Dean Alden, of the Willamette University, was in Tillamook Friday, as one of the judges of the high school debate. This was Mr. Alden's first trip to this part of the country, but he likes it so well that he intends to buy a cottage at one of the beaches this summer and spend his vacation here.

Sheriff Campbell lost the family cow and was fortunate in having it insured for $100, having received a check for that amount on Monday. The sheriff said it would take three times that amount of money to replace it. Even the family cow like everything else, is on the jump.

The Tillamook Cow Testing Ass'n. will hold its annual meeting, Wednesday, March 31st, at the court house. Mr. Westover, of O. A. C. will be present and many important matters will come up for discussion. It is requested that all dairymen attend this meeting.

Wm. Hamilton was down from Wheeler for a few days last week. He has just returned from California, where he went about three months ago to be treated for rheumatism. He said he met several old timers from Tillamook while he was in San Diego. Among them were George Conch, Tracy Elliott and Otis Chase.

E. J. Frazer, of Portland, was here this week negotiating the sale of timber lands to R. E. Hanson, of Eugene. The Hanson Co. has large milling interests on the Willamette, and has bought 3,000,000 feet of timber in the Wheeler district. They are planning on building a large saw mill near Wheeler in the near future.

Mrs. J. L. Henderson was in Tillamook this week on business, from the city Tuesday, where he has located. He will run the dance hall at that place and is making arrangements for a series of dances.

Mrs. Arthur Kerns drove up from Sandlake Tuesday morning, to bring Mr. R. Kerns, John Zenck and Virgil Kellow, who were leaving for Portland.

F. S. York left for Salem Wednesday, where he will buy the apparatus for a sawmill which he intends to build on Fawcett creek. He will be back the first of next week.

W. M. Crites, who works at the Coats camp, left for Mount Angel Friday to attend his own wedding. Be sure and bring her back to Tillamook with you Mr. Crites.

Wm. Adams, of Tillamook, has bought a fruit farm near Eugene, where he will make his home. Mr. Adams left Saturday, and his family is to follow later.

D. N. Hudson who has been visiting for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wallace, returned to his home in Portland Friday morning.

Earl Snodgrass left Tuesday for Tillamook, where he will join his brother C. C. in the operation of the shoe repairing shop the Snodgrass brothers have recently opened up in that city. Snodgrass brothers have transferred the greater part of the equipment of their Carlton shop, including the power stitcher they recently installed, to the shop at Tillamook.—Carlton Sentinel.

H. A. Smith, who bartered in Tillamook long ago, even before the days of the paved streets, has returned. But alas! He is a barber no longer, for now he invokes the blessings of many widows and orphans on himself, for having sold the husband a policy in the American Central Life Insurance Co. Tillamook has changed somewhat since the old days, hasn't it Mr. Smith.

The County Court is in Portland this week, where the State Highway Commission opened bids for the new steel bridge across the Nestucca river which is to take the place of the Condon bridge when that part of the river is changed to the other side of the river. The bid of the Pacific Foundation Co., for $17,469 was referred by the commission to the county court.

Mr. Keith, representing the Aetna Life Insurance company, is associated with the office of Rolfe W. Watson and during the month will operate extensively in Tillamook county placing "Aetnizers" policies covering in all branches of life, accident and health insurance. Their advertising campaign is instructive and commenced in the last issue of the Headlight and appears on another page of this issue. read it.

H. B. Polks, who was called here about ten days ago by the illness of his brother Bert, returned to his home in Corvallis Friday. Mr. Polks and his parents are engaged in raising chickens on a large scale, and he says the business is thriving, as they have about three thousand at present and the prospects are good for another year or so. He is a former resident of Tillamook, and expects to return in the summer to visit.

J. W. Day, agency director of the New York Life Insurance Co., made a business call on R. A. Leonard, who is the local agent, last week and one of the important features of the company during the absence of the president and vice-president was to raise their salaries from $25,000 to $50,000 annually, on their return they declined the raise and asked that the amount be divided among clerks of the company who were receiving less than $2,000 per annum.

E. M. Condit, Alva Williams, Lem Partridge, Henry Plasker and George Hanelmeier were guests of the Portland Gun Club Saturday and Sunday. They contested with some professional trap shooters, and beat them. The members of the gun club are coming over here some time next month. The men said they had a splendid time, and they also said that Henry Plasker was still looking for the Spaulding. We wonder where he expects to find it.

F. J. Goodnow, who is representing the Oregon Jockey Club in Tillamook this week. He says it is his first trip here since 1890. When he was here then he was offered a homestead near Tillamook for $500, and the same place now is worth about $30,000. He said he was sorry he didn't take it then, but is coming back here about the first of April to live, as he thinks this is the best country in the state.

About sixty one persons gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hushbeck Saturday evening, for a farewell dance. The Hushbecks are leaving the boarding house business and are going to live on the old Hushbeck place north of town, and raise chickens. Everyone had a real old-fashioned good time, and danced quadrils and polkas and waltzes until—well, it was bed time when they left. The music was furnished by Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Oliver, real old time fiddlers. And eats—Oh, boy, you never saw such eats! They said it was the best time they had ever had, and from the description they gave us we would think so too.

R. H. Cady vs. Bay City Land Co., a corporation, and Solon Schiffmann is a suit filed in the circuit court to recover money on two promissory notes. On the 18th of October, 1916, the Bay City Land Co., executed and delivered two promissory notes for $1,000.00 and $1,800 to Solon Schiffmann who endorsed them, and which are now in possession of the plaintiff. As the promissory notes are long past due and nothing has been paid on them except the interest up to April 18, 1918 the plaintiff sues to recover the money, the plaintiff claiming that the collateral security mentioned in each of the notes is worthless and without value.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Glaiser Sunday afternoon at two o'clock when their daughter, Miss Agnes, became the wife of Dewey Handley. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present. Rev. Harry Tucker officiated, using the ring ceremony, and immediately after the ceremony the young people drove out to their ranch north of town. Both are very popular young people of Tillamook, the groom is a graduate of the High School here, and the bride was an attendant until shortly before her marriage. Their many friends join in wishing them good luck and happiness.

Rolfe W. Watson has offered a prize of $25.00 for an essay to be competed for by the pupils of the public school. See next week's issue for full particulars and conditions.

Following are a few names that were handed us of persons who had not been enumerated in this city:

R. U. McChuanan, Everett Swift, Jerry Blanchard, O. J. Nicolay, Earl Garrish, Ben Egge, Frank De Vroy, B. R. Roney (nephew in family), S. C. Chance, H. E. Lamar, Guy Allman and family, E. W. Stanley and T. E. Epplett.

The Kill Kare Klub met Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. S. Lamar. The afternoon was devoted to music and games; the musical numbers being a solo by Mrs. Emmett Bates, several saxophone numbers by Mrs. Merril Smith, and a beautiful piano solo by Miss Mary Lamar. The entertainment committee delighted and amused the guests with several unique stunts, and a very interesting talk was given by Miss Burroughs about the Red Cross. Yellow daffodils were used to tastefully decorate rooms and tables. Covers were laid for fifteen. The invited guests were Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Carlin, Mrs. Turnbull and Mrs. Tucker. Mrs. Gruber assisted Mrs. Lamar as hostess.

Mrs. A. C. Everson returned last week from Eastern Oregon, and she informs us that everything is booming in that section of the state, there being more money in circulation there than ever before. Mrs. Everson, who is a keen observer, said that the farmers in Eastern Oregon were spending large amounts of money, not, however, on improvements, but in buying expensive dress, diamonds, musical instruments and automobiles and not being satisfied with one auto, most every member of the family had one of their own. The farm homes and barns in Eastern Oregon were never very elaborate or expensive, yet with so much money being squandered in other things, very little is going into new homes and new barns.

Beer is expensive nowadays, and it costs more to keep it than it does to buy it. If you don't believe this, just ask T. B. Turney and he will tell you. You see he paid the judge $50 for having two bottles of it, so he ought to know. H. Stienbeck, an outsider, bought two mink hides from Mr. Turney on Monday, and gave him a check for $7 for them, putting the hides in his pocket. In circulation some weeks, and as he was buying them up he took off his coat. The hides disappeared. A search warrant was issued and Turney's place searched. The police were unable to find the mink hides, but they did find the beer, and he was fined $50 and costs.

There was a fine turn out at the opening of the flour mill Saturday afternoon. About two hundred and fifty were present, two hundred of which were married ladies who registered in the contest. Each lady chose a number, the numbers were then put on slips of paper, and were drawn, the first five winning the prizes. The prizes awarded were: 1st, Mrs. M. J. Edwards, one barrel of Flavo Flour; 2nd, Mrs. D. A. Owens, 3/4 barrel of Flavo Flour; 3rd, Mrs. Olive Travis, 1/2 barrel Flavo Flour; 4th, Mrs. A. Wells, one 3/4 barrel Flavo Flour. Each person received a three or four pound sack as a sample and everyone went away smiling. Those who have tied the Flavo flour speak very highly of it, as it makes delicious bread, cakes and pastry.

Dr. Ramsey, of this city returned from Portland where she attended the osteopathic association meeting, says that Dr. C. J. Gaddis, of Oakland California, conducted a clinic during the convention and delivered a very interesting lecture at the evening session of the Portland Osteopathic Society. The speaker's topic was "Osteopathy in Bedside Practice," and during the course of his lecture he stated that fifty years ago the first Osteopath, Dr. A. T. Still, was called a "wonder worker" because his newly discovered methods were saving the lives of scores of children during a severe epidemic. Today, a year ago, during the influenza epidemic, osteopathy has again demonstrated its value in epidemic treatment. From carefully compiled statistics, out of more than 100,000 cases treated, less than one percent died. He concluded his remarks by saying that in these modern times a physician who adjusts the body mechanism is considered as essential to health as a mechanic to an automobile.

Attention.

It is unlawful to dump garbage or any refuse of any nature on county roads. Any further violation of this law will be prosecuted.

John A. Carroll, Road Master.

Had a Close Call.

Nothing short of a miracle saved the life of Lee Witcombe, when the tractor with which he was towing a grader to Bay City Saturday afternoon, broke through the approach of the Killech river bridge. He and the tractor fell to the ground about twenty feet below, but was only a cut above his right eye as a result of his experience. The machine was uninjured, except for the top, which was smashed up a bit. Sunday afternoon Mr. Witcombe drove it back up the bank and into the road by its own power.

The accident occurred Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, and traffic was held up until Monday, the road in both directions being lined with cars for a considerable distance. New flooring was put on the approach Monday. Mr. Witcombe thinks he is a lucky man not to have been seriously hurt, but he says that the next time he takes a notion to do some fancy high diving stunts he wants to dive alone.

Attention.

A meeting of the ministers of Tillamook will take place on Monday, March 29, at 10 a.m. in the interest of the Inter Church World movement and for the purpose of organizing a ministerial union.

The meeting will be held at the Reformed Church. The presence of all the pastors is very much desired.

Holstein Breeders Attention.

I have for sale some of the very best bred heifers and bull calves in Tillamook. These calves are from world's record breeding, climaticized and health certified herds. The dairy man of Tillamook County who has a scrub bull in his herd can make no better investment at this time than seeing me at once and getting a registered bull now, for service in his herd next year.

Rolfe W. Watson, Sec-Treas. Tillamook Co Holstein Breeders Assn.

House Keepers Attention.

The Detroit Vapor Stove Co. has on sale and display, by Mrs. Webster Holmes, at Kuppenbender's store, their famous Red Star Coal Oil Burning Cooking Range.

What it will do—Burn 19 hours on one gallon of oil, cook and bake perfectly.

What it will not do—Not smoke nor will burners break or form carbon.

What it has—8 1/2 pound cast iron burner without wicks of any kind. Heavy steel construction, air insulated oven, perfect combustion.

Come in Saturday, March 27th and see it bake as perfectly as any stove made.

Will demonstrate Saperba coffee, and hot biscuits baked out of Flavo Flour, made in Tillamook.

All ladies are requested to attend.

Bradford-Hornschuch Wedding.

Last Monday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, at Hebo, Harold Bradford and Miss Ethel Fey Hornschuch were united in marriage. The bride's uncle, Rev. E. D. Hornschuch, performed the ceremony, using the beautiful ring ceremony. The rooms were decorated in yellow and white spring flowers, which were very attractive. Little Melba Hornschuch, a sister of the bride, bore the ring on a large calla lily, and Lois Hornschuch and Charles Bradford carried baskets of flowers. The best man and maid of honor were Paul Bradford and Miss Bernice Weichman, of Portland. The bride was beautiful in a white satin gown with silver lace, and a veil of tulle. She carried a large shower bouquet of white rosebuds and freshias. After the ceremony a bounteous dinner was served to about twenty-five of the relatives and friends of the bride and groom. Mrs. Bradford was formerly a teacher in Newberg, and Mr. Bradford is an employe of the Standard Oil Company. They returned to Portland Saturday, where they will make their home, rice, old shoes and congratulations mingled together as they left on the stage for Tillamook.

Red Cross Course.

Plans are under way for a Red Cross Chapter Course to be given at Tillamook, beginning April 14 under the auspices of the local chapter. Miss Ewing, who will have charge of the course, has been directing the field work of the students at the Portland School of Social Work since last fall. She was withdrawn from Portland because of the great demand for Red Cross Chapter courses. Before coming to the Northwest, Miss Ewing was known as the best Red Cross institute instructor in the Central Division. At present she is conducting a chapter course at Bend.

As planned, the course provides for the enrollment of ten or fifteen students who can attend at least one lecture period daily for two weeks, and in addition have considerable time available for field work, a study of community and county problems.

In general, the Chapter Courses attempt to give a notion to the students of the scope of Red Cross service; to provide a conception of the principles of case-work; to deal with various health problems in the community, to suggest practical methods for the extension of social service and a better utilization of existing social agencies, national, state and local.

It is possible that the University of Oregon will provide one or two addresses by members of the faculty on topics of social interest. These meetings will be public; otherwise the classes will be limited to those who register for the course. No fee will be charged for enrollment, and a certificate will be granted to students who complete the course.

For further information, call 65-W.

The Cheese Situation.

Carl Haberlach returned from a trip to Portland, where he had gone to look after several matters. While gone he attended the sessions of the Oregon Dairy Council, and conferred with the cheese people. He was appointed chairman for Tillamook County of the Ways and Means Committee of the Republican party and chairman of the Taxpayers' League for Tillamook County. The latter is an organization of citizens to fight the propaganda gotten out by the Land and Labor party recently organized in Oregon. He reports altogether as having a busy trip.

All of the storage cheese has now been sold. Regarding the latter Mr. Haberlach made the following statement:

"At one time we had 5,500 cases triplets in storage in Los Angeles and San Francisco. These were all sold and we later placed something over 4,500 cases in storage again. Altogether we had ten thousand boxes in storage. All of these have now been sold. Placing the cheese in storage saved our market several times, in fact it meant thousands of dollars for the farmers here. We have had no price changes since October 13th, over five months. Cheese is closely sold up and the market is now bare of Tillamook cheese. However, it will not do to ship out the cheese too green, as it molds too easily. Our fight this summer will be to get better milk, as we may have to place cheese in storage earlier than usual and the cheese must be first class if we stand to lose a lot of money. If conditions shape themselves right it is possible that we may place one month's cheese in storage, say July or August, withholding all payment until January 1st for such month. That will do away with borrowing a lot of money, incidentally bringing in the money in the winter when it will be needed for feed and hay."

Circuit Court in Session.

Judge Bagley convened the circuit court on Monday and the following cases have been disposed of:

T. W. Purvis vs. Effie Purvis. Divorce suit and decree granted.

Geo. O. Vaughn, et al. vs. Tillamook County. Writ of review sustained and county court directed to dismiss the petition.

Jack Harper vs. H. Kesselman. Case dismissed.

Edward Roberts vs. Hazel Roberts. Divorce granted.

C. E. Hadley vs. D. C. Hadley. Settled.

G. A. Edmunds vs. James Wilson. Settled.

Marie Buttner vs. Buttner Mill Co. et al. Amended complaint filed and defendants given to March 25 to plead.

Frank L. Martin vs. John Weiss and son. Mandate from supreme court filed.

"Billy" Hamilton Dies Suddenly.

The many friends of William Hamilton are very sorry to hear of his death, which occurred at his home in Wheeler Monday evening. Death was caused by heart failure, as it occurred while he was reading a paper. Mr. Hamilton was born in Maramora, Ontario, Canada, on March 7, 1848, of Irish extraction. He lived at Maramora until he was a young man. Mr. Hamilton was never married. About thirty years ago he came to Tillamook with James Irwin, who died at Seaside about seven years ago. Mr. Hamilton attended his funeral, and now George Irwin, the other brother has come over from Seaside to attend the funeral of Mr. Hamilton.

Mr. Hamilton had been an Odd Fellow for years, being a member of the subordinate lodge at Seaside, and the local camp at Wheeler. He had just returned from California, where he had gone several months ago for his health and had spent a few days in Tillamook last week.

The funeral was held this afternoon at one o'clock at the Undertaking Parlor, Rev. Harry Tucker having charge of the services. The Odd Fellows acted as pallbearers, and the interment was at the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

"Billy" Hamilton, as he was familiarly known, was thought a good deal of by his many friends here, who were shocked when they heard of his death. He had been a subscriber of the Headlight since it was started in 1888, and came into the office on Saturday and renewed his subscription.

The Best Weeper Wins.

In "Happiness a la Mode," Constance Talmage's latest starring vehicle in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick will be shown at the Gem Theatre next Sunday.

Miss Talmage portrays a young wife with an unfaithful husband, who succumbs to the wiles of another woman and asks his little wife for a divorce. She gives him his divorce and she is allowed three months in which to file her final decree.

Wife was just clever enough to realize that the way to win back her man was to trade places with her rival. The other woman was now the promised wife and she was now the "outside girl" the romantic sweetheart. Her plans are brought to a fruitful conclusion when she invites him to dinner and pretends to have a nervous break down after the meal. He takes her home and sends for the doctor. While hubby is tenderly caring for her, the feminine rival appears on the scene and, seeking to arouse the sympathy of the man, starts to weep. But little wife is not to be outdone and also bursts into a flood of tears. The best weeper wins. Who was it? See "Happiness a la Mode."

GOYNE TAKES DOG DERBY.

Walter Goyme, 100 Miles Over Frozen Trails in 13 Hours and 22 Minutes.

The Pas, March 17.—Walter Goyme, the Alaskan, won the Hudson Bay dog derby here yesterday. Pranteau was second and Hayes third. The winner's time was 13 hours and 22 minutes for the 100 mile course.

Goyme, the winner, is the famous crippled Alaskan musher who lost his feet as a result of freezing on a Alaskan trails some years ago. Pranteau the second man finished one hour and a half after Goyme.

Seattle Wash., March 17.—Walter Goyme, known in the north as "the going kid", passed through here in December en route to the pass with 22 veteran malamute racing dogs. Goyme's team has won a number of races at Seward, Anchorage and other points in southwestern Alaska.

Walter Goyme is a son to Frank Goyme, and a nephew of District Attorney T. H. Goyme, and was here about six years ago. He is not as badly crippled as the above would indicate, being now able to walk so that no one would notice that he had had his feet frozen.

Basket Ball Games.

The Garibaldi Athletic Club and the Bay City club, met last week at Garibaldi gymnasium, and after the first five minutes of play there was no doubt as to the outcome. The superior passing and shooting of the fast Garibaldi quintet proved too much for Bay City. The first half ended with the score 13 to 5 in favor of Garibaldi. In the second half Bay City tried to overcome the odds by putting in three substitutes which was of no avail. The game was characterized by roughness. R. Alexander (captain) starred for the winners with 14 points. The final score being 22 to 12 in favor of Garibaldi.

Entire Circus Rented.

For the presentation of "The Clown," which is the bill at the Gem Theatre, Friday, March 26, with Victor Moore, the celebrated comedian, in the title role, an entire circus was rented for three days. To secure the audience, the Lasky Company announced in the daily papers that the citizens of Los Angeles were invited to be their guests at the performance,
