"PERFECT" MAN GETS ROAST

London Writer Refuses to Envy Women Who Are "Blessed" With Such a Life Companion.

Every one envied a certain lady because it was apparent that she had such a perfect husband.

True enough, the gentleman neither drank, swore, looked at other women, grumbled, nor did he spend any time away from his wife except when at business.

Yet the woman who "possessed" this model of perfection found him a most irritating companion with whom she was forced to spend her life, says London Answers.

For instance, if she got worn out trying to pacify baby, who was cross, and eventually lost her temper with the child, her husband would come in, take the little one in his arm and amiably try—and often succeed, as a fresh person sometimes does—to work the oracle with calmness.

That would be all very well if he didn't put on the "See how much better my method is" air, which is most tantalizing.

Perfect men are so anxious to obtrude their perfection upon their womenfolk that they often defeat their own ends. They spend money on seats for the opera or buying little presents with no knowledge of whether such will be the most acceptable or desirable gifts.

It is because these men are so good in intentions that their wives haven't the heart to say, "I'd rather have had 5 shillings for a new box iron. It would save me such a lot of trouble."

The husband who has a few glaring faults is pretty sure to look over his wife's failings and humor her whims.

The perfect man has a horrible knack of preaching at his womanfolk.

The woman with a faultless husband often feels like doing something to make him swear at her. Perfection is apt to become dull and monotonous.

Don't envy the woman with a perfect husband, my friend, who wishes your own men wouldn't drop cigarette ash on the carpet or storm a bit when things go wrong; for these careless, "temperish" men have a lot of good qualities to balance their faults.

The man who never raises his voice to complain rarely softens it to wife with loving words of praise.

Shells Still Flying.

Residents of the devastated districts of France are still fleeing from bursts of shell and shrapnel.

The new menace is caused by the small grass and swamp fires, which frequently set off the shells that have been piled up to be hauled away and exploded in some safe place.

Maj. H. C. Greene of Boston had a thrilling ride and narrowly escaped a hall of shrapnel on his way from St. Quentin to Laon as a result of one of these fires. A French woman working in a field near Bouconville was gassed and considerable damage has been done.

In the vast, desolate fields, thousands of unexploded shells have been picked up by German prisoners, and though there are details hauling them away and exploding them in remote valleys every day, there are still long ranks of them everywhere. Sparks from locomotives and from small fires where battlefield rubbish is being burned occasionally set fire to patches of dry weeds, and the accidental bursts are numerous.

Brazilian Church 100 Years Old. Christ church of Rio de Janeiro, which soon will celebrate its centenary, is said to have been the first Protestant church to be built in South America.

It was erected to provide a place of worship for the English community. Two restrictions were placed on the church, the exterior was to resemble a dwelling house and not a temple, and no bells were allowed. Out of this concession grew the religious liberty which now exists in Brazil.

Today there are two Anglican dioceses and 40 churches in South America.

Jack of All Trades.

Although President Emeritus Elliot of Harvard university no longer takes an active part in the conduct of the institution he has been characterized as "Professor of Everything." A man of big acquaintance overheard the following conversation of two rural folk at Bar Harbor a few days ago:

"There goes Professor Elliot."

"Who?"

"Professor Elliot of Harvard college."

"What's he professor of?"

"Well, I dunno, but I guess he's professor of the whole darn thing."

Just a Pocket Piece.

The Newcomer—I can't just get the hang of this American money. This nickel, for instance; what's it worth?

The Old Timer—A nickel? That has no purchasing value these days. It's merely the change you get out of a dollar.

At His Age, Too!

Arriving in Minneapolis to attend the Minnesota state fair, Chief Ka-Be-Na-Wey-Wence, meaning "wrinkled man," seated on the floor of his hotel, announced that he is 130 years old and desired to make immediately a trip in an airplane.

Best Thing to Do.

The theater was in an uproar. "They're calling for the author," said the stage manager.

"Oh, I can't make a speech," replied the man responsible for the play.

"Well, just go in front and tell 'em you're sorry."

Tillamook County Red Cross Chapter Urges All Former Service Men to Stop, Look, Listen!

Because discharged, sick, or disabled soldiers do not know the extent of federal aid to which they are entitled, a great many of them are buying their own artificial limbs, paying for medical attention, or neglecting themselves, in spite of the fact that they can get the very best of treatment from the government.

Reports reaching the United States public health service from stations where hospitals are in operation for the benefit of discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, the war nurses, show that a great number of men who served in the war and were injured have never fully understood the provisions of the legislation supplementing the war risk insurance act.

With the passing of the new Sweet Bill it is now possible for a disabled service man to be eligible for compensation even though he were discharged as early as April 6th, 1917.

On December 24th, the same day that the Sweet Bill became a law by the President's signature, the Bureau of War Risk Insurance mailed out 1,965 checks totaling $799,580.61, to men whose cases became compensable on that day for the first time under the retroactive features of the new law. Twenty-four of these checks in the Northwestern Division and amounted in the aggregate to $17,878.14. Of these checks, Oregon received 9, for $5,761.59. All checks mailed since December 20th should be on the basis of the new law.

Under the Sweet Bill increase in compensation is authorized as follows: That if inability results from injury.

If and why the disability is rated as total and temporary, the monthly compensation shall be the following amounts:

(a) If the disabled person has neither wife nor child living, $80.

(b) If he has a wife but no child living, $90.

(c) If he has a wife and one child living, $95.

(d) If he has a wife and two or more children living, $100.

The Sweet Bill makes provisions, also, for partial and temporary compensation.

The Government is urging all Red Cross Chapters to give publicity to the provisions of the new bill and whenever a physician's examination would disclose the slightest partial disability, such service man should be strongly urged to obtain a certificate of disability so that he and his dependents will be protected in the years to come if his disability should increase.

Further information concerning the provisions of the Sweet Bill, and assistance in the filling out of applications for compensation will be available at the local Red Cross rooms, 206-201 Armory block.

Announcement.

To the Republican voters of Tillamook county.

I hereby offer my services to the people of Tillamook Co. as County Commissioner and respectfully ask your support at the coming primaries I stand for permanent roads properly located and fair treatment to all sections of our county.

H. V. Alley.

Notice to Dairymen.

I desire to call the attention of the dairymen of Tillamook county to the necessity of insuring upon the Tuberculin Test Chart, showing that the cattle being brought in and offered for sale have been tested recently, when purchasing cattle from outside points. Unless this is done, and none but recently tested cattle added to your respective herds, it will be impossible to obtain any indemnity money from Tillamook County or the State of Oregon, if upon subsequent tests your cattle are found to be affected with tuberculosis. In this connection I would strongly advise against the purchase of cattle from which herd tubercular cattle have been taken for the reason that others may react upon next test and aside from losing this animal you may lose several others which are now clean and for which you will receive no indemnity. If in doubt as to the reliability of the test charts shown at the time of sale, call me up and I will immediately ascertain for you whether the animals have been recently tested.

E. L. Glaiser, Dairy Herd Inspector.
