"The Prince and Betty" is one of those highly romantic tales of adventure wherein an American im- personating a prince falls in love with an American girl. What complicates matter is that the hero isn't really a Prince at all, for his little kingdom is the idea of and American business promoter who wants to make a rival Monte Carlo out of Mervo. The role of the Prince gives Wil- liam Desmond an opportunity to plant some well-aimed blows with his fists on a lot of revolutionists, and if there's one thing Bill does better than another, unless its making love to some fair screen heroine, is fight- ing. Mary Thurman, erstwhile Sennett bathing beauty, is the leading lady of the picture. She wears a lot of wonderful clothes and is beautiful to look at always. Mazimova to Play "Heart of a Child" In "The Heart of a Child," a spec- lai production adapted from Frank Danby's novel of the same name, Nazimova comes to the screen of the Gem Theatre, Friday and Saturday, June 4 and 5, in a role that is diff- erent from any of the wide variety of characters she has protrayed so marvelously in previous triumphs. It is that of Sally Snape, an En- slish girl from the slum streets of London who finds herself orphaned at the most critical period of her life, and left to face alone, without any other aid than unsophistication, the struggle of maintaining the world's respect.
