

For Rec touring cars, Reo light trucks, commerce trucks and all kinds of truck trailers and tractors, see the TillamookAuto Co.

Deputy Sheriff John Aschim will be a candidate for sheriff at the primary election, and having had considerable experience as a deputy, he will make a strong candidate.

Owing to some short circuits in the wiring of the court house it is necessary to rewire the entire building, as the court house was in danger of being burned. The jail is also to be re-wired.

State Senator T. B. Handley left the first of the week for Salem, when Governor Olcott has summoned a number of law makers to pull him out of the hole, as one of our prominent citizens remarked.

John J. Perry had the misfortune to have his left hand badly mashed at the Yellow Fir Saw Mill, a cant having struck the hand, which could have been more serious, as a ring on one of the fingers somewhat protected the hand.

Hiss Ethel White returned from a two weeks vacation at her home in Brownsville, and will start a new class in the Dunning System this month. Those thinking of taking of music in that system should notify her before the class is organized.

Attorney H. T. Botts and Mrs. Botts have returned home, from a two and a half months visit in the East. Mrs. Botts came to the city on Monday, while Mr. Botts remained over in Portland having several cases in the supreme court to argue. He will return to the city on Friday.

Mrs. Millis has resigned her position as deputy county clerk, and the county has lost a splendid official. Always exceedingly courteous and obliging to those who had business at the clerk's office, she was likewise industrious, giving the county a good day's work, admirably performed. Mrs. Millis went about her work in a business like manner and kept busy from Monday morning to Saturday evening.

The Prescilla Club met with Mrs. A. Schultz last Friday afternoon. The first meeting in the new year was well attended and all present spent a pleasant time with needle work and conversation. After the business meeting a dainty lunch was served by the hostess. The invited guests were Mrs. Stranahan, Mrs. A. Anderson, Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mrs. F. C. Baker and Miss Sheidler. The next meeting, February 6, will be held at the home of Mrs. Condit.

Maude Clair Gaines vs. Marion Leslie Gaines is a divorce suit filed in the circuit court. These parties were married in Tillamook county, on November 2, 1917, and the plaintiff alleges cruel and inhuman treatment on the part of the defendant, who frequently became intoxicated. The plaintiff was compelled to leave defendant because he failed and refused to support his wife. Plaintiff asks the court to dissolve the marriage contract and restore her maiden name, Maude Clara Wilson.

F. C. Esch, who has been in charge of the J. C. Penney store here for the past four years, severed his connections with the store here at the end of the year. He will be succeeded as manager by Mr. Goodall, of Salem. Mr. Esch will go to Salt Lake next month to attend the conference of Penney store managers, after which he will return to Oregon and take over the management of the new store the company will open at Tillamook.—Itemizer.

We received two and a half tons of news paper this week, being half of a five ton order given several months ago, and it is out intention, as soon as we use up the previous stock on hand, to increase the size of the Headlight to seven columns, as a number of our business men see that advertising pays. This was fully demonstrated last month when the business men did considerable advertising in the Headlight. Every business man in this city should advertise. It makes a live business center of every city, and there would be more business done here if the business men would go after it by doing more advertising.

Elizabeth Covel vs. O. E. Shelley and wife is a suit filed in the circuit court to recover $2,500.00 from the defendants. The plaintiff alleges that he was occupying a certain dwelling located on Fifth Street, in Bay City, belonging to the defendant, for which he paid a monthly rental of $12.00, and last October the defendant began operations in and about the dwelling house for the purpose of raising the same to a higher level which fell from its temporary foundation in such a manner as to cause serious damage and injury to the plaintiff, who claims defendant did not use proper appliance nor substantial materials and was himself unskilled in the particular work, and in these matters the defendant was guilty of carelessness and negligence. The plaintiff states that she is a woman advanced in years and at the time of receiving the injuries was in a weakened condition due to certain illness, and that as a result of the negligent acts of the defendant, she suffered great injury and damage, had one rib broken and a break down.

THE HOLSTEIN BREEDERS

Hold Annual Meeting at The Court House January 19.

The annual meeting of the Tillamook County Holstein Breeders' Association will be held in the court room at the county court house in Tillamook City, Oregon, on January 19th, in the afternoon. The meeting will be called to order at 1:30 p.m. The first matter to come up will be the reports of the various officers of the association, which should be looked forward to with much interest by the members of the past year. Election of officers for the coming year and matters of importance to the dairymen and breeders of pure-bred cattle in Tillamook county will be taken up for general promotion. All dairymen of Tillamook should take an active interest in the efforts being put forth to develop the pure-bred cattle industry and should begin the year 1920 with the end in view of bettering their present conditions. Every dairymen in Tillamook County should become a member of one of the various pure bred cattle clubs. It will pay large returns for their time and price of membership.

A special invitation is extended to all dairymen to participate in this meeting, and especially those who believe in the "Black and White" Holstein-Friesian cattle. Your membership is most earnestly desired to cooperate in promoting the pure-bred cattle industry of Tillamook County. It is expected that matters pertaining to the State Fair, the Pacific International Stock Show will be discussed and also some plan worked out and suggested for the development of the Tillamook County Fair grounds and buildings.

Now, if you are interested in the development of dairying and pure-bred cattle in Tillamook County, you are invited to be with us. Don't forget the date.

Tillamook County Holstein Breeders' Association, Rollie Watson, Sec-Treas.

Hunter-Todd Wedding.

One of the prettiest weddings of the year was last Thursday, January the first, at eight o'clock, when Miss Alice Todd became the bride of Frank Hunter, at the Christian Church. The wedding was simple and dignified in all its details, only the altar being decorated. This was beautifully decorated with Christmas greens, potted plants and ferns.

The service was read by Rev. Harry Tucker. Mrs. Tucker played the wedding march, assisted by Chester McGhee on the violin. Lee Doty sang "Oh promise Me."

The bride was becomingly gowned in a dress of georgette over satin. Her veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet. Her attendants, Miss Elaine Todd, was lovely in yellow satin and chiffon, carrying a sheaf of roses. Minnie Pearl Tucker, as flower girl, was adorable in a frilly organdie frock. The bride was given in marriage by her father, P. W. Todd. The bridegroom was attended by Harold Tucker. The ushers were Miss Eva Wheeler and Miss Faye Harris. After the ceremony a reception and supper was given to the relatives and attendants at the Todd Hotel.

The bride is a daughter of postmaster P. W. Todd and Mrs. Todd, of this city. She is a talented musician, and was graduated from the Tillamook High School and later from the San Jose (Cal.) Normal.

The bridegroom is a well known rancher and a nephew of Mrs. M. A. Wheeler. He is an ex-service man, having enlisted in the Tank Corp. After their wedding trip to the "Sound," they will be at home to their friends at their ranch south of this city.

A Gripping Photoplay.

Cecil B. DeMille's latest production "For Better, For Worse," an Arctcraft special feature which will be shown at the Gem Theatre next Tuesday, discusses the most vital modern problems now engaging public attention. Of course, it would be impossible to deal with all the problems in a single picture, so Mr. DeMille has taken one of the most important angles of the subject—the status of the man who stayed at home instead of going to France. The story was written by Edgar Selwyn, and is scenarized by Jeanie Macpherson, and it is an extremely powerful and gripping picture drama.

Considerable Cheese In Storage.

Carl Haberlach returned from a trip to Portland and Seattle on Sunday, where he had gone to look after cheese sales and boxes. He reports considerable cheese in dealers hands in all markets, and an unusually large storage stock in most parts of the country.

Tillamook has been greatly handicapped by lack of cheese boxes and for this reason it will be two or three weeks before checks are out. He finally succeeded in getting one car load at reasonable prices, and these should be in the coming week. He reports having made a more thorough visit than usual to all buyers and took a week for that purpose.

Tillamook cheese has more than held its own in both Seattle and Portland the past season and while prices were unusually high, our cheese has taken the place of some other makes. The cheese consumption for the year was smaller than usual, due to high prices.

He reports the make for 1919 at approximately 84,200 boxes.

Tillamook County Creamery Ass'n. Holds Meetings.

Twenty directors of the association met at the Court House on Monday. The matter of recommending cheese makers to the several factories was taken up and the following were recommended as cheese makers: F. B. Culberson, Roy Savage, August Grab, Travon Hare, Frank Wilson, Harry Norberg, Hugh Barber, W. H. Thomas, Alex Hogan, N. Christensen, Geo. Lane, E. L. Hopkins, Reed Farmer, Alex Walker, R. A. Cooper, Albert Wade, Mert Everest, A. N. Sheets, E. A. Fogg, Lloyd Craver, Mrs. Hughes, Albert Schlappi, Frank Thomas, Chas. Fletcher, Harry Fletcher, Marion Hopkins, Joe Everest, Gordon Hare, Oscar Werschkul, G. L. Burge, Werner Weiss and N. N. Kirby.

Geo. Williams, Ben Kuppenbender and Carl Haberlach were appointed a box committee to report at next regular meeting.

Report of Inspector, F. W. Christensen, read and approved. His report was ordered published. Total of 316 seconds.

Report of D. Tinnerstet, dairy inspector, read and ordered published. It was decided to give a banquet to members of the Cheese Makers' Association and their ladies on Feb. 2nd, 1920, at 7:30 p.m., and president Ben Kuppenbender was authorized to appoint committees later on refreshments and entertainment.

Matter of advertising was taken up in the afternoon. Both Mr. Botsford and Arthur Booth appeared before the meeting and discussed the proposed 1920 campaign at length. None of the directors present were willing to go over the amount per pound appropriated for the past year and meeting finally decided to levy 3-10 cents the pound on cheese made during 1920 for advertising purposes. There are still some bill boards under contract, which will be paid for from balance of 1919 fund.

Charles Ray a Ball Tossing in His Latest Photoplay.

Quite significant is the title, "The Busher," given the Thomas H. Ince Paramount photoplay, with a baseball atmosphere, which comes to the Gem Theatre next Wednesday.

Charles Ray portrays the title role. He appears first as a baseball twirler in the bush league. His regular business is being hired man for Deacon Nasby, and his Sunday baseball playing has to be done on the quiet. The Blue Sox of the professional league laid over in Brownsville by a wash-out on the railroad, see the country boy's throwing and he becomes a member of the big team. Success inflates his chest and he forgets the fervid promises he made a little country girl before he left the falls for the wiles of the city vampire.

On the particular day that his Brownsville comes to see him pitch his overconfidence proves his undoing and he is taken from the game in disgrace. The city girl "throws him down." The only one giving him any sympathy is the little girl from the hick town. He goes back to his job as hired man resolved never again to throw a baseball. Curiosity, however, makes him climb a tree to see the rubber game of the bush league. When Deacon Nasby discovers him in the ninth inning and tells him all is lost if he doesn't pitch, he refuses. But when told his sweetheart's brother has bet all his money on the game, he goes into the pitcher's box and saves the day. Then, of course, he is hired back by the manager of the city league, and his love affair prospers.

13,280 DAIRY COWS IN TILLAMOOK COUNTY.

682 Dairy Farms—2254 Heifer Calves Raised Last Year.

There are three very essential branches of the dairy industry in Tillamook County which go a long way in the production of cheese under strictly sanitary rules and regulations. One is the system of having all cows tested for tuberculosis by the county veterinarian, for unless the cows are tested for that disease, milk is not permitted to be taken at the cheese factory; the second is the cheese inspector and grader who visits every factory at least once a week to see that proper sanitary conditions exist and grade the cheese; and the last is the deputy dairy and food commissioner whose duty it is to visit the dairy farms and barns, and see that the milk is properly handled and cared for under sanitary conditions.

D. R. Tinnerstet, deputy dairy and food commissioner, submitted a report to the Tillamook County Creamery Association, which is interesting, and shows the work done in his department. He reports 13,280 cows in the county, but this does not include cows kept for home purpose or cows that have been put on the range, but cows producing milk that is taken to the cheese factories or turned into butter.

Dairy Inspector's Report.

The work of inspection in Tillamook County, the banner dairy section of the west, has been very satisfactory in that results have been obtained by co-operation of the dairymen, in securing good clean, wholesome milk delivered at the factories which is the foundation of Tillamook's famous cheese.

In the county we have thirty cheese factories, twenty five are under the supervision of the Tillamook County Creamery Association. The other five are small individual plants where the dairyman make up his own product.

There are 682 dairies in the county, of which 670 are patrons of Association factories.

The average score (as per score card) of these dairies is 61.3, the highest 91.2, and the lowest 27.4.

Tillamook County has 13,280 dairy cows, 584 sires of which 378 are pure bred, and the remainder 213 are grades or scrubs, 98 small dairies do not own a sire, but hire its service and in several places two or more dairymen own a good sire together.

2254 heifer calves were raised the past year, and they represent the pick from dams that have proven their value as dairy cows.

Six barns were condemned, owing to contaminated and unsanitary conditions, and beyond repair. Three of these barns have been replaced with new modern buildings, two are under construction, and another is planned for early this year.

Three milking machines, 32 milk pails, 41 milk cans and 63 strainers were condemned.

Eight Lactometer or water tests were made, and only in two cases did the result show that milk had been adulterated with water.

The sediment test has been effective, and improvement has been shown from time to time in cleanliness. This test is effective, as it shows to the dairymen, without any argument whether they are careful patrons or not.

The advancement of the dairy industry not only depends upon improving the dairy herds so as to get the highest producing cows but also upon the improvement of the methods employed in caring for the cows, barns, utensils and milk.

A successful dairyman not only aims at increased production, but at all times strives to improve the quality of the product.

To produce milk of good quality, there are some essentials that must be observed. Some of these are cleanliness, well lighted stables and milk rooms, plenty of fresh air and prompt cooling.

But very few of the old barns that are now used for dairy purposes were built with the idea of modern dairying. Consequently the task of keeping the stables clean is much greater than it is in a new modern barn. But nevertheless some of the best milk brought to our factories today comes from some of these old barns, and though they would score very low on outside appearance, they are kept clean and sanitary within.

It is encouraging to report that 93 per cent of the barns are either painted white, or whitewashed on the inside.

The dairymen of Tillamook deserve to be commended on the reputation they have made and hold, as clean careful dairymen. Let us still continue to improve conditions in and around the dairy, so that every pound of milk that is delivered to the factory is exactly what the cheese-maker is looking for, to make a No 1 cheese.

A good slogan for every dairymen and cheese maker in Tillamook

County to adopt this coming year is: "No seconds or No. 2 cheese in 1920" D. R. Tinnerstet, Dept. Dairy and Food Com.

Announcement.

Owing to the fact that a large number of tax payers in different parts of the county have asked me to make the race for County Judge, and believing that with my previous experience in County business, I am qualified for the office, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of County Judge, subject to the approval of the Republican voters at the coming Primary Election.

Homor Mason,

Thrilling Scenes Abound in Dustin Farnum's Picture.

"How peculiarly successful is the motion picture in reproducing the powerful effect the reading of a dramatic novel leaves in one's mind is strikingly illustrated in Booth Tarkington's "The Gentleman From Indiana," which will be shown at the Gem Theatre, Friday, Jan. 9.

In sweeping hundreds of armed men over a great landscape down upon the crossroads settlement of the savage Whitecaps, and in presenting a pitched battle at such close range that the powder smoke spurring from the rifle barrels "can fairly be smelt" is an achievement which all but stuns the imagination with its realism.

Against the background there is a charming love story of the Ohio River Valley, which all the better handled for the screen play's having as its star the popular Dustin Farnum, one of the five great actors of the American stage.

Enid Bennett Clears Deep Mystery in "The Haunted Bedroom."

Do you believe in ghosts? Of course not, neither did Betsy Thorne, but if you saw a weird figure moving about in the dim light of a dilapidated grave yard, would you have the courage to try to solve the mystery?

That was the task assigned her as a girl reporter in the latest Thomas H. Ince photoplay, "The Haunted Bedroom," starring Enid Bennett, which comes as a Paramount attraction to the Gem Theatre, Monday, January 12.

It was a mystery a detective could not ferret out; it baffled a materialistic doctor; it staggered the reasoning of the owner of the property, and it was surely too much for the old colored servant.

But the woman's wit of Betsy Thorne tore away the veil of mystery and made the meanderings of a ghost look as reasonable as syrup on your cakes for breakfast.
