The "clean-up" campaign is coming along at a great rate, and the business part of the town is all that has been cleaned, so far. It is surprising how much rubbish there was scattered around. The council requests that all the rubbish be dumped before the 19th, as the excavation from the streets will be dumped there then. The city should be cleaned up good by the time the Woodmen's Convention is held here.

C. Morris, an expert trapezohoter, who travels for the Western Arms Co., was in Tillamook this week. Tuesday he and Ed Shultz, Lem Partridge, Red Nordstrum and Henry Plasker had a shooting match out at the Fair ground. Plasker made the highest mark, his score being 99 and that of Morris 98. See what dandy marksmen live in Tillamook, will you? Mr. Morris felt so down and out about it that he went down to Bay City to preside at a meeting of the Epworth League. Poor old Morris, quite a come-down isn't it?

Edward R. Richards, of Portland, was in on a pleasure trip this week. He said that not considering the time he had in getting a room at the hotel, and the sea breeze we've been having the last few days, he had a wonderful time. One nice thing that he said about Tillamook was that it was a clean town, cleaner than any he had seen for a long time, and he had just returned from a trip to San Francisco, and along the coast to Vancouver, B. C., so we think it pays to have a clean-up week once in a while.

Jessie J. Morton vs. Rollie H. Morton is a divorce suit filed in the circuit court. These parties were married at Pratt, Kansas, on July 29, 1915, about 17 months after the marriage defendant began a course of cruel and inhuman treatment toward the plaintiff, calling her vile names which continued until July 27, 1917, when defendant struck his wife. They then separated and have lived apart since that date. The plaintiff asks that the marriage contract be dissolved and that she resume her maiden name, Jessie J. Little.

Saturday morning as Wilbur Davis was returning from John Stewart's place on the Netarts road with a number of men, his car refused to go any farther when it got to the Tillamook bridge. Roy Trout was sitting in the front seat with him and he got up to look at the battery, thinking perhaps something was wrong with it. One of the bolts was moved, making a wire shortening, which caused a short circuit. There was a blaze about three inches high, but fortunately for Mr. Davis, he had bought a fire extinguisher after his Hudson had burned, last year, so he grabbed it and presto! the fire was out. Mr. Davis put a string on the bolt and came on to town as nothing had happened, but he felt pretty lucky, anyway, that he did not lose this car, too.

Burroughs-Shartel Wedding.
The wedding of Doree Burroughs and Mr. Mollie Shartel, which was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hushbeck, was one of the prettiest of the season. The rooms were beautifully decorated in orange and white with green boughs. Mrs. William Foster played a beautiful wedding march and the service was read by Rev. H. E. Tucker, of the Christian Church, who used the ring ceremony. The bride was dressed in white silk and carried a bouquet of white spring flowers, and her attendants, the Misses Evelyn Shartel and Grace Jolliffe were charming frocks of pale green silk. The groom's attendants were Clifford Pike and Sparks Wilkerson.

After the ceremony a bounteous wedding supper was served, and enjoyed by every one. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Jolliffe, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hushbeck, Mr. and Mrs. William Foster, Mrs. Sarah Hushbeck, Miss Evelyn Shartel, Miss Grace Jolliffe, H. A. Burroughs, Gordon and William Shartel, Sparks Wilkerson, Clifford Pike, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hushbeck.

The Gasoline Situation Serious
There is only sufficient gasoline in Tillamook to last until next Saturday. 16,500 gallons were received on Tuesday and no more will be received here until the 27th. Consequently the garages can get no more oil and to keep the truck and commercial operations in operation, pleasure drivers cannot be able to obtain oil, as it is so imperative that people with autos keep their cars at home.

Walter Oliver Found Guilty
Walter Oliver, who was indicted on the charge of rape and adultery, was tried on the rape charge at the last term of the circuit court, when the jury disagreed. He was tried at this term of the circuit court and the first jury disagreed, but at the second trial on his charge, he was found guilty. His attorney will apply for a new trial on Saturday.

In all three cases the jury men were out all night.

"The Rider of the Law", Featuring Harry Carey
All womankind merited respect and protection from Jim Kyneton of the Texas rangers, so he took Roseen, a treacherous girl of the dance hall, into his own home when she was oppressed by Soutar, King of evil in the border town.

The trouble that Roseen caused Jim was not easily adjusted and for a time it seemed that his reputation as an officer of the rangers was blackened.

That is the theme, in brief, of "The Rider of the Law", the Universal photodrama which comes to the Gem Theatre Monday, May 17, with Harry Carey in the starring role.

Presbyterian Church
Sunday School, 10 a. m.
Morning Worship, 11 a. m. Subject: "Foundations of Faith."
Evening Worship, 8 p. m. Subject: "The Republic of Ireland; Irish Catholic Propaganda." Why should the friction between protestants and Catholics in Ireland be transplanted in America? Why should America intervene in the political turmoil of Great Britain? Why should not the Irish do their fighting at home?

Make this your church home. Everybody always welcome.
Allan A. McRea, Minister.

To the Voters of Tillamook County:
Owing to my duties of six days per week as deputy in the Sheriff's office, it is impossible for me to get around and meet the voters of this county in my campaign for County Clerk. Having had several years clerical experience along the lines connected with the duties similar to those of the Clerk's office, I ask the voting public to carefully consider my candidacy at the Primary Election.

Thinking all of my friends for services rendered, I await your verdict of May 21st.

CHARLES BLUM PLEADS GUILTY
Judge Bagley Will Hear Evidence Saturday Night
Charles Blum pleaded guilty to the charge of involuntary murder which was brought against him in this term of the Circuit Court. Judge Bagley will hear evidence concerning the case Saturday night at seven thirty, to acquaint himself with the circumstances of the murder to enable him to pronounce a fitting sentence upon Blum.

For the benefit of the readers who are not familiar with the case, the following will give them some idea of the circumstances concerning it.

About the fourth of March of this year, Walter Smith, who had been working for Charles Blum, on his ranch up the Miami river was killed in a mysterious accident, in which the two men were the only participants. Smith and Blum had been drinking hard cider that day, and were both very drunk when the accident occurred. They had started, with Smith's brother, Roy, and two young women who were living at the Smith ranch, to go to Jim Langley's place to spend the evening. While crossing the Miami river on a foot bridge, Walter fell into the water and was forced to return home for dry clothing. Blum went on to the Langley ranch, but finding that the family had retired, started home. He was alone in the car, as he had had an accident on the way down and the women and Roy Smith had gone home, as they were afraid to ride farther with him. When he came around a curve in the road about a mile on the other side of his home, he met Walter Smith, who was on horseback, and the supposition is, there being no eye witnesses to the tragedy, that he ran into the horse and knocked the rider to the ground, killing him. The body of the victim was caught in the machine and dragged for about two hundred yards. It was then lifted into the car and taken to Blum's garage, where searchers found it covered with old clothes.

In his preliminary hearing, Blum said that he knew nothing at all of the accident, as he was so drunk that he did not remember anything that happened on the way home. He now pleads guilty, and some of his relatives are circulating a petition, asking that he be sentenced and paroled. The petition has not yet been presented to the judge.

Odd Fellow's News
The Rebekah Lodge is having a good many applications for membership, all due to a few live, hustling members, and they are not all sisters who are doing the hustling either, for Bro. J. M. Wilson has a good many to his credit. There are more who are waiting for some one to start them. Have you made an effort to build up your Lodge, both Odd Fellows and Rebekahs by asking some one?

Bro. Chas. Bennett reports soliciting for the Endowment fund very discouraging, although he has collected several subscriptions. Surely some of the Bros. do not understand the object of this call, the first and only time your Grand Lodge has asked you to contribute to any fund.

If this Endowment fund is raised it will save our Lodge from paying out of its treasury, a good many dollars in Grand Lodge dues annually. Are you going to do your part? Then do it now, for you will not be solicited after Grand Lodge meets, and your name will not be listed, with those who have contributed, on the Grand Lodge roll of honor. Some of the Sisters are working on this fund, and now have a scheme on foot to put it over the top. When the Bros. fall down, leave it to the Sisters to find a way out, and to them we will have to give the praise. Watch them. They are after you, and we are confident they are going to save us from defeat.

All Odd Fellows from other Lodges are invited to meet with us. Make this Lodge your home when ever you are here. Keep in touch with Odd Fellowship. If you fail to make yourself known, it is your fault, and we both lose. Come!

Seven candidates were initiated into the Lodge at the last meeting, others who have been elected, were unable to be on hand, will start the work with the next class in June. There will be a class of eight eligible for the First Degree on May 18. All Bros. invited to come and help out with the work. Your presence in the Lodge room gives encouragement to those who are always willing to do the work.

Those who were not in attendance at the last meeting, not only missed the fraternal spirit which prevailed, but also missed a great treat in the good seats, as Bros. G. I. Myers and Ed S. Beycher had charge of the dining room and talk about big cats. Well, if you want to know, as our hand next time, your plate was here for you.

Bro. Peter Schanz, is still unable to leave his sick bed, but not too sick to send word by Bro. J. M. Wilson, that he wanted to subscribe to the Endowment fund, and his golden souvenir receipt was sent him the next morning. He knows the value of Odd Fellowship, and though only having joined the Lodge last January, he is ready to help all he can by any means. Must older members need a hard spell of sickness to make them see that their financial, as well as personal help is needed in this work? Some of the Bros. have done their part. It looks as though it was up to the Sisters to finish the work for the Endowment Fund.

Bro. Geo. Cohn, who now resides in California, visited the home Lodge last Thursday evening.

All members are requested to meet in the Lodge Room on Monday morning, May 31 and take part in the Memorial Exercises to be held on that day.

Are your dues paid? If not, better call on your Secretary. The Lodge needs the cash.

Some Bros. are willing to work for the good of the Lodge, others are willing to let them do the work. No friction there! But, say, it is funny, when its not too serious, how, those same Bros. who do not work for their Lodge, do not help get new members, never know another is sick, and would not follow the Golden Rule by visiting or aiding a sick Bro, if he did know of it, is usually the one who complains of his fellow members not treating him right, if they failed to call on him at once, and oftener when he happens to be down.

Wake up Bro., and I will guarantee you will get more out of Odd Fellowship, if you put more in.

Endowment, Endowment, Endowment, next meeting, Tuesday eve at 8 o'clock the last chance before Grand Lodge. Are you in?
F. F. Conover, Sec.
