Jack Harper vs. H. Kesselman and Bertha Kesselman is a suit filed in the circuit court growing out of the arrest of the plaintiff last December. The complaint alleges that the defendant maliciously and without probable cause procured an indictment against the plaintiff, charging him with having committed a crime of assault with intent to kill, but when the case was tried in the circuit court, the plaintiff was acquitted of the charge. Having been put to the expense in defending the case and his business being damaged, plaintiff sues the defendant for three sums of money as damages, viz: $2,500, $1,165 and $2,500.

Sunday afternoon at one thirty, Chas. Mills and Miss Clara Davis were united in marriage at the home of the bride, Rev. G. O. Oliver officiating, using the ring ceremony. We are exceedingly sorry to announce the death of Mr. N. P. Wheeler Sr., of Endeavor, Penn., which occurred at Pasadena, Cal., recently, where he had been taken for the benefit of his health, having had a stroke of paralysis several years ago. The deceased was a fine gentleman in every sense of the word, was many times a millionaire with splendid business attainments, and he represented Pennsylvania in Congress at one time. The deceased was 89 years of age at the time of his death. The Wheelers have large timber interests in Tillamook county, and are greatly interested in the development and property of this section of country. The deceased gentleman had been a liberal contributor to the Presbyterian church of this city, for the Wheelers are noted for their liberality in supporting everything that is an uplift to the community. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family in their hour of sorrow.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our beloved son and brother, Donald A. Hare.

We also wish to thank those who gave the beautiful floral offerings. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hare and family.

Saturday is Opening Day For New Flouring Mill.

The E. S. Bettcher Milling Company will hold their opening day on the 20th of March, Saturday afternoon, and invite everyone to attend. Each day will be handed a numbered ticket on registering her name and handsome prizes will be awarded to the five ladies drawing the highest numbers. The first prize is a barrel of their fine Flavo Flour.

Our community is fortunate in securing this splendid home industry. It deserves and we believe it will receive the full support of everyone as it is a grand thing and a great contribution to have a good home mill. A flour mill at home means much to the property of the community and places Tillamook on the map as being a progressive town.

We should patronize our home industries because they keep our money at home and give us the opportunity to profit fully from its free circulation. A community which trades away from home soon goes to seed, but a community which buys at home enjoys the fullest measure of prosperity. We welcome the addition of this splendid institution and wish it the success to which it is entitled.

You will find Flavo Flour in every grocery store in town. Ask your grocer for it, he has it for you, or if you prefer call up the mill for some.

Moose Have Revival Meeting.

Friday evening the Moose lodge met and initiated 32 new members. About 75 people were present, which considering the weather, was a very good turnout. An abundance of Tillamook's cheese, clam chowder and other delicious goodies were served, and according to one of those present, every one ate as long as it was possible for them to eat.

The meeting closed at 1:30, after which the tired and dilapidated goat riders were escorted to the Tillamook Hotel and put to bed, and the goat put under the doctor's care for a few days.

W. R. Davis, the official organizer for Tillamook and vicinity, says the charter is open for 60 days and that new members will be taken in.

Another initiation is planned for the 26th of this month.

High School Notes.

Last Friday night a game of basketball was played at the armory between Tillamook High School and the American Legion. The score was 14 to 38 in favor of the Legion.

A short rally was held Tuesday for the basketball game that evening with Wilson river and for the Debate with Corvallis High School Friday. Ernest Ford made a motion that the president have the power to appoint a "Freshie" to begin the speeches. Ramona Halton was chosen. Other students made very enthusiastic talks and all seemed to think Tillamook High School would come out on top in both of these enterprises.

The students are very sorry to learn that "Shingles" Gabriel, star basketball player has blood poison in his arm.

Next Friday night we debate against Corvallis. This will be one of the best debates ever held in Tillamook as we have an unusually good team. Clair Small and Harry Elliott will uphold the negative here while Betty Lantz and Martha Crank will go to Corvallis to prove the affirmative.

Value of Water for Dairy Cow.

After twenty years in the dairy game and a careful survey of dairy conditions in Tillamook during the past seven months, I have reached the conclusion that a large majority of the dairymen are neglecting one of the simplest and yet most important methods of increasing the individual production of their cows, namely, furnishing them with a constant supply of pure, fresh drinking water. This winter has been unusually cold for Tillamook, and many cows have been obliged to break the ice in slough or troughs before they could get a drink. No cow can do her best under these conditions, no matter how elaborate her barn or how careful her ration may be balanced. Before coming to Tillamook I had charge of one of the best Jersey herds in the state, and made extensive experiments along this line. Part of the cows were kept in box stalls containing drinking fountains. The others were left in stanchions, had excess water waste in the pasture, but had none during the night. In bad weather as they were kept in doors, in order to see if the constant supply of water had any effect on the milk production, the cows in the box stalls changed places with an equal number in the stanchions. Within a week we found a decrease in those taken from the box stalls, and a corresponding increase in those from the stanchions. All milk was weighed and at the end of two weeks we found a difference of from 15 to 25 per cent by actual weight. This was sufficient in proof, and we at once installed fountains for every cow in the barn. The increase in the next month's cream check paid for the fountains and quite a balance over. In a county where so many cows are milked only 8 months of the year every effort should be made to secure a maximum production during these months. Be the barn old or new just plain barn or hotel delux, it is not more than 50 per cent complete until a constant supply of pure water is at hand all the time for every cow. Give this matter your attention dairymen, and try it out. The size of Geraldine Farrar, the distinguished grand opera prima donna and motion picture star of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation will appear at the Gem Theatre next Friday March 19 in "Maria Rosa," said by those who have seen it to be the best of the three photoplays she previously made. Loyal Daughters Meet.

The Loyal Daughters, of the Christian Church met in their classroom Tuesday evening March 9.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Blanche Harris, and the minutes of the last meeting read by the secretary, Laura Dodge.

The old new business was attended to, and it was decided to have a basket social in the church basement, Friday evening, March 19.

After the meeting refreshments were served, and during that time some excitement occurred. A Peeping Tom was discovered at the window, and, of course, the girls screamed, which was only natural. A couple of the girls were brave enough to pursue the villain, whom they supposed to be the tramp that had been chased out of town a few days before, but when caught he revealed himself as a kid brother of one of the girls. Of course the joke was on the girls.

At ten o'clock the meeting adjourned and most of those present went to the show.

Coming "The Brat" at the Gem.

Nazimova's great production "The Brat", which comes to the Gem next Thursday, is the story of the ennobling influences of love. Its heroine and dominating character is a waif of the city's slums who has never known any name save "the brat". To eke out a precarious existence she plays in the chorus of a cheap musical comedy. But the pittance she receives for wages is not enough to clothe her in even the half-decent styles of other girls "Fired" for being shabby, she faces the world desperately. A masher insults her; she slaps his face and is hailed to the Night Court on an outrageous charge falsely made by the man she rebuffed. There a celebrated author saves her from the human wrecks awaiting justice for their misdemeanor. He takes home to study her as the heroine of his forthcoming novel. By reason of her simple faith the odd little "brat" eventually triumphs after heart burnings and sacrifices that touch the whole narrative with the superb qualities of genius.

New Mastic Floor for Creameries.

E. N. Large was in Tillamook a few days ago, representing the Oregon Mastic Floor Company, of Portland. He hopes to put in a number of these floors in the creameries of Tillamook County.

The new Mastic floor, which they install in warehouses, canneries, creameries and other industrial plants where a serviceable floor is essential, is particularly adapted to heavy traffic. It is also absolutely waterproof, sanitary and will not crack or break. It is laid hot, 350 to 400 degrees, 3/4 inch thick over wood, concrete or steel. An economical feature of the floor is that it can be laid over a worn concrete floor, thus eliminating the heavy expense of tearing up and relaying same.

In creameries, canneries, or where the use of water is excessive they grade the floor to a drain, and flush and coat the walls for a distance of 6 inches above the floor, making it possible to flush the room with a hose. This, of course, simplifies the matter of sanitation.

The company has just completed the installation of a Mastic Floor for the freight house of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railroad Co., which, due to the heavy traffic which prevails, will demonstrate to the best advantage its excellent wearing qualities. Another floor which will demonstrate the water proof qualities of the Mastic Floor is now being installed in the kitchen department of Wadhams and Kerr Bros.

The company's address is 806 Chamber of Commerce Bldg., and they will be pleased to furnish samples and quotations upon request. If given an estimate of the area to be covered.

New York Success to be Shown Here

One of the greatest successes of the New York stage, "A Girl in Bohemia" has been visualized for the screen and will be presented at the Gem Theatre Saturday night, March 20, with the pugnant Peggy Hyland as the star.

"A Girl in Bohemia" is a story that deals with adventures of Winifred Bryce, daughter of a college professor, who goes to the Bohemia quarter of New York in search for material for her novel. Her experiences among the set of artists and new artists, authors and journalists, form the plot of the feature, and if it is what the producers claim it to be, "A Girl in Bohemia," is well worth seeing.

Supporting the petite star is a company that was chosen with great care.

Nazimova's great production "The Brat", which comes to the Gem next Thursday, is the story of the ennobling influences of love.
