The party held Wednesday evening at the K. P. hall by the Elks Lodge was a decided success. About fifty people were present, and all had a delightful time. The evening was spent at cards, music and dancing. The music was furnished by Wilkins' orchestra. Tillamook County's roads are in good condition except where construction and repairing is under way. The road department is making an effort to interfere with travel as little as possible, eliminating all bad grades and round about routes. The county is operating four steam shovels, two dredges, and three caterpillar outfits, besides several other crews and is making an effort to make as much road as possible ready for the pavement this summer. The concrete bridge that is being constructed over Kilchis river is the first one of its kind in Tillamook county, and the work is progressing fine. The recent good weather was very much appreciated and taken advantage of, for it permitted a great deal of scraping and grading to be done.

Mrs. Goodspeed awoke Sunday morning and found that a sign had been placed on her front porch, announcing that services were to be held there that morning by Rev. H. E. Tucker, of the Christian Church, and that everyone was welcome. Of course she was surprised, but she set to work and cleaned the house up for the visitors. But she's not one to show-off. Mrs. Goodspeed didn't quite like the idea of making ready for callers who had already sent their engagements, so she asked Mr. Tucker about it. He had been trying all week to hire someone to remove the sign from the vacant lot across the way, but everyone was too busy. He wishes to thank the boys who removed it, for they did him a great favor, and he also says there is more than one way to advertise the Sunday services.

Last Friday night Chief Coates Bert Thayer and Marsh Burdick, team captains, met with the Boy Scout Fire Fighters at the Christian church basement. They went to the station by the Academy and got the hose cart and brought it down to practice with. The boys were very enthusiastic about the drill, but of course two or three were soaked, for they couldn't find anything but themselves to turn the water on. Mr. Coates said they were just splendid, and that when they had had a little more practice, he would bring them up to town to show them off. He has some home inspection blanks, issued by the state, that are to be filled out by the boys, and when they have answered these questions they will have had a complete knowledge of their homes and what to do in case of fire, also how to prevent it. The boys are gathering up old papers and rubbish to sell to the junk shops for 25c a hundred. This money will be used to buy caps or badges for the members. At the beginning of last meeting there were only seven or eight boys present, but at the close there was at least thirty, and Mr. Coates expects fifty at the next meeting. Don't disappoint him boys.

4.—Post Commanders will detail comrades to visit the public schools during the week preceding Memorial day, as such hours as may be determined by arrangement with the school authorities.

Ladies' Aid of M. E. Church Have All Day Session.
A most delightful "all day" meeting of the Methodist Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Bert Folks, April 22. Each member and opportunity for work, as four comforts were put on frames at one time. The work was done in the large sleeping rooms up stairs, leaving the double parlor clear for baby buggies and a place for children to play while the long tables were set in the spacious dining room and kitchen. At twelve o'clock all joined in singing the Doxology as they found their places at the tables, which fairly groaned with goodness of every description. Mrs. Folks not only served pure breed Holstein milk and cream, but hot creamy, mashed potatoes (a million dollar luxury nowadays.)

Among the invited guests were Mrs. Bateson and Mrs. Bond, of Portland, Mrs. Bester and Mrs. Maxwell, of Fairview, and Mrs. E. Hoag and Mrs. E. Leach, of Tillamook. Many of the most helpful members were absent on account of the shortage of help for the spring house-cleaning, gardening, etc. The members present were Mesdames Cloyd Dawson, G. B. Lamb, R. Stillwell, W. Heaton, R. McGrath, W. E. Noyes, B. Folks, Mahon, Rose Williams, Roy Hoffman, Spear, Turnbull, A. G. Beals, Tabour, G. Williams. Holstein Breeders Hold Meeting.
The Holstein Breeders' Association held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Folks, on Friday evening, which was the first meeting of the association since January, on account of the flu epidemic, and so many other things that the members had to do, so they were not able to get together.

A very enjoyable time of considerable benefit to breeders of Holstein cattle was participated in by the members present. Those present were B. A. Folks and wife, Rollie Watson and wife, Jack Rupp and wife and daughter, W. E. Noyes and wife, Mr. Robert Stillwell and wife, M. N. Lamb and wife, Mr. Hofmann, Chas. Kunze and wife and Mrs. Clay Daniels. Mr. and Mrs. Kunze and Mrs. Daniels came from the north end of the county to be present at the meeting, where many matters of interest to the live stock industry and the county fair were discussed.

The "Essay Contest" in which children of Tillamook County are competing was explained by Rollie W. Watson, its promoter, and the association went on record as supporting the enterprise in every manner possible.

The Boys' and Girls' calf club work was discussed but as no information was available in detail, on account of the inability of Roy C. Jones, and Prof. Maris of the O. A. C., to attend, no definite plan was formulated, except that Clay Daniels was appointed to secure all information possible on the Calf Club Work, with the end in view of taking the matter up further.

The Holstein Club went on record as supporting the county fair to the limit and the plan of prizes as submitted by the breeders and the fair board were approved.

Chas. Kunze was appointed as a committee of one to promote the Bull Contest being advertised extensively in the Dairy Farmer.

A lap lunch was served by Mrs. Folks, assisted by Mrs. Noyes, consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee.

A number of questions typewritten on slips of paper were handed to the members present for answer.

A very enjoyable evening was spent and adjournment was proposed after the hands of the clock had passed the midnight hour.

Sometime during the coming summer arrangements will be made for an Annual Festival and a tour of the county in general to visit the various dairy farms, by the Holstein breeders.

"The Trap"
"The Trap" which comes to the Gem theatre next Monday with Olive Tell in the leading role was rendered conspicuous at the outset by the fact that it was written by Richard Harding Davis, the master of the dramatic situation, assisted by Jules Eckert Goodman.

The action of "The Trap" a Universal production, takes place in the Yukon, and reverts to New York. The wild picturesque scenery of the Klondike, the habits of the men and women who went there to cajole the yellow harpy, gold are portrayed with intense realism, it is said. The subsequent events, which transpire in New York, reflect the plot strength of the Davis story. In his relief to the plot and action are the photographic possibilities present when depicting homes of wealth. The aggressive methods of the men who vie with each other for a place in New York's business world, are faithfully portrayed.

It doesn't seem to be unionism, but disunionism, that is at stake in the present railway strike.

Hurray for "Bill!" Tennis started Monday, under "Bill" Anderson, on a short but successful season. Six new members joined and four old members have paid their dues. The enthusiastic players are talking of a tennis tournament. Outsiders can join for one dollar and old members for fifty cents.

See "Piccadilly Jim," Sunday.
All the natural wit and humor possessed by happy-go-lucky Owen Moore and the added ingenuity of screen craftsmanship is solidly injected into "Piccadilly Jim," Moore's first picture under the Selznick banner, which will be shown at the Gem Theatre next Sunday evening.

Owen Moore as "Piccadilly Jim," the devil-may-care hero in P. G. Wodehouse's famous Saturday Evening Post story of the same name, returns to his American public with a freshness and determination that is as conspicuous as it is entertaining.

May Allison Coming in "The Walk Offs."
The Gem Theatre will present the Screen Classics, Inc., production of "The Walk-offs" for a run of two days, Friday and Saturday, May 7-8. May Allison has been starred in this feature attraction dealing with society and appears in fashionable gowns especially designed for her in advance by several Parisian modists.

The adaptation of this Oliver Morosco state hit was made by June Mathis and A. P. Younger. Frederick and Fanny Hatton, the gifted collaborators of "Lombardi Ltd." wrote the play.

In addition to gowns and beautiful women adorning them the production is set in a background of rich society and studio life in New York city. These scenes were designed by John Holden and executed without regard to cost. Herbert Blanche, who has a long record of big productions to his credit, directed May Allison, and a notable cast in this romantic and absorbing comedy.

Next Directors' Meeting May 10th.
Carl Haberlach reports that the next meeting of the directors of the Tillamook County Creamery Association will be held on Monday, May 10, at the association rooms in the Odd Fellows building. The meeting was postponed one week.

Patrons will be paid for March milk on this Saturday. All cheese has been closely sold up and shipped, as no accumulation is wanted at this season of the year. The triplet market remains unchanged at 32c.

Carl Haberlach expects to leave for Portland and Spokane Sunday. The Directors of the Oregon Dairy Council meet Monday and will entertain Mr. Munn, President of the National Dairy Council and also of the American Jersey Cattle Club. Mr. Haberlach wants to get wider distribution of Tillamook cheese in the Spokane territory, as that is a rich field and more Tillamook cheese should be used there. Idaho has been supplying most of the cheese used in Eastern Washington, but it is thought these people are willing to use the very best in every line, and of course that means "Tillamook" in the cheese line.

The Home Paper.
It's like a smiling friendly face,
It's like a voice you long have known,
You see it in some distant place
And rush to claim it for your own.
The paper from your old home town
Has bridged the long and weary miles
And with it you can settle down
Among familiar tears and smiles.
It speaks for every friend you know,
It tells of scenes you yearn to see;
And brings back joys of long ago
And tells of joys that are to be.
And as you run its columns o'er
Your yesterdays come trooping back;
You fancy you're at home once more,
And golden seems the letters black.
Its speech is one you understand,
It tells of griefs that you can share,
It brings you, in that foreign land,
Glad messages to banish care.
There, among scenes and faces strange,
The faithful friend that doesn't change,
A friend that you are glad to see,
I know not just what heaven is like,
Nor just what joys beyond life's tide
Await for me when death shall strike
And I shall reach the other side.
But this I know when I am gone
To dwell in realms divinely fair,
My soul will yearn to look upon
The old home paper over there.

What "Pep" Is.
Vigor, vitality, vim and punch—
That's pep!
The courage to act on a sudden lurch
The nerve to tackle the hardest thing
With feet that climb and hands that cling.
A heart that never forgets to sing—
That's pep!
Sand and grit in a concrete base—
That's pep!
Friendly smile on an honest face—
That's pep!
The spirit that helps when another's down,
That knows how to scatter the blackest frown,
That loves its neighbor and loves its town—
That's pep!
To say "I will"—for you know you can—
That's pep!
To look for the best in every man—
That's pep!
To meet each thundering knockout blow,
And come back with a laugh because you know
You'll get the best of the whole darned show—
That's pep!
