Thus far no democrats have announced themselves as aspirants for county offices. What's the trouble? If our democratic friends have an inkling as to what is going to happen to democratic candidates at the November election, they are wise. It is a foregone conclusion that there will be a Republican land slide.

The flu situation is considered somewhat better, although there is still considerable sickness in most all parts of the county. A large number of serious cases developed the past week, but the death rate is very light considering the many persons who hovered between life and death.

C. M. Dyrland will become cashier of the Lumbermans Bank, of Portland, on Monday. We are sorry to see Mr. and Mrs. Dyrland and Mrs. Leslie leave the city, for they are highly intelligent and very desirable citizens. During their short stay in this city they have made many friends.

The basket ball game to determine the city championship was played at the Armory Tuesday evening, by the Tillamook High School and the American Legion. The score was 27 to 20 in favor of the Legion. All the game was very exciting, but a fight or two helped to keep the spectators interested. This is the first time the high school has been beaten during this series of games.

The sale at the Beals farm Tuesday was a big success, the total amount taken in being $2,051. Sixty-one head of cows were sold for $11,997.50 making an average of $180, but the highest price paid was $392.50, for a grade cow sold to Preston Williams. The next highest price paid was $200 for a grade cow sold to Joe Durar. The heavy buyers at the sale were: J. S. Lawrence, J. L. Booth, Rudolph Zweifel and Ben Jacobs.

After two months of dry weather, the longest dry spell ever known in this county for the winter months of January and February, the weather turned wet the first of the week. For two months the wind prevailed from the northwest and east, and for a little while on Tuesday the wind went to the southwest, but did not remain there long. Wednesday the wind went to the southwest again, bringing more rain.

At 5:30 Saturday, at the Christian Church parsonage, Miss Florence B. Day became the bride of Charles A. Brown. She has been employed at the Vidito hospital for the past few months, and will continue to work there during the flu epidemic. Mr. Brown is formerly employed at Clough's drug store, but now is in the auto business. The young couple will reside in Tillamook, and we hope they will always be as happy as they are now.

Astoria succeeded in getting the Oregon State Editorial Association this year. We feel a little disappointed that Tillamook was not the place chosen, but we throw our hat into the ring for the 1921 convention. We understand that the Astoria Chamber of Commerce plans to give the editors a drive into Tillamook county and a trip from Portland to Astoria by boat. Of course, the editors will be royally welcomed if they come here.

Mrs. Alexandria Rock, who is a candidate for county treasurer, was in the city on Saturday, getting her petitions circulated. Mrs. Rock did considerable of the census work in the south part of the county, and was instrumental in having several locations enumerated that had been overlooked. She thinks that it was a mistake in taking the boundaries of the precincts that existed ten years ago and not taking the present precincts.

Sunday evening, at seven o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hoag, their daughter, Miss Evelyn, became the bride of William D. O'Connell, of this city. The Rev. G. O. Oliver, of the M. E. Church, officiating. Only a few friends and relatives were present. The bride has been employed at the Pacific Telephone Co. for some time and the groom is connected with the Sunset Electric Co. They will reside in Tillamook and their many friends wish them a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Sullivan Lumber Co. vs. Silver Spruce Co. is another suit filed growing out of the failure of the latter company at Bay City. Plaintiff claims that on or about the 30th of October, 1919, defendant contracted and agreed to sell and deliver to plaintiff at defendant's mill f. o. b. cars at Bay City, Or., 200,000 feet of lumber at $23.00 per thousand, and having failed to deliver the same, the plaintiff sues for damages claiming that the lumber was worth $25.00 per thousand, or $7,000, and by reason of the failure to deliver the lumber plaintiff claims $2400 damages.

O. M. Plummer, general manager of the Pacific International Live Stock Exposition, will be in Tillamook on March 14th for the purpose of meeting with the stock breeders of the county, and he will be in Tillamook county for a week. He has over one thousand feet of film made by Hilderbrand and also about one hundred and fifty odd pictures of the grand champions of the November exposition in Portland, which should prove highly interesting to the breeders' associations of this county. A program of meetings will be given in our next issue.

Resolution of Condolence.

Whereas, it has been the will of our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst our worthy brother Joe J. Rutgers

Whereas, in the death of Bro. Rutgers the lodge has lost a worthy member and the family a loving son and brother, therefore be it

Resolved, that we, members of Morning Star Rebekah Lodge No. 52, do sincerely mourn the death of our brother, and extend to the sorrowing family our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement, and be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on our minutes, a copy sent to the county papers and a copy sent to the family of our departed brother.

"Snares of Paris" to be Seen Here.

"Snares of Paris" is the alluring title of a new William Fox release that has been making a big hit and now is announced to be shown at the Gem Theatre next Saturday. This photoplay is said to show the beautiful star, Madeline Tresser—who is a favorite here—at her very best; and that means very very fine. The plot indicates a brilliant picture of social and political Paris, with a view of the under world; the latter part, it is said being an exact replica of a Latin quarter resort. Her role being that of a social leader; Miss Tresser promises views of some stunning Paris goings.

Dramatic Moments in "Secret Service."

There are many tense situations in the new Paramount Aircraft Special, "Secret Service" directed by Hugh Ford, with Major Robert Warwick in the role created by the author, William Gillette, and which will be seen at the Gem Theatre next Tuesday, March 8.

Among these, perhaps the most striking is that wherein the two brothers Lewis and Henry Dumont, meet in the Varney home, in Richmond during the siege of that city by the federal forces in the most stressful period of the civil war.

Lewis is on secret service, arranging to send a message to the Confederate commander which will result in laying Richmond open to easy capture by the northern troops. Henry gains the information he needs and allows himself to be captured by the rebels.

He escapes and gets to the Varney home. The escape has been permitted by a secret service man who suspects the two are brothers and spies. He thinks they will betray one another. But they are too proud. Henry whispers to Lewis to shoot him. He refuses. Henry shoots himself to make it appear Lewis did so in capturing him. Thus the plan is saved but Henry pays the forfeit.

This is only one of many similar situations which abound in this striking drama. A wonderful cast has been selected, the leading woman being Wanda Hawley.

D. D. West Heard From.

D. D. West, who recently moved from this city to National City, Calif., writes:

I will write you a few lines telling you about Southern California.

The climate where we live, near the coast, is about an even temperature. We have had three heavy rains since we have been here. All kinds of flowers and shrubbery bloom the year round, also there are ripe, green and blossoming oranges and lemons the year round. We are located on the Sweetwater system, that furnishes the water for the city of San Diego, so we have an abundance of water, for all purposes. We live two miles from National City and 9 miles from San Diego, and 20 miles from Tijuana, on the Mexican border.

From where we live we have a beautiful view of San Diego bay and the Pacific Squadron of battle ships and destroyers.

This is also a great country for raising all kinds of vegetables and small fruit and they also have some dairy farms. I have a citrus grove of 7 1/2 acres of oranges and lemons. We have picked 13 tons of oranges and lemons since we have been here, and sell them here.

Lemons are picked once every six weeks during the year. Oranges and lemons at the present time are selling for $50 and $60 a ton. There is a great difference between southern California and Tillamook. The nights here are cool enough, so you can have a fire every evening. Orange and lemon land sells from $1,000 to $2,000 per acre, according to location. Hoping these few lines will find you all well.

"The Warrens of Virginia" is a Photoplay that Rouses Popular Interest.

Has the great war destroyed popular interest in the Rebellion which fifty years ago started the world? Of the vanishing army of boys in blue who fought for the preservation of the Union in 1861, the remaining few doubtless will insist that interest in the Civil War never will die. It is because of this fact doubtless, that stage plays and photoplays having to do with the Rebellion invariably attract.

In its reissued form, "The Warrens of Virginia" is even better than the original and when it is presented at the Gem Theatre next Friday, March 5, its success will be no less pronounced.

The story deals with a young man from New York who loves a Virginia belle and whose romance is interrupted by the outbreak of the war. The young man joins the Union forces and later is captured and held as a spy. When Agatha Warren, his sweetheart, who loves him despite his means of escaping his impending fate, he declines and is ultimately saved and the two are reunited.

The picture is filled with stirring action, strong climaxes and thrilling spectacles.

Attorneys Request T. H. Goynne to Run for District Attorney.

The attorneys forming the Tillamook Bar Association have sent a request to Attorney T. H. Goynne to run for district attorney, the following letter having been sent him.

T. H. Goynne, Tillamook Oregon.

Dear Sir—The undersigned, members of the Bar of this place, would respectfully request that you become a candidate again for the office of District Attorney, and would assure you of our support if you for the position if you will accept.

We make this request because we believe the interest of the public will be served by your accepting the office again, and hope that you may see your way clear to take the position for another term.

Yours very truly,
H. T. Botts,
Geo. P. Winslow
T. B. Handley
S. J. Johnson
E. J. Claassen
Carl Haberlach
Joseph Mannix
J. L. Henderson
Robert H. McGrath

It was Mr. Goynne's intention not to make the race for re-election, but since receiving the above endorsement of the Tillamook Bar Association he has consented to do so. Owing to the small salary, none of the other attorneys of the city aspire to the position, and as Mr. Goynne has given general satisfaction, not only to the public, but to the other attorneys, he was the only suitable person available for the position, is the opinion of the members of the Tillamook Bar Association.

Dorothy Gish an Expert With Gun? See "Nugget Nell."

Probably it will come as a distinct surprise to friends of Dorothy Gish to learn that she is to some degree an expert revolver shot. Confidently, it is no less a surprise to Dorothy herself, and the manner in which certain scenes of her latest Paramount picture, "Nugget Nell," to be shown at the Gem Theatre next Wednesday, were made will be kept a deep dark secret in the archives of the Paramount producing staff.

When the picture was begun, and it was decided forty-four would play a prominent part in the picture, Dorothy Gish began to wonder how she would behave under fire.

I was in France when the German guns were throwing shells so close we had to quit taking pictures," she said, "and I know just exactly what I did at that time. But as a matter of cold fact, I never fired a revolver in my life. I did shoot a shotgun belonging to my cousin and it gave me the nose bleed and bruised my cheek.

So director Clifton Brown, through the brick wall in the back of the studio should be set aside for purposes of target practice.

Clara Kimball Here Sunday in "Shirley Kaye."

In "Shirley Kaye," which will be shown at the Gem Theatre next Sunday, Clara Kimball Young displays her versatility by creating a role different from the persecuted woman she has portrayed so often in the past.

In this picture, from the successful play of the same name, Miss Young acts the role of Shirley, the vivacious daughter of Edgerton Kaye, president of the great Union Central R. R. He holds his position through his descent from "Pirate" Kaye, who founded the line, rather than through any executive ability of his own.

T. J. Magen, the brusque financier from the west, ably delineated by George Fawcett, has bought the house next door to the Kayes; he cares not at all for the society life of the east, while his wife is worried by her many servants, but his "flapper" daughter yearns with all her heart to break into the society swim, where Shirley Kaye reigns supreme. "T. J." and John Rawson, his young associate—who incidentally hates all women, especially Easterners—secure a majority of the proxies of Union Central shareholders, and the ousting of Edgerton Kayes is a matter of days.

With breaking heart, he tells his daughter of the impending blow—she rises to the situation; and how she plays the society game, combining a mastery of the proxies of the family fortunes, is a stirring tale. At the same time she finally wins the love of John Rawson, which brings into the story of American business and social life an absorbing thread of heart interest.

High School Notes.

The High School basketball team played at Beaver Friday against the Blaine team. When the final whistle blew the score was eight to fourteen in favor of the High School.

Miss Brakel has been home several days with pneumonia, but we are glad to hear that she is improving rapidly.

An important student body meeting was held Monday. The main point of discussion was, should the High School adopt a standard pin. This question was brought up last semester but never settled. However, this time it was decided to adopt the standard pin. Each class will choose a representative who together with one member of the executive council will make a committee of five. On this group will fall the task of choosing the pins. A short rally was held for the basketball game Tuesday evening, when the American Legion will battle the high school.

School was closed Thursday because of the failure of the heating system, and Friday in order to fumigate.

Saturday a very interesting game of basketball was played between Garibaldi and Tillamook High School. The score was 15 to 23 in favor of the high school. It looks like our boys will be champions of the county.

O. Rusk, of Portland, is a new freshman in the high school.

Tuesday the Legion battled the High School in a game of basketball. The score was twenty to twenty-seven in favor of the Legion.

The Tusatila Club.

Some of the Tusatila Club members motored down to Elmore Park and spent the week end there in Melrose cottage. The girls reported a fine time. During their stay they walked to Barview, the girls were chaperoned by Mrs. E. T. Halton. Those who went were Mary Lamar, Cordelia Otfield, Lillian Groat, Wanda Halton, Emma Groat and Ramona Halton. The club will meet at the home of Val Jean Prah Friday evening March 5.

Lila Lee's Latest Picture is Finely Produced.

In "Rose of the River," Lila Lee's new Paramount picture which comes to the Gem Theatre next Monday there is a scene depicting a barn dance of the real old fashion sort that should appeal to every person who has lived in the country town and indulged in the pleasures of youth under such circumstances.

The setting was erected on the big open stage and contains a two storied barn, with stalls occupied by horses. The floor is cleared though surrounded by hay and sacks of grain. The decorations are enormous pumpkins and bought from trees and flowers interspersed. A large number of extra folk representing boys and girls of the village, with a typical country orchestra, render the scene most realistic.

The picture is from the story by Kate Douglas Wiggin and is one of the most charming love stories ever transferred to the screen.

The Flu Situation.

There were only three influenza cases in the emergency hospital today, and fortunately no deaths have occurred there, although Mr. Sawyer, who is quite seriously ill and was not expected to recover, may pull through. It is thought that another family of seven, having no one to take care of them, will have to be brought to the hospital or a nurse sent to the home.

The deaths since the last issue include Joseph Rutgers, Emil Heilenvuick, Don Hare, Mrs. Marion Bailey and Mrs. Peter Schrantz.
